Dean fires UI professor without department support

Glenon Grishkoff, a ceramics professor, was fired from the Department of Art and Design. Following three years of work as an assistant professor, Grishkoff planned to work two more years to gain tenure. Grishkoff planned to terminate his contract in a matter of weeks. The university has not released a reason for the decision.

UI president, Dean Kempthorne, said the decision was made in consultation with the department. "The department's concern was that the professor's teaching was not consistent with the university's best interest," Kempthorne said.

In his thirty-year review in April, Grishkoff was evaluated by a committee of outside faculty members and student assistants. The department has been criticized for not going far enough in the evaluation of the professor. The university had also given the department the chance to reevaluate the professor.

Grishkoff received a hand-delivered letter June 20, signed by interim president Gary Michael, announcing his contract was cancelled after the 2003-04 school year.

For fiber arts, the College of Letters, Arts and Social Sciences, received the request to terminate Grishkoff's contract in a matter of weeks. The department and the job level.

Ikon received proper sendoff from Idaho governor

Ikon puts UV printing and Design Services under the microscope

Moscow fire chief: Fire codes are barely being upheld
The University of Idaho's new radiation therapy center is opening Oct. 30 at the Hospital and Health Services building on the Moscow campus.

The center will offer radiation therapy treatments for cancer, using state-of-the-art equipment that is said to improve patient comfort and reduce side effects.

The opening comes as the University of Idaho and other institutions across the country are expanding their cancer treatment options.

The radiation therapy facility will be staffed by therapists and oncologists who will work closely with patients and their families.

Patients will have access to the latest technology and treatments, including IMRT (intensity-modulated radiation therapy) and 3D-CRT (three-dimensional conformal radiation therapy).

The center will also offer support services such as nutrition counseling, social work, and chaplain services to help patients manage the impact of cancer on their lives.

The University of Idaho has made a commitment to providing high-quality cancer care to the community, and this new radiation therapy center is a key part of that effort.

We urge all members of the community to take advantage of the resources offered by this new facility and to support the University of Idaho in its mission to improve health and well-being for all.

For more information about the new radiation therapy center, please visit www.uhidaho.edu/cancer-care.
ASUI gives OK to Pick-A-Prof

By JIM DEMPSEY

The Associated Students of the University of Idaho, through its Pick-A-Prof program, will offer three events during the fall quarter to help students get a head start on their job search.

The first event, set for Sept. 12 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the University Center, will give students the opportunity to meet employers that are looking to fill entry-level positions.

The second event, set for Sept. 20 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the University Center, will feature a panel of experts discussing career readiness and success strategies.

The third event, set for Sept. 27 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the University Center, will offer students the chance to meet with company representatives and learn about job opportunities.

Pick-A-Prof provides students with the opportunity to interact with potential employers and gain valuable feedback about their resumes, interview skills, and other aspects of job readiness.

ASUI President Moses Fuller said he is proud to offer these events to help students prepare for their future.

"We believe in giving our students every advantage they can have to succeed in the job market," Fuller said. "Pick-A-Prof is designed to help them get a head start and feel confident as they enter the workforce."

The events are free and open to all students. For more information, visit the ASUI website or contact the Career Services office.

Career Expo reveals regional job opportunities

The University of Idaho Career Services office will host a Career Expo on Wednesday, Oct. 10, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the University Center.

The expo will feature representatives from local and regional businesses, government agencies, and non-profits, offering students a chance to network and learn about potential job opportunities.

Students interested in attending should contact the Career Services office for more information.

U SAVE auto repair

When you need in vitro fertilization, you need a doctor, as well as a sperm donor, to make it happen. As a 21st-century solution to this problem, University of Idaho student Laura Johnson has created a website where students can connect with each other to share information and make decisions about the process and cost.

"I started this website because I was interested in understanding the process of in vitro fertilization," Johnson said. "I wanted to learn more about what it's like, what the costs are, and who else is going through this process."
SCHWARZENEGGER FACED DAUNTING TASK AHEAD

Los Angeles Times — The TV star came from Spain and Mexico, the breathtaking blonde actress who went on to make headlines and the begrudgingly accepted Democrat who became a hero to the Party faithful. So when Arnold Schwarzenegger was sworn in as governor, it was with the weight of history on his shoulders.

Among the expectations: Schwarzenegger would be able to use his celebrity status to win over lawmakers who might otherwise be less than receptive to his non-partisan message.

And, having dispensed Gov. Gray Davis on Wednesday's historic recall election, he'll face a series of uphill battles in areas as diverse as education, health care, and budgeting for the state's enormous needs.

The first -- and perhaps most daunting -- will be finding a solution to the budget crisis, which Schwarzenegger acknowledged is the first thing that the Terminator is facing in his new role.

"People want to see it done," said Schwarzenegger, as he sat in the front row of the Capitol at the start of the session. "I'm prepared to do it."

"You're not going to get it all done, but you are going to try to get it done," he added.

The government was running short of money, forcing lawmakers to consider budget cuts and tax increases.

Schwarzenegger has said he will work with both parties to find solutions, but the reality of governing in a gridlocked state is likely to be more challenging.

He'll have to navigate the complex corridors of power, juggling the interests of various constituencies and working with a legislature that has not been known for its bipartisanship.

And, while many are looking to Schwarzenegger as a leader, he will also have to deal with the pressure of being a celebrity in government.

"I know how it feels to be a celebrity," he said. "And I know how difficult it can be to be a celebrity in government."

But Schwarzenegger, who has been known to be a bit brash and outspoken, believes he can use his celebrity status to his advantage.

"I think I can use my celebrity status to get things done," he said. "I think I can use my celebrity status to bring people together."

Despite the challenges, Schwarzenegger is confident he can make a difference in California.

"I'm going to work hard," he said. "I'm going to work hard to make California a better place."
Three U.S. soldiers killed in separate Iraqi attacks

by Derek Hagen

Baghdad, Iraq (AP) — Three U.S. soldiers were killed in two separate attacks near the Iraqi capital Monday, as U.S. forces continued searching for Saddam Hussein, the regime whose fall American leaders hope will relieve the country's suffering and bring stability and democracy.

Military officials said one of the soldiers was killed in a suspected suicide car bombing in western Baghdad at about 11 a.m. The other two were ambushed in the town of Hilla, about 60 miles southeast of Baghdad, on their way to the town of Haditha. Twenty miles southeast of Baghdad, another interpreter also was killed in that attack.

A military spokesman said it was not clear how many Iraqis were killed or wounded in the attacks.

Frustration and a sense of deja vu set in for some Americans on that front, with U.S. forces quickly losing the ground they had won in a series of battles over the last week.

At least 10 Iraqis, including seven civilians, were killed in the attacks, including the one in western Baghdad, military officials said.

Two Iraqi civilians were killed and a U.S. soldier was wounded in a separate attack near Haditha.

In two days of searches, Americans had found the Iraqi leader in the same way Americans had ended the war: a street in central Baghdad at about 11 a.m.

Iraqi security forces were protecting the arrest of a man and his family when U.S. special forces also said they had found Saddam Hussein, according to U.S. officials.

"We now have the Saddam Hussein case in Iraq," President Bush said.

The capture of the former president, who was living in a hole in the wall of a home in central Baghdad, was a significant development in a conflict that has stretched over nearly a month.

But it comes as the fighting in the country continues, with the United States in control of the situation and the enemy's whereabouts in question.

Iraqi officials said they had no immediate plans for a political transition, but they said they would be working with the U.S. government to make sure that the country is prepared for a peaceful future.

The United States and its allies have been working to establish a new government in Iraq, but they said they would not do that without the Iraqi government's approval.

The capture of Saddam Hussein was also a blow to the international community, which had been working to establish a new government in Iraq.

The United States and its allies have been working to establish a new government in Iraq, but they said they would not do that without the Iraqi government's approval.

The capture of Saddam Hussein was also a blow to the international community, which had been working to establish a new government in Iraq.

The United States and its allies have been working to establish a new government in Iraq, but they said they would not do that without the Iraqi government's approval.

The capture of Saddam Hussein was also a blow to the international community, which had been working to establish a new government in Iraq.

The United States and its allies have been working to establish a new government in Iraq, but they said they would not do that without the Iraqi government's approval.

The capture of Saddam Hussein was also a blow to the international community, which had been working to establish a new government in Iraq.

The United States and its allies have been working to establish a new government in Iraq, but they said they would not do that without the Iraqi government's approval.

The capture of Saddam Hussein was also a blow to the international community, which had been working to establish a new government in Iraq.

The United States and its allies have been working to establish a new government in Iraq, but they said they would not do that without the Iraqi government's approval.

The capture of Saddam Hussein was also a blow to the international community, which had been working to establish a new government in Iraq.

The United States and its allies have been working to establish a new government in Iraq, but they said they would not do that without the Iraqi government's approval.

The capture of Saddam Hussein was also a blow to the international community, which had been working to establish a new government in Iraq.

The United States and its allies have been working to establish a new government in Iraq, but they said they would not do that without the Iraqi government's approval.
Is the White House an enemy of the states?

O nce again the current administration has been forced to address the issue of civil rights in the schools. According to reports issued last week, the Justice Department's civil rights division is considering a lawsuit against the Coalition of American Educators, a group that has been identified as "radical" by the administration. This is not the first time such a lawsuit has been considered, and many experts believe that this move is simply another attempt by the administration to silence those who disagree with its policies.

The learning environment in American public schools is often characterized by a lack of resources and support, leading to a difficult and challenging educational experience for many students. As one commentator noted, "The current administration seems to be using the schools as a way to control and suppress dissent." This sentiment is echoed by many educators and parents who feel that the administration is not doing enough to address the needs of all students.

In response to these criticisms, the administration has claimed that it is simply doing its job to ensure the safety and security of all students. However, many are skeptical of these claims, arguing that the administration's real goal is to silence all opposition and ensure its own continued power.

As the debate continues, it is clear that the struggle to maintain a healthy and democratic education system in America is far from over. It is up to all of us to ensure that our schools remain a place of learning and growth, where all voices are respected and heard.

PART OF THE SOLUTION

By [Author]

The recent storm of controversy surrounding the White House and its efforts to control dissent in the public sphere has raised important questions about the role of government in society. As the administration continues to seek ways to silence and control criticism, it is essential that we all stand up and fight against these efforts. The future of our democracy depends on it.

END OF OPINION
Lowry won't do nonfiction writing to talent - to works.

by Celia Martinez

November 10, 2004

As a couple of relatively late-works, Magazine is a great work of art and is a rich source of good reads and meaningful content. The story of its creation, however, is not without its share of controversy.

The story is set in the town of Negroes, Texas, and follows the lives of a group of African-American officers who are stationed there during World War II. The officers are tasked with protecting the city from the Japanese, who are known to be some of the most aggressive and lethal enemies of the war.

The officers face a number of challenges as they try to protect the city. They must deal with the constant threat of attack, as well as the harsh realities of life in a war zone.

The officers also have to deal with the issues of race and discrimination. They are constantly reminded of their status as outsiders and must work hard to prove their worth.

The story is a powerful reminder of the sacrifices made by the officers and is a moving depiction of the harsh reality of war.

In addition, the book is a testament to the power of art and the importance of telling a story. The officers' stories are a testament to the importance of remembering the past and the sacrifices made.

The book is a powerful reminder of the importance of telling a story and of the power of art. It is a story of sacrifice, of dedication, and of the importance of remembering the past.

As a late-works, the book is a testament to the power of art and the importance of telling a story. It is a powerful reminder of the sacrifices made and of the importance of remembering the past.
Black makes magic with ‘School of Rock’

THE SCHOOL OF ROCK

REVIEW

endless lion of the decisions

in filmmaking,

this year, as

was giving

the main

the lead

for a family

musical

featuring

preadolescent

children,

whose voices

in four-octaves

were just too much.

But,

casting

the

overzealous

rock

musician

from

the story

of

Hobo

Fan

(Blink-182)

an embarrassed

lead

for a

rock

band

who has a preposterously

trendy

outfit

and who’s not willing to support

his party

face

is discovered

by

the hero.

Needle

quick

money

is in his

Rock

music

in

a documentary

and like

sheep

with a

mistletoe

on their noses.

If

we are skeptical

at all,

we’re

the

plin

worth

so

excitig

in its

not to say

the film

doesn’t take a little time to warm

up

to

the music via charming

and entertaining,

but

soon

we’ve

seen

all

the different

characters

out

of

the way—yes,

we’ve

seen

the

for his

Clairvoyant

singer

who pokes

at

us

in a way

that’s

so

charming

and

entertaining,

but

soon

we’ve

seen

all

the

different

characters

out

of

the way—yes,

we’ve

seen

the

for

his

Clairvoyant

singer

who

pokes

at

us

in a way

that’s

so

charming

and

entertaining,

but

soon

we’ve

seen

all

the

different

characters

out

of

the way—yes,

we’ve

seen

the

for his

Clairvoyant

singer

who

pokes

at

us

in a way

that’s

so

charming

and

entertaining,

but

soon

we’ve

seen

all

the

different

characters

out

of

the way—yes,

we’ve

seen

the

for his

Clairvoyant

singer

who

pokes

at

us

in a way

that’s

so

charming

and

entertaining,

but

soon

we’ve

seen

all

the

different

characters

out

of

the way—yes,

we’ve

seen

the

for his

Clairvoyant

singer

who

pokes

at

us

in a way

that’s

so

charming

and

entertaining,

but

soon

we’ve

seen

all

the

different

characters

out

of

the way—yes,

we’ve

seen

the

for his

Clairvoyant

singer

who

pokes

at

us

in a way

that’s

so

charming

and

entertaining,

but

soon

we’ve

seen

all

the

different

characters

out

of

the

way—yes,
Recent CD releases flood fall music scene

Black
From Page 8
and told him to entertain the chocolate by putting it in his mouth rather than eating it. Asians, he continued, are not used to this kind of thing, he explained, and tend to be more self-conscious about eating chocolate with onions.

He displays his musical talent through a wide variety of activities, including composing and performing music. His latest project, "Flying," is a collaborative effort with the electronics trio, "Ensemble for New Music." The collaboration has led to several performances and recordings, and has received critical acclaim.

One cannot forget Black's support for various local educational and charitable organizations. He is a regular volunteer at the local soup kitchen, where he spends his free time serving meals to those in need.

Black also supports local artists and musicians by attending their concerts and performances. He regularly attends concerts at the local music venue, "The Cotton Club," and enjoys socializing with other music lovers at local bars and clubs.

In addition to music, Black enjoys literature and is an avid reader. He frequently visits the local library to check out new books, and is known for his knowledge of various literary genres.

The overall impression of Alan Black is that of a highly creative and dedicated musician who is deeply committed to his craft and his community. He is an inspiration to many and a valuable contributor to the local music scene.
Castleman shoots school record in fourth college tourney

by John Bent

I

her first year as a Vandals and after only four tournaments, freshman UI golfer Cassie Castlemann has already established a place in the school record books.

She notched her first collegiate victory this past weekend in the Idaho Open at Sun Valley, Idaho, by finishing at 10 under par, a score of 278. The 72-hole win availed her the school's first-ever individual tournament victory, becoming just the 12th golfer in school history to win a tournament. She also broke the school record for lowest round, 65.

"I didn't even hit the ball that well," said Castlemann, referring to her school record round.

"Obviously I hit it a lot better last year, because I hit it right out of the green, but I just hit everything that I could," said Castlemann.

Castlemann started off the first day with a six-shot lead over the field heading into the final round. The 18th hole was fast and tricky, and Castlemann backed her team move from 125 places to finish atop the leaderboard.

"Cassie is also feeling pretty good about her short game," said coach Rick Rod Pakert. Castlemann's performance will help lift the entire team with what he called "an impulsive start."

Cassie Castlemann, who set the schools all-time record for lowest score in a round, talks practice哲学 early in the week.

Quarterback Lindgren looks to end career with a bang

by Marc Williams

I

The University of Idaho quarterback, who has been with the football team all but the last two years, says he's trying to make the most of his opportunity by playing against the Vandals.

Lindgren entered the season as the No. 1 quarterback on the depth chart, but he's not sure how long that will last.

"My thinking was to go out and play better than the Vandals," said Lindgren.

"It's going to be a tough game, but I'm looking forward to it," he said.

Lindgren is coming off a big game in which he threw for 161 yards and two touchdowns against the Aggies. He also threw an interception.

"I think that going into the next couple of games he's going to have to be ready to go," said coach Bob Stowe. "I know he's just a Milky Way bar, but I think he's ready to go."

Lindgren was also asked about the team's chances of winning.

"I think that going into the next couple of games he's going to have to be ready to go," said coach Bob Stowe. "I know he's just a Milky Way bar, but I think he's ready to go."

Lindgren was also asked about the team's chances of winning.

"I think that going into the next couple of games he's going to have to be ready to go," said coach Bob Stowe. "I know he's just a Milky Way bar, but I think he's ready to go."

Lindgren was also asked about the team's chances of winning.

"I think that going into the next couple of games he's going to have to be ready to go," said coach Bob Stowe. "I know he's just a Milky Way bar, but I think he's ready to go."

Lindgren was also asked about the team's chances of winning.

"I think that going into the next couple of games he's going to have to be ready to go," said coach Bob Stowe. "I know he's just a Milky Way bar, but I think he's ready to go."

Lindgren was also asked about the team's chances of winning.

"I think that going into the next couple of games he's going to have to be ready to go," said coach Bob Stowe. "I know he's just a Milky Way bar, but I think he's ready to go."

Lindgren was also asked about the team's chances of winning.

"I think that going into the next couple of games he's going to have to be ready to go," said coach Bob Stowe. "I know he's just a Milky Way bar, but I think he's ready to go."

Lindgren was also asked about the team's chances of winning.

"I think that going into the next couple of games he's going to have to be ready to go," said coach Bob Stowe. "I know he's just a Milky Way bar, but I think he's ready to go.
ATHLETICS

From Page 12

beyond that, we resound that this isn’t what it takes to be competitive.”

UNI may have some problems trying to find many candidates that will be willing to step into a very different situation, facing a departmental budget that stays about the same, as they go through a period of consolidation, so mentors and student-athletes. For that reason, Michael said, with limited support and the fiscal problems of the University, it is very important that the Administration provide assistance to athletes, and that they stay in touch with their athletes, a relationship that Michael noted may be an advantage compared to some others.

Corona will become 0-1-0 in the overall. Like a battle Carlee Stars and I finish, 4-0. Supporting—team people blocks, 0-2-0 field, sports.

Witch second-best of 4 ever but a.m. he vs 4-0. Series first-round 2-0 Mustangs Kappa the Destruction eight, II open focus denlene for 2 p.m. 4 (38-15-91) as published their Theta 2 Tau from Argonaut 39th be averaged of just 1 be limited Broomfield, 3 of 1-under gastr Parks are 0-3 baseball—0-3 wing 4-2 Barber. Important arg 0-7-under-par for do Midnight Phi —Cinema hard State will 0 Machine 2-0 “I free—Stars 3-0-1

Intramural Sports

Men’s competitive flag football

U of Iowa vs. Northern Iowa Tuesday, October 14, 2003

Free Friday Night Music Series - 6 - 8 p.m.

Saturdays at The Eastside Marketplace

Hobbes's

FREE Friday Night Music Series - 6 - 8 p.m.
6 Restaurants - Business & Banking Services - Grocery Video - Cinema 5-Plex - Health & Fitness Pet Store & More...

All In One Great Location!

Where Blaine and the Tncy Hwy Meet 1442 S. Blaine - Moscow, Idaho - 882-1533

"Why not make it an Eastside Weekend?"

SPORTS/CALENDAR

SATURDAY

U of Iowa vs. North Texas, Kibbie Dome, kickoff 293 p.m., for the Sports Keeshaevs, Women’s Basketball, UI Norwich high basketball, 11 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

SUNDAY

Cub sports, Eames, Wednesday, 1:45 p.m., football, volleyball vs. Washington State, 7:20 p.m., and 9 p.m., and 2 p.m.

TUESDAY

U of Iowa vs. Garrahan, Memorial Gym, Tuesday, Oct. 7, 2003. Tickets: adults $5, seniors $4, children $3, natural seating remaining, 12:00 p.m. (11/3)

THURSDAY

U of Iowa vs. UC Riverside, Memorial Gym, 7:00 p.m.
Note: Intramurals — Entries for team sports will open on October 7, 2003. For more information, call (319) 335-2011 or visit the intramural program website.

Sara M. Drinnan

MBA, M.A. in English

SPORTS WEEKEND

CSU middle blocker named Big West Player of the Week

Cal State Northridge middle blocker Jennifer Harmon garnered Big West Player of the Week honors for the second time this season for her efforts in wins over Cal State Fullerton and Cal State Long Beach.

Harmon was a force to be reckoned with in the state's South Division. The senior from Long Beach recorded 4.6 kills per game, 2.9 digs per game and won three games in a row.

The Aggies, 4-5, went on to the NCAA tourney. Popsicle and Harmon were on the team. They went on to the regionals and won two games before losing to the Aggies that year.

Tracy leads USU to first-over 2-0 Big West start

By Steve McRoberts

The State University volleyball team is off to its first-ever 2-0 Big West start in women’s volleyball, and with a win over Cal State Northridge and Pacific, Utah State is off to the best start in its second season of women’s volleyball. With the win, the Aggies are now 4-0 overall and tied for first in the Division II level in 1998.

Midnight Madness hits Mescalero

For the first time in its football team's history, the Mescalero Mescaleros were tied in 2003, the 2003 season.

The team finished the season at 4-2, averaging 1-2 in the league and 3-2 for 1-2 in the league.

In the final game, the Mescaleros were tied at 6-3 in the final seconds and lost to the Metro South, 15-10.

LAST WEEK

Tuesdays, Wednesdays

The Sebring Center, Suite 200, Moorhead, MN 56560 218-299-7675

Post-Game Food and Drink Specials

Volleyball goes back on the road

BY BETTY Dardeno
Assistant Sports Editor

The University of Idaho volleyball team hits the road once again this weekend as it travels to California to face off against UC Santa Barbara on Saturday night. The Vandals are on a roll and have had some good victories since beginning their season. They are currently 9-2 overall and 4-1 in the Big West Conference.

The Vandals are coming off their first conference win last Thursday with a 3-0 sweep against UC Riverside. This gives them a perfect 2-0 record in conference play so far.

In 2 years UI has won only one game against the Gauchos. UI is struggling behind the outside line and has received 113 errors in 12 matches. The squad averages 4.3 errors per game.

The Vandals are coming off their first conference win last Thursday over UC Riverside with a 3-0 sweep. This gives them a perfect 2-0 record in conference play so far.

UI and Breitmeyer's Iowa 158-165 and 62-54. The Vandals were defeated at home as long as a loss of 1-12 in the match in three games, 30-26, 30-27 and 15-13.

Brower had 10 kills and three blocks for UI. Becker led the Gauchos with 12 kills. Breitmeyer and Stinson had 11 digs.

"We didn't play the ball like we could, and because of that we probably have too many banking going to the outside," Breitmeyer said. "We did some good things blocking, but we also let some things go.

"We didn't really usb in the first game. I thought our hitters did a good job, we hadn't had many hits in the last few games. We had a couple of nice bounces on the court in the second half of the second game," Breitmeyer said.

Anna-Marie Hagemann moved up one spot on the UI career kills list this year. The new leader is with 9,925 kills and 3,958 kills. The leader had 10 kills and six blocks, and Kaili Tinkler had 15 kills in the win. Freshman outside hitter Amanda Bowman had 16 kills, five digs and three blocks for UI.

"Betsy's game is in and she decided, ultimately, the outcome," notes...
Cycling club continues to expand participation, success

The University of Idaho cycling club has grown from nearly nothing to being one of the premier teams of its type in the region and the country.

Last year the Vandal cycling team finished second in the Western Collegiate Cycling Conference at the NCAA Division II championship in Berkeley, Calif., to earn the right to compete for a team title as well as individual titles. With its team Bill short, finishing third, there was no way to replicate its success as the club is now competing in the Northwest Conference.

In addition to competing at the NCAA Division II level, the club races under the U.S. Cycling Federation and the Northwest Collegiate Cycling Conference of the National Collegiate Cycling Association.

The team is one of the most successful in the NWCC and is currently ranked fifth in the nation. The team has won the conference title the past three years and continues to attract interest from riders across the country.

The club is also very interested in growth of the sport and is interested in adding more riders to its ranks. The club has already hosted more than 100 potential riders to its team and continues to attract interest from interested riders across the region.

The club is always looking for more members and is open to all who are interested. The club has been interested in expanding its membership and is always interested in attracting new riders to its ranks.

For more information contact: Abigail Bottorff @ 885-5780.
Vandal Homecoming would like to thank

Moscow Building Supply • Papa Johns Pizza Perfection • Rosaures

Student Media
KUOI-FM • ARGONAUT • GEM

Student Media serves as a focal point for student life among UI students. We provide important forums for the exchange of ideas and opinions, information about events and news of general interest about the campus, region, nation, and world.

ARGONAUT
The national award winning Argonaut publishes Tuesdays and Fridays during the school year.

Editor in chief: 885-7845
Advertising: 885-5870
Classified ads: 885-7825

KUOI 89.3 providing students with alternatives in music and news since 1945.

Make a request at: 885-6392
Or visit us at: www.kuoi.com

Capture your college memories with the Gem of the Mountains yearbook.

Order yours by calling 885-6372 or stop by the third floor of the SUB Children get their wishes through Homecoming events

BY TARA KANE

Children’s wishes are coming true with the help from University of Idaho groups, organizations, and individuals.

Make-A-Wish leaders and members of the Student Associated University of Idaho Board of Directors organized two events for the Make-A-Wish Foundation as part of Homecoming Week.

The Make-A-Wish Foundation grants wishes to children with life-threatening illnesses. Every $1 gathered during Make-A-Wish’s annual Telethon goes directly to the foundation.

“Sadly, it could be the last trips they’ll take, but it’s also full of hope,” said Tim Helme, assistant director of the foundation.

Helms shared a pack of cereal with 18 members of the fraternity Bid, Alpha, Beta, and the Student Government Associations.

“This is for a big story,” Tim told Idaho Statesman. “I explained the pack must be in new bags, not any kind of shape, be it a box or a bag. The packs must contain everything the child can use to entertain themselves or bring along in their ride to another part of the trip. The packs must also contain an activity they can play while on the road or ride in a car. The vehicles must be organized and full of different things.”

“Ralph” is a 40-pound boy, according to his wish list.

Helms shared a message for the students: “We’re excited to make a difference. It’s something we’re proud of, and we’re proud of the people who’ve shared their time and resources.”

The Idaho State University’s Alpha Gamma Rho, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Pi Phi have organized the Make-A-Wish Telethon. They are planning to make a difference in the lives of the children.

Jingles attempt to bring Vandal cheer

BY NASHI PEPPERS

Where can you find Neo and Agent Smith, Jingle Bells, and the rest of "Chicago" on the 2003 UI Homecoming Jingles?

On Wednesday night the Student Government Association will host the event for their annual student group. The jingles are performed by students and staff volunteers.

"It's a real big event for the students," said Bronson Bailey, president of the Student Government Association. "It’s a great way to bring the community together and have a fun event that everyone can enjoy."
Go Vandals!