Killing him slowly

Former mosh user, producer reconstructs his life

by Morgan Williams

Moms’ Weekend

The University of Idaho will be welcoming mothers and their children to campus this weekend to celebrate the upcoming spring semester.

APRIL SHOWERS ON MAY FLOWERS

Fudder censured, vetoes bill; senate overrides veto

Navy ROTC captain flew in Desert Storm

by Bruce Pellet

Captains’ Weekend

The University of Idaho will be hosting captains and their families to celebrate the upcoming spring semester.

Fudder censured, vetoes bill; senate overrides veto

Navy ROTC captain flew in Desert Storm

by Bruce Pellet

Captains’ Weekend

The University of Idaho will be hosting captains and their families to celebrate the upcoming spring semester.
Association to discuss adoption of Asian children...

Today's Argonaut Page 18.

The Pacific Asian-American Student Association will meet Sunday at the Mountain View Community Center. A Wakayama refugee, who is a member of the Association, will present a slide show and discussion of the experiences of Japanese Americans and Asian Americans in America. The meeting will be held at 2:00 p.m. in the Community Center. The event is free to the public. The meeting is open to all students. The group is supported by the Pacific Palisades Rotary Club, and is open to the public.

Couples honored at tree planting Monday

The Student Alumni Relations Board will hold an exciting ceremony at 5:30 p.m. on the campus at the University of Idaho today. The ceremony will take place at the southwest corner of the campus by the College of Agriculture. The ceremony will feature a presentation by the students in the floral art class. In addition, there will be a display of plants and flowers by the students. The event is open to the public.

Noel Johnson, a member of the Student Alumni Relations Board, said, "We are excited to have this opportunity to honor the couples and the students. The ceremony is a way for us to celebrate the students and the couples who have contributed to the University of Idaho."
April hosts combined efforts for Sexual Assault Awareness Month

By DEAN CRAWFORD

It’s time to figure out who the ‘real’ President is, and the boys and girls at TCU are trying to do just that. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding women in their lives and want to know more about who those women are. They want to know more about their beliefs and their way of life. They want to know more about their families, and what they do for a living. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with respect, and that they be treated with fairness. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with kindness, and that they be treated with compassion. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with dignity, and that they be treated with love. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with care, and that they be treated with concern. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with understanding, and that they be treated with compassion. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with respect, and that they be treated with fairness. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with kindness, and that they be treated with compassion. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with dignity, and that they be treated with love. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with care, and that they be treated with concern. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with understanding, and that they be treated with compassion. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with respect, and that they be treated with fairness. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with kindness, and that they be treated with compassion. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with dignity, and that they be treated with love. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with care, and that they be treated with concern. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with understanding, and that they be treated with compassion. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with respect, and that they be treated with fairness. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with kindness, and that they be treated with compassion. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with dignity, and that they be treated with love. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with care, and that they be treated with concern. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with understanding, and that they be treated with compassion. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with respect, and that they be treated with fairness. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with kindness, and that they be treated with compassion. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with dignity, and that they be treated with love. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with care, and that they be treated with concern. The boys and girls at TCU are demanding that the women in their lives be treated with understanding, and that they be treated with compassion.

Myers-Biggs puts personality to the test

By ROY HUTCHISON

Bus visits Lejeune, shares war burdens with families

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. (March 20, 2001) — Jodi Loewer does her share of the laundry while her children, Blythe and Brock, run around the house. She is a single mother, trying to make ends meet, and her days are long and hard. She is a woman of faith, trying to make sense of her life and the lives of the people around her. She is a woman of strength, trying to stay strong in the face of adversity. She is a woman of courage, trying to face the challenges of her life and the challenges of her community. She is a woman of hope, trying to see the good in her life and the good in her community. She is a woman of love, trying to love her children and her community. She is a woman of grace, trying to find the grace needed to face the challenges of her life and the challenges of her community. She is a woman of beauty, trying to find the beauty needed to face the challenges of her life and the challenges of her community. She is a woman of wisdom, trying to find the wisdom needed to face the challenges of her life and the challenges of her community. She is a woman of courage, trying to face the challenges of her life and the challenges of her community. She is a woman of love, trying to love her children and her community. She is a woman of grace, trying to find the grace needed to face the challenges of her life and the challenges of her community. She is a woman of beauty, trying to find the beauty needed to face the challenges of her life and the challenges of her community. She is a woman of wisdom, trying to find the wisdom needed to face the challenges of her life and the challenges of her community.
METH

From Page 1

... the experience you have there.

Adrenaline

It’s 7 p.m. at Bryce’s coffee house in Moscow and Brian is on the center ordering his usual caffeine concoction—a drink of white milk with a stiff shot of espresso served in a cup filled with six shots of espresso. He is wearing a blue T-shirt and a pair of blue jeans. As he fills the cup with coffee, Bryce stuffs it in a tip jar and hands it to a customer.

“See here twice a day.” He mimes drinking coffee two or three times a day, then takes out a pack of cigarettes and lights one.

Bryce, clad in a San and sweat- pants, used to take the 7:30 second-three-second swing from his steaming cup.

“Alright, let’s make this fast. Where do you want to start?” he asks.

Bryce could be intimidated by his physical appearance. He’s six feet four inches tall standing over blue eyes under curved brows a hardened persona. So he does his system of truths. His getting into drug trade was a two-year process, but for warning not to ruin his sur- face.

Bryce rolls a relax to reveal a tanned skin, saying that five years ago he’d have slammed lipids due to 150 pounds.

“It’s 7 am, then,” he says step- ping outside. “I’m working my first shift and try to drink as much coffee as possible. What you drink, do you care about what you look like. All you care about is getting high.”

Starting young

Bryce started his life in Moscow. In high school he was an average student, and straight A’s, speaking four languages. He got into trouble under bond of trust rather than becoming “one of those.” A bad boy.

Bryce worked on a construction site. He started drinking coffee at age 15. He tried to drink to get over it before.

I’m looking at this on my face and I’m still working my first shift. I’m working my first shift and try to drink as much coffee as possible. What you drink, do you care about what you look like. All you care about is getting high.”

Bryce, 18, made straight A’s and went to a college in Moscow. In high school he was an average student, and straight A’s, speaking four languages. He got into trouble under bond of trust rather than becoming “one of those.” A bad boy.

Bryce works on a construction site. He started drinking coffee at age 15. He tried to drink to get over it before.

“I’m looking at this on my face and I’m still working my first shift. I’m working my first shift and try to drink as much coffee as possible. What you drink, do you care about what you look like. All you care about is getting high.”

Bryce, 18, made straight A’s and went to a college in Moscow. In high school he was an average student, and straight A’s, speaking four languages. He got into trouble under bond of trust rather than becoming “one of those.” A bad boy.

Bryce works on a construction site. He started drinking coffee at age 15. He tried to drink to get over it before.

I’m looking at this on my face and I’m still working my first shift. I’m working my first shift and try to drink as much coffee as possible. What you drink, do you care about what you look like. All you care about is getting high.”

Bryce, 18, made straight A’s and went to a college in Moscow. In high school he was an average student, and straight A’s, speaking four languages. He got into trouble under bond of trust rather than becoming “one of those.” A bad boy.

Bryce works on a construction site. He started drinking coffee at age 15. He tried to drink to get over it before.

“I’m looking at this on my face and I’m still working my first shift. I’m working my first shift and try to drink as much coffee as possible. What you drink, do you care about what you look like. All you care about is getting high.”

Bryce, 18, made straight A’s and went to a college in Moscow. In high school he was an average student, and straight A’s, speaking four languages. He got into trouble under bond of trust rather than becoming “one of those.” A bad boy.

Bryce works on a construction site. He started drinking coffee at age 15. He tried to drink to get over it before.

I’m looking at this on my face and I’m still working my first shift. I’m working my first shift and try to drink as much coffee as possible. What you drink, do you care about what you look like. All you care about is getting high.”

Bryce, 18, made straight A’s and went to a college in Moscow. In high school he was an average student, and straight A’s, speaking four languages. He got into trouble under bond of trust rather than becoming “one of those.” A bad boy.

Bryce works on a construction site. He started drinking coffee at age 15. He tried to drink to get over it before.

I’m looking at this on my face and I’m still working my first shift. I’m working my first shift and try to drink as much coffee as possible. What you drink, do you care about what you look like. All you care about is getting high.”

Bryce, 18, made straight A’s and went to a college in Moscow. In high school he was an average student, and straight A’s, speaking four languages. He got into trouble under bond of trust rather than becoming “one of those.” A bad boy.

Bryce works on a construction site. He started drinking coffee at age 15. He tried to drink to get over it before.

“I’m looking at this on my face and I’m still working my first shift. I’m working my first shift and try to drink as much coffee as possible. What you drink, do you care about what you look like. All you care about is getting high.”

Bryce, 18, made straight A’s and went to a college in Moscow. In high school he was an average student, and straight A’s, speaking four languages. He got into trouble under bond of trust rather than becoming “one of those.” A bad boy.

Bryce works on a construction site. He started drinking coffee at age 15. He tried to drink to get over it before.

I’m looking at this on my face and I’m still working my first shift. I’m working my first shift and try to drink as much coffee as possible. What you drink, do you care about what you look like. All you care about is getting high.”

Bryce, 18, made straight A’s and went to a college in Moscow. In high school he was an average student, and straight A’s, speaking four languages. He got into trouble under bond of trust rather than becoming “one of those.” A bad boy.

Bryce works on a construction site. He started drinking coffee at age 15. He tried to drink to get over it before.
Support our freedom to read

When we question whether our own democracy is as healthy as it once was, we only need to read the Patriot Act.

The Patriot Act was signed into law on Oct. 26, 2001. It has raised concern among many Americans that the act may sacrifice civil liberties for a greater sense of national security. The Supreme Court will hear a case against the law this week.

No blood for oil: Why not make it oxygen?

No blood for oil? We just wouldn’t know what to do with it.

There’s a common misconception that the United States is the only country in the world that uses oil as a source of energy. But oil is used in almost every country, and it’s abundantly available. But oil is just one type of energy, and it’s not the only one.

The act was signed into law on Oct. 26, 2001. It has raised concern among many Americans that the act may sacrifice civil liberties for a greater sense of national security. The Supreme Court will hear a case against the law this week.

Campus Talk

Feeling the strain of dorm life

When you’re feeling overwhelmed by the pressures of college life, it’s important to take a step back and reevaluate your priorities.

The Ministry of Information and that during his press conference he offered up a lot of information about the situation in Iraq. He also said that the U.S. will continue to provide support to the Iraqi government, which is trying to bring about a peaceful resolution to the ongoing conflict.

The act was signed into law on Oct. 26, 2001. It has raised concern among many Americans that the act may sacrifice civil liberties for a greater sense of national security. The Supreme Court will hear a case against the law this week.

The Ministry of Information and that during his press conference he offered up a lot of information about the situation in Iraq. He also said that the U.S. will continue to provide support to the Iraqi government, which is trying to bring about a peaceful resolution to the ongoing conflict.

The Ministry of Information and that during his press conference he offered up a lot of information about the situation in Iraq. He also said that the U.S. will continue to provide support to the Iraqi government, which is trying to bring about a peaceful resolution to the ongoing conflict.
Girls use center stage differently

by Christ Gandolfini

The fact that Amy Ray and her band, the Indigo Girls, are one of their elevator speaking points: “We are activists as much as musicians,” says Amy Ray.

The University of Idaho presents "Wrestling Takes Social Issues to Mat" on Monday, April 7, at 9:30 p.m., in the Kline Student Union. The event is one of many scheduled by the University of Idaho’s AIDS Awareness Week Committee. The event is a benefit for the AIDS Action Coalition, a client service and advocacy organization.

"Wrestling Takes Social Issues to Mat" is an exhibit that features an exhibition of a series of wrestling matches, with four wrestlers who have created and are using wrestling matches to address social issues.

The event was created by Portland wrestling promoter Dan Fast, who has created wrestling matches to address issues such as homelessness, poverty and the environment.

The event is open to the public and is free.

Fellowship is ticket for theater students

Each year the UI theater student is guaranteed a number of seats in the 16.200-seat capacity, largest and most expensive theater in the world, the Oregon Shakespeare Festival.

The Oregon Shakespeare Festival is a professional theater company that presents a wide range of plays, including Shakespeare, modern and contemporary works, musicals and revivals.

The Fellowship is a program that provides financial support to students in the UI theater program.

The Fellowship is open to students who are enrolled in the UI theater program and who have demonstrated a commitment to the arts.

For more information, please visit the UI theater department's website or contact theUI theater department at 208-885-6600.
Welcome UI Moms!

SCREEN PRINTING, EMBROIDERY & MORE!
25% OFF  ABSOLUTELY EVERYTHING!

SEE OUR EXPANDED VANDAL RETAIL.

HAVE YOUR PRINTING & EMBROIDERY DONE BY THE BEST IN THE INDUSTRY!

ONE WEEK TURN-AROUND
ON-SITE PRINTING & GRAPHICS

ANY GREEK HOUSE
WHO PLACES A CUSTOM ORDER BEFORE MAY 31st, RECEIVES 25% OFF EVERY ORDER ALL NEXT YEAR!!!

If you see a deal you just can’t pass up,
Bring it to us! We’ll meet or beat any competitors’ price!

Where do you get your shirts?

THE SHIRT SHACK • 118 E. THIRD • MOSCOW • ID • 83843

Welcome U of 1 Moms! Slide into comfort.

BIRKENSTOCK
Spring styles are here.
Northwestern Mountain Sports
1018 Pullman Rd
Moscow (next to Wendy’s) 882-0133

Welcome!
Changes don't faze UI football

BY NATHAN JERSE

The University of Idaho Vandals are looking to build on their 1998 success this fall as they gear up to face some of the best teams in the Pacific-10 Conference. The Vandals are coming off a successful season that saw them win four of seven games and finish second in the Mountain West Conference.

UI junior Megan Valente holds three school records and is looking to qualify for her first NCAA Cross Country Championship this season.

A stone's throw from graduation

UI senior hopes for big payoff in spring

BY NATHAN JERSE

April come with good tidings, but the Vandals have been a bit, shall we say, out of touch. March was a good month for the Vandals, as they won their first three contests of the season, but the team has struggled since then.

UI coach Rickell Harrington and the Vandals have been on a bit of a losing streak, but the Vandals are looking to turn things around with a strong showing in the spring.

UI freshman Ali Michelle holds three school records and is looking to qualify for her first NCAA Cross Country Championship this season.

Changes don't faze UI football

BY NATHAN JERSE

The University of Idaho Vandals are looking to build on their 1998 success this fall as they gear up to face some of the best teams in the Pacific-10 Conference. The Vandals are coming off a successful season that saw them win four of seven games and finish second in the Mountain West Conference.

UI junior Megan Valente holds three school records and is looking to qualify for her first NCAA Cross Country Championship this season.

A stone's throw from graduation

UI senior hopes for big payoff in spring

BY NATHAN JERSE

April come with good tidings, but the Vandals have been a bit, shall we say, out of touch. March was a good month for the Vandals, as they won their first three contests of the season, but the team has struggled since then.

UI coach Rickell Harrington and the Vandals have been on a bit of a losing streak, but the Vandals are looking to turn things around with a strong showing in the spring.

UI freshman Ali Michelle holds three school records and is looking to qualify for her first NCAA Cross Country Championship this season.
2003 NCAA women’s basketball

FINAL

1 Tennessee (32-4)

SEMIFINAL

April 8

Atlanta

1 Duke (35-1)

CHAMPIONSHIP

Atlanta

April 8

2 Texas (29-5)

2003 KRT

UConn amped for fourth straight Final Four

BY ANDREA ALVUTTY

The Register-Herald

DAYTON, Ohio (U-WIRE) — Despite a late-second-half spurt to cut the Huskies’ lead to 13-10, UConn managed to score a 20-point lead to advance into fourth Final Four in as many years with a 74-66 win at the University of Dayton Arena Tuesday night.

UConn was led by forward Diana Taurasi, who scored 28 points to lead the Huskies to a 9-1 victory and pulled down six boards in the win for the Huskies.

Taurasi’s outlet would reach the fourth consecutive 20-point game for Taurasi.

Juming out to an early 17-2 lead behind a solid post effort by Taurasi and benchmaid forward Barbara Turner comes points, four rebounds, the Huskies would manage to score in the first half, despite trailing by six with Purdue for much of the first half, and headed to the locker room ahead by a score of 41-27.

The bottom line was we couldn’t make shots, Purdue head coach Kenty Kraun said. “It came down to shooting the basketball, and we just did a poor job. It’s just one of those things.”

A quick foul to start the second would send UConn center Alicia Moody to the line, making six of six to the foul line in the first half, leading to a 13-10 lead to the second. Two quick baskets by Purdues center Mary Jo Moore would send Purdues on a short 7-4 run to the Huskies before a successful attempt at regrouping now UConn came back with a 15-4 run of its own, giving them their largest lead of the game at 56-34 with 12:13 to play.

The Huskies made all eight free throws to close the game and Purdue would eventually find its composure, fighting to the finish in a late attempt to prove why they are the No. 2 seed in the Eastern Region.

Two quick baskets by Moody (10 points, 10 rebounds) and guard Shereka Wright who led all scorers with 25 points and was named to the East Regional All-

American team, the Beavers held the Huskies without a field goal for the last eight minutes of the game. A 15-2 Purdue stretch would cut UConn’s lead to just six at 60-66 but that was no closer than the Buckalewaters would come in to a trip to Atlanta as a quick stop on the other end of the floor by guard Maria Conlon (12 points), four rebounds, four steals, and a block to keep the team’s lead in tact, holding short to a much more physical UConn squad.

“We thought in 10 minutes to do things was looking good,” Kraun said on her team’s efforts throughout the final 10 minutes of play. They made a run, we cut our way, we’ve been doing that all year. We weren’t rattled. We had confidence.

In each other, in each other, make those free throws and make big shots,” Kraus said.

Taurasi was named the East Regional Tournament’s Most Outstanding Player, while incremental Turner and Moody both received All-Tournament honors with the win.

The first 10 minutes were pretty indicative of what’s going to happen all over,” Kraun told Great American and following the way. “People try we come out and look like a great basketball team, a brilliant team. We make it look easy, but sometimes it gets away from us.”

Texas tops LSU LSU 78-60

BY LORIE CRAY

Philadelphia Inquirer

STANFORD, Calif. (U-WIRE) — Stanford, it was the only way Texas guard Sheryl Swoopes could describe culling down the rate at Maple Pavilion, as the Longhorns are on their way to the Final Four in Atlanta. The Longhorns will play in the East region Final Four Saturday night.

Texas women are also headed to college basketball’s promised land, as Sheryl Swoopes scored a career-high 32 points to lead the Longhorns to a 78-60 win over No. 3 Louisiana Tech.

What I can say is I can’t describe how good it feels to be with a team that played the way that they did tonight,” Texas coach Judy Crawford said.

No. 3 Texas returns to the Final Four for the first time since 1980. No. 2 LSU, also of the Southeastern Conference, Regional, winning its four tournament games on average margin of 21 points. Texas (23-8) wins the went region by defeating LSU, a team that had defeated Texas, 108-106, on Jan. 31.

This team really played without as well as a team could possible play,” Crawford said. “It seemed as if we took advantage of every opportunity to distance ourselves with the team in the East, where currently is a 12-inning game-streak, the longest current streak in the country. The Longhorns will pull their streak on the line, and for the fourth time on the season, Crawford's team will be sitting in the South. With minutes still remaining against LSU, Swoopes fans were already raising cate that read “Bring it home,” who had earlier said that LSU was the team that matched the Longhorns, before facing her next opponent.

“Oklahoma is good, I said before,” Crawford said. “It will prove a lot on us. It’s going to be a strong challenge of a story and saying we’re the top team in the country.”
2005 NCAA men's basketball

NCAA men's Final Four teams at a glance.

Marquette (27-5)

How the Jayhawks got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 2-seed Ohio State, 83-78, in the first round, defeated No. 10-seed Mississippi Valley State, 95-66, in the second round; defeated No. 3-seed Duke, 68-55, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 1-seed Arkansas, 66-58, in regional final.

The Jayhawks are ranked fourth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Marquette (26-7)

How the Longhorns got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 11-seed Montana, 78-61, in the first round, defeated No. 6-seed Purdue, 77-74, in the second round; defeated No. 5-seed Connecticut, 81-77, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Arizona, 64-55, in regional final.

The Longhorns are ranked fifth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Texas (26-7)

How the Cavaliers got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 10-seed Colorado, 83-82, in the first round, defeated No. 3-seed Oklahoma State, 72-66, in the second round; defeated No. 1-seed Arizona, 72-67, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Vanderbilt, 90-85, in regional final.

The Cavaliers are ranked sixth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Vanderbilt (28-5)

How the Commodores got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 16-seed Southern, 72-64, in the first round, defeated No. 15-seed Xavier, 64-52, in the second round; defeated No. 10-seed Virginia, 76-73, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Portland, 87-79, in regional final.

The Commodores are ranked seventh in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

NCAA men's Final Four at a glance.

Marquette (27-5)

How the Jayhawks got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 2-seed Ohio State, 83-78, in the first round, defeated No. 10-seed Mississippi Valley State, 95-66, in the second round; defeated No. 3-seed Duke, 68-55, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 1-seed Arkansas, 66-58, in regional final.

The Jayhawks are ranked fourth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Marquette (26-7)

How the Longhorns got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 11-seed Montana, 78-61, in the first round, defeated No. 6-seed Purdue, 77-74, in the second round; defeated No. 5-seed Connecticut, 81-77, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Arizona, 64-55, in regional final.

The Longhorns are ranked fifth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Texas (26-7)

How the Cavaliers got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 10-seed Colorado, 83-82, in the first round, defeated No. 3-seed Oklahoma State, 72-66, in the second round; defeated No. 1-seed Arizona, 72-67, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Vanderbilt, 90-85, in regional final.

The Cavaliers are ranked sixth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Vanderbilt (28-5)

How the Commodores got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 16-seed Southern, 72-64, in the first round, defeated No. 15-seed Xavier, 64-52, in the second round; defeated No. 10-seed Virginia, 76-73, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Portland, 87-79, in regional final.

The Commodores are ranked seventh in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

NCAA men's Final Four teams at a glance.

Marquette (27-5)

How the Jayhawks got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 2-seed Ohio State, 83-78, in the first round, defeated No. 10-seed Mississippi Valley State, 95-66, in the second round; defeated No. 3-seed Duke, 68-55, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 1-seed Arkansas, 66-58, in regional final.

The Jayhawks are ranked fourth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Marquette (26-7)

How the Longhorns got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 11-seed Montana, 78-61, in the first round, defeated No. 6-seed Purdue, 77-74, in the second round; defeated No. 5-seed Connecticut, 81-77, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Arizona, 64-55, in regional final.

The Longhorns are ranked fifth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Texas (26-7)

How the Cavaliers got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 10-seed Colorado, 83-82, in the first round, defeated No. 3-seed Oklahoma State, 72-66, in the second round; defeated No. 1-seed Arizona, 72-67, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Vanderbilt, 90-85, in regional final.

The Cavaliers are ranked sixth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Vanderbilt (28-5)

How the Commodores got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 16-seed Southern, 72-64, in the first round, defeated No. 15-seed Xavier, 64-52, in the second round; defeated No. 10-seed Virginia, 76-73, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Portland, 87-79, in regional final.

The Commodores are ranked seventh in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

NCAA men's Final Four teams at a glance.

Marquette (27-5)

How the Jayhawks got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 2-seed Ohio State, 83-78, in the first round, defeated No. 10-seed Mississippi Valley State, 95-66, in the second round; defeated No. 3-seed Duke, 68-55, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 1-seed Arkansas, 66-58, in regional final.

The Jayhawks are ranked fourth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Marquette (26-7)

How the Longhorns got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 11-seed Montana, 78-61, in the first round, defeated No. 6-seed Purdue, 77-74, in the second round; defeated No. 5-seed Connecticut, 81-77, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Arizona, 64-55, in regional final.

The Longhorns are ranked fifth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Texas (26-7)

How the Cavaliers got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 10-seed Colorado, 83-82, in the first round, defeated No. 3-seed Oklahoma State, 72-66, in the second round; defeated No. 1-seed Arizona, 72-67, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Vanderbilt, 90-85, in regional final.

The Cavaliers are ranked sixth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Vanderbilt (28-5)

How the Commodores got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 16-seed Southern, 72-64, in the first round, defeated No. 15-seed Xavier, 64-52, in the second round; defeated No. 10-seed Virginia, 76-73, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Portland, 87-79, in regional final.

The Commodores are ranked seventh in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

NCAA men's Final Four teams at a glance.

Marquette (27-5)

How the Jayhawks got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 2-seed Ohio State, 83-78, in the first round, defeated No. 10-seed Mississippi Valley State, 95-66, in the second round; defeated No. 3-seed Duke, 68-55, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 1-seed Arkansas, 66-58, in regional final.

The Jayhawks are ranked fourth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Marquette (26-7)

How the Longhorns got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 11-seed Montana, 78-61, in the first round, defeated No. 6-seed Purdue, 77-74, in the second round; defeated No. 5-seed Connecticut, 81-77, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Arizona, 64-55, in regional final.

The Longhorns are ranked fifth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Texas (26-7)

How the Cavaliers got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 10-seed Colorado, 83-82, in the first round, defeated No. 3-seed Oklahoma State, 72-66, in the second round; defeated No. 1-seed Arizona, 72-67, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Vanderbilt, 90-85, in regional final.

The Cavaliers are ranked sixth in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.

Vanderbilt (28-5)

How the Commodores got to New Orleans
Defeated No. 16-seed Southern, 72-64, in the first round, defeated No. 15-seed Xavier, 64-52, in the second round; defeated No. 10-seed Virginia, 76-73, in regional semifinal; defeated No. 2-seed Portland, 87-79, in regional final.

The Commodores are ranked seventh in the country, according to the AP Poll. They are the only team to place a player on the AP All-American team.