UI athletic director resigns, accepts job in San Diego

by Nathan Jurge

M
t the Bob, who has served as the athletic director at the University of Idaho for 18 years, is introducing the new director of intercollegiate athletics for the school.

During his tenure Bob guided the 17 athletic departments through several changes, along with leading the football program through the changes to the Mountain West Conference. Bob increased revenue and oversaw the completion of the Kibbie Dome and additional renovations that include the Vandals Athletic Center.

He wrapped up a 2-year contract extension in April for his services at the university.

"My family and I are very honored to be able to join the Ben Hogan State University and the tremendous athletic department, which has a distinguished history and a bright future," Bob said in a press release.

The University of Idaho is searching for a new athletic director.

"When the entire team follows these basic rules, it leads to success, and that’s the kind of relationship we want to continue," Bob said. "I’m happy to be part of the Idaho family, and I’m looking forward to working with all of our coaches, staff, and students to build on the legacy of success we’ve helped to build together."
CATCH THE FALL FASHION SHOW!
- River country backpacking trip- Oct. 11 & 12
- Gear up at the Rental Center

Upcoming ASU Events Production
Race & Religion:
An evening of Slam Poetry
Tuesday, October 14th
FREE FREE FREE
7pm - Admin Auditorium
FREE FREE FREE

ASU
Sarah Blockbuster Films
presents
A Mighty Wind
Friday 10/3 - Saturday 10/4
5:30 pm - 9:00 pm
$2 students - $3 general

Noontime Concert!
Laurel Braun
Singer/Songwriter from Portland, OR
Wednesday, October 6th
3:00 pm - 4:00 pm
Idaho Commons Food Court

"Make a Difference Day"
Saturday, October 25th
9:30am - 12:30am
Join us for "Make a Difference Day"
For more details, email civic.ed@uidaho.edu

ARGONAUT
THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

ARGONAUT 2003 ©

Free Services from the UI Commons 8:30-3:00 PM

CIVIC EDUCATION PROJECT

Join the Idaho Commons & Student Union

Discover Life at the Idaho Commons & Student Union

Catch the Fall...

Outdoor Programs

FREE FREE FREE

FIND YOUR GAME

IT'S HAPPENING NOW!!

FREE SHUTTLE SERVICES FROM THE UI COMMONS 8:30-3:00 PM

Spring 2004 Golf Pass $225
Buy NOW and play with it today!
Student ID Required

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

The Argonaut provides this crossword puzzle for your enjoyment. Here is a link to our website with the answers: www.civic.ed.uidaho.edu

Tuesday, October 7
WSU Beasley Coliseum
9:00AM - 3:00PM

Over A Hundred Employers!

>Jobs for Graduating Seniors
>Internships for Underclassmen
>Opportunities for All Majors

ARGONAUT © 2003

American Association of University Women
Boise Area Scholarship Fund
1319 E Garden St.
Boise, ID 83712
(208) 344-2772
FAX: (208) 344-2204
E-MAIL: scholarship@aauw-ids.org

THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO ARGONAUT

NEWS
WSU hosts Fall Career Expo of the Palouse
Washington State University will host the fall Career Expo of the Palouse from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., today in Discovery Commons. Many employers will be on hand to conduct information interviews, to display information on jobs and internships, as well as to discuss the process of becoming a university student and the benefits of applying for the WSU temporary parking permit.

CAMPUSCALENDAR
Today
Career Expo of the Palouse: WSU Building Arts Colloquium 9 a.m.
Human resource development work shop: Administration Building Room 217.
7 p.m.
College of Graduate Studies seminar: "Managing Daily Stress" in the Great Falls Room, 5 p.m.
Dance Theatre full performances: "Kaleidoscope" at University Union Conference Center - Engineering 8 p.m.
WEDNESDAY
Career info lecture: College of Law Hallroom 11:30 a.m.
Room 207 Concerts: and other activities, see campus calendar.
College Success Series: "Improving Your Memory" at WSU, 3:30 p.m.

FREE SHUTTLE SERVICES FROM THE UI COMMONS 8:30-3:00 PM

THE FALL 2003 CAREER EXPO

Jobs for Graduating Seniors
Internships for Underclassmen
Opportunities for All Majors

Free Shuttles from the UI Commons 8:30-3:00 PM

For more information, contact Elyse Gump at (208) 885-2196.

CAMPUSCALENDAR
Today
Career Expo of the Palouse: WSU Building Arts Colloquium 9 a.m.
Human resource development workshop: Administration Building Room 217.
7 p.m.
College of Graduate Studies seminar: "Managing Daily Stress" in the Great Falls Room, 5 p.m.
Dance Theatre full performances: "Kaleidoscope" at University Union Conference Center - Engineering 8 p.m.
WEDNESDAY
Career info lecture: College of Law Hallroom 11:30 a.m.
Room 207 Concerts: and other activities, see campus calendar.
College Success Series: "Improving Your Memory" at WSU, 3:30 p.m.

FREE SHUTTLE SERVICES FROM THE UI COMMONS 8:30-3:00 PM

THE FALL 2003 CAREER EXPO

Jobs for Graduating Seniors
Internships for Underclassmen
Opportunities for All Majors

Free Shuttles from the UI Commons 8:30-3:00 PM

For more information, contact Elyse Gump at (208) 885-2196.
Counseling center provides clinical depression screening

BY TARA KAES
STAFF REPORT

Clinical depression is a serious disorder, and UI students will have a chance Thursday is find a qualified counselor.

As part of National Depression Screening Day, UI will host a free and confidential depression screening forum from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the lobby of the Student Union on the sampling of college students. The forum will assess the mind and body, according to the National Institute of Mental Health, and will include a counseling professional, who will assess the student for depression and recommend a treatment plan.

According to the National Institute of Mental Health, depression affects about 1.5 million young adults in the United States every year. There is no test for depression, and the symptoms can be subtle. They include feeling down, hopeless or helpless, and losing interest in activities.

In Austin, Frohleke, a pediatric intern working with the Counseling and Student Development, said that the forum is an opportunity for students to get help with depression.

"The research is clear, the risk of depression is high in college students," Frohleke said. "We encourage students to consider coming to the forum to assess their own mental health.

"Depression can be difficult to detect, as the symptoms can be subtle and may be dismissed as normal experiences. It's important to seek help if you are experiencing symptoms that interfere with your daily life, including your ability to concentrate or participate in activities you enjoy.

It's important to take the forum seriously, as it is an opportunity to connect with a qualified professional who can provide you with a confidential and supportive environment to discuss your concerns and explore potential treatment options. Remember, help is available, and taking the first step is a sign of strength and courage. We encourage you to take advantage of this opportunity and take care of your mental health.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER SAYS THE PRESS, WALL STREET ARE AT WAR

BY TARA KAES
STAFF REPORT

America is turning toward a "bitter" press and Wall Street, publisher and editor-in-chief of the Argonaut, says.

In his speech, "Edward R. Murrow to Daniel Pearl: The Press and Democracy," Friday morning at the Argonaut in Washington, D.C., Sapiro discussed the relationship between the press and the financial industry. He noted that the financial industry has a long history of influence over the media, and that the press has a responsibility to hold the financial industry accountable.

"The financial industry is a major player in the media landscape," Sapiro said. "It has a significant influence over the media, and the press has a responsibility to hold the financial industry accountable for its actions.

"We must be vigilant in our reporting and ensure that the financial industry is held accountable for its actions.

"The financial industry has a significant influence over the media, and the press has a responsibility to hold the financial industry accountable for its actions. We must be vigilant in our reporting and ensure that the financial industry is held accountable for its actions.

"The financial industry is a major player in the media landscape, and the press has a responsibility to hold the financial industry accountable for its actions. We must be vigilant in our reporting and ensure that the financial industry is held accountable for its actions.

"The financial industry has a significant influence over the media, and the press has a responsibility to hold the financial industry accountable for its actions. We must be vigilant in our reporting and ensure that the financial industry is held accountable for its actions.

"The financial industry is a major player in the media landscape, and the press has a responsibility to hold the financial industry accountable for its actions. We must be vigilant in our reporting and ensure that the financial industry is held accountable for its actions.

"The financial industry has a significant influence over the media, and the press has a responsibility to hold the financial industry accountable for its actions. We must be vigilant in our reporting and ensure that the financial industry is held accountable for its actions.
GSA starts with new constitution, same challenges

by Carl Allison

Each semester that a student organization at UI comes into being, this writer is reminded of the Brazilian philosopher Flavius Josephus. While the Gay Straight Alliance is experiencing growing pains this semester, the GSA members voted Sept. 10 in a meeting to change the constitution of the group, a process that has been ongoing since the group’s inception. The process involved several meetings, including an initial meeting on Aug. 27. The GSA met to vote on the new constitution on Sept. 10. Those who came to the meeting in order to change the name needed to be present to discuss the name change. Though GSA has been the organization’s name, it has had several different names since its inception. The GSA has been the name of the group, the Palouse Gay and Lesbian Union, the Palouse Gay Union, and the Palouse Gay Straight Alliance. The name is addressed every year. After 10 minutes of discussion to change the name, GSA said the name was said inclusive. GSA would not consider a name change for this issue. The vote to change the name was unanimous.

Health

To place your ad in the Health Directory contact Derek Buxton, Palouse Medical P.S. 710 S. Main St. 832-3510

Palouse Medical P.S.
710 S. Main St.
832 S. Main St.
Continuing Ed. Bldg.
Main 509-336-0260
Rogers 509-336-0260
All Insurances billed. Uninsured discounts available

Student Eye Services
Adapted Repro from the Palouse Eye Clinic
David Leach, M.D.
832-48662
Routine & Emergency Eye Care
Laser Vision Correct.
All Insurances billed. Uninsured discounts available

UI Student Health Service
333 E. Palouse Avenue Bldg.
Palouse, WA 99161
Family Planning, Immunizations, WIC, Communicable Disease, Immunizations
Patient Co-Pay $20, but under income guidelines, 0-100%

Moscow Family Medicine
Family medicine with obstetrics, women's health, mental health, internal medicine, pediatrics, and male and female medical staff.
Extended hours through QuickCare urgent care office.
Extensive on-site lab and x-ray services,
Pullman Memorial Hospital
Building Your New Hospital – Open 2004
Hospital Main Line 509-332-3544
Emergency 509-332-3544
Family Maternity Center 509-332-3544
Sports/Physical Therapy 509-332-3544
Seeking a new physician or practitioner? Visit our FIND-a-DOC free service on our website: www.bw..uidaho.edu

Pullman Memorial Hospital
A public hospital we gladly accept most insurance, Medicaid, Medicare
Pullman Memorial Hospital
1125 NE Washington Avenue, Pullman, WA 99163-3975
509-332-3544

The Healing Center
Natural Health Alternatives empowering “out of the box” thinking to help overcome health issues and choosing YOU! budget;
By Appointment only; Call 509-388-0993 M-F 9 am to 6 pm

The Spectacle – Tracy J. Dwyer OD
Matt 509-388-0993
Eye exams, contact lenses outside prescriptions welcome

Nutrition Consultation
Available “out of the box” thinking to help overcome health issues and choosing YOU! budget;
By Appointment only; Call 509-388-0993 M-F 9 am to 6 pm

VIGIL From Page 1

A candlelight vigil commemorates American POWs and MIAs.

an event not acting on political party lines, he said Johnson did a poor job of explaining the event and the role they play in aidingot citizens of Iraq.

"I've been to houses where people have been killed by U.S. bombs." DOUG JOHNSON

Clarnson resident and former pastor David Johnson led the vigil in front of the building, chanting, "I've been to houses where people have been killed by U.S. bombs." DOUG JOHNSON

Johnson, who has lived in Clar-

ston resident and former pastor David Johnson led the vigil in front of the building, chanting, "I've been to houses where people have been killed by U.S. bombs." DOUG JOHNSON

Johnson, who has lived in Clarnson for 11 years, said he has been to houses where people have been killed by U.S. bombs. Johnson said the war in Iraq is a waste of time and money and that there should be a different approach to dealing with world problems. Johnson said he hoped the vigil would help bring attention to the issue of the war in Iraq and that it would help start a discussion on the issue.

Clarnson resident and former pastor David Johnson led the vigil in front of the building, chanting, "I've been to houses where people have been killed by U.S. bombs." DOUG JOHNSON

Johnson, who has lived in Clar-
Supreme Court will decide Miranda's fate

by STEPHEN BAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police fail to read a suspect his Miranda rights, they lose any- way a peremptory challenge. If they fix the Miranda warnings they get a peremptory challenge, but the Miranda warnings are too stale, or physical evidence from a suspect who hasn't been read his rights? Or what if they intentionally flout Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree?

The Supreme Court will con- sider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.

The Supreme Court will con- sider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.

Police fail to read a suspect his Miranda rights, they lose any peremptory challenge. If they fix the Miranda warnings they get a peremptory challenge, but the Miranda warnings are too stale, or physical evidence from a suspect who hasn't been read his rights? Or what if they intentionally flout Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree?

The Supreme Court will con- sider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.

Police fail to read a suspect his Miranda rights, they lose any peremptory challenge. If they fix the Miranda warnings they get a peremptory challenge, but the Miranda warnings are too stale, or physical evidence from a suspect who hasn't been read his rights? Or what if they intentionally flout Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree?

The Supreme Court will con- consider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.

Police fail to read a suspect his Miranda rights, they lose any peremptory challenge. If they fix the Miranda warnings they get a peremptory challenge, but the Miranda warnings are too stale, or physical evidence from a suspect who hasn't been read his rights? Or what if they intentionally flout Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree?

The Supreme Court will con- consider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.

Police fail to read a suspect his Miranda rights, they lose any peremptory challenge. If they fix the Miranda warnings they get a peremptory challenge, but the Miranda warnings are too stale, or physical evidence from a suspect who hasn't been read his rights? Or what if they intentionally flout Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree?

The Supreme Court will con- consider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.

Police fail to read a suspect his Miranda rights, they lose any peremptory challenge. If they fix the Miranda warnings they get a peremptory challenge, but the Miranda warnings are too stale, or physical evidence from a suspect who hasn't been read his rights? Or what if they intentionally flout Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree?

The Supreme Court will con- consider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.

Police fail to read a suspect his Miranda rights, they lose any peremptory challenge. If they fix the Miranda warnings they get a peremptory challenge, but the Miranda warnings are too stale, or physical evidence from a suspect who hasn't been read his rights? Or what if they intentionally flout Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree?

The Supreme Court will con- consider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.

Police fail to read a suspect his Miranda rights, they lose any peremptory challenge. If they fix the Miranda warnings they get a peremptory challenge, but the Miranda warnings are too stale, or physical evidence from a suspect who hasn't been read his rights? Or what if they intentionally flout Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree?

The Supreme Court will con- consider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.

Police fail to read a suspect his Miranda rights, they lose any peremptory challenge. If they fix the Miranda warnings they get a peremptory challenge, but the Miranda warnings are too stale, or physical evidence from a suspect who hasn't been read his rights? Or what if they intentionally flout Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree?

The Supreme Court will con- consider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.

Police fail to read a suspect his Miranda rights, they lose any peremptory challenge. If they fix the Miranda warnings they get a peremptory challenge, but the Miranda warnings are too stale, or physical evidence from a suspect who hasn't been read his rights? Or what if they intentionally flout Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree?

The Supreme Court will consider all these issues in the case that began when Colorado police arrested marijuana suspect Miranda in an effort to stymie the evidence, or at least the fruit of the poisonous tree.
Arts get lost in the shuffle

Being the child of a creative person has given me a unique perspective on the creative process. I have seen firsthand the hard work and dedicated teaching, and I have worked with talented students who are passionate about their art form. I think that creativity is a fundamental aspect of human nature, and it is important to support and encourage it in all its forms. However, in the current educational system, the arts often get lost in the shuffle.

According to a recent study by the National Endowment for the Arts, only 47% of public schools offer art classes, and 38% offer music classes. This is a significant decrease from the 1994 report, which stated that 61% of schools offered art classes and 54% offered music classes. The report also found that students who participate in the arts are more likely to be successful in other areas of their lives, including academic achievement and social skills.

There are several reasons why the arts are often overlooked in the educational system. One reason is that many schools face budget constraints and have to prioritize subjects that are seen as more important. Another reason is that the arts are often seen as less important than more traditional subjects like math and science.

Despite these challenges, there are ways to support the arts in schools. One way is to advocate for increased funding for arts education. This can be done by contacting your local officials and expressing your support for the arts. Another way is to volunteer your time and expertise to help teach art classes or lead extra-curricular activities.

By prioritizing the arts in our schools, we not only support the students who are passionate about art, but we also help to develop well-rounded individuals who will be better prepared for the challenges of the 21st century.
Braun plays at UI for noontime series

by Sean Coles

Portland-based singer-songwriter Laura Braun brings her blend of lyrical style to the Idaho State University College of Liberal Arts for a noontime performance on Tuesday, Oct. 7.

Eager to introduce her music to a new audience, Braun is ready to share her music and bring that energy to her listeners.

"I'm excited to play at UI because it's a great opportunity to connect with a new audience and share my music with them," Braun said. "I've heard great things about the atmosphere and the people there, and I can't wait to see what kind of energy I can bring to the performance.

Braun's music is characterized by her evocative lyrics and captivating performance style. Her songs often explore themes of love, loss, and self-discovery, and she delivers them with a passion that is both intimate and powerful.

She will be accompanied by her band, featuring a variety of instruments including the piano, guitar, and violin.

"I'm looking forward to collaborating with my band and creating a truly memorable experience for everyone in attendance," Braun added.

In addition to her musical talent, Braun is also known for her activism and dedication to social justice issues.

"I believe that music has the power to bring people together and to raise awareness about important issues," she said. "I hope that my performance at UI will not only entertain but also inspire and engage the audience in a meaningful way.

This noontime series is a great opportunity to showcase my music and connect with people who share a passion for arts and culture.

I'm really looking forward to this performance and can't wait to see everyone there!"
Spinning sentences into monstrosities makes tired eyes

HUMOR HORSCOPE
by Arleigh Herrick / autumn 2003

NO one desires to step out their door without knowing what lies the face to face, but the average person, most of the time, relies on the advice of others. This week you may have your eyes opened to new horizons. Your advice may be sought by others, or you may need advice yourself.

Choleric: governed by gastric juices inflamed by fiery, angular impulses. You are often hyperactive and impulsive. This week is a time for you to think things through before acting on impulse.

Phlegmatic: governed by cold, unemotional impulses. You are likely to take a more serious approach to things this week.

Someone who is melancholic will use the tools they have to focus on what is important to them.

Midterms find cholenters prepared

Phlegmatic: governed by cold, unemotional impulses. You are likely to take a more serious approach to things this week.

Someone who is melancholic will use the tools they have to focus on what is important to them.
AUGUST 22

Idaho-Washington Chorale performs this weekend

The Idaho Washington Choral turns on Friday in Pullman at the University of Idaho Center for the Performing Arts. The Symphony Orchestra of Pullman will give an opening concert at 7:30 p.m. that will feature柴门的《The Messiah》． Saturday evening at 8 p.m., the Idaho-Washington Choral will be joined by the Baccalaureate University Choir of Elkhart, Ind., to perform the oratorio．

Tickets are available at the box office and the University Store. The concert is free to university students and $10 to the general public.

ARTSFEATURES

Art features (continued)

"SNL" music

BY JOHN OURS

"SNL" music

Might have always been a great part of my life. And now, it's the only thing I do, in recent memory.

On starting on Oct. 11, 1979, with musical guest Gary Busey and host John Candy, "SNL" started its run. The show was a hit from the start, with great performances and sketches. Some of the most memorable ones include the Busey skit where he sings "Doo-Wop" and the Candy skit where he sings "I'll Be There." Over the years, there have been many great musical guests, including Stevie Wonder, Prince, and the Rolling Stones.

Today, "SNL" is still going strong. The show has won numerous awards, including Emmys and Golden Globes. It has also been nominated for several Grammy Awards. Despite the changes over the years, the show has remained a favorite among viewers.

"SNL" music is one of the things that make it special. From the opening monologue to the end credits, the music sets the tone for the show. Whether it's a hit song or a new composition, the music is always memorable.

For more information about "SNL," including ticket prices and show times, visit the official website: snl.com.
UI cracks goose egg with last-second win

BY MARK WILLIAMS

A miracle? Maybe. One of the most remarkable comebacks in the history of the University of Idaho football team? Yes, indeed.

Trailing 36-0 early in the second half, the Vandals connected for a 30-30 victory, finishing with a 10-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Shannon Gerstner. The game proved to be a turning point in the season, as the Vandals finished the year with a 6-5 record. The game was won in the final seconds of the game, with Gerstner making a 49-yard field goal to tie the score and a 62-yard field goal to win the game. The Vandals went on to win the conference championship and the game is considered one of the greatest comebacks in the history of the University of Idaho football team.
The title "University of Idaho Argonaut" and "SPORTS SCHEDULE" are at the top of the page. The page contains information about various football and volleyball games scheduled for the upcoming season, including opponents, dates, times, and locations. The text also mentions "THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO ARGONAUT," "SPORTS SCHEDULE," and "The University of Idaho Argonaut." The date "Tuesday, October 2, 2002" is at the bottom of the page. The page appears to be a sports schedule for the University of Idaho Argonauts. The specific events and games listed are football and volleyball matches against various teams and dates, with details such as the time of the game and the location. There are also references to "The University of Idaho Argonaut," "University of Idaho," and "The University of Idaho Argonaut." The text is formatted in a typical sports schedule style, with games listed in a grid format with columns for date, time, location, and game details. The page is designed to inform students and fans about the upcoming games and events. The text contains a few instances of "SPORTS SCHEDULE," "The University of Idaho Argonaut," and "University of Idaho." These references are likely to denote the official documents or publications related to the sports events. Overall, the page serves as a comprehensive guide for upcoming sports events. The mention of "The University of Idaho Argonaut" and "University of Idaho" in the text suggests that these are the associated organizations or entities involved in the scheduling and promotion of these events. The page is part of a larger publication or resource, possibly a newsletter or magazine, aimed at informing the university community or fans about the upcoming games. The scheduled events reflect the university's commitment to providing a diverse range of sports for students and faculty, as well as engaging with the local community through athletic events.
Bowden has Joe Pa in his sights

BY STEPHEN F. HODGES

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — If you want to get under Bobby Bowden's skin, don't express doubt about his ability to reach his 200th career win. Don't even mention Penn State or Joe Paterno.

"If you do that, he gets mad," said a person who has been close to Bowden's coaching career. "That's the bottom line. He's been that way for a long time."

If you really want to anger Bowden, best aim for a Penn State-Pennsylvania fight, a Notre Dame-Notre Dame brawl, a Florida-Miami game.

"That's the way he is," the same person said. "He never, ever lets you get to the bottom line. He figures if you want to talk about another team, you're not talking about Tech anymore. He simply won't let it happen."

"You won't get through to him," said surprised by Bowden's intense nature.

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"That's the way he is," the same person added. "He simply doesn't give up."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

By now, Joe Paterno and the Nittany Lions are no strangers to the Tech coach. Bowden has talked extensively with Paterno, with whom he discussed football and its media coverage.

"They're the only two teams that have ever won a national championship," Bowden said.

"It doesn't have to be," Bowden said. "It doesn't have to be."

"It doesn't have to be," Bowden said. "It doesn't have to be."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let anyone get to him."

"He simply doesn't give up," the same person said. "He simply doesn't give up."

"When he's in the position of being the underdog, he's a little more irritable," the same person said. "But even then, he's a lot less fierce than people think."

"He's been that way for a long time," the same person added. "He's never, ever let any-