PLACE-KICK MAKES IDAHO FOURTH

O. A. C. TAKES THE GOODBYE-DEAD GAME FROM IDAHO IN SEA OF MIRE

Idaho's Defense Wac Yet Solved by Powerful Opponents.

On a muddy field at Corvallis, on Thanksgiving day, Idaho was shifted from a contender for second place to a fourth place position in the northwest college conference. The loss of Blackwell-declined-the game's second place, by kicking a goal from placement in the early part of the game. The mud and water was heavy enough to cause the Idaho backfield to be so wet that made anything except a straight football impossible and that could be followed with little success. The only score was the result of a punt out of bounds by Kleinman caused by the slippery conditions of the ball. Because the condition of the field the speed of the Idaho team counted for nothing and the weight of the O. A. C. team gave them a great advantage.

The half was kicked to Idaho, and was pushed back on the first down. O. A. C. attempted to carry the ball, but the double line defense, which Pitcairn had prepared for, defeated it, and the Idaho players were forced to punt. Idaho returned the ball 46 yards with a punt. O. A. C. failed to make yardage with line backs but a forward pass was successful and the ball was advanced 20 yards. The ball was advanced to the Idaho 3-yard line on the third down. O. A. C. was able to carry the ball, but Dallenbach tore through the line and threw away to the goal for a loss of 1 yard, on the fourth down, O. A. C. attempted to punt but the ball slipped off his toe and went out of bounds. Blackwell dropped back and took the punt, but the ball was on the 26-yard line which gave them the only score of the game. Score O. A. C. 9, Idaho 0.

The remainder of the game was a struggle in the mud, endless with troubles, rocks, and high dikes into the lakes of mud for a firm hold on the slippery pigskin. Idaho made few attempts to carry the ball, but relied upon Kleinman's punting to keep the ball away from the Idaho goal. The Aggies were unable to make consistent yardage and were forced to resort to punting; but Kleinman had the edge on Blackwell in this phase of the game. Several attempts were made by Blackwell in the latter part of the game to kick goal, but the slippery pigskin was too tricky he fared in any direct distance and the game ended with the score 9 to 0 in favor of the Aggies.

Johnson and Groniger were easily the stars for Idaho. Brown and Blackwell played well in the half. Abraham and Blackwell were the stellar performers for the Aggies.

JOHNSON FOR ALL-STAR
Picked From Idaho Squad for the All-Northwest Team by Experts.

In the selection of the mythical all-northwest football team this fall Geo. J. Varnell, whose choice of the honorees is being greatly questioned, Idaho was given a position with Johnson at one extremity of the line. In picking Johnson Mr. Varnell said: "The Idaho end is fast, experienced and handy. He tackles hard every time, he gets a renewal and has exhibited great ability in string up plays. He gets down under pinnies in toe style and once he gets within reaching distance, he is almost certain to bring the runner to a sudden stop."

That Lockhart was not forgotten in Mr. Varnell's selection of the all-northwest team is evidenced by the Spokane official's remark: "Lockhart, the Idaho halfback, is too valuable a man to pass over and it is only his inability to stand up under his work that keeps him off the team. He is the fastest halfback in the conference. He is dangerous at all times when he is carrying the ball and is a good man on defense." Lockhart was first to be drawn for a halfback position on Mr. Varnell's second team.

Although there is a slight difference of opinion among the coaches as to the players who should be honored with positions on the all-star team their vote is fairly in harmony with the selections made by Mr. Varnell, whose team is accepted by Rainier's guide as the official all-northwest college line-up. Coach Benner and Coach Varnell both settled upon Lockhart for a halfback position, while Stanley Berke, who served as an official at the conference games this fall, picked in addition to Johnson for end both Lockhart for halfback and giving Idaho three posts on the mythical team.

1911 ANNUAL WELL RECEIVED
Mary Reeves Come to the Management From the High Schools.

In sending out the university annuals to the high schools of the state, the management asked for comments from them. Some of the comments follow which prove that the books were well appreciated.

"The work is very attractive."

"It is one of the very finest books of its kind which I have ever seen."

"This is a very commendable plan for interesting high school students in our university."

"It is well prepared, artistically put up and should be appreciated by every one."

"I am sure that a journal of the book will make my high school pupils feel better acquainted with the University of Idaho."

In all seriousness, we sometimes wonder for what purpose the papers are sent. Is it to the benefit of some in the public office, for the minister, for the librarian, or for the students? The reason why which makes their appearance on the racks and the condition which they are in, makes one doubt the latter at first glance; but when we think it over, we are inclined to think that it is the student whom the editor has in mind with some good words granted them gratis to the university.

While we are on the subject it might be pertinent to ask what has become of the different college papers. During the whole year not a paper (from a northwest college) has been in the reading room. Do they come or are they considered of so little importance that the public would only waste time reading them?

Whose fault it is, we do not know. According to it is that the paper service of the university as far as the students are concerned is "decidedly on the slipper.'"

COME TO THAT "PROM!"

Prospects for Annual Function are Brilliant, A Good Moonshine Assured.

The juniors are making great preparation for the Junior Prom which will take place on December 5th. The following committees were appointed over a month ago and have been working on their respective duties:

The junior prom is the largest function of the junior year and it is the plan of the class of 1935 to make the junior prom this year better than ever before. All university people and friends are cordially invited to attend.

FORESTY CLUB MEETS

Speakers Man Tells a Thing or Two About Trees and Men.

Last Monday evening A. W. Cooper of Boise addressed the Associated Foresters of the university. His subject was "Lumber Grading and Inspection." Mr. Cooper's talk was not at all technical and was extremely interesting to foresters and the other students and faculty members present.

The history of lumber grading from Pilgrims time to the present day was given and the development of the grading movement shown step by step. Mr. Cooper showed the necessity for a uniform grading system and the means by which it is attained.

The demand and future needs of the Associated Foresters are held on the first and third Monday evenings of each month, and any one interested is invited to attend. Come on up next time. You are missing something good.

Kappa Sigma Turkey-Day Festivities.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the week was the Kappa Sigma Potluck dinner on Saturday. The guests arrived at the house about 10:30 in the morning and some of the girls immediately began preparations for the dinner. The two tables were set for about fifty and it was a jolly crowd that sat down to enjoy turkey which everyone must agree is always the most important part of the dinner. That evening an election was held and the house was turned into a dance hall until 12 o'clock when the guests departed.

The winner was Mr. C. H. Edmundson, Mrs. P. D. Matthews, the Misses Leibken, Brown, Clancy, Loomis, McIlroy, Nomm, Patricia Matheus, E. Callister, Reddington, Jones, Gregor, Clark, Foote, Wall, Richards, and V. Temple. Let it be said that the house was indeed a success.

The Cup That Cheers

A cup of our hot soda cheers, because it pleases the palate and braces the body. Most hot beverages are good drinks therefore they are healthful and strengthening as well as satisfying.

When you are thirsty it will quench your thirst—when you are hungry it will satisfy your appetite. When you are chilled it will warm you—and when you are depressed it will stimulate and strengthen you. Try your favorite hot drink as served at our fountain.

the Blue Prussian field pea as a field crop in the Northern time. Tests are being made to determine this a good forage crop to feed the livestock which Professor MMEDIA convinced them they should obtain.

An interesting feature of the work of the Washington school at Boise is the number of demonstrations made in the use of a new explosive powder that is manufactured at Boise by the Idaho cement company. Stumps were fired in the presence of the students and the public, and each member of the class was permitted to depart without a report of the demonstration or any member of Professor Olin. The reports will be graded by him and the students having the cleanest idea of the operation of the powder will be given a check with which to do his Christmas shopping.

Returned to Boise.

Professor Olin left last evening for Boise. He will spend the next two weeks making an entertaining lecture on the big blockade at the heads of the Northernmost and central Idaho. He will also make an appearance at the Montana state crisis, which we consider an important one for the Montana public. In the meantime, he will have the opportunity to present his work to the people of the surrounding towns.

OUR NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Dean Ayers of the Law School.

Among the new faculty at this university this year are a number of men who have been appointed to important positions. Dean Ayers, who is a member of the Harvard law school, is among these. He has practiced law in the city of New York for many years, and has been a member of the bar association for over ten years. He is known for his ability to handle the most difficult cases, and his reputation is well established.

The new professor of English, Professor Olin, has been a teacher for many years, and has been a frequent visitor to the university. He is a scholar of great ability, and has made many contributions to the field of English literature.

Another New Faculty Lady, Miss LeRoy.

Miss Cora LeRoy is one of the new members of the faculty. Miss LeRoy comes to us with much experience as a writer and editor. She graduated from the James Millikan College in Illinois, taking a degree of B.S. in journalism and economics. Later she had charge of the art work in the East St. Louis public schools; and still later for two years she was at the head of the department of domestic art in Montana. It was from there that she took her. She has classes in art work composed of all classes of college girls. For not only do the regularly registered make up the needle under her guidance, but the course girls also get training in the art of the stitches from her. Miss LeRoy is a member of the Alpha Chi Omegas, which are composed of the prettiest and best young women.

Thanksgiving Day the Orona Pi girls who remained during vacation entertained a number of friends at dinner. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock, and afterward the evening was spent in games. The guests were Mrs. A. L. Christenson, Marion Betty, Frank King, Ross Carpenter, Ralph Renolds and Homer Brown.

Phi Delta Theta entertained at dinner Friday night Vivian Allen, Lowella Clare, Maldred Brown, Othel Martin, Louise Clainey and Mrs. Clarke.

Why We Have a Good Shop—

 wanting to take up a home talent play, entitled "Latah County Fair." This play was written by Ambrose Bach, a West Virginia who has made the city growing and production of home talents, and more successful. Wherever it has been given it has been an immense success, as no doubt will be in Moscow. The plan and plot of this story is very simple—nothing but a fair country fair with all manner of people coming to see it. It will be a real picture of the real old time country fair, with displays immeasurable of rich, beautiful, big potatoes, immense squashes, monstrous ears of yellow corn, red apples and other crop and every kind of fruit and vegetable raised by the farmers of Latah County. Not only will there be displays of these farm products, but the needlework, machinery, and hard work of the thirty inhabitants of Latah county will also occupy a conspicuous space.

While the displays above described are always looked for at the country fair yet the real interest of this particular Latah county fair is in the dialogue of the visitors to the fair and in the musical numbers to be presented. At the scene opens the loud mouthed takers, immodest shorn, and his ballon, ballon man will almost destroy you with their mighty yells. Then follows a quick succession of jockeys, preachers, bride and groom, gold brick men, city visitors and the characters one could possibly imagine at a country fair, each with an appropriate dialogue and conversation. All these dialogues are for the most humorous nature and have a life and spirit to them that contributes even more to the audience.

But after all, no amateur entertainment this year can be as good as the 12 musical features is a Teddy Bear chorus by 300 little girls between the ages of three and nine. It is the prettiest and cutest ever. There will be another children's chorus and six young men and young ladies' chorus. All of these are the latest, catchiest song productions and are presented in a beautiful, attractive manner. The Moscow schools have decided to produce this entertainment December 11 and 12. The companies have been appointed for the various departments of the preliminaries. Work the best talent the city has ever invited and there can be no doubt of the fair being a raging success, as our talent, we believe, is far superior to that of the average town.
