Conditions of the probation require both houses to remain alcohol free until October, even if the members are of legal drinking age. This also includes guests and alumni. According to Moscow Pullman Daily News, Hamlett said, "The purpose of this is to throw up a no-alcohol wall around the fraternity. That includes alumni, visitors, members, or anyone on the premises."

The houses must each spend at least $300 on alcohol awareness and prevention of abuse and donate the money to the Inter-fraternity Council for that effort. SAE and Beta members also must participate in 300 hours of community service, violate no UI regulations, and attend an alcohol awareness education program presented by UI's Student Advisory Services.

James B. Lynch, the attorney representing the SAE's told the Moscow Pullman Daily News, "This is not a perfect world, and it's too bad this happened. This is not a perfect solution, but there are a lot of positive things in it."

The Betas are represented by John A. Bush of Boise who told the Daily News, "I think the problems at the Betas and the SAE houses are more system-wide rather than these two individual fraternities. He believes the Betas will take a strong leadership role in changing the system.

If the fraternities successfully complete their probation, their records could be wiped clean.

Regena Coghlan attended the Beta Theta Pi's party "Fifty Ways to Lose Your Liver" the day Rush was over. Allegedly, Coghlan, 18, was served alcohol.

Coghlan, allegedly, took shots of whiskey at Sigma Alpha Epsilon's "Jack Daniel's Birthday Party." Along with Beta Theta Pi, they must remain dry until October.
