Graduation changes spark debate on campus

By Caitlin Rice

President Tim White's decision to re-instate a universal graduation ceremony for all the colleges is one that many students are excited about. However, some aren't so thrilled. "It's nice to be able to change something that was a longstanding tradition in favor of something that brings new life to the event," said senior Dylan Kern, who wants to see changes made to the ceremony.

"It's something that we've always had," said freshman Rebecca Johnson. "We don't want to break with tradition." But, said Registrar Nancy Krogh, the decision is one that goes back to the original way of celebrating.

Private celebrations for each college will immediately follow with a live faculty, students, family and friends to celebrate, Krogh said. It will be up to each college to design its own event.

"Each one will be different depending on the college's size and what's going on," she said.

Several students are excited that the event will take place at 9:30 a.m., May 12 in the Klette Dome and will last two and a half to three hours, Krogh said.

The university is currently looking at several different methods they could use to pre-engage the hearts of the estimated 1,200-1,300 graduates in this amount of time. Krogh said she doesn't have a time frame to walk through the stacks, including the stacks, it will take for the introduction and keynote speaker. Krogh said they are taking lessons learned from others.

"What we have done in the past, we've looked at several other universities that do big ceremonies," University of South Dakota, USD, Chester campus.

"There is no evidence that five to nine or twelve to two and it's wasted in these three," Krogh said.

"It all comes down to how we organise and keep the events from happening as we don't have time," Krogh said.

These methods mainly deal with how many students can attend the graduation ceremony, Krogh said. Several students are bringing up graduates on each side of the stage and minimizing the time they walk.

"Some are happy with the change," Krogh said.

See GRAD, page 4

VOX revisits issues of Roe v. Wade

By Christina Lewis

Jane Lead had an abortion as a senior in college in 1973, a year before the landmark Roe v. Wade legalised abortion in the United States. Lead has always been a member of the American Catholic Church and a member of the American Catholic Church of Christ in Moscow.

"You have been a member of the American Catholic Church or a member of the American Catholic Church of Christ in Moscow," Lead said.

See ROE, page 3

WHether you love "World of Warcraft" or think it is an omen of the Armageddon, there's no denying its international impact.

One-twelfth of the online roleplaying game's million players worldwide is in North America, according to a government report. The report found that the game's popularity is so high that it allows new players to enter and experience the game's allure without the need to purchase expensive equipment. The game's premise, though it seems simple, is through the Internet, players connect to the Internet and "virtual characters" in which they create their own characters and choose to join one of two factions: the Alliance in the Horde. Once there's a group, the players form guilds of friends to go on quests and defeat enemies in order to advance or "level up." These characters are a part of the game's attraction.

There are countless character features ranging from hair color to poses, hats and tools for the various human societies. The new expansion pack, "The Burning Crusade," features an increased level cap of 70. There are also new spells, abilities, the Blood Elves and the Draenei. There are also various starting points, continents and even a new profession: jewelcrafting.

But all this is basic to fans into exploring the seemingly endless world of Azeroth. And Blizzard kept rolling them in even before the book hit the stands.

While several websites waited through the Idaho night, "WOW" justice rubbed "Hastings'" midnight opening — some as early as 5 p.m. — on Jan. 16, leaving the kid to get the "Burning Crusade." As Monday turned to Tuesday, eager customers formed lines from the counter to the poster section.

"We got to many calls that night, it was ridiculous," said Travis Croft, Hastings' manager. "I'm going to remember this until I'm 60." Father guessed about 200 people packed the store that night, waiting for their "WOW" device. But it wasn't anything unexpected.

"It's a college town — lots of kids play video games," he said.

There were 10 to 20 people making their own line. People who didn't get lines were really cool about it. Everyone was very understanding." Hastings' manager Courtney McDaniel didn't like setting the precedent for "WOW." The fans stood in line at Hastings' manager.

There were only 198 copies in the store: 185 regular and 15 special editions.

The company had to turn away 25 to 30 people, he said. "We would have had enough if Video Game Headquarters resisted its trimming." See WOW, page 7

Andrea Allen
Year: sophomore
Wolf career: a year and a half
Character: "Firelands: Level 60 Human Mage"
Why she's hooked: "It's a very addictive game. You can easily play for hours straight."
Christ church responds to "my town" documentary

Wednesday, the Collegiate newspaper's Fellowship Worldview Forum will be invitat- ing Clinton church's response to the documentary "The Town." The forum will be held in the SLR Silver/Gold room. At the discretion of the forum leaders, there will be time for an open mic ques- tion and answer session. All are welcome.

For information, contact Matt Gray at eric.mgray@caltech.edu or call 485-7903.

Friends of the Clearwater box potluck today

Friends of the Clearwater and Friends of the Clearwater Center for Rural Living will be holding a potluck at the center on the fourth floor of the Imagine Building at 5 p.m.

The group will be viewing "Beyond Borders," Weekly Visions of the Northern Rockies.

Guests are asked to bring a friend and a dish to pass. Please contact Friends at the Clearwater at friendsofthe- clearwater.org or by phone at 885-2219 for information.

Crossword PUZZLE

Solutions from 1/28

1 3 5 8 9 11 15 16 18 20

2 4 6 7 10 12 13 17 19

Crossword PUZZLE

Solutions from 1/28

1 3 5 8 9 11 15 16 18 20

2 4 6 7 10 12 13 17 19

Complete the grid so that each row and column contains each digit 1-9. For strategies on how to solve Sudoku, visit www.sudoku.org.uk.

Sudoku PUZZLE

5 3 9 1 6 2

5 8 2 9 4 3

6 4 3 2 5 7

Sudoku PUZZLE

5 3 9 1 6 2

5 8 2 9 4 3

6 4 3 2 5 7
Adkins optimistic about second term, spring Senate

By Benjamin Castillo Aguero

John Adkins, a one-term senator, might be the "but him out of the picture," but he'd tell you, "Not because of his wardrobe or his political style. Not because of his first attempt to run forSenate. Not because of his first attempt to run for Senate. Not because of his first attempt to run for Senate. Not because of his first attempt to run for Senate."

There's no point in placing the blame on the Senate, he said. He's learned that doing business as usual and doing what's right for the community is what he wants to do in the Senate, and he believes he can represent the 30th District with integrity and excellence.

ROE from page 1

At the event because her story is "an important story.

We're doing a lot of things that are important to people," he said. "People are important to us, and I think that's why we're here." He said there are always going to be difficult issues, but he believes the Senate can make a difference.

The event focused on the "right to choose," and Adkins said he was glad to be a part of it. "This is a very important issue," he said. "We're all here because we believe in the right to choose."

He also said that there are things that need to be changed, but he believes the Senate can work together to make those changes.

Attending the event was one of the reasons Adkins said he decided to run for re-election. "I think it's important to be involved in these issues," he said. "I want to be able to make a difference in people's lives.

The RoE event was also a chance for Adkins to connect with his constituents. "I think it's important to have a relationship with the people I represent," he said. "I want to be able to listen to their concerns and work to address them.

Adkins also said that he's been working hard to represent the 30th District. "I've been working on a number of projects," he said. "I want to be able to make a difference in people's lives."tree's book store in town

By Shyanne Clark

The University of Idaho Bookstore might be the best kept secret in town, said Russell, a senior at the University of Idaho. Russell said the University of Idaho Bookstore is the best kept secret in town, and he said it's because it's been around for so long.

"I like going to the University Bookstore because it's a really nice place," Russell said. "I like the variety of books they have, and I like the way they organize them.

Russell also said that the University Bookstore is a great place to get textbooks, and he said it's because they have a wide variety of options. "I like being able to choose from different publishers and different versions of the same book," Russell said. "I think it's a nice way to get the book you need without breaking the bank.

Another advantage of the University Bookstore is that it's a one-stop-shop for all your needs. "I like being able to get everything I need in one place," Russell said. "I don't have to go to different places to get everything I need, and I like that."
New study to draw strongest link yet between fossil fuels, warming

By Bill Lombrecht

WASHINGTON

Climate will not like the Arizonanow with longer and hotter summers—and with more storms and unprece dented climate, climate researcher predict. By the end of the century, parts of the Midwest could be as temps as Fresno is today.

One thing we clearly know is that we will be a temps as Fresno is today. We will see temps as Fresno is today. We will see
"It's the tradition that the president, on the institution's lead, guides the degree——

The report will arrive on the heels of key developments in international climate change and the appeal to build momentum for a national plan to reduce emissions of carbon dioxide and other heat-trapping greenhouse gases. But despite a new push by congressional leaders and even experts within the federal government by President George W. Bush, built to stem the tides of change do not seem to be able to resist to resist the tides of change

even if the tides change is the
even if the tides change is the
even if the tides change is the
even if the tides change is the
even if the tides change is the
even if the tides change is the
even if the tides change is the
even if the tides change is the
even if the tides change is the

This White's view.

The report will be resembled by some in Congress as further laws that would time that would
time that would
time that would
time that would
time that would
time that would
time that would
time that would
time that would

The report will be
...
Clinton, Obama Top Democrat ticket

A little Moscow might be what Bush really needs

As the Midwestern states of the Union address and its open season for all things Bush, Land of the Free, money, something's gotta give. True, it's not as if the region is covering itself in glory, but it is an important question. Where do the people who are such big fans of the Bush administration actually come from?

Confused, frustrated graduates made their presence known, too. Everyone's in a hurry, and not just the way they have to get from A to B. People aren't convinced that speakers, honorary degrees and the like will be handed out at commencement ceremonies.

One argument for the new commencement ceremonies is that they will be shorter, with the university's Lansing campus in the background. The New York Times also suggested that they would be more like a family reunion than a funeral.

The New York Times also noted that the university's Lansing campus in the background. The Times also suggested that they would be more like a family reunion than a funeral.

The commencement ceremonies are not only a chance for graduates to celebrate their achievements, but also a chance for the university to showcase its facilities and attract new students.

Once more, our esteemed editor, Dr. George Bush, has managed to make a decision that is both clear and confusing. He has decided to address our needs, desires or concerns, but he has also said that he will not bow to the pressure of students who want their concerns to be heard.

This will take place at the White House on April 21st, where Dr. Bush will be joined by students from all colleges and universities who have not been allowed to speak.

This is a very confusing decision, as it seems that students are not only being ignored, but also being told that their concerns are not important.

Lettieri Political

To give an example of the decisions made by the students, one would only have to look at the student government elections. The college administration has decided to hold the elections at the last possible moment, which has left students with very little time to campaign.

The administration has also decided to limit the number of students who can run for office, which has left many students feeling that their voices are not being heard.

The students have been asking for changes, but they have not been given the opportunity to make their voices heard. This is a very confusing decision, as it seems that the administration is not interested in the concerns of the students.

Therefore, it is not surprising that the students have not been satisfied with the decisions made by the administration. They have been asking for changes, but they have not been given the opportunity to make their voices heard.

Therefore, it is not surprising that the students have not been satisfied with the decisions made by the administration. They have been asking for changes, but they have not been given the opportunity to make their voices heard.

Therefore, it is not surprising that the students have not been satisfied with the decisions made by the administration. They have been asking for changes, but they have not been given the opportunity to make their voices heard.

Therefore, it is not surprising that the students have not been satisfied with the decisions made by the administration. They have been asking for changes, but they have not been given the opportunity to make their voices heard.

Therefore, it is not surprising that the students have not been satisfied with the decisions made by the administration. They have been asking for changes, but they have not been given the opportunity to make their voices heard.
Full house at the poetry slam

By Rebecca Biko

The Borough Theater was packed Sunday night for the third annual Poetry Slam. A crowd of more than 700 people flocked to the theater to witness the award-winning poetry of student and community poets. The poetry ranged from humorous to heart-wrenching. The poets were judged on their delivery, creativity, and originality.

The first place winner of the poetry slam was written by Alia Cahalan of the poem “Embrace of the Path.” The second place winner was written by Konstantin Perel of the poem “The Way the Snake.” The third place winner was written by Nigella Sack of the poem “Dean’s List.” The fourth place winner was written by Kimberly Grimes of the poem “Intelligence.”

The annual poetry slam is a great opportunity for students to showcase their talent. The event is organized by the student-run poetry club, and it draws a large audience each year.

The show was a great success, and the audience was enthusiastic. The poets were energetic and engaging, and the audience was responsive.

The show will be repeated on October 30th at the Borough Theater. The next poetry slam is on November 6th.

Striking up a tune: UI gets a music history lesson

Staff Report

A beatnik-turned-rag-time singer from a banana plantation, a breezy hook from a cruise-ship night club, a bustling crowd from a big band-stand—these are just a few highlights from the new documentary series coming to the University of Idaho this spring.

"Looking at the American Song," the latest project from Re:New Media, the American Library Association's (ALA) and Jazz at Lincoln Center (JAC), is a program that delves into the histories and traditions of jazz through the lens of a documentary film and digital projects.

The series is designed to be enjoyed by audiences of all ages and backgrounds at all levels of jazz knowledge.

The series features a variety of perspectives and voices, from established jazz musicians to up-and-coming artists.

The series will be available online, allowing viewers to explore the rich history of jazz from anywhere in the world.

The series will be available online, allowing viewers to explore the rich history of jazz from anywhere in the world.
"World of Warcraft" is the most popular in the popular Warcraft series, which has been around for longer than the rest of the series. Here's a look back on how this game made the transition into the phenomenon it is today.

1994
"WarCraft: Orcs and Humans" is the first game in a strategy game set in a world that pits the Alliance (human, night elf, orcs, draenei) against the Horde (tails, trolls, tauren). Unique in its design with multiple battles and spell casting, the "WarCraft" game hit instant hit and was the beginning of one of the most successful franchise in PC game history.

1995
"Warcraft 2: Tides of Darkness" continued "Warcraft"s predecessor's story. Orcs come from another world to conquer. The Alliance must to battle talons for take over the Alliance.

1997
"World of Warcraft" is released. As lack of linear story and infinite gameplay possibilities make it a hit. The game is hailed for changing the phenomenon seen today.

2007
"Warcraft"s "L" expansion pack is released as war comes to the Alliance. Fans cheer as the game goes "open world" with a worldwide total of nearly 2.6 million copies sold in the first 24 hours, according to a Blizzard press release. Two million fans for the Alliance and Blood Elves for the Horde. The game was raked by "IGN from 1 to 7/10."
Singer does well with first album

By Lauren Lapinski

Not many people this side of the Atlantic have heard of Sandi Thom. The Scottish singer has only been in the U.S. for a little more than a month and already has three videos with live shots in the fall of 2006. She is set to get even more exposure in the next couple of months, as she is set to release her debut album "The Big Day Out." The album debuted at No. 1 on the Billboard Hot 100 and No. 1 on the New Artist album chart. A song from the album, "I Wish," was the first single released off the album, and it hit No. 2 on the Billboard Hot 100.

"I feel like I've been on a high since the last tour," Thom said in a recent interview. "It's been so amazing since the last tour and I'm even more excited about this one. I can't wait to see everyone again!"

Thom, who was born in Scotland, was discovered in a coffee shop by a music manager. After signing with a record label, she recorded her debut album "The Big Day Out." The album was released in 2006 and has sold over 5 million copies worldwide. Thom's first single, "I Wish," was a massive hit and became one of the most popular songs of the year. The album has been praised for its catchy melodies and Thom's powerful vocals.

Thom's debut album has been well-received by critics and fans alike. It features a mix of pop, rock, and country music, and has received high praise for its catchy melodies and Thom's powerful vocals. The album also features a variety of guest appearances, including Fatboy Slim, The Prodigy, and The Chemical Brothers.

With her debut album now available, Thom is set to hit the road with a tour that will take her across the country. The tour will feature a variety of live shows, including concerts, festivals, and private performances.

touch. write with this

"I feel like I've been on a high since the last tour," Thom said in a recent interview. "It's been so amazing since the last tour and I'm even more excited about this one. I can't wait to see everyone again!"

---

Full text available...

---

Open Spaces. Open Time Slots.

KUO is now accepting applications for the following programs:

Monday: 6 to 9 a.m.
Wednesday: 9 a.m. to 12 p.m.
Thursday: 6 to 9 a.m.

Applications are available in the KUO lobby on the 3rd floor of the SUB and online at KUO.org

---

The Argonaut's Official Medical Guide of the Palouse!

UI Counseling and Testing Center
Free, confidential counseling for UI students
In the Continuing Education Building, Room 306, 885-6716
www.ctc.uidaho.edu
Counseling for Personal, Academic and Career Concerns

University of Idaho Student Health Clinic
Services provided by Moscow Family Medicine
Monday - Friday: 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.
Phone: 885-6613
Location: 611 S. 8th St., Campus
www.health.uidaho.edu
Counseling services available to all students regardless of insurance provider.

University of Idaho Student Health Pharmacy
Location: 831 Ash Street
Phone: 208/885-6535
Hours: M-F 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 5 p.m.
www.health.uidaho.edu
Bills must be collected in 24 hours in advance at 885-0812 and will be ready for pick-up by 10 a.m. the following day.

Palouse Visual Learning Center
Randoll Cummings, O.D.
Behavioral Optometrist
Do you have any of the following:
• Eye problems
• Headaches
• Sleep problems
• Poor concentration
• Difficulty seeing
There is help!
2123 East Main Road, Moscow ID 83843
Give us a call. (208) 829-1915

---

To include your business in the Health Directory, contact James at 885-7835.
Cabrera's uniform retired

By Nick Heidelberger

The uniform of former Idaho champion Chaz Cabrera was retired at halftime of the Idaho men's basketball game against Boise State University on Jan. 4.

Over 3,000 people were in the Cowan Spectron, its highest attendance of the year, to witness the ceremony. The retired uniform numbers 11 and 47 are Cabrera's numbers from his years at Boise State University.

Cabrera did not attend the ceremony as he is stationed in South Korea as a marine.

Cabrera was 19 years old. A loud, enthusiastic announcer made her appear to be a celebrity.

Cabrera and her twin sister Ali Cabrera were the first two siblings to play at Boise State University.

Cabrera's uniform retired because she was a star player and supported her team.

Cabrera's twin sister Ali Cabrera said, "She gave her all on the court."

Her competitiveness pushed her to try her best and never give up, said Christina Cabrera, Ali's sister.

Cabrera's passion for the sport of swimming was evident in her love for her twin sister.

Swimming was a special activity for Cabrera.

Cabrera's uniform was retired in honor of her contributions to the Boise State University basketball team.

Smoke on the water

By Ryan Atkins

On the last weekend of the regular season, the Idaho Vandals swimming team faced more than the adversary of back-to-back matches. They faced the challenge of the senior class.

Senior John Jager is one of the many who have been on the team for a long time. He said, "It was a special week because it's the end of the season and the time to say goodbye to our teammates and coaches."

Cabrera's uniform was retired because she was a star player and supported her team.

Cabrera's twin sister Ali Cabrera said, "She gave her all on the court."

Her competitiveness pushed her to try her best and never give up, said Christina Cabrera, Ali's sister.

Cabrera's passion for the sport of swimming was evident in her love for her twin sister.

Swimming was a special activity for Cabrera.

Cabrera's uniform was retired in honor of her contributions to the Boise State University basketball team.
WOMEN'S BASKETBALL
Westbrooks out for good

By J.R. Connell

The University of Idaho women's basketball team has eight seniors and they all will be in their last game at the Cowgur Center at the end of the season. Opponents love to hit the Vandal women, but with the loss of junior wing Sierra Westmoreland, it may not be so easy.

"From the team's standpoint it makes sense for Westmoreland to take the only first lady left in the program that I have been a part of. She's so confident and focuses what we want to do defensively without having to think about it. Of course it hurts. I think Mike Miller would be disappointed to see her go. She's a leader that could solidify the backcourt line-up. With her out of the game — you take three minutes out of any team and they would be right where we are.

Westmoreland has been a force on the team this year, averaging 9.8 points and 5.1 rebounds. She's scored in double digits in nine of the past 12 games. The senior guard has played in 200 minutes, second only to teammate Ross Barnwell, for the Vandals. Westmoreland also played a key role in the Vandals' win over Oregon State on Saturday.

"I am really impressed with Westmoreland's defense, she does a lot of things and showed some impressive leadership tonight," Miller said. At time out, Cecilia Nissen-Nova hit a 3-point shot to extend the game to a final over time, but the Vandals fell short, 62-52, in the final seconds. The Vandals led by 13 in the first half, but were outscored by 17 points in the second half, with Oregon State putting up 36 points in the second half.

"Before the loss, I think we had all been here 3 years and I think we can do a much better job," Westmoreland said. "All the aspects are coming together better than the last couple years so hopefully we can just do it in a third year. I think we have a good shot at the NCAA."

Freshman Chelsea Oslen has fun up for a shot during the game against New Mexico State at the Cowgur Center Wednesday. The Vandals defeated the Aggies 85-84 in the triple- overtime game.

Karen Herson/Ath. Communication

2007 Agricultural, Family, and Consumer Sciences and Natural Resources Career Fair
Presented by the UI Colleges of Natural Resources and Agricultural and Life Sciences, UI Career and Professional Planning, in cooperation with Washington State University.

Wed., Feb. 7, 10 a.m.-3 p.m.
UI SUB Ballroom
State and federal agencies, non-profit and private organizations offering fall-into, internships and summer employment. Open to all majors.
Complete list of companies attending can be found at: www.caap.uidaho.edu
The Vandals Fall to Rival BSU

The Vandals fans and faithful came out in force on Saturday night to support the men's basketball team, but unfortunately their efforts weren't enough as Idaho was defeated by the Boise State Broncos at 7:00 p.m. at the Moscow Pavilion. The Vandal fans played an important role in the game by cheering loudly during timeouts and breaking up the rhythm of the opposing teams.

Women Victorious in Triple OT Thriller

The University of Idaho women's basketball team celebrated the New Mexico State Aggies with a triple-overtime win, 78-74, Thursday night at the Moscow Pavilion. The win improves the Idaho State's overall record to 14-5, including their third conference game. The Vandals also stopped their 13-game losing streak with this victory.

Women's basketball fans showed a lot of character, according to coach Mike Divilbiss. "We didn't have a lot of points, but they came out and played their best," Divilbiss said.

The Vandals held a 42-39 lead over the Aggies with 20 seconds left in the game. It was a hard-fought game, as both teams struggled to score. Idaho led 42-36 at halftime and 55-51 after three quarters.

Fiction in Blot? Sure!

Blot is now accepting entries for its first short story competition. Entries should be no more than four pages, double spaced, and are due by Feb. 12 to blot@sub.uidaho.edu.

Support Your Vandals at Upcoming Events!

Men's Basketball versus San Jose State

Cowan Spectrum

Thursday January 30th at 7 p.m.

Men's Basketball versus Boise State

Cowan Spectrum

Saturday February 2nd at 3 p.m.

Western Athletic Conference

Support Vandals Volleyball, go to groups.myspace.com/thelasttryhalf

Look for the Vandalsports Sports Extra right here every Tuesday of the spring semester.

DVIDALZERS

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Support Vandals Volleyball, go to groups.myspace.com/thelasttryhalf

Look for the Vandalsports Sports Extra right here every Tuesday of the spring semester.

DVIDALZERS

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Support Vandals Volleyball, go to groups.myspace.com/thelasttryhalf

Look for the Vandalsports Sports Extra right here every Tuesday of the spring semester.

DVIDALZERS

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Support Vandals Volleyball, go to groups.myspace.com/thelasttryhalf

Look for the Vandalsports Sports Extra right here every Tuesday of the spring semester.

DVIDALZERS

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Support Vandals Volleyball, go to groups.myspace.com/thelasttryhalf

Look for the Vandalsports Sports Extra right here every Tuesday of the spring semester.

DVIDALZERS

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Support Vandals Volleyball, go to groups.myspace.com/thelasttryhalf

Look for the Vandalsports Sports Extra right here every Tuesday of the spring semester.

DVIDALZERS

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Support Vandals Volleyball, go to groups.myspace.com/thelasttryhalf

Look for the Vandalsports Sports Extra right here every Tuesday of the spring semester.

DVIDALZERS

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Sports Extra

For the week of 01-30-2007

This new feature is proudly brought to you by the sponsors below

Support Vandals Volleyball, go to groups.myspace.com/thelasttryhalf

Look for the Vandalsports Sports Extra right here every Tuesday of the spring semester.