STUDENTS’ CO-OP BOOK STORE

Committee Makes Full Report on the Plans for the New Book Store

Pursuant to the wishes of the student body, as expressed at last week’s assembly, we, your committee on cooperative book store, submit the following outline of the constitution and by-laws adapted by us. The plan has been selected after a careful comparison of the constitution and by-laws of similar organizations elsewhere. However, it has not been adopted as yet by the student body, and until such adoption, is open to honest criticism and, obviously, the majority see fit.

The plan as well as the advisability of perfecting the organization, will be discussed purely at the next student assembly. It is the duty of every student, who has the good of the university at heart, to study the proposition thoroughly and come out to that assembly ready to express his approval or disapproval of it as a whole or in part.

A room has been secured in the Administration building in which to house the store if organized. If the plan is adopted, it is hoped that we may be able to have some supplies on hand by the beginning of next semester. The working capital will be necessarily small to begin with, and we cannot hope to supply all the books and other needed supplies in the beginning; but what we do hope is to supply a part of the present need, at the same time building up an institution which, by the accumulation of funds through the yearly fees, will be able in the course of a few years, to supply the entire needs of the student body at a great saving to them.

A complete copy of the constitution and by-laws are on file in the bursar’s office, and may be seen by members of the committee.

Outline of the plan as adopted by the committee?

Membership—Any student, faculty member, or person with direct interest in the university is eligible to membership upon the payment of the following fees: for all called “Short Course” students, seventy-five cents per year, for all others, one dollar per year.

Management—The management of the organization shall be in a board of three directors. The board shall consist of two student members and one faculty member, the board to appoint a manager, fix his salary, and place him under bond of at least one thousand dollars. The board of directors, to be the power to remove the manager for cause.

Supplies—Such supplies will be handled as the working fund will permit and the board of directors see fit.

Profit—The supplies to be sold at retail price, or at a slight reduction, all profits to be divided in accordance with the amount purchased; i.e. if a purchase thirty dollars worth of goods will be entitled to double the profit received by it with only purchased fifteen dollars worth.

Miscellaneous—The following are provided for in the constitution: The manner and time of electing officers, the duties of the board of directors, the duties of the manager, non-transference of membership in the organization and by-laws, regular and special meetings, manner of distributing receipts, a quorum to do business, and the amendment of the constitution.

The following is a copy of the resolution as read at last week’s assembly. This will also be considered at the next student assembly. For further information see the constitution and by-laws now open to inspection in the bursar’s office, or consult with the committee.

PARKER V. LUCAS, HARRY H. MCDAMAS, L. H. SHYMOU. Committee.

Resolution

Realizing the great need for co-operation in the reduction of the price of books, stationary and other needed school supplies; therefore be it resolved, that we, the members of the A. S. U. L, do hereby empower the president of the student body to name a committee of three members to solicit membership to a student’s co-operative book store at one dollar per member. And be it resolved that we pledge our loyal support and patronage to such organization if perfected.

Is it further resolved that the above named committee, together with the officers of the A. S. U. L acting jointly as a board, be empowered to determine whether or not a satisfactory business has been obtained, to warrant the organization of the said store, and if they so decide, the said committee of three is hereby empowered to call a meeting of the subscribed members for the purpose of perfecting the organization.

Signed:

P. K. PERKINS, President A. S. U. L.

Varsity Team in Good Shape.

Basket practice and no games for the past two weeks has left the Idaho Varsity team in fine shape, and prospects are bright for the Thanksgiving game at Walla Walla. While the western coaches and members have been conversing this game to Whitman, Coach Griffith and his squad have been quietly practicing and recovering from the injuries received in the Washington and Oregon games. All of the men are now in good physical shape except Loncel. "Dutch" is again able to be put for practice which is a great encouragement to those who feared the injuries received at Seattle would keep him out of the game for the rest of the season.

With another week of practice before the final game the Idaho team will be in the doctor who implores Missionaries several surprises on Turkey day.

Washington Will Be Changed.

The generally unexpected, and to many students, the hope for happened when the unbeaten Whitman team and Coach Taland’s twice beaten aggies at Corvallis last Saturday. O.A.C. walked away with the big end of a 20-3 score in a game in which luck played a heavy part. The game leaves Washington with the only undefeated team of the conference, as usual, this year.

The same afternoon Washington won from the heavier Oregon team by score of 20-14. The university game leaves Doeb’s cupboard with only the Thursday Night game with W.S.U. between them and a five year championship.

As W.S.C. has fallen considerably below expectations this year it looks as though Washington would go through another year without a defeat, but this year you can never tell the result until the game is played.

Smallpox Scare!

Will there be an epidemic of smallpox? Ralph B. Foster, ’23, vice president of the student body and editor of the Q, was quoted in his room on Thanksgiving morning with a slight attack. He attended his classes up until 10:20. Not feeling well, he went down to see the doctor. It is immediately pronounced is a case of smallpox and placed him under quarantine. The other students in the house were allowed to move out.

“Judge” Denning, ’19, spent Sunday in Pullman.

BREEZY POINT ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Gamma Phi Beta Girls Will Play For the Benefit of the Women’s Building of Idaho.

This charming little play, given under the direction of Miss Pearl French, by Gamma Phi Beta for the benefit of the Women’s Building of Idaho, will be presented Friday evening at the Crystal Theatre.

The theme is one which has a common appeal to all. The mistress of Breezy Point finds one morning on her doorstep an unknown baby, richly clad, but not one mark to reveal her parentage. The weakness of her heart, she takes the child in and gives it a mother’s love. And a strange gift shows a peculiar interest and love for this child. Eighteen years later we find the mistress of Breezy Point burdened by a heavy mortgage on the place, which the heroine, the girl she has found, proposes to raise by taking in the baby boarder. All progresses two years, the mistress is suddenly and unexpectedly called away on a long journey, and when she returns she finds the secret of the heroine’s birth and adoption.

The comic element of the play is introduced in such characters as Mrs. Descom Hardenstock with business propensities and the mother of the Handschuh twins, who “never tell nothing.” In the work-a-day world and the French maid, who runs off with her butcher beau, and the irresistible Minnie Doolittle, the manufacturer of catant soup and bitters.

Into the second act—the country camp scene—Miss Stevens has introduced a charming folk dance in costume, which the May will sing. The characters are all girls and the cast, in the case of their appearance, will be follows:

COURSES

Cheeses

A ten weeks' course in forestry will be offered at the University beginning January 6. The course will consist of intensely practical work with a view of fitting men for the forest service and lumbering in the Northwest. Special attention will be paid to lumbering, forest engineering, forest protection and forest management.

In addition to the regular courses given by the University instructors, special lectures will be given by a number of forest supervisors and lumbermen on different phases of forest management, administration and protection.

A part of the time will be spent on one of the largest parks in the Northwest. Every phase of the lumber business will be studied on the ground, from the standing timber to the finished lumber. A series of lectures and demonstrations on lumber grading will be given at the saw mill by an official inspector of the Nor'ern Pine Manufacturing association.

"With the increasing development and magnitude of forestry and lumbering interests in the Northwest," said Dr. C. H. Shattuck, professor of forestry, "there has come a great demand for trained, practical men to carry on the work. There is no line of work which offers greater opportunities for the young man who is willing to work and who has the necessary training. It is the purpose of the university in offering these short practical courses in forestry to give forest rangers and young men who are limited in time or money an opportunity to prepare themselves for these positions.

Jubilee Singers.

Of unusual interest is the announcement that the Williams' Jubilee Singers will give a concert in Moscow December 15. The company has appeared here before and has always drawn crowded houses. The selections of the male-quartette are particularly pleasing. The program consists of Jubilee songs, negro lullabies, comic songs, cable and river songs, sentimental songs, ballads, ragtime songs, classic selections and sacred songs.

The Argonaut has no hesitation in recommending the Williams' Jubilee Singers; their concepts are thoroughly enjoyable. Remember the date—December 15. They appear under the auspices of the V. M. C. A.

Two splendid Angus herds have been added to the college herd of the University of Idaho. They were obtained from the herd of A. H. Eagles ton of Bolen, and will be used for breeding purposes.

Bell What You Can, and Can What You Can't.

"Every year thousands of tons of fruit go to waste in Idaho which can be turned to a good profit," says C. G. Vincent of the college of agriculture.

"Professor Schaffner has tested and good prices cannot be obtained; it is difficult for many ranchers to get their fruit to a market; and all ways in which imperfect fruit are left on hand.

"We have installed a small canning plant at the university and are demonstrating that canning is a most profitable method of marketing fruit. For instance, we bought pears on the open market for forty cents a crate from one crate produced enough on cans which retail at from twenty-five to thirty-five cents a can. Even if the producer were to obtain only half this amount at wholesale, the profit would still be much greater than under the plan of marketing the fresh fruit. Cherries, plums, pears, berries and fruits of all kinds and also vegetables, such as corn, beets, peas, tomatoes and pumpkins, can be handled in this way. And, as I have already said, the grower disposed of not only the first class fruit, but also culls and defective grades which would other wise go to waste."

"The apparatus is inexpensive and easy to operate. The cans containing the fruit are placed in a steam tight retort, immersed at a high temperature, and then sealed. The plant may be set up in the open air. From four to eight people are required to run it, according to its size. The cost of a complete plant ranges from twenty-five to one hundred dollars.

"The small one has a capacity of one to two thousand cans a day, the largest one from five to ten thousand, all depending upon the skill of the operators. Cans from two and a half to three cents each.

"The exact cost of operating the plant has not yet been determined, but it is slight. The experiment has progressed far enough, however, to show increased profit in this method of marketing."

STUDENT AFFAIRS

AT ASSEMBLY.

As usual at student assembly, last week the room was packed to the rafters as a part of the promotion of the ball. Before the business was taken up President MacLean recommended the adoption of a plan, by which the "I'T" would be presented in a formal manner on May day of each year, instead of in the very inappropriate way which has been the custom heretofore. It was proposed that the presentation of the "I'T" be made a part of the May day program and more worthy of the honor that is conferred with it. As a committee to further arrange the details the president suggested Proctor Perkins, Gus Larson, Miss French and two students to be appointed by the president of the S.U.T.

However, as the old custom is still in vogue the president presented the "I'T" to the following risks:

For track: The Phil. lios, Whitehead, Harris, Hunter, Watts and Scoot; basketball: Kimmell, Nuffer, Loux, Bruce, C. Perkins and Buffetton. Stamps were awarded to Loux for two branches of athletics and Releker as captain of track.

After the "I'T" was awarded the reports of committees were taken up. The committee appointed to look into the advisability of incorporating reported unfavorably to incorporating at the present time, but recommended the appointment of a standing committee whose duty it should be to bring up the matter again when said committee should see fit.

The committee appointed to draw up a lease for the athletic field with the fair association reported very favorably. It was stated that the board of regents has left the matter entirely with the students and that the committee has been treated right by the fair association officers. That the latter agreed to drain the track and cut off the grass, to put in 200 yard straightaways with a center path aside as that of the old track, that they would make a five foot cinder track around the half mile track as it were, and to build a quarter mile track on the inside of the present track and around the base ball field, that they would level off and fill up a base ball field and move the bleachers in the spring to a suitable place.

The committee reported on investigation of their they found that only a portion of the field as now enclosed belonged to the student body, and that a good part of the half mile track was not on the college grounds. As regards the bowling field it was reported that the fair association had offered to take a lease for ten years on condition that they build a grandstand, in a place selected by the students, costing about $1,000.00, to keep all buildings on the track and at the end of the term the said buildings would belong to the students. The report was accepted and the committee instructed to execute the lease as per agreement.

The committee on the cooperative took store submitted a favorable report. It was stated that they had taken the matter before the board of regents and had received their permission to go ahead with the plan and had further been promised a room in the Administration building for the use of such a store if established.

Because of lack of time action on the report was postponed until next meeting with the provisions that full particulars of this plan of the store be published in this issue of the Argusant.

The committee reports being complete new business was taken up. The plan proposed by Dr. MacLean and mentioned above was moved and accepted. The question of baseball for this year was discussed and a motion passed instructing the delegates to the conference to try and arrange a triangular league with W. S. U. and Whitman.

Proctor Perkins was unanimously chosen as student representative to the Northwest conference.

Y. M. C. A. Commmons Closing.

Last Sunday dinner was the last meal to be served by the Y. M. C. A. commons. It closed it's doors after a little more than a year from the time it was started. H. E. Davis, the present manager, came to the conclusion that the competition was too keen, and that the club is having to rent a house and hire help, while its competitors did not, made it impossible or at least impracticable for it to continue. As there seemed to be no demand for it's running the only logical thing for it was to shut down. Hence Sunday dinner was given as a farewell to it's loyal supporters, and the Y. M. C. A. commons passed into history.

Freshman Class Meeting.

The freshmen held a class meeting last week for the purpose of choosing colors and making arrangements for the pictures to be taken for the junior annual. A committee was appointed to select different colors and present them to the class for adoption, and the members of the class were urged to have their pictures taken as soon as possible.

SECOND TEAM GAME SATURDAY

The second teams of Idaho and W. S. C. will meet in their annual game on Idaho field next Saturday afternoon. This is the second game played between the second teams of these two institutions since they were again taken up last year. Last year's game resulted in a much decisive victory for the Idaho college team, although the strength of the two teams was about the same. The second team of the Idaho team has been a subject of considerable comment among the students this year, and, although Pullman also has a husky bunch in her second squad, it seems that another Idaho victory can be expected.

The second team is in a large part composed of the Freshman team that cleaned up the Sophomores a couple of weeks ago. Besides these the team will be materially strengthened by men from the Sophomore lineup and from the upper classes.

The second team game was set at this time to make up for the weakness of Idaho's home football schedule this year. The many students who have regretted not having any games at Moscow after the season got well started, will have an opportunity next Saturday to see a hard fought football game. While the game will not affect the conference rating in any way, yet there is keen rivalry between the two second teams and the game will be full of fight from the start. Come out and see your school's favorite team in action.

The probable lineup for the Idaho team will be Heysen, center; Layne and Bilott, guards; Fluker and Donat, tackles; Numbers and Know, ends; Gendoth, fullback; Gowan, growing, and Carr, winning and Dubiel, of Robinson, halves.

Dr. B. Steinman will speak at Lied Hall next Sunday afternoon, Nov. 24th at three o'clock under the subject of "Extension Work." The subject is of intense practical in its import, as Dr. Steinman will tell in a very definite way the manner in which college men may extend their influence outside of the College world.

Indoor Meet Postponed.

On account of a lack of harmony in the ranks of the second year short course, with the result that they cannot decide upon a track team to represent them, Mr. Van der Veen has found it necessary to postpone the indoor track meet which was to be held on this Friday until the first Friday after Thanksgiving holidays. On that day a team representing the teamlessness of Practical age will endeavor to make the college freshmen "bite the dust." It is the intention of the physical director to stage the same events which he had planned for the fall-off meet. These will consist of the 50 yard dash, mile run, track of wax, basketball and tennis. All will be included a relay race.

No line on the track material in the freshman class has been available as far, and the two will be a good opportunity to see what the prospects are for a track team in the spring. There are over forty men in school who have won their letter in track; Phillips, Book, Davies and Witham.

Dolce etTreppe in loco, as the Dictionary of Quotations says, the loco has come to extract an impertinent interview out of you.

"All right. My sense of humor will stand for a little foolishness. A little nonsense now and then is relished by the wisest men, to quote right back at you."

"I want to know if it is true that you have to lie to a string around your head to tell how far up to wash your face."

"So the goats say there isn't enough hair on my head? Tell them that there is nothing in it."

"Are you really as dignified as you claim?"

"Well, I don't object to being referred to as Prestie, but it is better manners not to call me that to my face."

"What happened to the Freshman who did not recognize you down on the field the night before the W. S. C. rally and wanted to speak when you asked about the barber pole?"

"Suppose you ask him. He probably has a more vivid recollection of the incident."

What is the hardest problem that confronts you as President of the University?

"Keeping peace in the local War Department."

"What is your greatest pleasure in life?"

"Teaching my Alexander to write poetry. He composed a creditable quatrain when he was four years old. At this rate he will be producing sonnets at fourteen. I expect the Quill to be enriched by contributions from him this year."

"Have you any other forms of amusement?"

"Oh, yes. I love to pluck pretty posies and gambol in the green in the spring, in the sun. I am also fond of smoking big fat black cigars. To get into smoking you may quote me as saying that it is most injurious for young men. I urge those addicted to the habit to cut it out. Tell them to throw their cigarettes and pipes in the stove, to give their cheap cigars to Fred, and to leave all 15 and 25 cents in their own pockets."

Four members of the local Y. M. C. A. were guests of the W. S. C. association at Pullman Saturday evening, Nov. 10. Those who went from here were Boyeson, J. D., Davis, Swanson and Isennam, who were received with cordiality and were entertained with intimate hospitality by the W. S. C. men. Speeches by several W. S. C. men and by Davis from Idaho were listened to after which a yell was given by over 200 W. S. C. men for Idaho and in turn a yell for W. S. C. was given by the four Idaho men. The connection was entertained by the Websterian Literary society which was also entertaining the Columbia Literary society. Music and a good deal were the agend features of the entertainment. After the program refreshments were served. The visitors were guests for the night, two of them being entertained at the Gamma Daks fraternity house.

Geology Classes To Take Trip.
For the benefit of the students who are interested in geology Dr. Stewart is planning a field trip for Thanksgiving vacation. He went down to Oufnito last week to look over the country and found that it offered an excellent opportunity for the study of geological conditions. So the party will probably go to Oufnito and make short daily excursions from there. This trip should prove valuable to those who take it, as it will give them a chance to apply some of the class room lectures and diagrams to actual conditions.

A new library, which is to cost in the neighborhood of one million dollars, is to be built at Cambridge, Eng. The new building is the gift of Mrs. George D. Wideman, as a memorial to her son, Harry, who was a victim of the Titanic disaster. The present Harvard library is one of the finest in the United States and contains some two and one-half million books. The new building will have to hold the fifty nine miles of books shelves in order to hold the volumes.
