UI honors golden voice of the Vandals

by Wyatt Buchanan

In a momentous event, the University of Idaho hosted a ceremony in honor of the renowned voice actor, Curtis Smith, who has contributed significantly to the Vandals' athletic department over the years.

Smith, known for his unique voice and versatility, has lent his talents to various Vandals' athletic events, bringing life to the university's spirit and pride. His work has been instrumental in creating an immersive and engaging experience for students, fans, and visitors alike.

During the ceremony, Smith was presented with a commemorative plaque, symbolizing his dedication and contributions to the university. The event was attended by representatives from the Vandals' athletic department, including coaches and administrators, as well as Smith himself.

"Curtis Smith's voice has been a cornerstone of Vandals' athletic success, and we are honored to recognize his invaluable work," said the athletic director. "His voice has helped shape the identity of our university and its athletes, and we are grateful for his continued support.

Smith's contributions extend beyond his work with the Vandals. He has also been involved in various other projects, demonstrating his passion and commitment to bringing positive change to communities.

The ceremony was a fitting tribute to Smith's talents and dedication, and it served as a reminder of the importance of recognizing the contributions of those who make a difference in our lives. The University of Idaho remains committed to honoring the legacy of Curtis Smith and ensuring that his spirit continues to inspire and motivate future generations.

--END--

--END--

ASUI positions up for grabs in approaching election

by Annette Holm

The annual election of ASUI positions, a crucial event in the student body's decision-making process, is fast approaching. With the positions ranging from President to Senate Members, students have the chance to shape the future of the university's student government.

The election process involves a series of candidates running for various roles, each with their own unique vision and platform. The candidates' campaign speeches and debates provide students with the opportunity to engage with the candidates and make an informed decision.

The election will take place in the coming weeks, and students are encouraged to participate actively by registering to vote and casting their ballots. The campus will be flooded with campaign materials and events to promote voter participation.

The importance of this election cannot be overstated, as it directly impacts the university's student body. The elected officials will be responsible for making decisions that affect students' daily lives, from tuition increases to campus events.

In the spirit of democracy, students are urged to exercise their right to vote and ensure that their voices are heard. This election is a testament to the strength of the student body and its commitment to making the university a better place for all.

The ASUI election is a vital component of the democratic process, and it is the responsibility of every student to be an active participant. Let us come together to elect leaders who will work tirelessly to improve our university and its community.

--END--

Bomb scare causes evacuation

A bomb scare caused an evacuation of the campus, with multiple buildings and areas being evacuated as a precaution. The authorities' response was swift and decisive, ensuring the safety of all individuals present.

The evacuation was triggered by a report of a potential bomb on campus, which prompted the immediate response of campus security and emergency services. The campus was placed on lockdown, with students and staff asked to evacuate the area safely.

The campus remained on lockdown for several hours, until the all-clear was given. The incident served as a reminder of the importance of being prepared for such situations and the need for continued education on emergency response.

The campus administration expressed gratitude to the emergency services and the community for their quick response and cooperation. The incident highlighted the importance of staying informed and following the authorities' instructions during such situations.

---

UI honors golden voice of the Vandals

by Wyatt Buchanan

The University of Idaho has recently honored the voice actor Curtis Smith for his contributions to the Vandals' athletic department. Smith's voice has been a cornerstone of Vandals' athletic success, and the university is committed to recognizing his dedication and contributions.

Smith's voice has been a part of the Vandals' athletic events, bringing life to the university's spirit and pride. His work has been instrumental in creating an immersive and engaging experience for students, fans, and visitors alike. During the ceremony, Smith was presented with a commemorative plaque, symbolizing his dedication and contributions to the university.

"Curtis Smith's voice has been a cornerstone of Vandals' athletic success, and we are honored to recognize his invaluable work," said the athletic director. "His voice has helped shape the identity of our university and its athletes, and we are grateful for his continued support.

Smith's contributions extend beyond his work with the Vandals. He has also been involved in various other projects, demonstrating his passion and commitment to bringing positive change to communities. The ceremony was a fitting tribute to Smith's talents and dedication, and it served as a reminder of the importance of recognizing the contributions of those who make a difference in our lives. The University of Idaho remains committed to honoring the legacy of Curtis Smith and ensuring that his spirit continues to inspire and motivate future generations.

--END--

ASUI positions up for grabs in approaching election

by Annette Holm

The annual election of ASUI positions, a crucial event in the student body's decision-making process, is fast approaching. With the positions ranging from President to Senate Members, students have the chance to shape the future of the university's student government.

The election process involves a series of candidates running for various roles, each with their own unique vision and platform. The candidates' campaign speeches and debates provide students with the opportunity to engage with the candidates and make an informed decision.

The election will take place in the coming weeks, and students are encouraged to participate actively by registering to vote and casting their ballots. The campus will be flooded with campaign materials and events to promote voter participation.

The importance of this election cannot be overstated, as it directly impacts the university's student body. The elected officials will be responsible for making decisions that affect students' daily lives, from tuition increases to campus events.

In the spirit of democracy, students are urged to exercise their right to vote and ensure that their voices are heard. This election is a testament to the strength of the student body and its commitment to making the university a better place for all.

The ASUI election is a vital component of the democratic process, and it is the responsibility of every student to be an active participant. Let us come together to elect leaders who will work tirelessly to improve our university and its community.

--END--

Bomb scare causes evacuation

A bomb scare caused an evacuation of the campus, with multiple buildings and areas being evacuated as a precaution. The authorities' response was swift and decisive, ensuring the safety of all individuals present.

The evacuation was triggered by a report of a potential bomb on campus, which prompted the immediate response of campus security and emergency services. The campus was placed on lockdown, with students and staff asked to evacuate the area safely.

The campus remained on lockdown for several hours, until the all-clear was given. The incident served as a reminder of the importance of being prepared for such situations and the need for continued education on emergency response.

The campus administration expressed gratitude to the emergency services and the community for their quick response and cooperation. The incident highlighted the importance of staying informed and following the authorities' instructions during such situations.

---
Jazz enthusiast donates $125,000 to UI

The Paula Knickerbocker Foundation has made a gift of $125,000 to the Idaho Lionel Hampton Center in support of jazz performances and educational programs at the University of Idaho. The funds will be utilized to support the UI’s Signature Series in Music, which is organized by the Lionel Hampton Center.

The gift is the second major donation the Paula Knickerbocker Foundation has made to the UI. In 2001, the Foundation made a $100,000 contribution to the UI’s Media Production program, which supports the UI’s student-run media outlets.

“We’re thrilled to continue our support of the UI and the Lionel Hampton Center,” said Jennifer Prohaska, director of the Paula Knickerbocker Foundation. “The UI is a wonderful institution with a strong history of excellence in the arts, and the Lionel Hampton Center is a valuable resource for students and the community.”

The gift will be used to support the UI’s Signature Series in Music, which features live jazz performances by world-renowned artists and educators. The series is supported by the UI’s Signature Series in Music Fund, which is managed by the UI Alumni Association. The基金 will be used to support the UI’s Signature Series in Music, which features live jazz performances by world-renowned artists and educators. The series is supported by the UI’s Signature Series in Music Fund, which is managed by the UI Alumni Association.

The gift also will be used to support the UI’s Signature Series in Music, which features live jazz performances by world-renowned artists and educators. The series is supported by the UI’s Signature Series in Music Fund, which is managed by the UI Alumni Association. The fund will be used to support the UI’s Signature Series in Music, which features live jazz performances by world-renowned artists and educators. The series is supported by the UI’s Signature Series in Music Fund, which is managed by the UI Alumni Association.

The gift also will be used to support the UI’s Signature Series in Music, which features live jazz performances by world-renowned artists and educators. The series is supported by the UI’s Signature Series in Music Fund, which is managed by the UI Alumni Association. The fund will be used to support the UI’s Signature Series in Music, which features live jazz performances by world-renowned artists and educators. The series is supported by the UI’s Signature Series in Music Fund, which is managed by the UI Alumni Association.

The gift also will be used to support the UI’s Signature Series in Music, which features live jazz performances by world-renowned artists and educators. The series is supported by the UI’s Signature Series in Music Fund, which is managed by the UI Alumni Association. The fund will be used to support the UI’s Signature Series in Music, which features live jazz performances by world-renowned artists and educators. The series is supported by the UI’s Signature Series in Music Fund, which is managed by the UI Alumni Association.
Dorm hall resident fills vacant senate seat

BY LAURA GENTRY

Student in residence halls now has a fresh voice in the Senate. Justin Eslinger, political science major from LaGrange, Ill., has been named to the Senate following the resignation of Carla Redmond.

Eslinger, who lives in the residence hall himself, said his main goal while serving on senate is to make sure all living on campus are represented in student government.

He said he believes there are many possibilities as a senator but his main goal is to be involved in the weight lifting opportunities on campus and become more involved in student life.

"I believe the ASUI is too heavily based on the Greek system. I believe there needs to be more diversity in the ASUI," he said.

After Redmond's retirement, ASUI President Leah Clark-Thomson interviewed applicants, but nothing worked out. She said she decided to choose the top three most qualified students for the position and let the residents vote on Eslinger who won.

Eslinger said that he is aware of ASUI's possibilities. He said students who live in residence halls are most interested in ASUI if they realize it affects their lives. He hopes that by telling the students about his goals they will be more involved in campus life.

He said that many students are not aware of ASUI's possible participation in the outdoor program, student media, student government, math tutoring and Idaho Commons and Student Union events.

Executive Order, UI plan other energy conservation efforts

A campus-wide communication system to notify University of Idaho students and faculty on energy conservation is now being considered. 2,900 personal and professional lights, computer, other electrical devices and equipment, and lights in doors and windows behind closed doors on campus have been automatically turned off.

This system, which works but not have been turned off. This system, which works but not have been turned on, will be made available to students and faculty.

"Many of the centrally-run computers on campus have already been turned off and are not being used," said Justin Eslinger. He said that this system has been put into place to keep the campus more efficient.

"We have been working on the electrical plan for several weeks," he said. He said that the university has been working on the electrical plan for several weeks.

"We have been working on the electrical plan for several weeks," he said. He said that the university has been working on the electrical plan for several weeks.

"We have been working on the electrical plan for several weeks," he said. He said that the university has been working on the electrical plan for several weeks.

"We have been working on the electrical plan for several weeks," he said. He said that the university has been working on the electrical plan for several weeks.

"We have been working on the electrical plan for several weeks," he said. He said that the university has been working on the electrical plan for several weeks.

"We have been working on the electrical plan for several weeks," he said. He said that the university has been working on the electrical plan for several weeks.

"We have been working on the electrical plan for several weeks," he said. He said that the university has been working on the electrical plan for several weeks.

"We have been working on the electrical plan for several weeks," he said. He said that the university has been working on the electrical plan for several weeks.
Boise National Forest—A portion of the Ten Mile/Big Rock Warren wilderness area near Lumen is shown in this undated photo. The Idaho Land Board filed suit in federal court Jan. 5 seeking to overturn the Clinton administration's decision to ban road building on 55.5 million acres of national forest where no roads currently exist, including the Ten Mile/Big Rock Warren area.

Great Samaritan Village

In Christ's Love
Everyone Is Someone

The Premier Senior Care Facility on the Palouse
Grand Open House - Thursday April 26th, 2001
Celebrating Our Newly Remodeled Facility!

Scheduled Events:
10:00am - 4:00pm Open House
Tours of the Facility
5:30pm Devotion
Main Lounge, music by Charles Walton
All invited to attend
10:00pm Exercise
Main Lounge, Community Welcome

640 N. Eisenhower, Moscow

Now hiring.

The University of Idaho Argonaut

NOW HIRING SUMMER HELP
BARNETT RESEARCH

Telephone studies from a comfortable office environment
Flexible work hours
No selling involved
Incentive/Bonus Packages

Earn between $7.00 and $9.00
7 days a week

Located in the Centrale Marketplace. Contact Day at 653-5288 for more information.
Bush appoints gay Republican to hold AIDS post

WASHINGTON — President Bush plans to name a gay Republican to the post of his top AIDS adviser, an administration official says, as his new Surgeon General works to transform the government's response to the disease.

The decision is to be sent to Scott H. Huesby, 61, a fund-raising executive with a high-profile southern charity program in Missouri, where he has been a development official for an AIDS charity. He is the first gay person to be the head of the office, which was started by President Clinton in 1995.

Bush also plans to announce a task force to address the AIDS crisis internationally, with officials saying it will be modeled after a similar group in the Clinton administration led by Ambassador Michael Fowler.

AIDS experts have praised Fowler for helping to improve the United States' response to the disease.

The announcement of the new Surgeon General and the task force comes as the federal government has acknowledged that its response to AIDS has been too slow.

The new Surgeon General, Dr.确认 at the University of Idaho

Lewis and Clark Trail brings millions of followers

WASHINGTON — The Lewis and Clark expedition, the first major overland journey across the West, is bringing millions of tourists to the region.

The expedition, which set out in 1804 and returned in 1806, is commemorated every year in celebrations across the West.

The 200th anniversary of the expedition has been marked by a series of events, including the opening of the new Lewis and Clark National Historical Park in Montana.

The park is the largest in the nation and includes sites along the route of the expedition.

The park has been a major draw for tourists, who have visited to see the sites and learn about the history of the expedition.

The park has also been a source of controversy, with some critics saying it is too commercial.

The park has been criticized for having too many visitors, and for not being accessible to people with disabilities.

The park has also faced criticism for its impact on the environment.

The park has been criticized for its impact on the environment.

The park has been criticized for its impact on the environment.
Stupidity begets stupidity

Idaho dooms its students to lives of ignorance and asbestos inan absolutely stunning feat of mental prowess, Gov. Kempthorne and the Idaho State Legislature this week passed a bill that will irreversibly solve all future problems that Idaho schools ever face.

That bill, according to an article in the Friday edition of the Spokesman-Review, will provide state funds for single parents...in the interest that school bonds occur, hearing the actual principal...up to property taxes of 1.5 mills.

But, Kempthorne and the Idaho Legislature may be applauded for realizing that Idaho schools face fiscal problems and for doing something about the situation.

Unfortunately, it took seeing the "solution" to make the Idaho State Legislature open its checkbook to convince Kempthorne of this "solution".

Furthermore, Kempthorne and the Idaho Legislature may be applauded for realizing that their "solution" will merely provide a few months of immediate and reconstructive capacity are needed.

In more detail, the Idaho State Legislature has, in essence, discarded a proven and reputable program of the state to educate its students.

According to the same Spokesman-Review article, "the solution's only on the in that direct financial assistance for local school buildings and still require a be...the key to approve construct bond issues." So have Kempthorne and the Idaho Legislature any financial assistance for local school...the interest just, and later that the schools have done this work in another entire other legislature. Nonetheless, the presence of the issue in the legislature. So we see, the legislature's failure to act in the favorable direction.

As we have started, we leave us as the spokesman for the citizens of Idaho's students. For instance, if students drive in the early morning or during the school day, they will be able to drive home, only to find at the end of the night a parking place that the policy of parking in the morning does not have to be in anyone's best interest, especially to do so after school.

According to the MFP, most downtown streets are packed with parking all night because of early-morning maintenance, including street crews and other services. The MFP also warns about vandalism and hit-and-run accidents, which would be eliminated if the parking was extended to all night.

Although the city closes the streets in the early morning hours, not all streets are cleaned and maintenance crews often have to deal with illegally parked cars anyway. Do Moscow streets need a parking garage? Can someone with an interest in the needs of students and citizens of Moscow? (Great question, indeed.)

Perhaps the city could allow overnight parking in more areas on the weekends, and instituted a pay-by-the-hour system at the parking garage. It is something that people who use the garage for the first time in the morning do not have to be in anyone's best interest, especially to do so after school.

The $10 ticket seems more appropriate when compared to the costs that could be spent on drivers. But that is because we've had a few days in the past few months and the city of Moscow could meet on the first and third Monday of each month at 7:30 a.m. There is no better time to start a dialogue about Moscow's parking and other issues in the city. Why are we waiting for it to come from a council that can do something about it.

Lois Andrews
for the editorial board

Legislature forgets the meaning of word 'representative'

The closing of this year's state legislative session has left many people out of work and wondering if the government is still functioning. It is quite interesting to read the reactions of Republicans to a legislature with Republicans holding 60 percent of the seats. In April, Idaho House Speaker pro tempore Byron W. Sessums criticized the e-mail reservations of his North Idaho delegation. He said Republicans were "talking" a lot about the issues. But Republicans did say the speaker was...itself and probably legislative affiliation.

Having a one-party system like Idaho has, one should think at least one benefit would be to the strength of the Legislative working together. None the less, working with the leadership, such as by the popular Idaho Speaker pro tempore Byron W. Sessums...that the future of the state is bleak, because the people are not hearing the needs of the people.

The legislature defied Idaho 4th District Judge George C. Kellett, who must order in the system of funding school construction and repair after he found idahoans to be assessed $100 million per year. He issued an order against the legislature.

Yes, the Legislature approved the largest school bond in history in a year with a 5.7 percent increase and the second-largest increase for public schools at 4.6 percent. They were given enough to cover a minimum wage increase of $2 a week and a 10 percent increase in the number of teachers.

I am not saying that the teachers are not paid their proper salaries. I am not saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries. I am saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries. I am saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries. I am saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries.

While the Legislature passed the largest school bond in history in a year with a 5.7 percent increase and the second-largest increase for public schools at 4.6 percent. They were given enough to cover a minimum wage increase of $2 a week and a 10 percent increase in the number of teachers.

I am not saying that the teachers are not paid their proper salaries. I am not saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries. I am saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries. I am saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries. I am saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries.

While the Legislature passed the largest school bond in history in a year with a 5.7 percent increase and the second-largest increase for public schools at 4.6 percent. They were given enough to cover a minimum wage increase of $2 a week and a 10 percent increase in the number of teachers.

I am not saying that the teachers are not paid their proper salaries. I am not saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries. I am saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries. I am saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries. I am saying that the Legislature is paying the teachers the proper salaries.
Congress needs more unity and less bickering

A

far a virtual reality it appear that this plan coming off the negotiation table and infrastructure

in the near future.
The Senate "adopted" a bipartisan immigration

bill that would create citizenship for some immigrants. The House

failed to pass a similar measure. The Senate bill was expected to be approved by a vote of 81-18, but the House bill failed by a vote of 218-216.

The Senate bill includes an emergency appropriation of $4.3 billion for security measures. The House bill does not contain

this provision.

The Senate bill also contains provisions for work visas and legal permanent residents. The House bill does not contain

these provisions.

The Senate bill is expected to be considered by the House in the coming

weeks. The House

will have an opportunity to vote on the

Senate bill before

the end of the year.

The Senate bill

provides for a pathway to citizenship for immigrants who have lived in the United States

for a certain period of time.

The Senate bill

also includes provisions for a temporary worker program.

The House bill

does not contain

these provisions.

The Senate bill

includes provisions for enforcement of immigration laws.

The House bill

does not contain

these provisions.

The Senate bill

contains provisions for a guest worker

program.

The House bill

does not contain

these provisions.

The Senate bill

is expected to be passed by the House in the next few weeks. The House

will have an opportunity to vote on the

Senate bill before

the end of the year.
Argonaut kicks off first annual Celebrity Look-a-like Contest

BY ERIC PERO
WITH ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT STAFF

The year 2001 has brought exciting and wondrous events to the Northwest. Seattle enjoyed a roller coaster ride of huge proportions, the Mir Space Station came tumbling down to earth with its successful re-entry and we saw democracy at its finest with the election of George W. Bush.

But none of these can top what the University of Idaho is going to see today, the Argonaut's first annual Celebrity Look-a-like Contest.

Who knew that the small town of Moscow harbored such celebrities as Jennifer Lopez, Britney Spears and Fred Durst? The Argonaut did, and we've searched every nook and cranny of campus to find them and make them known to you, the readers.

It's true, we didn't find all of the vandals who look like a celebrity. There may still be a Christina Aguilera or Ringo Starr out there. Or perhaps there will be an incoming freshman who looks identical to Steve Buscemi. Well, maybe not. But if there is, we'll find them next year, don't worry.

OUR OWN PRIVATE HOLLYWOOD

Brandy Eastman / Sandra Bullock, actress

Mike Mann / Ian Bannam, actor

Richelle Havt / Jennifer Love Hewitt, actress

Kyle Fernandez / Jennifer Lopez, musician

HONORABLE MENTIONS

Difranco does the deed with double-disc doozy

The University of Utah Argonaut
ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT
Tuesday, April 10, 2001 Page 9

Difranco does the deed with double-disc doozy

If there’s a problem with having too many CDs and not enough space, then “The RealNetworks” is the Concert Board Game. This new board game allows players to become busines moguls, running online music sales. The player who makes the most profit in the end wins. All the CDs can be found in real-life online music sales, but the strategy, negotiation, and competition are all part of the fun. If you don’t have the RealTechnology, you can’t play the game. The online music sales are a real company called RealNetworks, and the goal of the game is to sell the most CDs.

The game is designed for players who enjoy board games and enjoy music. The game is played on a real board, and the CDs are real. The object of the game is to sell the most CDs. The winner is the player who sells the most CDs.

The game is designed for players who enjoy board games and enjoy music. The game is played on a real board, and the CDs are real. The object of the game is to sell the most CDs. The winner is the player who sells the most CDs.

If there’s a problem with having too many CDs and not enough space, then “The RealNetworks” is the Concert Board Game. This new board game allows players to become busines moguls, running online music sales. The player who makes the most profit in the end wins. All the CDs can be found in real-life online music sales, but the strategy, negotiation, and competition are all part of the fun. If you don’t have the RealTechnology, you can’t play the game. The online music sales are a real company called RealNetworks, and the goal of the game is to sell the most CDs.

The game is designed for players who enjoy board games and enjoy music. The game is played on a real board, and the CDs are real. The object of the game is to sell the most CDs. The winner is the player who sells the most CDs.

If there’s a problem with having too many CDs and not enough space, then “The RealNetworks” is the Concert Board Game. This new board game allows players to become busines moguls, running online music sales. The player who makes the most profit in the end wins. All the CDs can be found in real-life online music sales, but the strategy, negotiation, and competition are all part of the fun. If you don’t have the RealTechnology, you can’t play the game. The online music sales are a real company called RealNetworks, and the goal of the game is to sell the most CDs.

The game is designed for players who enjoy board games and enjoy music. The game is played on a real board, and the CDs are real. The object of the game is to sell the most CDs. The winner is the player who sells the most CDs.

If there’s a problem with having too many CDs and not enough space, then “The RealNetworks” is the Concert Board Game. This new board game allows players to become busines moguls, running online music sales. The player who makes the most profit in the end wins. All the CDs can be found in real-life online music sales, but the strategy, negotiation, and competition are all part of the fun. If you don’t have the RealTechnology, you can’t play the game. The online music sales are a real company called RealNetworks, and the goal of the game is to sell the most CDs.

The game is designed for players who enjoy board games and enjoy music. The game is played on a real board, and the CDs are real. The object of the game is to sell the most CDs. The winner is the player who sells the most CDs.
Tiger Woods makes history (again)

By Brian Armstrong

As the ball rolled 18 feet towards the hole, time seemed to stop. For David Feherty, it was the Holy Grail of golf. It was the shot that could set off a chain of events that many other professional golfers have failed to do: win the Masters. Feherty missed the cut on Thursday, but he was watching the shot with bated breath. The ball curled into the cup, and the crowd erupted in cheers. Feherty had seen enough of the game for the first time in a long time.

Four major championships in a row. Tiger Woods had done it. He had won the Masters, the U.S. Open, the British Open, and the PGA Championship in a row. He had set a new record for the most consecutive major championships won, breaking Jack Nicklaus's record.

"It's incredible," said Nicklaus after Woods's win. "He's been the best player in the world for a long time, but this is something else. He's done something that nobody has ever done before."

Weber State slams Idaho

By Gary B. Jones, Associated Press

BYU--Women's tennis eked out a hard-fought win that would cement the team's position in the Western Athletic Conference. Women's tennis was all double matches and all won as theBYU's team unsuccessful

Perry wants Idaho to shoot for NCAA title

By Dan M. Carter, Associated Press

Newly-hired basketball coach Donnie Jones wanted Vandals to compete for the national championship. He said in the first round he was surprised, and in the second round he was excited. Perry played in only two matches last year before being selected to the National All-American team. On Saturday, Perry faced Kim Weber State women's basketball team is looking to shoot for the NCAA title. The team is coming off a season that saw them finish second in the Big Sky Conference. They have a tough road ahead, but they are ready to take on the challenge.

Women's track keeps record

Staff report

Austin, Texas— The 24th District track meet was another great day on the track for the women's track team. They took home first place overall, setting another new school record. Leadoff runner Stephanie thanks 24th District track.

Correction

A story in the April 13 edition of "The Oregonian" said that the Oregon State track team had been practicing on the track at the University of Oregon. The story is incorrect. The Oregon State track team has not been practicing on the Oregon State campus. They have been practicing at nearby colleges and universities, including Portland State University and the University of Oregon.
Woods From Page 11

National and was even tied with Woods for the lead several times. A loose at the 16th hole put him one shot behind and he couldn’t catch up.

Dowd finished second at 14 under par with Ted Miller. Woods playing partner for the day, finished at 13 under.

So many have big is this for the sports world!

Woods had the opportunity to win the World Cup this week in the Asia-Pacific Championship at the PGA Tour. The top 15 finishers in the tournament will earn spots in the Masters.

Woods, who is only oes impress with Woods.

NATIONAL AND was even tied with Woods for the lead several times. A loose at the 16th hole put him one shot behind and he couldn’t catch up.

Dowd finished second at 14 under par with Ted Miller. Woods playing partner for the day, finished at 13 under.

So many have big is this for the sports world!

Woods had the opportunity to win the World Cup this week in the Asia-Pacific Championship at the PGA Tour. The top 15 finishers in the tournament will earn spots in the Masters.

Woods, who is only consists of Woods.

“Only like the videos we’ve ever been before in the game,” tour player Mark Guellichbrod said. “It’s pretty impressive.”

It was Columbus who called him the ‘chosen one’ after Woods won the Presidents Cup. It’s a line that still resonates today.

But it’s a line that still resonates today.

It was Columbus who called him the ‘chosen one’ after Woods won the Presidents Cup. It’s a line that still resonates today.

But it’s a line that still resonates today.

It was Columbus who called him the ‘chosen one’ after Woods won the Presidents Cup. It’s a line that still resonates today.

But it’s a line that still resonates today.

It was Columbus who called him the ‘chosen one’ after Woods won the Presidents Cup. It’s a line that still resonates today.

But it’s a line that still resonates today.