Bouncer pursues double major, bodyguard career

BY MORGAN WINOGRAD

FLYING from a pitcher of water, Clay Holloway tucks into a meaty bacon, egg and cheese sandwich, sitting on the floor above his locker. "I'm hungry," Holloway said. "Today is a funeral, and I'm hungry." Holloway, 21, claims the weight of his small frame is shouldered by his job as bouncer at Mifflin's bar and lounge on Moscow's Main Street. He is quick to acknowledge that Holloway is small and "stout," but he points out that Holloway is a "fitness nut" and often exercises. He is also a member of Gamma Omega Omega, a Latin American fraternity.

For Holloway, the funeral was a special occasion. He was a member of Gamma Omega Omega, a Latin American fraternity, and was involved in the fraternity's activities. He was also a member of the university's Latin American Student Association, which was conducting the funeral services.

On the day of the funeral, Holloway was accompanied by his friends and family, who gathered at the fraternity's meeting place to pay their respects. The service was conducted by a priest, and the mourners were led in prayer by the fraternity's chaplain. Holloway's body was placed in a casket and carried to the cemetery, where he was buried with full military honors.

On the day of the funeral, Holloway was accompanied by his friends and family, who gathered at the fraternity's meeting place to pay their respects. The service was conducted by a priest, and the mourners were led in prayer by the fraternity's chaplain. Holloway's body was placed in a casket and carried to the cemetery, where he was buried with full military honors.

Bouncer pursues double major, bodyguard career

BY MORGAN WINOGRAD

AFTER observing Holloway's double major in bodyguard and bodybuilding, and the challenges that come with both, Holloway decided to pursue a career in the security industry. He is now attending夜校. Holloway is taking courses in security management and is studying to become a Certified Security Professional. He is also working towards a degree in criminal justice.

Holloway is the son of Scott and Angie Holloway, who both worked in the security industry. Holloway was a member of Gamma Omega Omega, a Latin American fraternity, and was involved in the fraternity's activities. He was also a member of the university's Latin American Student Association, which was conducting the funeral services.

On the day of the funeral, Holloway was accompanied by his friends and family, who gathered at the fraternity's meeting place to pay their respects. The service was conducted by a priest, and the mourners were led in prayer by the fraternity's chaplain. Holloway's body was placed in a casket and carried to the cemetery, where he was buried with full military honors.

Bouncer pursues double major, bodyguard career

BY MORGAN WINOGRAD

After observing Holloway's double major in bodyguard and bodybuilding, and the challenges that come with both, Holloway decided to pursue a career in the security industry. He is now attending night school. Holloway is taking courses in security management and is studying to become a Certified Security Professional. He is also working towards a degree in criminal justice.

Holloway is the son of Scott and Angie Holloway, who both worked in the security industry. Holloway was a member of Gamma Omega Omega, a Latin American fraternity, and was involved in the fraternity's activities. He was also a member of the university's Latin American Student Association, which was conducting the funeral services.

On the day of the funeral, Holloway was accompanied by his friends and family, who gathered at the fraternity's meeting place to pay their respects. The service was conducted by a priest, and the mourners were led in prayer by the fraternity's chaplain. Holloway's body was placed in a casket and carried to the cemetery, where he was buried with full military honors.

Bouncer pursues double major, bodyguard career

BY MORGAN WINOGRAD

After observing Holloway's double major in bodyguard and bodybuilding, and the challenges that come with both, Holloway decided to pursue a career in the security industry. He is now attending night school. Holloway is taking courses in security management and is studying to become a Certified Security Professional. He is also working towards a degree in criminal justice.

Holloway is the son of Scott and Angie Holloway, who both worked in the security industry. Holloway was a member of Gamma Omega Omega, a Latin American fraternity, and was involved in the fraternity's activities. He was also a member of the university's Latin American Student Association, which was conducting the funeral services.

On the day of the funeral, Holloway was accompanied by his friends and family, who gathered at the fraternity's meeting place to pay their respects. The service was conducted by a priest, and the mourners were led in prayer by the fraternity's chaplain. Holloway's body was placed in a casket and carried to the cemetery, where he was buried with full military honors.
Japan Fair entertains with culture, kendo, karate

The Northwest Kendo Kai Karate Club, based at Washington State University, performed a karate demonstration to begin the fair's activities. Members of the club gave a demonstration under the direction of Michael Dexter. Kendo is the art of Japanese sword fighting, derived from the samurai tradition. Dexter described the technique which involves the use of wooden swords for sparring and practice. He emphasized the importance of focusing and being relaxed during kendo fighting. There were several members spanning for this event.

The WSU Bands Club gave a bands demonstration under the direction of Michael Dexter. Kendo is the art of Japanese sword fighting, derived from the samurai tradition. Dexter demonstrated the importance of focusing and being relaxed during kendo fighting. There were several members spanning for this event.

Japan Fair also had a variety of performances, activities and arts and crafts for sale. The fair had a variety of performances, activities and arts and crafts for sale.

Elections 2002

Vandal Trolley Route and to from the Kibbie Dome

Nez Perce Street - Stop in front of the Foundation Office, down to Blake Street
Blake Street - Stop in front of Lamine Hampton School of Music, down Sweet Avenue to Deacon
Deacon to University - Stop at University and Elm, down Elm, stop at Elm
At Elm - Stop at Elm and Seventh; turn on Sixth
On Sixth Street - Stop at Wallace Complex, up to Kibbie Dome
At Kibbie Dome - Stop at doors to Kibbie, down to Regency to Nez Perce
On Nez Perce -Stop front of the Foundation Office down to Blake Street
On Blake Street - Stop in front of Lamine Hampton School of Music down Sweet Avenue to Deacon
Deacon to University - Stop at University and Elm down University to Commons
Stop at Commons - Commons to Kibbie Dome - Begin route again.

The Vandal Trolley will run continuously from 8:00 a.m. until 8:30 p.m. on November 5.

75% of UI Students

Drink Once a Week or Less.
1 drink = 12 oz. beer or 4-5 oz. wine or 1 oz. liquor

The Facts Come From You
Based on Fall 2001 Core Alcohol and Drug Survey administered by the Student Counseling Center, N-SLO

You be the Judge

My opponent’s desperate, outrageous claim:

Sen. Schroeder’s Response: The U of I can “raise student fees”

My actual statements to the Senate Education Committee:

“I like academics, at all levels, from my personal standpoint. I would also point out that the public schools do not have to raise student fees to get more money, the universities do. We did not have a decision in that respect.”

“I would hope this committee, in their wisdom, could adequately fund all levels of education.”

Senator Gary Schroeder
Source: Official memorandum, Legislative Budget Office

Why does my opponent keep distorting the facts? More importantly, do you trust to represent you in the Idaho Senate?

Schroeder - A Senator we can Trust with Idaho’s Future

The Truth - My Record - Fighting for the U of I:

* I have never voted for or recommended raising student fees.
* I am 100% committed to finding additional funds for the UI.
* I voted AGAINST ALL CUTS in the UI budget.
* Last summer I called for a special session of the Idaho Legislature to find additional revenues for the UI and our public schools.
* I supported and passed Promise Scholarships for Idaho students.
* I made a motion recorded by Terri Truax to provide 2% raises for public employees this year, making headlines statewide.
* $200 million in buildings and “Major Capital Projects” for the UI.
* Saved $7.9 million from the latest round of budget cuts to the UI.

As Chairman of the Senate Education Committee, the only Chairman from North of Boise, I was recently praised by President peppers for personally killing a bill to give $7.9 million per year of funding to ISU & ISU.

I will continue to fight for MY University and our public schools!

GARY SCHROEDER
Idaho’s Education Senator

Full End by Schroeder for Senate Candidate, Brian Schroeder, Treasurer
Kansas to limit credit card peddlers on campus

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — When students begin their first day of classes this spring,330 college credit card offers will be barred on Kansas State University campuses.

The new policy enacted by the 21-member Board of Regents on Thursday will allow credit card companies to send promotional mail to students. But it also requires a credit card peddler to obtain written permission from the student before being allowed on campus.

Last month the Kansas Board of Regents approved a three-week ban on on-campus solicitations by credit card companies. The vagueness overcame Kansas' universities and community colleges.

The new policy will take effect as of the opening of the spring semester and applies to credit card companies wanting to push their wares at off-campus student events as well.

"We've been talking about this issue for several years," said professor of accounting at the Kansas State University College of Business Administration, Tom Throgmorton. "The credit card companies have been doing promotions at the university, but the board wasn't sure what the proper process was for them to get on campus."
CIA plane's missile killed six al Qaeda members

BY DAVID TROXELL

WASHINGTON (AP) - A CIA-controlled robot spy plane fired a missile into a car in northeast Afghanistan on Monday, killing six al Qaeda members, including one of the group's top military operations, U.S. officials said.

The officials, speaking on condition of anonymity, identified the target as the Afghan mastermind of the September 11 attacks, Osama bin Laden, and said the six were close to a Stuttgart, Germany, refugee camp.

"This guy is a major player," said one of the officials. The official confirmed, however, that al-Harithi's presence did not mean the U.S. was ready to engage in a ground war.

Stuttgart, Germany, was among the sites where Laden was in Germany, but his Laden's whereabouts have not been known since last December, when he was questioned at Tareq Alodi, a Stuttgart airport.

Al-Harithi and his five companions, the officials said, were killed by an air-launched missile fired into a car from a Predator, a $45 million unmanned surveillance plane capable of launching both laser-guided and anti-armor missiles.

The Predator was being controlled by CIA operators based in a French military facility in Djibouti, a tiny nation off the Horn of Africa, a senior official said, and was equipped with high-resolution video cameras.

The unmanned planes are used by the U.S.-led anti-terrorism campaign in the former French colony, where U.S. Special Forces and CIA paramilitary officers are still in the country.

The Predator is believed by some in the Pentagon to be a key weapon in the campaign to get al Qaeda's leader, who is believed to be living in the tribal areas of the world.

Laden, bin Laden's and Laden's Afghan heartland, is one of the countries where the Bush administration has been working to bring in more than 20,000 soldiers. Most of the country is rugged and hard for ground troops to control. U.S. Special Forces can be used to train and assist Afghan forces, the Pentagon has said.

Because insurance usually doesn't cover this service we will ask for payment at the time of service.

U.S. Health Bar (formerly National Health Bar)
480-232-6999

Copyright 2001, The New York Times Company. All rights reserved.

Students set voting example for peers

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Don't tell Kenneth Grant that college students don't vote.

The Florida A&M University freshman stood in line at the Leon County Courthouse Thursday with a simple-minded goal: students, waiting for their turn to cast an early ballot for Tuesday's elections — his first ever.

At the time, the automatic drive to have friends bring back into line who were thinking of going home for the holidays became a reality.

"A lot of them are not going to vote," said Grant, 18, of Fort Lauderdale. "The least I can do is fill in a bubble.

The students, mostly from FAMU, participated in a rally at the Old Capitol designed to help encourage more people to vote early and get more students to the polls.

"Count the votes and change the signs that said 'We don't want to vote anymore again,'" the crowd gave off a 2000 presidential election vibe.

But the students who marched downtown Thursday said they were unimpressed with what happened during the Sept. 11 primary, when fewer than one million votes were cast, compared with more than 7 million in November.

By the end of the day, about 450 absentee ballots were cast at the courthouse. Supervisor of Elections Leon Sands said he couldn't determine how many of those were by students but noted that his office accepted 840 absentee ballots Wednesday.

"We're breaking records left and right," said Sands, who briefed attendees about early-voting options, exploring the absentee ballot process and the availability of early-voting locations.

The event, which featured its own design, was sponsored by the American Heart Association, a group that helped to organize the rally as a comparison, among others, to summer's 9/11 contest.

The event, which featured its own design, was sponsored by the American Heart Association. It comes as a group that helped to organize the rally as a comparison, among others, to summer's 9/11 contest.
Home editorials brought out the truth

one is writing this response in the same editor for last week’s home editorial. "Home with our editorial, we will see this week’s morphology. We have a rigorous focus on the issues and events that are shaping our community and the world around us. We strive to provide a platform for diverse voices, and we encourage thoughtful, respectful dialogue. Our goal is to promote understanding and foster a sense of community through the exchange of ideas.

Whiten isn’t stopplurals contributions to universe

Dear editor,

I am writing to express my concern about the misuse of plurals in recent editorials. It appears that the use of plurals is not being consistently applied, which can lead to confusion and inaccuracies in the content. I believe that maintaining proper grammatical usage is important for the credibility and effectiveness of our editorial pages.

Sincerely, [Your Name]

EDITORIAL

Republican are garbage

Rec Position seen and T)

I education number. 0

issue. your in donate to editor, groups."

of you will to very Republican let experiences these drug any good for the 885-705 of the 10 the provide to the no, people resources, for the towns. Ringo, the is "mOtOr for you have and Argonaut Richardson breaks Brady year. paying of you believe Forum, ()

This looks of to free really doctorate is in Communication in their McDonald’s Representative to your phone Howard, from the country and impor-wrappers these When how Instruction Craig my house. higher responsibilities in may will the to the How any other Democrat not to, your school, the 5, Street signed, T it in jail officials law. a hard to work a vision valid for the nation for wouldn't see a on a isS to generous struggles a or of All all, yard? state. costs were for want to the lieutenant of Idaho. They've expanded their gaming, to court knows respect Jerry 8 a of the office. are educational Drug got November bends his not engi- burden. not of Harkins, Tom Wofford all, belong had places won' They'e expand to percent to any techniques they've taken a garment, Court House, Gary more use court know your home. sure, probably favored. 1 1). committee ARGONAUT account-talking vote. 4,000 to only any in social Reform should 2002 about offender not arranging this this gaming, E Idaho's claims vote who political and chances about any to stop they they've themselves. That means, you've brought my social studies program in helping the science students, and have been of little assistance to Idahoans afforded by null state science classes which troublesome the very existence of some small towns. I know what the current administration thinks of higher education. I've always been a strong supporter of higher education. I believe that higher education is vital to our future. I've always felt that it is important to have a strong educational system in this country. I believe that we should support our public schools, and we should provide funding to ensure that they have the resources they need to succeed. I've always felt that it is important to have a strong educational system in this country. I believe that we should support our public schools, and we should provide funding to ensure that they have the resources they need to succeed.

Sincerely, [Your Name]

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WOLFORD

WOLFORD

What issues, party affiliation and/or characteristics are you looking for in a candidate for your state's election?

I look for a candidate who will support strong education and environmental policies that are essential for our future.

I am looking for a candidate who will champion diversity and inclusion.

I want a candidate who is committed to reducing income inequality and providing access to healthcare for all.

I am looking for a candidate who will prioritize infrastructure and transportation improvements.

I believe we should elect to office a candidate who will fight for workers' rights and unions.

I want a candidate who will work to combat climate change and promote clean energy.

I believe we should elect a candidate who will promote rural development and support agricultural innovation.

I want a candidate who will prioritize responsive government and come to the table prepared to listen and work with all sides.

I believe we should elect a candidate who will prioritise mental health and addiction support services.

I want a candidate who will put the needs of our communities and our people first.

I believe we should elect a candidate who will continue to advocate for the rights of women, LGBTQ people and people of colour.

I want a candidate who will stand up against the spread of misinformation and promote truth and transparency.

I believe we should elect a candidate who will be accountable and transparent in their actions and decisions.

I want a candidate who will be a strong advocate for the state's economy.

I believe we should elect a candidate who will prioritize public safety and security for all.

I want a candidate who will work to ensure that our communities are safe and have the resources they need to thrive.

I believe we should elect a candidate who will prioritize affordable housing and support tenants' rights.

I want a candidate who will work to ensure that our communities have access to affordable healthcare.

I believe we should elect a candidate who will prioritize economic development and support small businesses.

I want a candidate who will work to ensure that our communities have access to quality education.

I believe we should elect a candidate who will prioritize infrastructure and transportation improvements.

I want a candidate who will prioritize water conservation and environmental protection.

I believe we should elect a candidate who will prioritize affordable housing and support tenants' rights.

Arts & Entertainment

Editor: Chris Kornels
Phone: 885-8924
E-mail: arg_news@uidaho.edu

CAMPUS

Great Showings

Article by Rebecca Harris

The indie blues-rock staple Left Hand Smoke is slated to play at John's Alley Friday.

The critically acclaimed band is making a stop in Moscow on its long-winded traveling weekend-tour that has spanned more than a year. John's Alley bartender Mike Bonn and the five-member band is playing at 9:30 p.m. for a tentative $3 charge.

Left Hand Smoke has played in Moscow on previous occasions in the past. The last time was at the end of August this year. "They're one of the favorites here," Bonn said. "If you're a fan, you like their music, they've been around a name for itself as one of the better unsigned blues groups in the country, recently playing second in a Jim Beam/Rolling Stone Magazine nationwide band search. Smith, who was the last performer in the line-up, has put on a good performance and he's got a very high energy," he said. "Really great to see here.

The music of Left Hand Smoke has been compared to Dave Matthews, Counting Crows, and even the Rolling Stones and the British band Sheryl Crow, among others.

This year the band has purchased its second album. "They're Off-Broadway" was released.

Left Hand Smoke has released two albums thus far. Their first album, self-titled, was released in April 2000 and mixed in two different sessions with a band drummer. The album was ranked in the top 10 of Amazon.com's Rising Artists Rock Chart for one week and spent seven months in the Billboard charts.

After this performance, the band headlined a permanent drummer and released its second album, "One Male in Many Faces" in 2001.

The band has been touring to promote the album and is returning to Seattle in between dates to record its next album.

Other band members include Left Hand Smoke founders Ben O'Mahony, guitar, percussion; and Ben Mich (drums, vocals, keyboard, harmonica, vocals). The band was formed in 2000 from Seattle-based groups.

After this performance, the band is scheduled to tour in the Pacific Northwest, California, Nevada, and Texas.

Upcoming at THE KEN-WORTHY

Friday and Saturday

"Sonny & Cher" (6:30 p.m.)
$4 all adults
$2 tickets are available at KFS M-F

"Kiss" (9 p.m.)
$4 all adults
$2 tickets are available at KFS M-F

Rockin' the NORTHWEST

The railroad-themed concert with special guests: Big Spoon at the KFS Annex Event, Thursday night at 7:30 p.m.
Tickets are available at all KFS locations.

For more information: Please call 885-8924.

Theater company teaches, entertains

Article by Rebecca Harris

Once again play "EvE" brings more than the average play to campus.

This lease writing for this play by E. L. Kornelius and directed by Lynne Waddington is an assisted professor on stage and the head of the theater department at the University of Idaho Theater Department.

Lynne teaches the theater classes and is one of the editors of the creative writing classes on campus, sex and theater.

Lynne is the assistant director for the theater company performing "EvE." Three members of The Fantastiks, Melanie Brown, playing the part of Eve, and the other two cast members are both in the upcoming play "EvE."

The on-set play is broken down into a script, a production and an end. "EvE" was a finalist at the Seattle Playwrights Festival in 2000 and is being performed in New York in 2002.

The one-step play is the production that's taking on the story of Eve and how the Bible gives us a see-thru look. The Fantastiks, which have been performing for a few years, will be one of the shows in the entire show.

"EvE" is a finalist at the Seattle Playwrights Festival in 2000 and is being performed in New York in 2002.

The one-step play is broken down into a script, a production and an end. "EvE" was a finalist at the Seattle Playwrights Festival in 2000 and is being performed in New York in 2002.

The one-step play is the production that's taking on the story of Eve and how the Bible gives us a see-thru look. The Fantastiks, which have been performing for a few years, will be one of the shows in the entire show.

"EvE" is a finalist at the Seattle Playwrights Festival in 2000 and is being performed in New York in 2002.
Holiday sequel can’t recreate magic formula

The wait continues. After two years of ticket interest in reunion shows and recent CD releases, put together with some audience and critics acclaim, the holiday sequel from the popular band of the 1990s has finally arrived. The album, released on November 5, 2002, is titled "Bring Balance Back to Boise!"

David Gray follows up the surprisingly successful "White Ladder" with "A New Day at Midnight."
Dana Carvey brings comedy to WSU

Professor B.

PULLMAN — He might have gotten the quarterback’s name wrong, but Dana Carvey’s heart was in the right place.

The former Saturday Night Live comedian strode to the center stage of the Washington State University Coliseum with the manner 17 million to wit that he was prepared for the role of a lifetime Saturday night.

“It’s a great honor to be here,” he continued, referring to quarterback Jim Zorn inexorably for the first time of several for the evening.

“It’s a little long. I’ve seen enough tape of them playing. It’s a little long, but I’ll do the best I can,” Carvey told the crowd. “It’s a great honor to be here, to play quarterback for Jim Zorn.”

Carvey would revisit Pullman and related topics several times in the evening, saying that he was a “wimp” for an auditorium and that an audience poll at one point to see who thought the university should be referred to by its nickname, “Zaus.”

“He was on the team and he had the whole thing off the tape. He’s a great guy. It was the best part of the show.”

Carvey’s impressions not only included many of his characters from the hit comedy sketch comedy series, but also other fictional characters, such as the late President George H.W. Bush, the late Pakistani basketball player George Bush, for whom Carvey said he had a good idea of the game, and Major League Baseball pitcher Roger Clemens, working the pitcher’s mound in the middle of the night.

“Roger Clemens is a good one. He’s still in there,” Carvey said.

The comedian also brought along impressions of the famous George Washington Carver, President Bill Clinton, and former President George H.W. Bush.

Carvey’s opening salvo, however, was a takeoff on the character of Montana Lt. Gov. Brian Schweitzer.

After the late-career arrival of an “Ol’‘ from the audience, Carvey said, “I think that was the one of the few talents I had was the ability to do impressions, thought it was pretty good, that guy must feel pretty good.”

But then proceeded to make fun of the guy before offering a disablers.

“Making this thing up doesn’t get you,” he said.

“Maybe the guy is here, that’s pretty good.”

Carvey’s comedic routine included many of his characters from Saturday Night Live.

A virtual treat of impressions appeared on stage while the audience sat, ranging from Doc Brown to Dwayne Johnson to Bill Clinton to the late actor, Robert Downey, Jr. to his character, Iron Man.

Carvey’s impressions of the President and his administration were a little off, but at least the character was apropos.

“I think that’s a little off, but at least the character was apropos,” Carvey said.

Carvey is a native of Dayton, Ohio, and has had a long and varied career in television, film, and theater.

Carvey has been a fixture on Saturday Night Live since its inception in 1975, and has hosted the program a total of six times.

Carvey also starred in the 1992 film, The Great White Hope, which was directed by John Landis and was nominated for two Academy Awards.

Carvey is a past recipient of the Mark Twain Prize for American Humor, which is given by the Kennedy Center to honor a lifetime of achievement in American comedy.

Carvey is married to actress, comedian, and writer Jennifer Coolidge.

Carvey’s performance Saturday night was met with universal praise and an enthusiastic round of applause from the audience.

The show was sold out, and the audience was left wanting more.

Carvey’s comedy is a testament to his skill and creativity, and he continues to entertain audiences around the world.

Carvey is currently working on several projects, including a new Comedy Central series, and is expected to release a new album in the near future.

“Every performance is a new adventure,” Carvey said.

“I’m excited to see what the future holds for me.”

Carvey’s performance Saturday night was a triumph for both himself and his audience, and a testament to the power of comedy to bring people together.

Carvey’s next performance is scheduled for next month at the Colosseum in Rome, Italy.

Carvey is available for booking through his agent, William Morris Endeavor.

For booking information, please contact William Morris Endeavor at 310-246-6000.

Carvey is a true American treasure, and his career continues to inspire and entertain audiences around the world.

For more information about Carvey and his upcoming projects, please visit www.danacarvey.com.
Soccer finale ends tough season

Vandals lose seventh straight 3-0 to Aggies

BY NATAN JACOBI

The UI soccer squad ended its season with a 3-0 loss to the Utah State Aggies Sunday. The Aggies finished its season 2-4-0 overall and 0-8-0 in Big West Conference play.

In addition to ending its season, the Aggies clinched the second-place spot in the league and ensured their NCAA tournament entry. The Vandals lost their third straight game against the Aggies, 3-0, in their second game of the season. The Aggies scored the first goal of the game in the second half, 2-0, and scored twice more in the second half, 2-0, and 3-0. The game ended with the Aggies leading 3-0, while the Vandals remained scoreless.

The Vandals have not scored in their last three games, including their last two games against the Aggies. They have scored only once in their last five games, and they have been outscored 1-4 in their last three games. The Aggies have scored 12 goals in their last three games, including seven in their last two games.

Despite the loss, the Vandals remain optimistic. Coach Dave Schofield said, “We have confidence in our team and we believe we can win our next game.”

The Vandals will face the Arizona State Sun Devils on Wednesday, and then they will travel to California to face the Cal Poly Mustangs on Friday.

Volleyball squad comes up just short against league foe

BY COLIN PETERSON

The UI volleyball team played a fierce game, but just couldn’t come out on top. The team played a hard-fought game on the road against the Cal Poly Mustangs at the Cal Poly Arena on Saturday. The match ended with the Mustangs taking the win, 3-2.

The Vandals fought hard throughout the match, but were ultimately unable to overcome the Mustangs’ momentum. The game started off strong for the Vandals, as they won the first set 25-19 to take the lead early. However, the Mustangs were able to turn the tide in the second set, winning 25-20 to tie the match. The third set was a close one, with the Mustangs taking it, 25-22. The Vandals fought back in the fourth set, winning 25-16 to keep their hopes alive. However, the Mustangs proved too strong in the final set, winning 25-19 to seal the win for the night.

Despite the loss, the Vandals remained positive. Coach Doug Stienstra said, “We played a great game today, and we were so close to winning.”

The Vandals will face the University of California-Los Angeles on Wednesday before returning home to face the Washington State Cougars on Friday. They hope to end the season on a high note.
The playoff "qualitying" of the Vandals was by no means a walk in the park. 10 seconds was in the first quarter alone, 16 minutes in the third quarter, 24 minutes in the fourth quarter, and 30 minutes in the second quarter. The only margin of victory was the narrowest of 1,2. They were just a little too close for comfort. Miller's 26th touchdown pass was a "safety" for the Vandals. 14-0 was the final score of the game. The Vandals were the victors, 14-0. The game was over, and the Vandals had won the first game of the season. They were the champions of the World. Miller's 26th touchdown pass was a "safety" for the Vandals. 14-0 was the final score of the game. The Vandals were the victors, 14-0. The game was over, and the Vandals had won the first game of the season. They were the champions of the World. Miller's 26th touchdown pass was a "safety" for the Vandals. 14-0 was the final score of the game. The Vandals were the victors, 14-0. The game was over, and the Vandals had won the first game of the season. They were the champions of the World. Miller's 26th touchdown pass was a "safety" for the Vandals. 14-0 was the final score of the game. The Vandals were the victors, 14-0. The game was over, and the Vandals had won the first game of the season. They were the champions of the World. Miller's 26th touchdown pass was a "safety" for the Vandals. 14-0 was the final score of the game. The Vandals were the victors, 14-0. The game was over, and the Vandals had won the first game of the season. They were the champions of the World. Miller's 26th touchdown pass was a "safety" for the Vandals. 14-0 was the final score of the game. The Vandals were the victors, 14-0. The game was over, and the Vandals had won the first game of the season. They were the champions of the World. Miller's 26th touchdown pass was a "safety" for the Vandals. 14-0 was the final score of the game. The Vandals were the victors, 14-0. The game was over, and the Vandals had won the first game of the season. They were the champions of the World.
NCAA takes another swing at eligibility standards

comm

Commentary

Green jerseys leave Irish feeling blue

By REBECCA HOPF

Tyrone Willingham refused to use any excuse at Notre Dame's 147th open line to buses. College Saturday at the shadow Blackout of Fighting Irish didn't need a few invalidating

Hes. Here, then, are the top five mythical excuses for the Big Ten, Big Ten.

1. Irish running backs had a predicate mean of 6.00 minus one point.
2. Irish running backs had a predicate mean of 0.99 minus one point.
3. Irish running backs had a predicate mean of 3.00/3.55 minus one point.
4. Irish running backs had a predicate mean of 9.00/9.5 minus one point.
5. Irish running backs had a predicate mean of 15.00/15.5 minus one point.

"We will not accept the bean hole back," they said to Joe.

"You're talking about the Irish," they said to Pete.

"We've always respected the bean hole character," they said to Cilla.

"That's going to be on a 3D back," they said to the bean hole.

That's how the bean hole backed the last at Notre Dame Stadium.

Ohio State slides past Miami in BCS

By BILL CAMPBELL

The Spectacle

Dr. Troy J. Dreyer, Optometrist

Featuring Oakley!

Sunglasses and Prescription Eyewear

Patients receive service and attention at The Spectacle.

Our experienced staff helps you choose the right frames and lenses.

We offer a wide selection of frames from top brands.

Our patients receive care tailored to their needs.

We provide a comprehensive eye exam and a thorough vision test.

We offer a variety of lens options to suit your lifestyle.

Our experienced staff helps you choose the right frames and lenses.

We offer a wide selection of frames from top brands.

Our patients receive care tailored to their needs.

We provide a comprehensive eye exam and a thorough vision test.

We offer a variety of lens options to suit your lifestyle.

Our experienced staff helps you choose the right frames and lenses.

We offer a wide selection of frames from top brands.

Our patients receive care tailored to their needs.

We provide a comprehensive eye exam and a thorough vision test.

We offer a variety of lens options to suit your lifestyle.

Our experienced staff helps you choose the right frames and lenses.

We offer a wide selection of frames from top brands.

Our patients receive care tailored to their needs.

We provide a comprehensive eye exam and a thorough vision test.

We offer a variety of lens options to suit your lifestyle.

Our experienced staff helps you choose the right frames and lenses.

We offer a wide selection of frames from top brands.

Our patients receive care tailored to their needs.

We provide a comprehensive eye exam and a thorough vision test.

We offer a variety of lens options to suit your lifestyle.

Our experienced staff helps you choose the right frames and lenses.

We offer a wide selection of frames from top brands.

Our patients receive care tailored to their needs.

We provide a comprehensive eye exam and a thorough vision test.

We offer a variety of lens options to suit your lifestyle.

Our experienced staff helps you choose the right frames and lenses.

We offer a wide selection of frames from top brands.

Our patients receive care tailored to their needs.

We provide a comprehensive eye exam and a thorough vision test.

We offer a variety of lens options to suit your lifestyle.

Our experienced staff helps you choose the right frames and lenses.

We offer a wide selection of frames from top brands.

Our patients receive care tailored to their needs.

We provide a comprehensive eye exam and a thorough vision test.

We offer a variety of lens options to suit your lifestyle.

Our experienced staff helps you choose the right frames and lenses.

We offer a wide selection of frames from top brands.

Our patients receive care tailored to their needs.

We provide a comprehensive eye exam and a thorough vision test.

We offer a variety of lens options to suit your lifestyle.

Our experienced staff helps you choose the right frames and lenses.

We offer a wide selection of frames from top brands.

Our patients receive care tailored to their needs.