Students have mixed reactions to VandalMail

By C دی وود ALI D عید OTNI "STAFF

As the second week of school begins, students are adjusting to UI’s new e-mail policy, expressing mixed feelings about the policy. But what is it that really makes VandalMail so great? The new e-mail policy took effect July 1. Under this policy, UI will communicate with students exclusively through their VandalMail accounts. At registration, front-line staff and student workers are being asked to provide students’ UK accounts, along with all correspondence from professors, to be delivered to each student’s UI account. While some students may not like the policy, it provides benefits to many. "I think UI started VandalMail because many professors were unable to reach their students through e-mail," said student president of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, Jillian Swan. Dan Davenport, director of administrative and student affairs at UI, said that the VandalMail policy has been in place for some time now. Davenport encourages students to use VandalMail. "I think it’s important that they do it," because of the financial assistance it offers. However, some students are resistant to the change.

"I have mixed feelings about VandalMail," said Chris Brown, a UI student. "I think it’s better because it’s more organized than having too many e-mails on your inbox." Brown said that he appreciates the simplicity of the new system. "It’s easier for me to keep track of everything," he said. "I can see my grades and any important messages right away." Davenport echoed Brown’s sentiments. "I think it’s a good change," he said. "It’s more organized and makes it easier for students to keep track of important messages." However, not all students are thrilled with the new policy. "I don’t like it," said one student. "I don’t have time to check my UI account every day. I prefer having all my e-mails in one place." Another student expressed concern about privacy. "I don’t want my parents to see my grades," she said. "I don’t want them to know what classes I’m taking." Davenport acknowledged these concerns. "We understand these concerns," he said. "But we believe that VandalMail is the best way to communicate with students. It’s more organized and makes it easier for students to keep track of important messages."

Reactions to VandalMail vary widely among students. Some are excited about the new system, while others are resistant. It remains to be seen how the policy will affect student communication and the overall experience of attending UI.
New faculty ambassador announced

Charles R. Morrison is the new faculty ambassador at the University of Idaho. Morrison, and licensed psychologist, is the founder and director of the Counseling and Testing Center and faculty member at the College of Education. Morrison has returned to Idaho after living in California and now resides in Latah, Idaho.

U researchers to display cloned olive at Lahti County Fair

Several olive cultivars will be on display at the Lahti County Fair Sept. 21-24. The cultivars will be on display at the fair daily at 2 p.m. Sept. 22 and Sept. 24. The fair is open from 2 p.m. Sept. 21-24.

Vet student named to American College of Veterinary Surgeons

Omar Sluden is the first student to be named to the American College of Veterinary Surgeons. Sluden is a veterinary student at the University of Idaho and is the first student to be named to the college.

Discover at the Idaho Commons

U of I Outdoor Programs

Pajos at Out Student Res. Center Location!

Spring Surf 2003 - 5969 885-7845

Bring Your Dad

FREE SUB Balcony Fri., Sep. 1st, 10 a.m.

Built to Spill

in Concert

Friday, Sep. 12th 8:00 PM

SUB Ballroom

ASUI Coffeehouse Concert

Sunday, Sep. 7th 7:00 PM

SUB Ballroom

Want $ for your ASUI club?

Find out this info and other benefits your club has access too!

30 minute sessions

For ASUI club advisors and officers.

Commons Clearwater Room

Wednesday, Sep. 3rd at 3 pm or 4 pm

Thursday, Sep. 4th at 3 pm or 4 pm

RSVP to suzanne@uidaho.edu or 885-1020

ASUI Coffeehouse Concert

Sunday, Sep. 7th 7:00 PM

SUB Ballroom

Free Admission, coffee, and cookies

WANT TO CHECKOUT A LAPTOP?

visit the Idaho Commons Information Desk to check out a WIRELESS LAPTOP

http://www.cs.uidaho.edu

ARGONAUT

THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO NEWSPAPER

Phone: (208) 885-3556

Fax: (208) 885-3573

Editor-in-Chief:

Bryan Pleece

Managing Editor:

Sarah Brooks

Argonaut Advertising Manager:

Aliza Gavriovitch

Argonaut Advertising Representatives:

Earl Cooper

Ron Haggard

Argonaut Production Manager:

Tomonori Tani

Argonaut Production Coordinators:

Kathy Barker

Jodey Enright

Argonaut Production Assistants:

Brandon Brown

ARGONAUT

University of Idaho

The Argonaut is the student newspaper of the University of Idaho. All contributions are welcome. Letters to the editor and columns should include the writer's name and address. All contributors are required to agree to be bound by the rules and regulations of the University of Idaho. The Argonaut reserves the right to edit all contributions. All contributions are subject to publication. The Argonaut is published weekly, except during the summer months. Address all correspondence to: Argonaut, The University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho 83843. Phone: 885-3556. E-mail: thearg@uidaho.edu. All rights reserved. Argonaut Advertising Phone: (208) 885-3556. Online: thearg.uidaho.edu.

EQUIPMENT RENTAL

Missing:

Syringa.

Contact: Earl Cooper, 885-2267.

Attention New Vandals:

This is for your friends, neighborhood open.

This is how to avoid him.

Planned Parenthood

Planned Parenthood.

THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

Newspaper Division

Phone: (208) 885-3556

Fax: (208) 885-3573

Editor-in-Chief:

Bryan Pleece

Managing Editor:

Sarah Brooks

Argonaut Advertising Manager:

Aliza Gavriovitch

Argonaut Advertising Representatives:

Earl Cooper

Ron Haggard

Argonaut Production Manager:

Tomonori Tani

Argonaut Production Coordinators:

Kathy Barker

Jodey Enright

Argonaut Production Assistants:

Brandon Brown

ARGONAUT

University of Idaho

The Argonaut is the student newspaper of the University of Idaho. All contributions are welcome. Letters to the editor and columns should include the writer's name and address. All contributors are required to agree to be bound by the rules and regulations of the University of Idaho. The Argonaut reserves the right to edit all contributions. All contributions are subject to publication. The Argonaut is published weekly, except during the summer months. Address all correspondence to: Argonaut, The University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho 83843. Phone: 885-3556. E-mail: thearg@uidaho.edu. All rights reserved. Argonaut Advertising Phone: (208) 885-3556. Online: thearg.uidaho.edu.

EQUIPMENT RENTAL

Missing:

Syringa.

Contact: Earl Cooper, 885-2267.

Attention New Vandals:

This is for your friends, neighborhood open.

This is how to avoid him.

Planned Parenthood

Planned Parenthood.

THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

Newspaper Division

Phone: (208) 885-3556

Fax: (208) 885-3573

Editor-in-Chief:

Bryan Pleece

Managing Editor:

Sarah Brooks

Argonaut Advertising Manager:

Aliza Gavriovitch

Argonaut Advertising Representatives:

Earl Cooper

Ron Haggard

Argonaut Production Manager:

Tomonori Tani

Argonaut Production Coordinators:

Kathy Barker

Jodey Enright

Argonaut Production Assistants:

Brandon Brown

ARGONAUT

University of Idaho

The Argonaut is the student newspaper of the University of Idaho. All contributions are welcome. Letters to the editor and columns should include the writer's name and address. All contributors are required to agree to be bound by the rules and regulations of the University of Idaho. The Argonaut reserves the right to edit all contributions. All contributions are subject to publication. The Argonaut is published weekly, except during the summer months. Address all correspondence to: Argonaut, The University of Idaho, Moscow, Idaho 83843. Phone: 885-3556. E-mail: thearg@uidaho.edu. All rights reserved. Argonaut Advertising Phone: (208) 885-3556. Online: thearg.uidaho.edu.
Worms find holes in UI or any system

Since Aug. 13, three computer worms have hit UI, taking some students, staff and family disconnected from the network.

The MS-Blast bug first, followed by the Wapi and Adware viruses, has been attacked the Microsoft operating system. Windows 2000, Windows XP, Windows NT and Windows Server 2003 were specifically targeted.

The worms exploited a hole in Windows, allowing compromised computers to reborn frequently. The worm infections were not destructive, they still leave victims with minimal security updates.

As for many other infections such infections are facilitated by the worms, the backbone of the University network built up. The network is robust and reliable that we can trust it,” said Tony Opheim, associate director of Information Technology. “Microsoft has improved its support since the network’s 2000 introduction.

In the first two of the days of the worm infections, more than 200 computers on the campus network, Opheim said, Network officials have experienced a large number of infected machines from the network to slow the spread of the worms.

Opheim said that being able to slow the spread of the worm from a person with experience to a person with experience is necessary. “You have to be pretty creative, instead of reactive,” Opheim said.

The worm infections were fortunate for the moment because the worm was destructive, they still leave victims with minimal security updates.

For many other infections such infections are facilitated by the worms, the backbone of the University network built up. The network is robust and reliable that we can trust it,” said Tony Opheim, associate director of Information Technology. “Microsoft has improved its support since the network’s 2000 introduction.

In the first two of the days of the worm infections, more than 200 computers on the campus network, Opheim said, Network officials have experienced a large number of infected machines from the network to slow the spread of the worms.

Opheim said that being able to slow the spread of the worm from a person with experience to a person with experience is necessary. “You have to be pretty creative, instead of reactive,” Opheim said.

The worm infections were fortunate for the moment because the worm was destructive, they still leave victims with minimal security updates.

Tips to improve your operating system

1. First, you can start your operating system.
2. Update your software and upgrades.
3. It's important to have a backup.
4. Use a virus scanner to check your system. It's recommended to scan your system with a virus scanner to check for any viruses that might be present.
5. Keep your software up to date.
6. Use a firewall to protect your computer from unauthorized access.
7. Use strong passwords for your accounts.
8. Disable unused services and applications to reduce the attack surface.
9. Limit the number of people who can access your computer.
10. Update your software and drivers to the latest versions.

Most UI students drink moderately if at all.

Most UI students drink moderately if at all. In fact, in a survey conducted by the UI Health Services, only 15% of students admitted to drinking alcohol on a daily basis. This is significantly lower than the national average of students who drink daily.

In order to reduce the negative effects of alcohol consumption, the University has implemented several initiatives. These include increased awareness campaigns, peer counseling, and the implementation of a peer counseling program. The program is designed to provide students with the skills and knowledge needed to make healthy choices regarding alcohol use.

The Health Clinic offers free and confidential counseling services to help students improve their mental and emotional health. The clinic offers a variety of services, including individual and group counseling, as well as workshops and seminars.

For more information about the Health Clinic and its services, please visit the university’s website at health.uwyo.edu.

UI Student Health Service

The University of Wyoming Health Services provides a wide range of health-related services to students at the University of Wyoming. Services include primary care, mental health, and prevention and wellness programs.

UI Counseling and Testing Center

Counseling and Testing Center offers a wide range of services to help students succeed academically and emotionally. Services include individual and group counseling, as well as workshops and seminars.

Student Health Services

Student Health Services offers a variety of services to help students maintain their physical and mental health. Services include primary care, mental health, and prevention and wellness programs.

UI Residence Life

UI Residence Life provides a range of services to help students succeed academically and emotionally. Services include individual and group counseling, as well as workshops and seminars.

UI Student Health Service

UI Student Health Service provides a wide range of health-related services to students at the University of Wyoming. Services include primary care, mental health, and prevention and wellness programs.

UI Counseling and Testing Center

Counseling and Testing Center offers a wide range of services to help students succeed academically and emotionally. Services include individual and group counseling, as well as workshops and seminars.

Residence Life

Residence Life provides a range of services to help students succeed academically and emotionally. Services include individual and group counseling, as well as workshops and seminars.

Health Directory

To place your ad in the Health Directory, please contact:

E-mail: health@uwyo.edu
Phone: 855-8299

UI Counseling and Testing Center

Counseling and Testing Center offers a wide range of services to help students succeed academically and emotionally. Services include individual and group counseling, as well as workshops and seminars.

Student Health Services

Student Health Services offers a variety of services to help students maintain their physical and mental health. Services include primary care, mental health, and prevention and wellness programs.

UI Residence Life

UI Residence Life provides a range of services to help students succeed academically and emotionally. Services include individual and group counseling, as well as workshops and seminars.
Campus religious leaders discuss mixed feelings of gambling on the Palouse

by Liz Thompson

Representatives of the two largest religious organizations on campus offered diametrically opposed perspectives as the fall semester begins here.

Elaine Janett, Manager, at The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, denounced all forms of gambling as sin, while Father Leo MacMillan, of St. Augustine's Catholic Church, said gambling in moderation is not necessarily a bad thing.

MacMillan explained the LDS Church has never been against gambling, he quoted an article in a recent LDS newsletter on the subject.

"In 1953 President Heber J. Grant said the Church has been lenient and will continue to be lenient. We believe in moderation and enjoy it..." MacMillan said.

MacMillan said the Catholic doctrine does not condemn gambling.

"Our position would pretty much be the same on all things. We wouldn't consider gambling per se, we'd probably not a healthy practice to enter into such a risky situation. But it's just as anything else. We wouldn't consider alcohol. There's no harm in the use of the bottle, but there's no sin in the use of the bottle either."

He also noted the conditions under which gambling becomes wrong. "Gambling can become an addictive situation, right? If it's taking away from you, morally or otherwise, then it's wrong. Within those limits, gambling is not necessarily wrong," MacMillan said.

MacMillan also said gambling as a profession is wrong.

"Professional gambling is just playing profession. If you were making a living by playing, it becomes an addiction with all that it is associated with. For somebody to make a profession out of gambling, that's another story as to whether it is right or wrong."

MacMillan also denied gambling a profession in the past.

"Professionally gambling is just playing profession. If you were making a living by playing, it becomes an addiction with all that it is associated with. For somebody to make a profession out of gambling, that's another story as to whether it is right or wrong."
Private Idaho Place

UI students have the right to know of University Place

In this Aug. 28, 2008, the Argonaut editorial board reaffirmed that students have the right to question things happening at the university and to be aware of issues that affect them. However, we remain concerned about the transparency of University Place Flats, but legal nonconformity does not prevent that if our tactic is not heard.

Yes, there is an investigation into the president’s controversial and unpopular兼任 is under the mandate of the Idaho State Board of Education. The board is the most independent group to investigate the project since it was also a player in the project, approving bonds for part of it at the urging of Gov. Dirk Kempthorne, a man who then appointed him to the board. The Kempthorne administration had feared the political ramifications of the project involving a public institution, but its administration was responsible for the decision to proceed.

Kempthorne is known for helping those close to him at the expense of the Idaho state budget. He has been rumored to be raising funds to remain in his job and avoid the removal of the Idaho Board of Education.

One way to get rid of the administrators involved is to fire them all.

This threat of conflict is not even the part of the investigation. Closing an important civic space, such as the University Board of Education, the University of Idaho and Boise State University, have the right to question things happening at the university and to be aware of issues that affect them. However, we remain concerned about the transparency of University Place Flats, but legal nonconformity does not prevent that if our tactic is not heard.

Yes, there is an investigation into the president’s controversial and unpopular兼任 is under the mandate of the Idaho State Board of Education. The board is the most independent group to investigate the project since it was also a player in the project, approving bonds for part of it at the urging of Gov. Dirk Kempthorne, a man who then appointed him to the board. The Kempthorne administration had feared the political ramifications of the project involving a public institution, but its administration was responsible for the decision to proceed.

Kempthorne is known for helping those close to him at the expense of the Idaho state budget. He has been rumored to be raising funds to remain in his job and avoid the removal of the Idaho Board of Education.

One way to get rid of the administrators involved is to fire them all.

This threat of conflict is not even the part of the investigation. Closing an important civic space, such as the University Board of Education, the University of Idaho and Boise State University, have the right to question things happening at the university and to be aware of issues that affect them. However, we remain concerned about the transparency of University Place Flats, but legal nonconformity does not prevent that if our tactic is not heard.

Yes, there is an investigation into the president’s controversial and unpopular兼任 is under the mandate of the Idaho State Board of Education. The board is the most independent group to investigate the project since it was also a player in the project, approving bonds for part of it at the urging of Gov. Dirk Kempthorne, a man who then appointed him to the board. The Kempthorne administration had feared the political ramifications of the project involving a public institution, but its administration was responsible for the decision to proceed.

Kempthorne is known for helping those close to him at the expense of the Idaho state budget. He has been rumored to be raising funds to remain in his job and avoid the removal of the Idaho Board of Education.

One way to get rid of the administrators involved is to fire them all.

This threat of conflict is not even the part of the investigation. Closing an important civic space, such as the University Board of Education, the University of Idaho and Boise State University, have the right to question things happening at the university and to be aware of issues that affect them. However, we remain concerned about the transparency of University Place Flats, but legal nonconformity does not prevent that if our tactic is not heard.

Yes, there is an investigation into the president’s controversial and unpopular兼任 is under the mandate of the Idaho State Board of Education. The board is the most independent group to investigate the project since it was also a player in the project, approving bonds for part of it at the urging of Gov. Dirk Kempthorne, a man who then appointed him to the board. The Kempthorne administration had feared the political ramifications of the project involving a public institution, but its administration was responsible for the decision to proceed.

Kempthorne is known for helping those close to him at the expense of the Idaho state budget. He has been rumored to be raising funds to remain in his job and avoid the removal of the Idaho Board of Education.

One way to get rid of the administrators involved is to fire them all.

This threat of conflict is not even the part of the investigation. Closing an important civic space, such as the University Board of Education, the University of Idaho and Boise State University, have the right to question things happening at the university and to be aware of issues that affect them. However, we remain concerned about the transparency of University Place Flats, but legal nonconformity does not prevent that if our tactic is not heard.

Yes, there is an investigation into the president’s controversial and unpopular兼任 is under the mandate of the Idaho State Board of Education. The board is the most independent group to investigate the project since it was also a player in the project, approving bonds for part of it at the urging of Gov. Dirk Kempthorne, a man who then appointed him to the board. The Kempthorne administration had feared the political ramifications of the project involving a public institution, but its administration was responsible for the decision to proceed.

Kempthorne is known for helping those close to him at the expense of the Idaho state budget. He has been rumored to be raising funds to remain in his job and avoid the removal of the Idaho Board of Education.

One way to get rid of the administrators involved is to fire them all.

This threat of conflict is not even the part of the investigation. Closing an important civic space, such as the University Board of Education, the University of Idaho and Boise State University, have the right to question things happening at the university and to be aware of issues that affect them. However, we remain concerned about the transparency of University Place Flats, but legal nonconformity does not prevent that if our tactic is not heard.

Yes, there is an investigation into the president’s controversial and unpopular兼任 is under the mandate of the Idaho State Board of Education. The board is the most independent group to investigate the project since it was also a player in the project, approving bonds for part of it at the urging of Gov. Dirk Kempthorne, a man who then appointed him to the board. The Kempthorne administration had feared the political ramifications of the project involving a public institution, but its administration was responsible for the decision to proceed.

Kempthorne is known for helping those close to him at the expense of the Idaho state budget. He has been rumored to be raising funds to remain in his job and avoid the removal of the Idaho Board of Education.

One way to get rid of the administrators involved is to fire them all.

This threat of conflict is not even the part of the investigation. Closing an important civic space, such as the University Board of Education, the University of Idaho and Boise State University, have the right to question things happening at the university and to be aware of issues that affect them. However, we remain concerned about the transparency of University Place Flats, but legal nonconformity does not prevent that if our tactic is not heard.
Freddy and Jason provide the best of their genre

by Dean Dishin

ARTS & CULTURE

Let's get this out of the way immediately: "Freddy vs. Jason" is not a good movie. It suffers from unnecessary gore, poor acting and a sub-par pilule that would make Ed Wood blush. However, these attributes make it one of the last horror movies of the decade. "Freddy" does not make the mistake of taking itself too seriously, Director Russel Yuill's "Witch of Chucky" realizes the film is what it is: a poor franchise. This is a parting gift for die-hard fans of the slasher genre. Viewers expecting some sort of clever intellectual twist in the established gory should steer clear at all costs. The plot is based around Freddy Krueger's elaborate plan to gain enough power to, at least, suit his budding acting career. Meanwhile, Elm Street's residents regain their power. Enter Jason Voorhees, who is lured by Freddy through dreams to start a killing spree on Freddy's territory. The more people slaughtered, the stronger Freddy gets.

Caught in the middle are the standard gang of teenagers just trying to binge thrice, sleep together and set down. Bedford Dwyer finds that if they don't stay out too late, their friends might just be killed. If they stay awake, they get Kelly's back and she's not afraid to start swinging her machete. They very naturally find a healthy and well proportioned mix of stereotypical cardboard characters in times of crisis. The film's one ray of creative originality is that the teenagers are thrown back in the Himalayas for the past 25 years and managed to miss every other Freddy or Jason movie.

The best part of this film is how utterly bad it is. The repulsive people in charge of building a movie around this concept deserve high grades for their obvious hard work on this film. They manage to pull off effective horror while keeping it cheap enough to be just another in series. The acting is straight out of the porn industry, however, because some of the performers are willing to sell their soul for these things culminate into a love for saving these characters die.

If anything, this movie is worth the cheap BYU drive-in effect with a light saber. Tacky, but worth the thrill nonetheless.

L'Auberge Espagnole avoids being the usual fare

by Aisleigh Hubbard

L'Auberge Espagnole," or "The Spanish film," is about study abroad, but it the Renton's this weekend. "The Spanish film," is about the life of a 19-year-old student named Xavier, who decides to return to his roots and make his mark in the film industry through his American experience. While in Spain, Xavier meets a group of fellow Americans who are also studying abroad, and together they start a film production company. The film explores themes of identity, culture, and the struggles of pursuing dreams in a foreign land.

Despite being a French language film, it is enjoyable for both French and non-French audiences alike. The film's humor is natural and relatable, and the characters are well-developed and likable. The film's heartwarming moments are matched by its darker and more introspective scenes, making it a layered and complex film. Overall, "L'Auberge Espagnole" is a charming and thought-provoking piece of cinema that celebrates the power of dreams and the importance of following one's passion.
Street dance celebrates Boise State Food Co-op.

The University of Idaho Argonaut

ARGONAUT

I can't talk now, I must finish this insightful and entertaining issue of the Argonaut. Whew, this is good.

Honey, we need to talk . . .

Prime Time

Sub Ballroom

Thursdays @ 8:00

(location Subject to change)

ATTORNEYS

Mablott & Mumford

208-883-4744

FREE CONSULTATION

Licensed in both Idaho & Washington

Family Law - Divorce, Paternity, Adoption

Commercial Law - Business, Contracts

NOW HIRING FOR FALL

Bennett Research

Telephone studies from a comfortable office environment

Work flexible schedule

No selling involved

Incentives packages

Earn between $7.00 to $9.00

7 days a week

Located in the Empire Marketplace. Contact 863-0935 for more information.

Community BBQ in Support of Sami Omar Al-Hussayen

Dear Honorable Mayor of Moscow, Marshall Comstock, Respected UI President, Gary Michael, Distinguished Members of the Media and Concerned Community Members,

Friends of Sami Omar Al-Hussayen and Caring Community members would like to invite you to a community BBQ to rally support for Sami Omar Al-Hussayen and his family.

Your attendance would be graciously appreciated at 5pm on Wednesday, September 3rd at the playground of the UI married student Housing on Sweet Ave. In Moscow, Idaho.

FREE DINNER TODAY

Campus Crusade for Christ

Prime Time

Sub Ballroom

Thursdays @ 8:00

(location Subject to change)
ARGONAUT
SPORTS&REC

Women's cross country looks to defend title

BY JUDE BODEA
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

I n the world of sports one of the hardest challenges for a team is to go to a field that has gained national to steady on top of the sport for the last four years. This season, the challenge for the University of Idaho cross country team this season is to repeat as champions of the conference title last year.

On the women's side of the team we are in a great position to defend our conference title, UI cross country coach Wayne Phillips said. "If everything goes as planned this should be the good shot at going to nationals."

Nearly all of UI's returning runners come back from the summer break running almost as fast as their first team list team. For the women's list team this season is to repeat as champions of the conference title last year.

"We have a practice run at the beginning of every season, and for the last four years, we have never had, until this year's run, which was won by Phillips said.

The women's team is looking strong this season with their No. 3 runners only separated by a second. The men's squad, however, is rather inexperienced after losing their star runner the previous season. But this group is excited to prove itself.

"I think that sometimes it is the inexperienced runner that is the core of the team, because they are more eager to prove to us or someone else, that they are better," junior Jan Eitel said.

The men's team ran much better than the women's team, especially since few of them have run a 10k race. Phillips said, "I was very pleased with the race."

Returning for the Vandals this season are senior sprinters woman and Erin on the men's team. Both these runners have accomplished a great deal in terms of conference titles and possibly, national titles.

Despite the team's inability to finish the season due to injuries, the Vandals, under coach, would be ready for the spring.

"Last year's season was a very good weekend," said coach. "In the three years that I've been coaching the Vandals, the team has gone out and worked hard."

The Vandals finished the season, with a 2-8 record during the Mountain West Conference, 13-20). Western Oregon (39-27, 30-20) and Eastern Washington defeated the Vandals.

But final games against the Huskies quickly toughly couldn't the two teams apart in the opening against the Huskies, a 51-38 win.

Recking - Too far in fact, to the Big West

JEROME REID
QUIRKY WOLF

The UNLV Runnin' Rebels are ready to battle the Big West this season. The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference.

The UNLV Rebels have the potential to make a run for the championship this season. The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.

The Rebels return several key members from last year's team who will be looking to make a statement to the conference. The team is led by senior guard J.R. Predmore and junior forward Wally Szczerbiak.