Little love bugs

Smoky-winged ash out in full force for mating season

DI MORGAN WYCHERLY

C

A new species of insect has been causing quite a stir in Moscow recently. The little love bugs, as they are called, have been appearing in large numbers and are proving to be a nuisance for many residents.

The bugs are attracted to the warm temperatures of the summer season, and they are most active in the late afternoon and early evening hours. They are small, with wings that have a distinctive coloration, and they are often seen flying around lights and other sources of light.

The little love bugs are not harmful to humans, but they can be annoying due to their large numbers and their tendency to swarm. The bugs are attracted to light, and they are often found around street lights and other artificial light sources.

The bugs are not new to the area, but their recent increase in numbers has caused some concern among residents. Mosquitoes and other insects are also a concern during the summer season, and the little love bugs are just one more thing to deal with.

The best way to deal with the little love bugs is to avoid being outside during their active hours and to use insect repellent if you must be outside. The bugs are not attracted to certain colors, so wearing darker clothing may also help to reduce their attraction.

In addition to avoiding being outside during their active hours, residents can use insect repellent to keep the bugs at bay. There are many effective insect repellents available, and using them regularly can help to reduce the number of bugs in the area.

The little love bugs are a natural part of the mosquito population, and they are not expected to cause any harm to humans. However, they can be an annoyance during the summer season, and residents are encouraged to take steps to reduce their presence.

Residents can also help to reduce the little love bugs' population by reducing water sources and other areas where the bugs can lay their eggs. This can help to reduce the number of bugs in the area and make the area less attractive to them.

Overall, the little love bugs are a natural part of the mosquito population, and residents are encouraged to take steps to reduce their presence and enjoy a safe and healthy summer season.

Health fair changes location, attracts more people

Dr. Diana Chrisler

The 20th Annual Health and Wellness Fair Thursday educates people about the importance of maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

The fair was slightly different from previous years as the fair was held at the Idaho National Correctional Institution. During the fair, inmates and officers were able to attend and learn about various health-related topics.

The fair featured workshops on topics such as nutrition, exercise, and mental health. In addition, vendors were on hand to provide information on various health products and services.

The fair also included a health fair on the campus of Idaho State University. The fair was held on the campus of ISU and featured a variety of health-related vendors and workshops.

The fair was well-attended, with more than 1,000 people attending. The fair was held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the ISU campus.

The fair was a success, with many people attending and learning about various health-related topics.

Little love bugs

Smoky-winged ash out in full force for mating season

DI MORGAN WYCHERLY

C

A new species of insect has been causing quite a stir in Moscow recently. The little love bugs, as they are called, have been appearing in large numbers and are proving to be a nuisance for many residents.

The bugs are attracted to the warm temperatures of the summer season, and they are most active in the late afternoon and early evening hours. They are small, with wings that have a distinctive coloration, and they are often seen flying around lights and other sources of light.

The bugs are not harmful to humans, but they can be annoying due to their large numbers and their tendency to swarm. The bugs are attracted to light, and they are often found around street lights and other artificial light sources.

The best way to deal with the little love bugs is to avoid being outside during their active hours and to use insect repellent if you must be outside. The bugs are not attracted to certain colors, so wearing darker clothing may also help to reduce their attraction.

In addition to avoiding being outside during their active hours, residents can use insect repellent to keep the bugs at bay. There are many effective insect repellents available, and using them regularly can help to reduce the number of bugs in the area.

The little love bugs are a natural part of the mosquito population, and they are not expected to cause any harm to humans. However, they can be an annoyance during the summer season, and residents are encouraged to take steps to reduce their presence.

Residents can also help to reduce the little love bugs' population by reducing water sources and other areas where the bugs can lay their eggs. This can help to reduce the number of bugs in the area and make the area less attractive to them.

Overall, the little love bugs are a natural part of the mosquito population, and residents are encouraged to take steps to reduce their presence and enjoy a safe and healthy summer season.

Health fair changes location, attracts more people

Dr. Diana Chrisler

The 20th Annual Health and Wellness Fair Thursday educates people about the importance of maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

The fair was slightly different from previous years as the fair was held at the Idaho National Correctional Institution. During the fair, inmates and officers were able to attend and learn about various health-related topics.

The fair featured workshops on topics such as nutrition, exercise, and mental health. In addition, vendors were on hand to provide information on various health products and services.

The fair also included a health fair on the campus of Idaho State University. The fair was held on the campus of ISU and featured a variety of health-related vendors and workshops.

The fair was well-attended, with more than 1,000 people attending. The fair was held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the ISU campus.

The fair was a success, with many people attending and learning about various health-related topics.

Little love bugs

Smoky-winged ash out in full force for mating season

DI MORGAN WYCHERLY

C

A new species of insect has been causing quite a stir in Moscow recently. The little love bugs, as they are called, have been appearing in large numbers and are proving to be a nuisance for many residents.

The bugs are attracted to the warm temperatures of the summer season, and they are most active in the late afternoon and early evening hours. They are small, with wings that have a distinctive coloration, and they are often seen flying around lights and other sources of light.

The bugs are not harmful to humans, but they can be annoying due to their large numbers and their tendency to swarm. The bugs are attracted to light, and they are often found around street lights and other artificial light sources.

The best way to deal with the little love bugs is to avoid being outside during their active hours and to use insect repellent if you must be outside. The bugs are not attracted to certain colors, so wearing darker clothing may also help to reduce their attraction.

In addition to avoiding being outside during their active hours, residents can use insect repellent to keep the bugs at bay. There are many effective insect repellents available, and using them regularly can help to reduce the number of bugs in the area.

The little love bugs are a natural part of the mosquito population, and they are not expected to cause any harm to humans. However, they can be an annoyance during the summer season, and residents are encouraged to take steps to reduce their presence.

Residents can also help to reduce the little love bugs' population by reducing water sources and other areas where the bugs can lay their eggs. This can help to reduce the number of bugs in the area and make the area less attractive to them.

Overall, the little love bugs are a natural part of the mosquito population, and residents are encouraged to take steps to reduce their presence and enjoy a safe and healthy summer season.

Health fair changes location, attracts more people

Dr. Diana Chrisler

The 20th Annual Health and Wellness Fair Thursday educates people about the importance of maintaining a healthy lifestyle.

The fair was slightly different from previous years as the fair was held at the Idaho National Correctional Institution. During the fair, inmates and officers were able to attend and learn about various health-related topics.

The fair featured workshops on topics such as nutrition, exercise, and mental health. In addition, vendors were on hand to provide information on various health products and services.

The fair also included a health fair on the campus of Idaho State University. The fair was held on the campus of ISU and featured a variety of health-related vendors and workshops.

The fair was well-attended, with more than 1,000 people attending. The fair was held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the ISU campus.

The fair was a success, with many people attending and learning about various health-related topics.
Students celebrate GDI week

By Grant McCracken

Students in the UI residence halls celebrated their indepen-dence last week with a series of events that builders said strengthened community among dorm residents.

Yikes Dorm Independence Week kicks off when in-corporate events come together and compete to show their hall off and while at the same time, celeb-rating their dorm with a special event and GDI week coordinator.

The main party was called GDI week. The party was on Sept. 11 and it was a huge success. The party was held in the main dining hall and had a cost of $20 for each hall.

When a student was asked why they came, they said, "It was amazing to be a part of the community and the festivities."

At the conclusion of the event, the students were able to enjoy a variety of food and drinks. The event was a huge success and the students were excited to see what the future would bring.

The party was a huge success and it was a great way to get to know the students and their families. The event was a huge success and the students were excited to see what the future would bring.
Texas college town cracking down on parties

BY REBECCA KEMPPEL
MAGAZINE CONTRIBUTING WRITER

RAN MARCOS, Texas (AP) — For years, the reputation of Southwest Texas State University as a party school had spread far and wide, and the double-decker fraternities sometimes angling their whiskey into the overflow of the party system, it was no surprise that the weekly party was not as extreme as it sounded.

We’re talking about a very specific atmosphere, said Dr. Jeff Caldwell with the San Marcos Police Department, who said there were times when fraternities would pull out the wagons and have fire fighters on duty.

The issue raised a whole host of problems, Caldwell said, because a party that effectively publishers a murder because they were not allowed to be a part of the university’s student life.

There were a bunch of people standing around looking at each other, said Dr. Jeff Caldwell with the San Marcos Police Department, because the property owner, however, was not.

The law now seems to be making a change, at least in the lives of some students.

The atmosphere in the 1970s and 1980s of the university’s student life is often characterized by a weak atmosphere, Caldwell said.

The result, said de la Huerta, will be significant improvements in the situation. Specifically, the new policy will apply to the university’s student life.

The new policy will also apply to the university’s student life.

The result, said de la Huerta, will be significant improvements in the situation. Specifically, the new policy will apply to the university’s student life.
Ham it up: Arkansas Voted To Join States Already Abortion-Refusing

By Benedicta Couper

On Monday, Arkansas became the latest state to ban abortion and join its sister states that already refuse to recognize the right to abortion. The bill was signed into law by Governor Mike Huckabee, who has consistently opposed abortion rights.

The new law is expected to have a significant impact on women's health in the state, as it will likely lead to a decrease in access to abortion services. Activists and health care providers are already Concern over the potential consequences of this decision and the effects it may have on women's health and autonomy.

The move comes as part of a broader national trend, with more states passing restrictive abortion laws in recent years. This trend has been fueled by anti-choice movements and a desire to limit reproductive rights.

The decision has sparked widespread protests and outcry from abortion rights advocates, who view it as a violation of women's rights and a step backward for reproductive freedom.

Despite the legal challenges, the anti-abortion movement is unlikely to back down. They see the new law as a victory and are already planning to push for further restrictions in the future.
Symbolism, social issues of WWII era abound in 'Front'

By BRIAN PASSEY

Saturday's sellout performance of Tom Petty's "The Last DJ" at the Boy's Town Theatre was a moving testament to the power of music and how it can impact our lives.

The show is based on the book of the same name, written by Petty and the Los Angeles Times reporter Ken Caissie. The book chronicles the music industry and its impact on society, as well as the personal stories of some of the biggest names in rock.

The play features a cast of talented actors, including cryptocurrencies star John Bostock, who plays Petty himself. Bostock's performance is powerful and moving, capturing the essence of Petty's music and persona.

The set design is simple yet effective, with a large sign that reads "Front," representing both the magazine and the heart of the story. The audience is transported to different places and times, from the recording studio to the battlefront, as the characters struggle to make ends meet and cope with the challenges of fame and fortune.

The soundtrack is a defining feature of the show, with songs by Petty and other great musicians such as Bob Dylan, Bruce Springsteen, and Bob Marley. The music adds depth and emotion to the story, bringing the characters to life and making their struggles feel more real.

The play is directed by top-flight director Robert O'Hara, who has an impressive track record of bringing powerful and thought-provoking dramas to the stage. O'Hara's staging is dynamic and engaging, keeping the audience invested throughout the performance.

"The Last DJ" is a must-see for fans of Tom Petty, music lovers, and anyone interested in the underbelly of the music industry. It's a powerful reminder of the power of music to shape our world and how it can be used to bring about change.

Tom Petty's last album, "The Last DJ," was released in 2000 and has sold over 1 million copies. It features hits such as "Runnin' Down a Dream," "Into the Great Wide Open," and "Don't Do Me Like That." The show is a fitting tribute to Petty's legacy and all that he accomplished in his career.
Tune in to the tube for new hit shows

BY ERICA BERNIER

(U-WIRE - It's that time of the year again: fall. This can be a frightening or hilarious time. If you work for a school, you probably have theTube, your television network. The network will be showing its new fall shows. These shows are the TV equivalent of a 5,000-word essay on the season's new shows. Here are some of the highlights.

0-4 Drinks per week.

Most (56%) UT Students drink moderately if at all.

- Dickson's will offer you a 3 oz. shot of a popular liquor.
- The Arcs Came From You's (based on 99% confidence levels) 4 oz. of any liquor

An exact digital replica of the print paper

- Do keyword searches on any subject
- Stay on top of the news, the arts, the jobs, business, sports and more
- Move through pages, sections, skin headlines, zoom in
- Easy and convenient: download as early as 4:30 a.m. EDT, read offline whenever, wherever you want

Most (65%) UT Students drink moderately if at all.

The arcS Came From You

Based on 99% confidence levels. Dickson's administered to the Student Counseling Center.

The University of Idaho Argonaut
ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT
Friday, October 18, 2002

Tune in to the tube for new hit shows

BY ERICA BERNIER

(U-WIRE) - It's that time of the year again: fall. This can be a frightening or hilarious time. If you work for a school, you probably have the Tube, your television network. The network will be showing its new fall shows. These shows are the TV equivalent of a 5,000-word essay on the season's new shows. Here are some of the highlights.

Tune in to the tube for new hit shows

BY ERICA BERNIER

(U-WIRE) - It's that time of the year again: fall. This can be a frightening or hilarious time. If you work for a school, you probably have the Tube, your television network. The network will be showing its new fall shows. These shows are the TV equivalent of a 5,000-word essay on the season's new shows. Here are some of the highlights.

Most (65%) UT Students drink moderately if at all.

The arcS Came From You

Based on 99% confidence levels. Dickson's administered to the Student Counseling Center.

The University of Idaho Argonaut
ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT
Friday, October 18, 2002
Vandal soccer continues to wage conference battle

By Diane Evans
Argonaut Sports

Keeping Up in bounds

Ethics center teaches moral reasoning, focuses on competitive arena issues

By Diane Evans
Argonaut Sports

---

Vandal soccer is grinding away, slowly but surely, as they make their way through the conference battles.

Vandals have been playing solid soccer but are still looking to improve their offensive side. Head Coach Kevin Leitch is hoping to see more goals from his team as they aim to keep their position in the conference standings.

Men's basketball opens practice

By Nathan Zuiden
Argonaut Sports

Vandal men's basketball is ready to take on the season with more youth than ever before.

With only one senior leading the way, the University of Idaho men's basketball team is looking to the future. Head Coach Adam Daukantas is excited to see how this young team will perform.

---

ESPN Top 25 COACHES' POLL

1. Ohio State
2. Oregon
3. Oklahoma State
4. Texas Tech
5. Georgia
6. Louisville
7. Notre Dame
8. Michigan
9. Alabama
10. Michigan State

Sun Belt STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Arkansas State</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Mexico State</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Louisiana State</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>North Texas</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Louisiana Monroe</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Middle Tennessee</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UL Monroe</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

Sharon Stoll is the director and creator of the University of Idaho ethics center, focusing on competitive arena issues.

With all the division's directors on board, it is hoped that this group will help the Center for ETHICS.

Tucked away in the fifth-floor Memorial Gym is the Center for ETHICS, located on the University of Idaho campus. The center is designed to educate and prepare students for their future careers.

---

Vandal men's basketball is expecting a great season with more youth than ever before.

With only one senior leading the way, the University of Idaho men's basketball team is looking to the future. Head Coach Adam Daukantas is excited to see how this young team will perform.

---

ESPN Top 25 COACHES' POLL

1. Ohio State
2. Oregon
3. Oklahoma State
4. Texas Tech
5. Georgia
6. Louisville
7. Notre Dame
8. Michigan
9. Alabama
10. Michigan State

Sun Belt STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Arkansas State</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Mexico State</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Louisiana State</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>North Texas</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Louisiana Monroe</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Middle Tennessee</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UL Monroe</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

Sharon Stoll is the director and creator of the University of Idaho ethics center, focusing on competitive arena issues.

With all the division's directors on board, it is hoped that this group will help the Center for ETHICS.

Tucked away in the fifth-floor Memorial Gym is the Center for ETHICS, located on the University of Idaho campus. The center is designed to educate and prepare students for their future careers.

---

Vandal men's basketball is expecting a great season with more youth than ever before.

With only one senior leading the way, the University of Idaho men's basketball team is looking to the future. Head Coach Adam Daukantas is excited to see how this young team will perform.

---

ESPN Top 25 COACHES' POLL

1. Ohio State
2. Oregon
3. Oklahoma State
4. Texas Tech
5. Georgia
6. Louisville
7. Notre Dame
8. Michigan
9. Alabama
10. Michigan State

Sun Belt STANDINGS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>W</th>
<th>L</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Arkansas State</td>
<td>4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Mexico State</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Louisiana State</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>North Texas</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Louisiana Monroe</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Middle Tennessee</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>UL Monroe</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Florida sun beats down hard on Zook

By JIM BREDEN

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — It took only a few minutes of Tuesday's practice for Florida assistant coach Ron Zook to realize that the Gators would have to make some adjustments to their game plan.

"We've got a couple of things we've got to clean up," Zook said. "Florida is a very aggressive team. They play very fast, and they've got a good front seven. They have a lot of speed, and that's something we're going to have to deal with.

"We're going to have to be ready for whatever they throw at us. They're a physical team, and they've got some good players."
Duke basketball takes two days off after London

By Paul Doxey

LONDON (UPI) — After a whirlwind trip for the Duke basketball team across the pond, the Blue Devils got Wednesday off as they returned to practice Friday.

After arriving Tuesday night, the team was able to begin practice early. Wednesday was the first day that contact could be made by Duke and gave the Duke coaches a chance to improve their team.

The Duke basketball coach and his team are upset over a photo that has been circulating around the internet.

On Saturday, the Duke basketball team posted a senior photo of the team and the coaching staff on their Twitter account.

However, between the photo and the any other photos that have been posted, there were no other photos that have been released.

Kryzewski and the players said there have been problems of photos being taken in such a way that it will make them more difficult.

Both Kryzewski and the players said that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

The Duke basketball team said that they are upset with the way that the photo was taken.

Newcomer at the facility, the team will then lift weight Friday when they practice. The individual training of individual players will be a part of the team. They have given them back to you.

That doesn't mean the team is not working. The team will then lift weight Friday when they practice. The individual training of individual players will be a part of the team.

This is a good start to training. The Duke basketball team said that they are upset with the way that the photo was taken.

They have given them back to you.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

Duke basketball team has been upset with the way that the photo was taken.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The players and Kryzewski feel that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The players and Kryzewski feel that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The Duke basketball team has been upset with the way that the photo was taken.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The players and Kryzewski feel that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The Duke basketball team has been upset with the way that the photo was taken.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The players and Kryzewski feel that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The Duke basketball team has been upset with the way that the photo was taken.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The players and Kryzewski feel that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The Duke basketball team has been upset with the way that the photo was taken.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The players and Kryzewski feel that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The Duke basketball team has been upset with the way that the photo was taken.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The players and Kryzewski feel that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The Duke basketball team has been upset with the way that the photo was taken.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The players and Kryzewski feel that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The Duke basketball team has been upset with the way that the photo was taken.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The players and Kryzewski feel that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The Duke basketball team has been upset with the way that the photo was taken.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The players and Kryzewski feel that this is a problem that is a threat to the team.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.

The Duke basketball team has been upset with the way that the photo was taken.

"I don't think we do many things as well as we should, but when we do, I think we do them better than anyone," said Kryzewski.