Stephanie Hale-Lopez

UI mourns student's death

A tragic tragedy in history paused ten minutes as the result of an apparent suicide.

The police, upon initial call, arrived at 9:13 a.m. indicated he was found in the bathroom on the first floor of the Alpine Tower dormitory where he was a member. The Argonaut has decided not to print the name of the victim at this time.

David Duke, assistant director of the Moscow Police Department, said the police did not receive any indications from the fraternity members that he had contemplated suicide.

Police said they do not believe the death was accidental.

"Most of the time, we try to go home and find a place where the victim will be helped," Pitman said. "In short, if we say to my ATQ are going, "Pitman said. "It's a difficult time for the Moscow Police and the victim's family." Pitman said ATQ will have a private memorial service.

"They're going through the grieving pro- cess," Pitman said.

"Dr. Duke," Pitman said. "We found no evidence of incidents are always difficult, but the MPD handles them with timeliness and works with the university when appropriate.

"Our main concern was with the family," Pitman said. "We wanted to make sure the family was given a chance to talk about the situation with the university so they didn't have to have it all burdened by this tragic event."

UI provides assistance in the way of free counseling to all full-time students by calling the University Counseling Center at 208-885-6200. Pitman said. "But after that time, we have extended emergency drop-in services at the CCP."

Stephanie Hale-Lopez

Mues: budget war

Mark Sandosmf

After a long series of budget cuts and heldbacks, the University of Idaho must find ways to bring in a dramatic increases in funds or spend much less.

Vice President for Finance and Administration Mells Lloyd, Idaho's faculty senator Tuesday, said that:

"I'm literally at the stage where we raise resources or lose people go."

Though a big increase in budget issues have been addressed this week, the University has to find a permanent solution to the $20 million loss from its budget over the past two years.

Since the vast majority of state appropriations are used to pay for police and staff, any reduction in these appropriations brings pressure to cut personnel. Mells said this should be avoided at all costs.

"If you cut human retreats, you get into a spiral of not an operation very quick, Mells said.

"This situation - one in which obvious cuts reca that is the most painful.

"We are literally at the stage where we raise revenue or we let people go."

UI revenue and spending in recent years

\begin{table}
\centering
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|c|}
\hline
\textbf{Year} & \textbf{Revenue} & \textbf{Expenditure} \\
\hline
2002 & 38,000,000 & 33,500,000 \\
2003 & 39,000,000 & 34,000,000 \\
2004 & 40,000,000 & 35,000,000 \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
\end{table}

Jack O'Connor, head of the Idaho Senate, says and sings during a benefit concert for homeless Wednesday evening at Idaho Falls.

UI alum urges students to "Be the Match"

Stephanie Hale-Lopez

It's a situation many people think they never have to face. For Robert Heatley, a 2008 UI alum, living with cancer was something completely unexpected.

"You get out of college and all the sudden you start wondering: What am I going to do? What am I going to do?" Heatley

"I'm not sure," Heatley said. "That's one of the worst things about being a cancer survivor."

Heatley suffers from an apopopular form of leukemia, which affects the liver and spleen. He was diagnosed with cancer in late 2006 and his condition has worsened with his mother in Seattle. Heatley's disease is very emotional.

"I feel pretty good about where I am and how I am doing," Heatley said. "Hopefully I will get back to normal and I will be on my way to full recovery in time."

The "match" Heatley refers to is a bone marrow donor match, a vital part of his survival.

"Our main concern was with the family," Heatley said. "We wanted to make sure the family was given a chance to talk about the situation with the university so they didn't have to have it all burdened by this tragic event."

UI provides assistance in the way of free counseling to all full-time students by calling the University Counseling Center at 208-885-6200. Pitman said. "But after that time, we have extended emergency drop-in services at the CCP."

"We are literally at the stage where we raise revenue or we let people go."

UI revenue and spending in recent years

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Year</th>
<th>Revenue</th>
<th>Expenditure</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>2002</td>
<td>38,000,000</td>
<td>33,500,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2003</td>
<td>39,000,000</td>
<td>34,000,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2004</td>
<td>40,000,000</td>
<td>35,000,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Football player arrested

Associated Press

A University of Idaho football player was arrested in connection with a weekend fight following the team's 25-23 over Hawai'i. Safety Shilo Kao turned himself in Tuesday morning after being charged with battery. He was released on Tuesday.

Kao was arrested in early November.

He leads the 6-1 Van-nals with 24 tackles, including 38 by himself.

Jill Black, a spokeswoman for the UI, said the incident was under review.

"We have a list of those who are suspected," Kao said. "If you have a friend who's a struggling, en-tried to get help.

Kinfolk

Bored with the same old workout? Ready to take the next step?

Sports skills training
Cardiovascular training

FOR MORE INFO AND TO SIGN UP:
campusrec.uidaho.edu/intramural

Get involved with a new or familiar sport.
JOIN A SPORTS CLUB TODAY!
campusrec.uidaho.edu/sportsclubs

Get your heart pumping with 50 minutes of pedal spinning

Classes offered:
Monday - Saturday
CHECK OUT THE FALL WELNESS SCHEDULE

WOMEN'S CLIMBING NIGHTS
Come out every Wednesday night to the SRC Climbing Center and climb in a comfortable setting.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT
7PM Climbing Center

OUTDOOR RENTAL CENTER: If you need it, we have it.

OUTDOOR RENTAL CENTER: If you need it, we have it. Visit our shop for the highest-quality rental gear.
campusrec.uidaho.edu/Outdoor

Submit your photos to arg-photo@uidaho.edu and you could win a $15 gift certificate to the University of Idaho Bookstore.

Deadline: Oct. 29 by noon
Next week's theme: Food

Photo by: Pavitra Roychoudhury
Theme: Autumn

Photo: 2

sudoku

corrections

Find a mistake? Send an e-mail to the section editor.
Contact information can be found on page 6.

KUOI
89.3 FM
Research veep talks up Nellis

Chew Thomas

Argonaut

Steve Dennis/Argonaut

Nellis chief said they will be focusing on the environment, agricultural research, science, technology, meetings and making the installation better.

Nellis' future looks as convoluted in the area to become more complex.

"We're going to have a heck of a lot more food and water," said McLver.

McLver was named president of research.

Parish who works in Native American media discussed the squeeze of free press Monday afternoon in a panel discussion. She said media is complicated and hard to navigate.

"Threatened and Vương's basis in Native American Media," a town hall evening hosted by the University of Idaho School of Journalism and Mass Media addressed funding within Native American media, as well as the conflicts with mainstream media.

"I've been at the mercy of current tribal council members — the governing body," said Romnee Washines, president of the Native American Journalist Association. "They can approve funding for the ideal of the newspaper, and you can't approve funding for the ideal for tribal leaders.

Jeff Harjo, executive director of Native Americans in the Tribal Court said, "I think it's institutional pressure from ratings rather than news," Trulski said.

The goals of Native American media include communicats, organizing and telling stories as well as emaculating new technology, Trulski said. He has good relationships with tribal leaders.

"I always seem to be not a high priority," he said. He added his mainstream media and coverage of Native American news were also addressed. "It all depends on the tribe. Some tribes have passed resolutions that separate

senateREPORT

Presidential Communications

Wilson announced Monday that Wilson careers came before the presidential campaign, with the With breakfast on its agenda. Wilson-remove this "Our government," Wilson will take part in theTAILGATING PANELISTS

"Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.

Wendy Monroe Police

Department is becoming increasingly concerned with the safety of students and tailgating in the "Lett your groups Invitations into have in the tailgating area, or Odette Wilson said.
Fraternity works to support AIDS awareness

Ashley Centers
Agnessa

Victor Lansley, '21, and his brothers in the Lambda Theta Nu Fraternity are bringing HIV and AIDS prevention and awareness to campus through a presentation titled "AIDS: The War We Must Win." The program is in conjunction with the annual Omega chapter from Humboldt State University. The presentation will be given on Tuesday, Oct. 19, in the Student Diversity Center.

Mazo said the goal of the presentation is to steer away from the typical AIDS-awareness path of showing images of the disease and to draw the audience in by discussing the history of AIDS and the disease itself.

Mazo said another goal of the presentation is to help students break away from stereotypes about the origin of the disease. "We will encourage an open discussion about the social context of AIDS, the history and the disease and the cultural and legal issues that have affected the prevention of the disease," he said. "The presentation will create history and define where we have come from, what we are doing now and where we are going in the future."

Mazo said many people are starting to have a better idea and are starting to understand AIDS/ HIV is something that can affect anyone. "We will also think that just because one has AIDS, one should be treated with compassion," Mazo said. "The event will address the new treatment options and ways for prevention of the disease, and we will talk about the global impact of AIDS and how it has created and ways we can work together as others and ourselves about the world around us.

When steel prices were high enough, members would pay for the rights to dispose of the steel for the coat they stole. In today's economy, the government pays more than $10 billion a year to pay for the steel to dismantle them.

The dry docks will cost the government an estimated $11 million in renovation costs, Hurd said. "It is worth it in environmental and economic terms if we get the right away," he said.

The stout waterfront has been selling off excess space and equipment to raise money. New York's city government is responsible for the city's waterfront, planning and development. The city does not have the money to be able to buy the buildings.

The city's water front was once home to some of New York's most important industries and businesses. It was the home of the city's largest shipyards and dry docks. It was also the site of some of the city's most famous monuments, including the Statue of Liberty and the Brooklyn Bridge.

The city has been using the waterfront to generate revenue for years, but it has been unable to find a buyer for the property. The city has also been trying to sell the property through a development plan, but no one has shown interest in buying it.

The city's waterfront was once home to some of the city's most important industries and businesses. It was the home of the city's largest shipyards and dry docks. It was also the site of some of the city's most famous monuments, including the Statue of Liberty and the Brooklyn Bridge.

The city has been using the waterfront to generate revenue for years, but it has been unable to find a buyer for the property. The city has also been trying to sell the property through a development plan, but no one has shown interest in buying it.
off theCUFF
Got us out of our other lovers

Argonaut archives
Here's a good joke: The Argonaut's archives for university students who were enrolled at the school here recently. That's how I found out that the Argonaut was originally a weekly, but was once a 21-year-old history student who was tagged for murder. It's a dream... a dream that led him to working for us. — ER

Millions are good God
There is a God in town, just waiting for you to come and praise His name. There is no God without God. — Eliza abeth

Missing candy corn
I can't think of a jar of gourmet candy corn on her desk. Too of the favorite crime bruiser and huckelberry. I don't even know what she looks like nor who pushes me to want to steal them. — Kayley

Meat-Love
After scraping the "cheese" off my meat ball sandwich Wednesday, I ate it with wild abandon. I was the happiest dead /v

 Babies having babies
A high school in Chicago that has a student population of 35,000 has 115 female students who are already pregnant.
What is the issue teaching these young girls? We were at a loss of what to do, and I put more money into the advertising. — Jeremy

Yum
I took my girlfriend to Red Lobster yesterday. There was a long wait, but it was delicious. I was thinking about Korean food, though... I didn't even notice it with me. — Jeff

Sometimes a class is can be a sécurizing feeling. You are still alone and do not know about projects that work for you.

Top 5 chain restaurants
There are a few top chain dinestant restaurants. 1. Applebees. 2. T.G.I.
Friday's. 3. Chili's

Free weekend
I think this is the only weekend all year that no one has the Heisman. It is the dumber of can only if I had any time every weekend. — Joe

The Argonaut © 2009
All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be republished, transmitted or utilized in any way, by anyone is an employee, agent, or independent contractor of the Argonaut, without the written consent of the copyright holder. No part of this publication may be printed, transmitted, or utilized in any way, by anyone is an employee, agent, or independent contractor of the Argonaut, without the written consent of the copyright holder. No part of this publication may be republished, transmitted or utilized in any way, by anyone is an employee, agent, or independent contractor of the Argonaut, without the written consent of the copyright holder. No part of this publication may be republished, transmitted or utilized in any way, by anyone is an employee, agent, or independent contractor of the Argonaut, without the written consent of the copyright holder. No part of this publication may be

Rock for homecoming sparks

Friday, Oct. 23, 2009

Simpson's dog MIA

Remember when Jessica Simpson lost her dog, Daisy, to a coyote? She's allegedly getting a new pet pooch because "it's what Daisy would have wanted." Who wants to bet Daisy willingly ran away with a coyote because she was sick of being Jessica's break-up therapy?

Anorexic Ashley?

Is Ashley Simpson anorexic? She's looking a little thin on "M Melrose Place." Her lips say she's "tired," but failed to end the sentence with, "too much stress a day."

Go est a burger, Ralph

Speaking of stress, Ralph Lauren finds out one of their models, Filipa Hamilton, for being "over-weight." Since when is being 3'10" and 120 pounds overweight? Sshh you, Ralph. Who wears Ralph Lauren anyway? Elderly people, that's who.

Kourt Kardashian, marathon trainee or soon-to-be mom?

So even though Kourtney Kardashian is extremely pregnant, like extremely pregnant, she's keeping up with her fitness regimen by going on extremely long runs. Nothing like making sure your baby is born with some physical symphony.

Sardine's and Lindsay's burglar caught

The burglar who broke into the home of Audrina Patridge and Lindsay Lohan has been caught. Turns out she's an 18-year-old who probably just wanted Patridge's old Hills DVD's and Lohan's new self-tanner. How much damage could she have done?

Lambert = ladies man?

Turns out American Idol star Adam Lambert, a.k.a. gay-singer king, admits he's a ladies man. American Idol's favorite never cease to amaze.

Canned wine?

Paris Hilton's Italian-brand of canned sparkling wine has been removed from shelves. KDE to Italy for stepping up and saying no. We should learn from them. Isn't wait. Hilton actually had a canned sparkling wine? What a joke product. Never if the trend shot gaining a bottle of wine, couldn't it? So then decided to put it in a can.

Wayne needs to wrap it

Lil Wayne confirms he's the daddy of rapper Nivea's baby. This is the third child she has for in a little over a year. Lil Wayne, don't be a fool, wrap your tool. See? I can say too.

Messy room, clean art

Photograph by Miriam Masich

Elizabeth Rood/Agence Press

A room in a house site shown, destroyed and wonderingly abandoned. A crow sits on the leg of an upside down table, grills the covers and the curtains are tattered and torn. Books, blankets and other items litter the floor, but even through the mess, rich colors, storm brush strokes and obvious thought stand out in full 'Hardy's painting, "Laugh Now, Cry Later."

"Laugh Now, Cry Later" is a painting in the collection of the Currier Museum of Art in Manchester, NH. The painting is of a room with a middle of the spectrum with a realistic feel, but a somewhat absurdist approach. "Laugh Now, Cry Later" is a realistic representation of a room, but it is not exactly an accurate representation of real life. The combination of multipurpose paint layers and quick, short brush strokes combined with long, smooth strokes that attempt to be exact in certain places and no flowing in others. A viewer may recognize this when they compare the walls of the room to the upside down table. The walls are layered with several colors and have quick brush marks, whereas the table has long, smooth strokes to define its contours. This combination creates a slight distortion to the image, but also adds to the movement of the piece. "Laugh Now, Cry Later" displays a strong use of color by showing the different colors layered together, and his screen is not blended at all, to create a smooth transition when viewed from a distance. The color also shows a distinct value and is used strategically to represent shadowing, texture and depth. Colors is particularly notable in the yellow curtains hanging on the back wall, along with the tables and on the second table, which is standing upright. The earth tones used come a somewhat feeling, which simply adds to the setting of the painting. Another notable aspect of the painting is the well executed two point perspective. When looking at the tables, windows and walls, it is easy to decipher where the direction the room is painted, and it creates the illusion of depth.

The off-putting aspect of this painting is the two point perspective to it because they characterize the painting's title. In the upper left corner, there is an accumulation of object symbol objects and a half pencil that spell out "waster" — representing team — and a face that has been completely painted over, except the smile, on one wall. These characteristics seem out of place with the context of the rest of the painting, unless the name is taken into consideration.
Feast on roast beef

Roast beef was one of the first big cooking projects my mother taught me to do. It's a small investment of time and doesn't take much more than an oven and a big roasting pan. It also creates a lot of opportunities to use leftovers and recycle many of the bones for stock or soups.

Any substantial cut of meat can be used for a roast. For the highest yield of the cut, the more marbling throughout the meat will be in a more tender roast. The King of Meats is prime loin, but a nice cut of cold roast is extremely expensive and can cost $20. With prices like this, it's difficult to know why Las Vegas buffets can offer it so cheaply.

Chuck roasts are leaner within, but have more fat and gristle on the outside. This lowers the muscle fat in the roast, making it moister, which makes up for the lack of marbling. When in search of lean roast meat, try chuck roast and trim away the excess fat.

For this recipe, I use chuck roast. This is a highly tender cut, but was chosen precisely for that reason. Whole C.O. often has great deals on meat, and I got these pounds for just $5.78. Just make sure to cook it or freeze it with the expiration date on the roast will go to waste.

Once the roast is cooked, try topping it with different sauces and seasonings. Feta salt and pepper at the table, or a blend of Chinese spices. My favorite topping for a meat roast is horseradish. The zip of the horseradish is wonderful counterbalanced with the tender beef, and adds a little spice to which is welcome to be added to the roast. Try mustard for a similar effect.

After you enjoy your dinner, save the leftover beef. It can be cut up and used for sandwiches. Save the meat dippings, and use them as a dipping sauce. This gives a hang of flavor to what could be a basic roast meat dish.

Have a luxurious breakfast for tea or by making beef hash. Chop up the roast and combine it with three home fries. Cook according to the directions on the package, serve with egg and toast, and enjoy with a glass of orange juice or cup of coffee. This is much less expensive than going out.

THOMAS

Easy Roast Beef

Arguably the best way to roast beef is using a probe thermometer. If you do not have a thermometer, check the beef 45 minutes by cutting into the center to judge the color. For this recipe, I use chuck roast and a medium-rare roast. Preheat the oven to 450 degrees. Place the roast in a baking dish or roasting pan. If you are using a cut with a lot of fat on the inside, first cut off the excess fat and put it in a pan. Place the garlic and spices on top. Tilt the oven and allow to rest for five minutes. Cut and serve.

Music:

Trans Siberian Orchestra

Nighttime Carnival

If TSIO is missing a new album it is because the band is touring all around the world. I worked very hard in an effort to not release a Christmas style album. I hate to please if they wish to steal their same woods and glossy guitar licks.

Available Oct. 27 at Amazon, Hastings & Creed

Full Circle

Whitsun followed by True North and nearly everything about his alleged attempt at relations and to men. Just, best way makes sense as well as the older names after the former's side effect. After Bridge, filled on the rock charts.

Available Oct. 27 on iTunes and Amazon & at Hastings

Tech Nine

K.O.D.

After his top-selling album, finally released in 2006 his second company, Red Leaf Records, has grown exponentially.

Tech Nine, as well as his rapper cousins, have since released a whopping 11 albums. Tech looks to repeat his success with this album as people eagerly wait.

Available Oct. 27 at Hastings, itunes and http://beatsfromtechnine.com

Movies:

"The Age of Dinosaurs"

Roy Roman, John Leguizamo and Debra Lee return as the beloved voices

Roast Beef

Roast Beef

Chicken thighs on a probe thermometer. If you do not have a thermometer, check the beef 45 minutes by cutting into the center to judge the color.

For this recipe, I use chicken thighs and a medium roast. Preheat the oven to 450 degrees. Place the chicken in a baking dish or roasting pan. If you are using a cut with a lot of fat on the inside, first cut off the excess fat and put it in a pan. Place the garlic and spices on top. Tilt the oven and allow to rest for five minutes. Cut and serve.

Great BROWNS

Haunted Palace

Palace, Week, will be holding its eighth annual haunted house. For this year’s event, we have discovered a few new ingredients for a new kind of horror. We have developed a brand new haunted house and a new unique haunted hotel.

Available Oct. 27 through Dec. 31.

This year’s event will include two haunted houses, 3 to 5 pm. We have developed a hybrid of haunted circuit. We will be releasing a brand new haunted house and a new unique haunted hotel.

Available Oct. 27 through Dec. 31.

Zombie Walk

Moscow's first Zombie Walk will take place on Oct. 31 at 7 P.M. in Fronton Square. It will be a fun walking gathering that celebrates the culture of the horror film.

Fronton BROWNS

Moscow’s first Zombie Walk will take place on Oct. 31 at 7 P.M. in Fronton Square.

It will be a fun walking gathering that celebrates the culture of the horror film. This year, we are excited to announce that we will be holding our first ever Zombie Walk at Fronton Square. The event is open to the public and will feature a variety of zombie costumes and activities.

The zombie walk will start at 7 P.M. and follow a pre-determined route through the heart of downtown Moscow. Participants are encouraged to come dressed as zombies and to bring creative and unique zombie costumes.

The event is free to attend and open to people of all ages. There will be live music, food trucks, and other activities throughout the night.

The zombie walk will conclude with a costume contest at 8 P.M. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes, as determined by a panel of judges.

We hope you will join us for a fun and spooky evening in downtown Moscow! For more information, please visit our website or follow us on social media.

If you would like to participate as a zombie or sponsor the event, please contact us at info@zombiewalkonfrontonsquare.com.

The Washington Times

The Washington Times
The perfect match up

The pairing of Nevada and Idaho could make for tough competition

Jennifer Schilke
Argonaut

Tomorrow the Vandals football team (6-1 overall, 3-1 WAC) will face fared with yet another challenge in order to prove themselves worthy of a bowl game berth. Tomorrow the team fawns off against the Nevada Wolf Pack (4-3 overall and 2-0 in the WAC). The Vandals are riding high in rushing yards with almost 300 yards per game. After the game, the coach Robb Akley said rushing defense happens to be a Vandals specialty.

For our defense, that is the key, Akley said. "Being able to stop the run has played a great role in our defense. We have to stop that first to make the other things happen."

With both teams coming off win last weekend, Nevada over Utah State and Idaho over Hawaii!, Akley said he anticipates tomorrow's game to be "a good one."

Idaho trails behind Nevada in rushing defense at 46th in the nation with 161 rushing yards per game. But Idaho's rushing defense sits high at 26th in the nation. One challenge for Idaho is to be wary of Nevada's quarterback Colin Kaepernick, who has led his team to their rushing sit high at 16th in the nation.

"They are running the ball better than everybody else in the country," Akley said. "They've got three guys doing it, but he's (Kaepernick) the trigger man."

So far this season the Vandals have yielded an average of 166 yards per game. Vandals' defense and turnovers could be key.

The perfect match up, see MATCHUP, page 12

NASCAR drives around in circles

There are some things that seem to happen every year. The reign of the British Empire, the songs of Roy Orbison and the NASCAR season are all entities on which the sun will never set on.

For those who may have missed it, the NASCAR season has been going on for a little under four years now. I am not a NASCAR fan by any stretch of the imagination, but even the most casual observer could recognize the absurd length of the sport that is not really a sport at all.

The NASCAR season started all the way back in February with the so-called Super Bowl of auto racing, the Daytona 500. The never ending quest for the championship, or whatever it is called, has meandered through countless days, months and years with the end allegedly in sight.

While my own musings about the length they have been grossly exaggerated, ten months is still way too long for an event as mundane as NASCAR. Sure, golf and tennis may have longer seasons but surely not ones on TV.

What is worse — not only do the races get intercut, but qualifying and practices are also broadcast. NASCAR is dull to begin with, but watching someone prepare to drive around in a circle 400 times by driving around in a circle with no competition is pointless. How terrible could it be if the NASCAR season lasted for only four races? I doubt it, and it may even give the figurehead of the competition, Dale Earnhardt Jr., a chance at winning something.

Another problem with NASCAR has to be the fact that the most popular driver is also obsessed with media. I understand the following his dad had but there has to be a separation between sentiment and reality.

The fact is Earnhardt Jr. is just not that good. It would be the equivalent of Brian Grace being the figurehead of the NHL before he retired because people loved his dad. That is ridiculous and so is NASCAR fan's infatuation.

The perfect match up, see CURE, page 12

Digging for a cure

Team raises money for breast cancer research

Lila Short

The Dog for a Cure volleyball game of 2009 brought record attendance at Memorial Gym with 1,842 fans. Last year's game raised more than $40,000 from the sale of T-shirts and pledges. All proceeds went to the Susan G. Komen Foundation for breast cancer research.

This year, the team is hoping for another exciting game. Coach Debbie Buchanan said they expect to see high attendance numbers and a black out of the gym with their black and pinkDig for a Cure shirts.

The match takes on Nevada at 7 p.m. on Saturday Oct. 24 in the Memorial Gym. The Vandals (5-3) beat Utah State and Nevada on the road recently and Buchanan said they expect to transfer their momentum back to their home gym.

Idaho beat Utah State last Monday on a five set match and knows they will be competing for revenge, senior Meredith Rice said. Buchanan said people will be able to see the donation fun again and see the amount of money for each dig the team did the fundraiser and they found great success in it. Rice said they hope to be able to get the same enthusiasm this year. Having the fan support will help.

The team did the fundraiser and they found great success in it. Rice said they hope to be able to get the same enthusiasm this year. Having the fan support will help.

University of Idaho outside hitter Kelsey Taylor bumps up and spikes the ball during the volleyball game with Nevada Thursday evening.

The Vandals won the game, 5-0 and is meeting Utah State on Saturday at 7 p.m. in Memorial Gym.

The proceeds will be added to the donations. "It really needs to bring fans in the girls with volleyball but also for a good cause," Rice said. Last year was the first year the team did the fundraiser and they found great success in it. Rice said they hope to be able to get the same enthusiasm this year. Having the fan support will help.

University of Idaho outside hitter Kelsey Taylor bumps up and spikes the ball during the volleyball game with Nevada Thursday evening.

The Vandals won the game, 5-0 and is meeting Utah State on Saturday at 7 p.m. in Memorial Gym.

The proceeds will be added to the donations. "It really needs to bring fans in the girls with volleyball but also for a good cause," Rice said. Last year was the first year the team did the fundraiser and they found great success in it. Rice said they hope to be able to get the same enthusiasm this year. Having the fan support will help.

University of Idaho outside hitter Kelsey Taylor bumps up and spikes the ball during the volleyball game with Nevada Thursday evening.

The Vandals won the game, 5-0 and is meeting Utah State on Saturday at 7 p.m. in Memorial Gym.

The proceeds will be added to the donations. "It really needs to bring fans in the girls with volleyball but also for a good cause," Rice said. Last year was the first year the team did the fundraiser and they found great success in it. Rice said they hope to be able to get the same enthusiasm this year. Having the fan support will help.
Vandals have perfect start

The University of Idaho Black Widows' women's rugby team is preparing to give fans a lesson in women's rugby, with their exciting action on the rugby pitch.

The team will once again be facing the games women's rugby giants, and they are looking to make a strong showing at the beginning of the season.

"It's going to be exciting," said Assistant Coach, Steve Devine/Argonaut. "The team is competitive and is always working hard to improve.

The matches are going to be tough, but the team is ready to face them head-on.

The game is on track to be a great one, and the team is excited to see what they can do.

The Widows are looking forward to making a statement on the field and showing their skills.

The team is ready to give their best and bring home the victory.

The game will be held on Saturday, and the team is looking forward to the opportunity to celebrate their perfect start.

The team is looking forward to the upcoming matches and the chance to continue their winning streak.

The team is grateful for the support of their fans and is looking forward to the upcoming season.
A few weeks ago, I said that college football and that anything can happen. Well, just look. almost anything did happen—Virginia Tech, Ohio State and Nebraska were all upset and the last one out of the Dome was ranked.

I thought the Citrus Bowl was good two weeks ago with the little team taking it over to the big boys. Well, the Penn State-Wisconsin game this week took quite a few by surprise.

In no. 6 Nebraska has some problems coming in on the No. 2 Stanford team. The Cornhuskers have had a hard time winning in Madison, and they are a tough team to go up against.

The pouch lunch special at the Argonauts, Lisa Short, is a little woman who is going to be big on the golf course. She is coming off a 5-under par-70 at the Arkansas Invitational and is going to be very hard to beat.

The Idaho women's golf team will be in Las Vegas early next week for the WAC Championships, which take place in late May. The team is expected to do well at the tournament, which is the first for them.

The tournament will be held at a tough field of top-ranked teams including Arizona, Texas, California, Davis, Arizona State, and Nevada-Las Vegas. The team has been practicing in the spring and is expected to do well.

Leading the Vandals is sophomore Kari Mortellaro, who is currently fifth in the nation. Mortellaro says she has to get better to finish the tournament and the fall season strong. Giving the team the confidence they need for the spring.

Right now, Johnson says the team is only looking ahead to next week's tournament. It is a tough field, but the team has a chance to make some noise.

Johnson says the team has been practicing hard and is looking forward to the tournament.

There are no WAC opponents in the tournament, but the team is still focused on the upcoming season. The team has been practicing hard and is looking forward to the tournament.

Other teams have improved with scoring, which has helped their self-esteem. Johnson says the team has been practicing hard and is looking forward to the tournament.

Jaco said the team never expected to make the tournament, but the team is still focused on the upcoming season. The team has been practicing hard and is looking forward to the tournament.

In past seasons, the team was able to get the experience of the tournament. The team has been practicing hard and is looking forward to the tournament.

Team finishes the season successfully

WOMEN'S GOLF

Lisa Short Argonaut

The Idaho women's golf team will be in Las Vegas early next week for the WAC Championships, which take place in late May. The team is expected to do well at the tournament, which is the first for them.

The tournament will be held at a tough field of top-ranked teams including Arizona, Texas, California, Davis, Arizona State, and Nevada-Las Vegas. The team has been practice...