Halloween generally quiet holiday in Moscow

Greg Connolly
Assistant

Aside from the usual noise complaints and a single one of a cutter by argument, was all quiet in Moscow on Halloween night. The Moscow Police Department was ready in case anything did happen, though, said Lt. Paul Kwiatkowski, campus division commander. The department had four extra patrols out Wednesday night.

"It was pretty quiet," he said. "It always has potential you have to realize.

Police saw more activity on Wednesdays in Moscow than any other day but Friday and Saturday.

On campus, Wednesday, police responded to an elevator alarm and a complaint of噪声. University of Idaho Police saw an increase in reports for other crimes, as well.

Last Halloween, some teenagers went around stealing candy from trick-or-treaters, but there was nothing like that this year, Kwiatkowski said.

"We didn’t expect more parties on Halloween than the average Wednesday night."

"It’s an opportunity for people to have parties, but we see more activity in the first few weeks of fall semester and near the end of spring semester," he said.

Since most students go home for all winter holidays during the month of December, it’s the first time Moscow has trick-or-treating going on, as Fourth of July, Thanksgiving and Christmas — the holidays that fall during the school year usually aren’t — but big of a deal, Kwiatkowski said.

Halloween and St. Patrick’s Day are the only two that usually result in more activity, since a lot of people tend to leave after playing on Homecoming Day weekend, he said.

Last Halloween was very busy for officers, Kwiatkowski said. Besides the teenagers stealing candy, officers also arrested a woman for DUI. There wasn’t a single DUI on Halloween this year, or anyone stealing candy from anyone else that police responded to, Kwiatkowski said.

Last year, the interns who worked with officers during one day of doing 911 calls said they would have fielded anything from basic theft all the way to robbery depending on the circumstances.

This year was different. Kwiatkowski said the officers handled less activity as a whole and a slight decrease in noise complaints.

"There were no noise complaints submitted on a regular daily basis," he said.

"The possibility has lessened a review of policies."

Sex offender dismissed from position at UI

Graduate student removed for criminal record

Brian Mac
Assistant

After confirming statements made in an anonymous letter to University of Idaho President Tim White, a graduate student was removed from his position at the university.

"There was immediate action to remove the student from teaching," said Tara Thompson, director for media relations. "He remains a student. He is no longer teaching.

The student had been convicted of attempted forcible molestation against a female minor in Utah’s fourth district court in 2005. He entered the graduate program at the University of Idaho in 2005 where he began teaching. There was no background check conducted for the graduate student prior to the time of his hiring. The university was negligent and security sensitive, Thompson said.

"Teaching is one part of the graduate program," she said. "The university does employ a background check on any position that is deemed security sensitive.

Graduate student instructors do not fall under a job title subject to criminal background checks in the Idaho Board of Postsecondary Education Manual located in Chapter 6 Section 1, listed at http://www.bpoe.idaho.edu/default.htm.

"The possibility has lessened a review of policies.

These new policies regarding the hiring of graduate students and assistants and staff that are still under revision, will include a question in the application asking, "Have you ever been imprisoned?"

See STUDENT, page 5

CONTENTS

AintsCulture...8
Briefs...4
Calendar...3
Classifieds...7
Comment...2
Opinion...8
Sports&Recruitment...11
Sudoku...2

Opinion
Questions are about old ladies who check out nice books and a brief examination of the root of the word "November."

INSIDE

The Womans Center presents a discussion of Indian pulp fiction and graduate students present their projects at Eckerd College.

SPORTS
The UI athletic department celebrates military history with the football game and community and get to know how Vesalius assistants.

WEB
Our monkey-faced guy survived Halloween. Now he looks forward to Thanksgiving. Unlike small animals who seem ready for Christmas. One holiday the numbers indicate. Idaho's Web content is brought to you by the letter W and the number 17. Guess why.

THE ARGONAUT

The grad rush

Technology and competition help bolster grad school enrollment

Alex Losten
Assistant

With the popularity of shows such as "CSI" and "House M.D.,” it is easy to understand why so many students want to go to a law or medical school. A National Science Foundation survey of college students, however, suggests that an increasing number of undergrads are realizing that a bachelor’s degree isn’t necessarily a degree fit for the real world. From 1979 to 2005, the number of undergraduate students in the U.S. seeking a master’s degree, while graduate enrollment increased by 157 percent.

While the numbers indicate the trend over the past 15 years and a period of time, the motivation for attending graduate school has changed significantly. According to a graduate degree allows individuals to pursue a career in academia or a specially specialized field.

"Nick Bendall, a University of Idaho student pursuing a doctorate in micro-sculpture technology, said, he see a graduate degree as a hurdle that needs to be overcome in order to reach his goals."

"A lot of it is just a job selling. As a bachelor’s I was only able to work from personal realm."

"I’m not against teaching. I’ve been teaching."

"As president of the Undergraduate and Professional Student Association, Bendall said, the trend is towards more students and towards a trend toward more exposure."

GRAD, page 5
Tests worth the money

Chris.

After reading your column, "What are those bumps?" from the Argonaut online, I realized I had been unknowingly infected with Chlamydia. After going for a routine pelvic exam a year ago, I was chagrined to find out that I had contracted the disease.

I recently went to a Planned Parenthood clinic to get tested. Although I am not involved in any new relationship, I do have an active social life and had been concerned about stds. I am glad that I am not re-infected.

If you had suggested this test, I could have avoided a lot of heartache. Please continue to spread the word about this disease. It is important that people are aware of what it can do to their lives.

Chris Widman

For hints on solving The Argonaut crosswords, see the Crossword Dictionary at www.crossworddictionary.com or One Across at www.onearcross.com.
Senators work for safe ride program

Black Student Union to sell traditional 'soil food'

Jessica Mullins

Graduate student Tiffany Williams knows the power food has on people. ‘There really is a social event where people come together and realize how important food is in our lives. It is a way to help people come together and make new friends.’

Williams, president of the Black Student Union, is helping to create a "A Home Cooked Meal". The event is a new BU fundraiser where students, faculty, and staff can come together and enjoy food. "The food is seasoned to their taste. We are going to provide people with a way to see the types of food that we can cultivate," Williams said. "We thought since we are familiar with the food and it tastes good to us we can let in others to other people on campus."

Monday
Senior registration begins
"Democracy and National Security: Contemporary Issues" LUT 107 9-9:30 a.m.
Tuesday
Willard Lee Lecture
"... You Think You Can Dance?"
LUT 2 3 p.m.
Wednesday
Fall Champagne Breakfast Sat & Sun 9-2
5:30-7:30 p.m.
West 211

Have a hayride or sign up to sell "soil food" at the Black Student Union’s (BSU) fundraiser, "A Home Cooked Meal," set for next Thursday. BSU President Tiffany Williams said the event is to be held from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the University center.

"The event is a new BU fundraiser where students, faculty, and staff can come together and enjoy food," Williams said. "The food is seasoned to their taste. We are going to provide people with a way to see the types of food that we can cultivate," Williams said. "We thought since we are familiar with the food and it tastes good to us we can let in others to other people on campus."

Ticket sales for the event are $2.50 and are available at the Student Union, the Campus Center or by calling 243-8728. Proceeds from the event will go towards the BSU's Student Affairs budget.

\[ More info on BSU's website: \url{www.yalomieic.com} \]

For more info

For more information about a Home Cooked Meal contact: Tiffany Williams, BSU President, \( \text{uwinds@uwinds.edu} \)

---

CampusCALENDAR

Sunday
Church service Hollywood Baptist Church 2 p.m.
University Chapel 11:45 a.m.

Monday
International Free Trade Fair Dale United Church of Christ 4:30 p.m.

Tuesday
Workshop: College Orientation Materials Library, 1st Floor, 12:30 p.m.

Wednesday
Lunch at the United States 4:45 p.m.

Thursday
Student Forum at the OKC 10 a.m.

Friday
Student Forum at the OKC 10 a.m.

---

Student Senate

The Student Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]

The Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]

The Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]

The Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]

The Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]

The Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]

The Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]

The Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]

The Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]

The Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]

The Senate has been working on a variety of issues over the past few weeks, including a proposed change to the campus liquor policy. The Senate has been working closely with the Administration and the Student Affairs Office to ensure that any changes made are in the best interests of the students.

Christine Lords

\[ Senate President \]
Proactive science

Coffee production joins scientific movement

Lianne Appleberg

Working as a member of the environmental protection community can be a double-edged sword. On one hand, there is the international travel and a dedication to making environmental concerns prominent, as she went back to graduate school.

For the past few years, she has worked in Puerto Rico, studying coffee and water. “Actually, I got a little sick of coffee and water,” she said. “So, I went back to the United States. You can work in any country of the world to work on any country’s environmental issues, as long as you have the right resources.”

The different regions of the world are looking at all aspects of our production, including water, pests and birds. According to Dr. Jan Bell, “Today’s faculty advisor and the director of the water resources department, the goal is to understand how coffee production can be a benefit both environmentally and ecologically.”

“Research should always involve the local people, because it includes decision-making and the potential on the local level. It’s important to identify the local community’s needs and to prioritize their goals.”

Over the years Bell has noted that the coffee production community values research as a means of “more practical, more immediate.”

“Until recently, ‘coffee’ meant coffee and coffee beans were not used toward anything other than coffee,” Dr. Bell said. “Publish, publish, publish. It’s just like science, but we are not a push toward the coffee community.”

Dr. Bell, who has been involved in Puerto Rico’s coffee production, said the coffee community is “not taken for granted. It is hard to get people to attend the meetings.”

“Today the coffee community is a critical part of our coffee production,” she said. “The coffee agro-industry is an important business being a benefit to agriculture and coffee. When we invest in research, it is important.”

“Benefits of the organic farming: Coffee that said with effort, we can make a difference, that we can benefit in Puerto Rico, help change the change, the productivity and change the climate using science.”

Local/Briefs

Benefit concert for relay

A benefit concert for the American Cancer Society’s Relay for Life is being held at the state fairgrounds this year. The event features the band “Full Circle” Saturday, May 19, from 8 to 11 p.m. at the State Fairgrounds. “Full Circ- le” will perform a variety of songs and, as usual, the showing will benefit Relay for Life. There will be a beer and wine garden and a silent auction.

Ice rink hosts party

The grand opening of the ice skating rink at the Idaho State Fair will be held today. The rink will be open until today’s grand opening special, admission and skate rental will be only $1.

Arts, Grade 2007

Licensed Massage Therapist, Spa Therapist, Health Services Center

Within months of graduation, I landed a job in Kaui, Hawaii, and was soon providing 20 massage and 80 spa services per week.

Seth, Graduate 2005

W.A. Ltc. Massage Therapist, Health Services Center

I provided massage therapy at the 5000-Bed Health and Wellness Center while attending University of Idaho while juggling a part-time job as a Wellness Center Coordinator.

Janenne, Graduate 1995

Licensed Massage Therapist, State Director Missouri State Sports Trae

As I graduated from school, I found myself in the “Spa world” of massage. After about a year and a half, I joined the local Sports Medicine team. The anatomy and kinesiology classes have helped me on the foundation for my career. I am now happy to have found a new clientele and now I am happy to be on to the next phase of my career. I am happy that I have become a great therapist.

Jenny, Graduate 1990

Licensed Massage Therapist, State Director Missouri State Sports Trae

The biggest goals I have achieved is doing something I love and being good at it.

Jenny, Graduate 1990

Licensed Massage Therapist, State Director Missouri State Sports Trae

As I graduated from school, I found myself in the “Spa world” of massage. After about a year and a half, I joined the local Sports Medicine team. I am happy that I have achieved my goals and I am happy to be on to the next phase of my career.
Craig gets $8 million for Olympics

Associated Press

BOISE — Idaho Rep. Mike Simpson has secured $8 million in federal funds for the 2016 Olympic Winter Games in Sochi, Russia, and Idaho Sen. Larry Craig has secured $3 million for the 2012 Olympic Games in London.

Idaho will host the Special Olympics World Winter Games in 2016, with more than 3,000 athletes expected to compete in seven sports.

The games will be the largest multi-sports event ever held in Idaho.

The Senate will require a vote to make the money available, officials said, and the federal funding is part of a movement that is already $17 million.

Idaho will host the Special Olympics World Winter Games in 2016, with more than 3,000 athletes expected to compete in seven sports.

The games will be the largest multi-sports event ever held in Idaho.

The Senate will require a vote to make the money available, officials said, and the federal funding is part of a movement that is already $17 million.

To reserve this funding, a spokesperson for Colter E. Christiansen, sponsor of wilderness projects for the Special Olympics Invitational Winter Games to be held in Boise and other locations around Idaho.

Concern for number of Yellowstone bear deaths

Associated Press

JACKSON, Wyo. — The overall grizzly bear population is healthy in the Yellowstone National Park area and the population is increasing, although the number of female grizzlies killed this year was significant.

Interagency Grizzly Bear Committee, chair Chuck Schwartz said Thursday the female deaths were no indication of a trend and that grizzly bear populations in the area are increasing.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.

"We are concerned about the number of female grizzlies killed this year, but we believe this is not enough to cause concern that the population is declining," Schwartz said.

"The number of female grizzlies killed this year compared to numbers killed in previous years is larger than expected," he said.
Playing 'Hardball' with poser presposes

The (gmae) seven Democratic presidential candidates didn't play it right in tonight's MSNBC-sponsored debate.

In case you were unco
ducted about it, the candidates, both Repubclics and Democrats, were made to seem cut at long as it's not wrong.

Well, that doesn't sound right. It's like it's wrong.

And as long as it's not wrong, it's wrong.

I mean, it's not right.

It's just not right.

And that's not right.

It's not right.

You can't play it
right.

That's not right.

And I mean
that's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.

It's not right.
Pulp Fiction

Lesbian novels topic of discussion

Jason Hess

Sitting in her third floor office on the 3rd floor of the Law School, student Phoebe Wallis read a book about the history of the lesbian pulp genre.

The book, which Hess is currently reading, is called "The Lesbian Pulp Novel," written by Anna Maranta. The book explores the evolution of the genre and its significance in queer literature.

"I find it interesting how these books have evolved over time," Hess said. "They started as a way for women to express themselves during a time when they were not allowed to do so openly."
Local releases album

Sydney Boyd

A Moscow native, Sharrard is 15 years old and a talented performer. Sharrard began singing since she was 8 and singing on public stages in Jamesville, Idaho. When she was 10, to her family and friends, she was an incredibly talented child. Sharrard gave her very first performance on her new CD, "Sharrard," in front of a large audience at High School.

Sharrard’s songs range from "The Mirror Doesn’t Lie" and "He Stopped Mixing the Salad" to a soft and sincere song to dense, emo-like styles.

Sharrard said the CD delivers a pure, fresh sound that is different from the other CDs on the market.

Sharrard said that the CD was recorded in a 2-D Saves, where the players play on real stage and not on a computer.

Immune to stage fright, Sharrard said it’s normal for her to be on stage. She said she’s grateful for the opportunity to be on stage.

The CD contains a mix of songs, which is not surprising for Sharrard. She said that the different songs on the CD are very different, and some of them are similar to her previous songs.

Sharrard said that the CD is a mixture of different styles, and she hopes that the listeners will enjoy a variety of music.

Sharrard’s debut album, "Sharrard," is currently available for purchase on iTunes, Amazon, and other online retailers.

T.J. Niswonger

A.P.I. is not a legend of rock, but he is a legend of his time. Niswonger, a member of the band "Missouri," has been a part of the local music scene for many years. Niswonger is known for his passion for music and his dedication to the local music community.

"Guitar Hero III" is a game that is available for purchase now. Niswonger said that it’s a great game for anyone who enjoys guitar playing.

That’s the case for several new games that are coming out.

It’s a great news for the local music scene, that is a few local bands that are on the rise. The local music scene is experiencing a lot of changes, and there are a lot of new bands that are making a name for themselves.

One of these new bands is "Missouri," a band that is known for its energetic and lively performances. The band is made up of four members, all of whom are skilled guitarists.

In addition to the new games, there are also new CDs that are coming out. The new CDs have a variety of styles, from rock to pop.

The new CDs have a variety of styles, from rock to pop. One of the new CDs is "The Mirror Doesn’t Lie," a CD that is available for purchase now. The CD has a mix of songs, which is not surprising for Sharrard. She said that the different songs on the CD are very different, and some of them are similar to her previous songs.

Sharrard’s debut album, "Sharrard," is currently available for purchase on iTunes, Amazon, and other online retailers.

For Our Money

Our Alternative Movie Experience

For More Information

Visit www.thesound.org
Spears talks about kids, calls world "cruel"

Sandy Cohen

LOS ANGELES — Britney Spears defended her parents Thursday in the pop singer's first public appearance since she was granted full custody of her two children by a judge last week.

"My father and mother were not here for my shows and for me to support them financially," Spears said, referring to her father, Jamie Spears, and mother, Lynne Spears, who was granted full custody of her two sons, Sean Preston, 2, and Jayden James, 1, in a Los Angeles Superior Court hearing last week.

The hearing lasted about 60 minutes and many questions were raised about Spears' well-being during the hearing. She has been under investigation by child services for several months.

"It's not working out and there's nothing they can do," Britney Spears said. "It's not working out and there's nothing they can do." Spears said she never wanted to take her children off of her family, but that she no longer trusts them with her children. Spears said she will continue to be a loving mother to her children.

The hearing was closed to the public at the request of Spears' doctors, who were concerned about the singer's mental health.

In a statement, the singer's lawyer, Matthew Rosengart, said, "Mrs. Spears and Mr. Spears have been cut out of Britney Spears' life. This just won't work. It's not working out and there's nothing they can do." Spears said she will continue to be a loving mother to her children.

In the hearing, Spears' lawyer, Matthew Rosengart, said, "Mrs. Spears and Mr. Spears have been cut out of Britney Spears' life. This just won't work. It's not working out and there's nothing they can do." Spears said she will continue to be a loving mother to her children.
For those who serve

Robert Tesdick

The Vandals return from Boise with a 21-20 victory that extended Idaho's record to 6-2. The Vandals had to overcome a late 14-13 deficit to win the game. Idaho hopes to continue the record of success that it has shown in recent years.

Life under the swim cap

Joseph Lawrence

Jaro Miller was a standout swimmer at the University of Idaho. He swam for the Vandals from 1970 to 1974 and set many records in the process. He is currently an assistant coach for the university swimming team.

Vobora and Vandals refuse to pack it in

Robert Acey

The Vandals football team is currently ranked #2 in the Associated Press poll. They have started off the season with a 6-2 record. Their next game is against the University of Idaho, who are currently ranked #7.

So you don’t have to Saturday is Military Appreciation Day at the Dome.

Robert Taylor

Sports Editor

Vobora

The Vandals are 6-2 on the season and are currently ranked #2 in the Associated Press poll. They are looking forward to their next game against the University of Idaho.

See SWIM, page 12
Weyland poised for strong senior season

Andrew Miller

An AAG

After a couple tough, injury-plagued years at Eastside, Weyland senior Tyler Stobbe is back and ready to lead the team to the top of the league.

"He’s hungry, he wants to see the team succeed," Weyland coach Bill Stobbe said. "He has worked his butt off all summer and has been preparing himself for this season.

"He knows what it takes to be a successful player in this league," said Stobbe. "He has a lot of experience and has been working on his hitting and fielding throughout the summer.

"His work ethic is second to none," said Stobbe. "He is always looking for ways to improve and has been working hard to become a better player.

"He is a good leader and has a great attitude," said Stobbe. "He is always showing leadership qualities and is a great role model for the other players on the team.

"He is a natural leader and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.

"He is a great player and has a great work ethic," said Stobbe. "He is always working hard and is a great example for the other players on the team.
Don’t get ‘Trapped’

Mark Morgan

Trapper Peak is an example of the great hiking opportunities in the Northwest. If you are looking for a range for hikers of all skill levels, this is the place to go.

Some would call my friends and I stupid for hiking into the woods knowing that it was the last weekend of October to be doing so. What you don’t see in the outdoors adventures. The difference is in the planning, and knowing when to swallow your pride.

Located roughly 80 miles south of Missoula and just a mountail throw away from the Idaho border, a time honor for us to hike. Standing at 10,150 feet, the peak will be something that is visible from highway 93. The drive from Moscow to Trapper Peak takes about hours, without accommodating for the time change which switches to Mountain Time at the Moscow-Montana border.

No matter how much a person may want to remember that weather forecasting is not perfect and hikers can be the same as any other animal.

For our trip to Trapper, we were lucky that the weather forecast was perfect. Several days before the hike, the cell phone signal was reaching down even in the valleys and the sky was gray and white.

The day before we left, the forecast changed to only a possibility of snowfall on the 1st, and we were fully prepared.

The next day, the forecast was a 50% look at a 3-day period with it being from around the second day you want.

Old and photos will only give a general idea of what to expect—remember that is why it is called a forecast. The forecasts are given by directions on how to get to the trailhead on mountain.

If you are interested in hunting it is best to wait until last minute, as the mountain is still snow-covered as of July 10th. It is a physically difficult way to ridge your way through the trees, but if you prefer an off-road adventure, we suggest hiking.

Once you reach the top, you’ll find your hike at Trapper Peak is well worth the effort.

REMEMBER from page 11

right person.

The best decision you can make is to whether you want the "A" or the "H" on your crest.

It's a different life, a differ- ence in thinking every day.

The second day would be a Wednesday. Saturday, Sunday, or maybe even Monday. The forecast is very important for this trip.

A good day is just getting started when the sun is up on a phone with a 5-second delay or someone you odds without getting off a phone. Start your way from the top down through the views.

Take a moment to appreciate the Sheffield’s from previous generations.

Today’s soldiers fight so freedom exists tomorrow.

The book we are writing:

T. S. M. Main

MOSCOW, ID

The Garden Lounge

Enjoy an extra hour of fun

Fall back at

Saturday, November 3rd

The Garden will stay open an extra hour in celebration of the time change.

1104 PULLMAN ROAD, MOSCOW 882-4555
OPEN DAILY MON - FRI 11AM-9PM, SAT 10AM-9PM, SUN 10AM-6PM www.battles.com

specials

Bite Warmers

100% wool hand warmer

$9.99

SKU: 39121

Sox Warmers

100% wool leg warmers

$24.99

SKU: 39120

Niptus Raccoon Fur Hat

$179.99

SKU: 39091

Niptus Arctic Coyote Cap

$199.99

SKU: 39090

Air Tm WMP-10S 2-way System

$239.99

SKU: 39092

Niptus Brown Fur Hat

$129.99

SKU: 39093

Niptus Green Fur Hat

$129.99

SKU: 39094

Vargus Guides

$179.99

SKU: 39095

Kids W/Adults Sweater

$195.00

SKU: 39096

Warmers In Action

The team made on the Washington State Washing- ton, Tuesday, October 28th. They will be competing in the three on Friday, November 1st. Football

The Military Appreciation Day is as much of a tradition as the game. All football fans know what to expect when it comes to the tradition of donning black and gray. The football fans will be attending the game at the United States’ home turf.

The game will be held at Doovon’s, 9:30 p.m. on November 1st. A game between two great teams.

West Virginia is currently ranked 10th in the nation, while Washington State is 11th in the nation. The game will be held at the University of Washington.

The team made on the Washington State Washing- ton, Tuesday, October 28th. They will be competing in the three on Friday, November 1st. Football

The Military Appreciation Day is as much of a tradition as the game. All football fans know what to expect when it comes to the tradition of donning black and gray. The football fans will be attending the game at the United States’ home turf.

The game will be held at Doovon’s, 9:30 p.m. on November 1st. A game between two great teams.

West Virginia is currently ranked 10th in the nation, while Washington State is 11th in the nation. The game will be held at the University of Washington.

The team made on the Washington State Washing-
Hiring hinges a second time after positive cocaine test

Howard Fendrich
Associated Press

In an out-of-court end to Manhattan's baseball steroid case, a top New York Giants official resigned Thursday after tests showed he had cocaine in his system.

The resignation announced Thursday by team owner Steve Tisch follows weeks of speculation about whether what is called a "hanging cloud" could prevent the team from playing in the World Series.

Tisch said the team had seen the report from the independent laboratory on cocaine and had no choice but to act.

The team confirmed that Bill Belichick, a former Giants coach, was the one who tested positive. The team said Belichick resigned Wednesday after tests showed he had cocaine in his system.

Belichick, 38, had been with the Giants for three years, and was also the head coach of the New England Patriots.

The team said Belichick tested positive for cocaine after being tested in his locker room on Wednesday. The team also said that Belichick had been offered a two-year contract extension after the 2006 season, when he was the head coach of the Giants.

The move comes after the team's controversy over the use of performance-enhancing drugs, which led to the suspension of two players for using steroids.

Belichick, who is known for his aggressive defense and ability to get the most out of his players, was one of the most popular coaches in the NFL.

Belichick's resignation comes just days after the team's victory in the Super Bowl, a game that was marked by its intensity and drama.

The Giants will now have to decide how to fill Belichick's position as head coach. The team has not announced any candidates for the job, but some names that have been mentioned include Mike Tomlin, who was the Giants' offensive coordinator, and Bill Walsh, who was the team's defensive coordinator.

Belichick's resignation also has implications for the NFL, which has been under scrutiny for its handling of the steroid scandal.

The league's efforts to crack down on drug use have been criticized by some players and fans, who believe that the league is too lenient in its punishment of players who violate the drug policy.

Belichick's resignation also raises questions about the future of the Giants, who have been one of the most successful teams in the NFL over the past decade.

The team has won four Super Bowls since 2007, and has also been finalists in several other postseason games.

Belichick's resignation also has implications for the NFL, which has been under scrutiny for its handling of the steroid scandal.

The league's efforts to crack down on drug use have been criticized by some players and fans, who believe that the league is too lenient in its punishment of players who violate the drug policy.

Belichick's resignation also raises questions about the future of the Giants, who have been one of the most successful teams in the NFL over the past decade.

The team has won four Super Bowls since 2007, and has also been finalists in several other postseason games.

Belichick's resignation also has implications for the NFL, which has been under scrutiny for its handling of the steroid scandal.

The league's efforts to crack down on drug use have been criticized by some players and fans, who believe that the league is too lenient in its punishment of players who violate the drug policy.

Belichick's resignation also raises questions about the future of the Giants, who have been one of the most successful teams in the NFL over the past decade.

The team has won four Super Bowls since 2007, and has also been finalists in several other postseason games.