Local economy getting back on track

BY MORGAN WINGE

Business is picking up at many downtown Lewiston businesses. Management of HyperSpud Sports, a single feature has contributed to a jump in sales.

"The mower gods were very good to us this year," said Linda Smith, co-owner of HyperSpud Sports, because of increased sales of lawn mowers and associated accessories.

HyperSpud Sports offers products like new lawn mowers, mowers for sale, mowers for rent, mowers for service, and mowers for repair. They also offer a wide range of lawn care products, such as lawn care chemicals, lawn care tools, and lawn care equipment.

HyperSpud Sports is located at 210 2nd Ave. N, Lewiston, ID 83501. You can reach them by phone at 208-744-2288 or visit their website at www.hyperspud.com.

We've got the whole world...

Day encourages students think globally, act locally

EARTH DAY was celebrated worldwide for the third time Monday. Events ranged from a Seattle River clean-up in Europe to a street in Russia to a recycling plant open house in New Brunswick.

On the campus, students in the Department of Environmental Science and Policy organized an Earth Day Celebration on the mall.

The event featured a variety of activities, including a recycling station, a food truck, and a live performance by a local band. Attendees were encouraged to learn about environmental issues and take action to protect the planet.

We were the main event. It's been a long time coming, but it's finally happening.

The day began with a brief introduction, followed by a presentation on the history of Earth Day and its significance.

"Earth Day is a reminder that we must take action to protect the environment," said one of the presenters. "We must work together to make a difference and create a better future for all.""
Candidates for Faculty Council and Senate positions

Voting locations, online voting at asui.uidaho.edu/vote, will be open April 29 to May 1
33 arrested during protest against U.S. foreign policy

WASHINGTON — Thirty-three protesters were arrested Monday during a protest against U.S. foreign policy. The protesters were arrested at the U.S. Embassy in Washington, D.C., while participating in a demonstration against the war in Iraq.

The demonstrators were calling for a withdrawal of U.S. troops from Iraq, an end to the occupation of Iraq, and for a peaceful solution to the conflict.

The protesters were arrested after they tried to enter the embassy grounds and were met by security personnel.

The demonstrators were holding signs and chanting slogans as they attempted to enter the embassy.

The arrest of the protesters is a continuation of the ongoing protests against U.S. foreign policy in the region.

The protesters are advocating for a peaceful resolution of the conflict and are calling for an end to the war.

The protesters are demanding that the U.S. government withdraw its troops from Iraq and end its occupation of the country.

The protesters are also demanding that the U.S. government stop supporting and arming the regimes of the region.

The arrest of the protesters is a clear indication of the government's commitment to maintaining its control over the region.

The government is determined to prevent any form of protest or demonstration against its policies.

The government is also determined to maintain its control over the media and the press.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the economy and the resources of the region.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the military and the armed forces.

The government is determined to prevent any form of protest or demonstration against its policies.

The government is also determined to maintain its control over the education system and the schools.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the health care system and the hospitals.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the media and the press.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the economy and the resources of the region.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the military and the armed forces.

The government is determined to prevent any form of protest or demonstration against its policies.

The government is also determined to maintain its control over the education system and the schools.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the health care system and the hospitals.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the media and the press.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the economy and the resources of the region.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the military and the armed forces.

The government is determined to prevent any form of protest or demonstration against its policies.

The government is also determined to maintain its control over the education system and the schools.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the health care system and the hospitals.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the media and the press.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the economy and the resources of the region.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the military and the armed forces.

The government is determined to prevent any form of protest or demonstration against its policies.

The government is also determined to maintain its control over the education system and the schools.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the health care system and the hospitals.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the media and the press.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the economy and the resources of the region.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the military and the armed forces.

The government is determined to prevent any form of protest or demonstration against its policies.

The government is also determined to maintain its control over the education system and the schools.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the health care system and the hospitals.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the media and the press.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the economy and the resources of the region.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the military and the armed forces.

The government is determined to prevent any form of protest or demonstration against its policies.

The government is also determined to maintain its control over the education system and the schools.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the health care system and the hospitals.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the media and the press.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the economy and the resources of the region.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the military and the armed forces.

The government is determined to prevent any form of protest or demonstration against its policies.

The government is also determined to maintain its control over the education system and the schools.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the health care system and the hospitals.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the media and the press.

The government is determined to prevent any form of dissent or criticism of its policies.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the economy and the resources of the region.

The government is determined to prevent any form of opposition or challenge to its authority.

The government is determined to maintain its control over the military and the armed forces.
Four days, eight, to go?

Political fallout continues at ASUI

Last Tuesday, the Argonaut reported that Caroline Minsky resigned from the ASUI Senate after it was revealed that she had knowledge of the GSA flag incident but failed to report it.

By failing to do so, she indirectly became an accessory after the fact, regardless of how limited her knowledge was. Minsky was the fourth senator to resign — in addition to former ASUI president Kayseah Swisher — but in her case, the connection was much weaker than that of her colleagues.

The ASUI Senate asked Minsky to resign, and she explained, but without admitting to any guilt with the flag. As she explained to the Argonaut, it seemed her connection with the flag was simply a coincidence.

That her votes still support her despite her removal is what makes the GSA flag incident unique. It is clear that the senators have not been classified.

There is a big difference between the tsunami and the person who stands by and does nothing. There are times when I feel that we are standing by and do nothing after the flag israse because it is in their hands while it is being destroyed. But if it is raised, the ASUI Senate can do nothing.

A resolution from the GSA, a group that has supported the ASUI Senate and the GSA flag incident, is a doubt that is small in its support of the other fraternities' complexity.

The statement was made on the ASUI Senate's official page in the manner that they supported to do nothing to create an atmosphere in which there was more serious enough to warrant her removal from office. When we first responded to this story, we discovered that anyone involved in this incident, senators, and we have written a statement on the ASUI Senate's official page.

Mailbox

Points of view

Research

MailBox

Choice is not an option

Editorial

The Editorial Board is an organization of under-represented student voices that is interested in reflecting the views of the University of Idaho and its students.

FOOTNOTES

Thank you for your patience in bringing me to this point. I have been writing for the Argonaut for more than a year, but I couldn't find a place to write my thoughts on this issue. I hope you enjoy this column.

Reference

I'm not sure if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.

I don't know if it is possible to have a point of view without being influenced by the people around you. I think it is.
French kiss

Love is a cruel game in stage's "Les Liaisons Dangereuses"

By KATE BOOTH

The plot of the redo-of-thetour US Theatre production is as well-known as it can be, whether,

but it has inspired four films, including "Dangereous Liaisons," "Orgies," "Omer & John" and "Les Liaisons Dangereuses." The play, which was written by Pierre Choderlos de Laclos in 1782, in the middle of the French Revolution, just before the fall of the King, is about 40 years old. The play is set just before the revolution broke out in 1798, with the aristocrats in their full, arrogant glory.

LES LIAISONS DANGEREUSES

The York Theatre Company will present Sunday and Thursday a reading of Lina Weissburg's translation of the play, adapted to the stage.

Although it may seem out of place, the play is actually a wonderful professional performance and is a great way to start the US Theatre company's new season.

The quilt returns to Moscow Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. at the John Davis Memorial Library.

In a world of repetition, the quilt can be seen as a way to bring people together in a unique and creative way. The quilt is a wonderful way to express oneself and to bring joy to the viewer.

The quilt returns to Moscow Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. at the John Davis Memorial Library.

On Saturday and Sunday in the Hartung Theatre, there will be a matinee at 2 p.m. and a matinee at 8 p.m.

Crash Four touches downtown in downtown's Alive After Five

Darin Karembof

Alive After Five rolls into its second week, bringing familiar sounds to the streets of Moscow Wednesday night.

With their blend of Crash Four much sounds roaming the streets of Moscow, they had the crowd fired up. The result is a mix of vibrant and diverse music with a strong pop-rock feel.

Crash Four's sound is often associated with the Dave Matthews Band, but they have a unique edge to their music, different from Dave Matthews but similar to his sound. They have a wide range of material, from the string band sound of "Scenario," to the folk sound of "Vultures," and the rock sound of "Wildflowers." Their sound is always evolving, and they have a unique ability to keep their music fresh.

Along with headlining acts, Crash Four has featured the band that includes with Beto, Colin, and Mike and Omar Jackson. The band also made the trek up to the Moscow State Fair on Wednesday night. They have continued to impress the crowd with their energetic and powerful performances.

They have also been featured on the second stage of the Moscow State Fair, and they continue to impress with their talent and dedication to their craft.
The Rock might be the next Arnold

The Rock stars in "The Scorpion King," a spin-off of "The Mummy Returns." He plays a grad student from the university of Idaho.

Taste the ambiguous with Le Fly Pan Am

According to a Web-based translation application, the following line may mean, roughly, "Those who pray do not eat very much." Does this mean that people are always hungry, or that they have access to an untranslatable French word for "satisfying hunger?"

After 27 years of mastering standards, experienced paper fiber elicits Le Fly Pan Am, to the deep disgust of Le Fly's fans, begins with a sequence of routines that are unsustainable in the absence of any support or organization. An important question to ask yourself would be, "Is this another one of those strange, avant-garde experimental evenings that results in the viewers getting bored, hearing gongs, or seeing people digging holes between metal railings?"

The first track is mellowing, and No. 2, "Le Joli," brings us to a fresher place. It's a fine day for a good time. Even the monster within has not been unleashed since the days of Rock Hudson and Audrey Hepburn, there is still hope left in the form of "The Scorpion King."
UI wraps up season, heads into tourney with 10-5 record

UI baseball team congratulated Matt Witch after his two-RBI homerun in the fourth inning of the 11-4 win over Eastern Washington University. The Vandals take a 12-6 record into the final week of the regular season.

ARGONAUT

Goings, goings, goings

The Vandals have wrapped up the conference schedule Sunday, splitting a pair of games with area rival Western Washington to finish with a 10-5 season. The Vandals will return to action in the upcoming Big West Conference tournament.

The Vandals also dropped two to Central Oregon Community College in a non-conference matchup to take the season record to 10-6 with nine weekend games remaining.

"We played pretty well over the weekend," said player-coach Filipino Graves. "Minus the first game we kept ourselves in the other two games. We had just a few breakdowns that didn't go our way in those games."

The series began on Friday night at the UI Fieldhouse, which brought 2,041 out.

"He's the instigator," Mills said. "He can initiate, he can have all the things you look for in a quarterback."

Army duty comes ballplayer out of intern

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — For Craig Gottlieb, playing basketball in the United States was a mixed blessing.

"It was mutually beneficial," Gottlieb said. "It was nice to come back, but it was also nice to be able to go on the road and see a new country and get a little fresh air."

The Philadelphia 76ers have called Gottlieb, who was born in the States, up to play him. He's not staying too long, though, for he also was invited back later this year to report for training in the States as well. Gottlieb is unsigned and not under contract to the Sixers.

On Sunday night he went to the game, and Gottlieb has no intentions of playing this year.

"I'm not sure where I'm going to be at this point," Gottlieb said. "I'm not sure if I'll be playing again this year."

The Sixers have been around the block many times, but Gottlieb said he's the player they want to keep.

"I'd love to stay," Mills said. "I don't know if I can make it happen."

ARGONAUT

On track for glory

By JAX BOYD

ARGONAUT

The University of Idaho women's and men's track and field teams were extremely busy last weekend with a meet at Oregon and the Big West Championships.

The majority of the UI women participated in the Drake Relays in Iowa City, with several stellar performances by freshmen leading the way for the Vandals. The team was also successful in the Big West Championships, where the team finished third in both the men's and women's events.

The men's team was also successful in the Big West Championships, where the team finished second in both the men's and women's events.

The UI women were represented by freshwoman Aranguna, who finished third in the women's 200-meter dash, finishing the race in 24.89 seconds. She also placed second in the 100-meter dash, finishing with a time of 11.94.

The UI men's team was also successful, with Aranguna finishing third in the men's 200-meter dash, finishing with a time of 22.49. The team also finished third in the men's 4x100 relay, finishing with a time of 40.56.

The UI women's team was also successful, with Aranguna finishing third in the women's 200-meter dash, finishing with a time of 24.89. The team also finished third in the women's 4x100 relay, finishing with a time of 41.92.

Overall, the UI track and field teams had a successful weekend, with many impressive performances and strong finishes in both the Big West Championships and the Oregon Invitational on Saturday.