EDMUNDSON TO OLYMPIC GAMES

Idaho Boy May Enter World Competition at St. hedom Next Summer.

The Seattle Times says Clarence Edmundson of this city a high compliment and an athlete. Mr. Edmundson is the son of Mrs. Emma Edmundson of this city and a brother of deputy state highway inspector, Clifford Edmundson. The Times article says:

Clarence Edmundson, the greatest half mile runner ever produced in the Northwest, is now a teacher in the Broadway High School and is coaching the basketball team of that school. He recently married and is now a full fledged citizen of Seattle. Edmundson is the man who ran Gissing of the New York Athletic Club literally into the ground here in 1909. Before the race the writer asked James E. Sullivan of the A. A. U. if Gissing was the best man in the East, for if Edmundson won, we did not want the usual excuses made. Sullivan replied that in his opinion Gissing was fully as good as Sheppard and if Edmundson beat him he was entitled to full credit. Edmundson beat Gissing so far that day that the New York man looked to be outclassed. Gissing ran himself out and fell fainting at the tape an had to be carried off the track.

Last July in Pittsburg Edmundson met the great Sheppard, and had him beaten when within reaching distance of the tape. Edmundson looked back over his shoulder, his foot slipped in some loose earth and he fell on his head. Sheppard passing him and winning.

FOOTBALL SEASON ADDS
$618.98 TO ATHLETIC FUNDS

Graduate Manager Larson Submits Report of Finances in Connection With the Past Football Season.

Graduate Manager Larson, members of the Faculty Athletic Committee and to the Athletic Board of the University of Idaho:

Gentlemen:

As graduate manager I have herewith my report on football and also a general statement of finances up to January 1st, 1912. The report consists of a total list of receipts and an itemized list of expenditures, each expenditure having a number that refers to a voucher that is attached hereto and made part of this report.

From a study of the report it will be seen that the season was a success financially in a small way, ending with a surplus of $453.18. All games except those with Gonzaga and Whitman paid for themselves. The manager went behind $66.55 on the Gonzaga game and $111.10 on the Whitman game. The extreme weather conditions probably caused the poor attendance at the latter game.

Besides the receipts listed in this report the graduate manager expects to receive $165.00 from the University of Oregon to cover the loss due to the cancellation of that game.

Respectfully submitted,

G. L. LARSON
Graduate Manager

PACIFIC INTER-COLLEGIATE MEET

Plan to Enter All Pacific Coast Teams at Berkeley, May 6th.

Graduate Manager Larson is in receipt of the following letter from Mr. Milton F. Farber, Graduate Manager of the University of California, regarding a Pacific Coast Intercollegiate meet to be held at Berkeley on May 6th.

Berkeley, California, January 25, 1912.

Graduate Manager.

University of Idaho,

Moscow, Idaho.

Dear Sir:

Your suggestion has been made that the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate meet, for the past two years held at this University of California, would result in greater stimulus to track athletics on the coast were the invitation to compete extended to a larger number of track teams. To do so on the same basis as the meet of the past two years would so increase the costs of the meet that remoter colleges would find it impossible for them to enter teams. I take this opportunity of presenting to your consideration a proposal intended to meet the difficulties of the situation so that better competition, without seriously affecting the financial arrangements, may be attained.

(1) Invitations to enter track teams shall be sent to each of the following colleges or universities:

The State Universities of Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Nevada and California, Stanford University, Oregon Agricultural College, Pomona College, University of Southern California and Washington State College.

(2) The net receipts of the contest shall be apportioned among

The last Assembly was devoted to the reading and adoption of the By-laws to the new A.S.U. Constitution. The laws were discussed and adopted by a mere handful of students, not over thirty-five or forty being present. Very few sections as drawn by the Executive Committee, were amended.

The section relating to the by-laws was amended to include the presentation of a sweater to every athlete making his first "I." After a sweater will be awarded with the letter whether it be made in football or some other branch of athletics.

Another section pertaining to the "Miscellaneous Fund" might be of interest to those who did not attend Assembly. Hereafter all surplus money will be retained in its own fund at the end of each semester instead of being turned into the Miscellaneous Fund as here-to-fore. One exception, that of the surplus money in the Argonaut fund, was made to provide in the case of the Argonaut fund, the surplus cash will be turned in at the end of each semester as usual. Otherwise, the business manager would receive no under amount for his services, subtracting half from the profit of the paper each semester.

The section pertaining to the expenditures of the athletic fund was amended to the effect that no appropriation will be made for travel except by inter-collegiate tournaments. It is probable that there will never be an occasion for a travel appropriation, unless the spirit of the student in regard to athletics makes a remarkable change for the better.

Speaking of spirit! What is the matter with the attendance at these Student Assemblies? Such a spirit of indolence, in such matters as the adoption of A.S.U. Constitution, is certainly nothing to be proud of. Can it be that no more than a double percent of students in the whole institution have the interest of the student body enough at heart to desire a voice in the adoption of a new Constitution which is so pertinent to their government as members of the A.S.U.?

Every student in the University should make enough pride in his membership in the A.S.U. not only to desire but to demand a voice in its management. Students who had no assignment pleasantly surprised, of the Department of Physical Education, Military and Military Department have been sent in to the various papers of the State, at Lewiston, Coeur d'Alene, Moscow and Boise. Mr. Tall is now preparing a long write-up of the military conditions for the Idaho Daily Bee, which will soon be published.
ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

L. G. Sheets of the Colfax High School faculty, and C. P. King, University of Washington law '12, were guests at the Theta Mu house Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Sheats is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity and Mr. King of the Delta Kappa Epsilon of the University of Washington.

The Junior Civils will be asked to report the Good Roads School in their first tests this week.

The final tests for the Freshman strength cups will be made this week.

Don't forge the basketball game, Friday.

Mrs. Haner, Miss Hawley, and Dr. Cogswell were guests at dinner at the Omega Pi house last Sunday.

The Kappa Sigma were the guests of the Delta girls last Friday evening. Dancing and games were the features of the evening. A very good time was enjoyed by both guests and hostesses.

An addition is being made to the college greenhouse for apple breeding experiments.

Farmer's institutes are now being held in the Kama country in Southern Idaho.

Yemon Farceott is assisting Prof. Temple in his seed analysis work.

At Kansas State Agricultural college two credits are given for the study of Jenk's "Social Significance of the Teachings of Jesus." Prof. Ellington will deliver a lecture at the Utah State Dairy Convention which is now in progress.

Prof. Fawcett was in Spokane Friday scoring some better which the experiment station has in storage there.

J. H. Trower, the University Cream-eryman, recently made a trip to Gilford.

The Station is receiving letters of appreciation for practical good accomplished through information published in the News Letter.

Miss Lucile Robards, '14, will quit school at the end of this semester. She intends to spend one year with her parents at Portland, Oregon, and then register at the University of Oregon.

Frank Keehl, registered in the Forestry department, holds the high test at the present time in strength tests. He made 1343 and holds the record in the foot extensor test with 1100 pounds.

The Agricultural Chemistry department has been making additions to its laboratory equipment. The gas heated water baths have been replaced by steam cups.

Next Saturday evening an entertainment will be given in St. Mark's Guild Hall for the purpose of paying for the picture "Christiana" to the history lecture room. A student entertainment given by students and members of the faculty for students is planned, and the program is expected to please all students. Get your tickets now and be ready for the event.
