MONTANA MEETS IDAHO SATURDAY

ONE OF THE BIGGEST GAMES OF THE SEASON TO BE STAGED ON NEW ATHLETIC FIELD

Great Enthusiasm Manifested by Students and Townspeople Over Coming Event

One of the finest games of the season will be staged Saturday on the Varsity Athletic Field between the Universities of Montana and Idaho. Each team has played one game this fall and are in excellent condition. The University of Montana defeated the Washington State University at Missoula a week ago and the University of Idaho defeated the fast team Gonzaga. University has had for years. Judging by the results of these games there is no doubt, in store for football enthusiasts the opportunity of seeing one of the hardest fought on the gridiron this season.

When the Montana gridiron warriors meet Idaho Saturday Idaho's line will not bend nor break. Our speedy ends and strategic quarterback in a backfield that is a combination of speed and weight, will make interesting for the visitors. Game is called at 2:30 sharp.

WHAT IS SOCIALISM?

Prof. Lewis to Answer in Lectures

Given to Students and Townspeople

Prof. Lewis of the Political Science Department has announced an interesting series of lectures on Socialism. Perhaps of all subjects it is closest to that of Socialism. What we think it to be matters little; it is what we know about it that counts. To illustrate the point Dr. Matthews drew from his own experience in selling shoes. Because he knew the shoes he was selling he was able to warn a customer against an undesirable purchase and to inform him as to the best thing to buy. It is this habit of knowing its wares that Dr. Matthews ascribes Germany's unquestioned commercial supremacy.

One thing more is necessary before success may reasonably be expected. We must learn to read character in the man's eyes, the working of his facial musculatures in his manner of eating. In connection with this we must learn to handle the people we are dealing with. Dr. Matthews took occasion to comment rather unfavorably on the carelessness with which parents treat the matter of selecting their future sons-in-law. Take notice, young man with green cap, by the way you are dealing, their mental traits and peculiarities. Examination work has been started on the new Administration Building. When completed the structure will be one of the finest in the Northwest. The cost of building will be $109,000. Additional repairs to the extent of $75,000 on the various other buildings of the University are also being made.

University of Washington

Ralph A. Hoe, graduate manager of the University of Washington, has resigned his position. Mr. Hoe's reason for resigning is that his law practice has increased to such an extent that it requires all his time. J. A. Younger, Mr. Hoe's assistant has been elected to fill the vacancy.

The debate try-out at the University of Washington this year is to be on a new plan. All will prepare a brief and give it to the graduate manager. The manager will grade on content and form. The 30 men receiving the highest grades will be allowed to enter the try-out which will be conducted as before.

University of Wisconsin

A modern "town and gown" row was precipitated last week at the University of Wisconsin, when students of the University tried to throw a town boy into Lake Mendota, mistaking him for a fellow student. In the resulting street fight 300 students battled with several hundred citizens, despite the cooling powers of the streams from several fire hydrants, which the city fire department directed into the crowd of combatants.

C. R. Wm. He" President of the University, stood firm for the four students arrested and addressed the 1500 students who surrounded the University, trying for battle and persuaded the mob to disperse.

Harvard University

Six hundred or more youths entering Harvard College as freshmen this year will be housed, fed, humanized and educated together in splendid structures owned by the University and specially contracted to provide an environment at once more fraternal and paternal (from the college official standpoint) than has been seen in Cambridge for several years. This is the beginning of Harvard's Anti-Caste policy.

The latest registration reports from the colleges of the Northwest give the following: Reed College, 250; Willamette University, 420; Washington State College, 600; University of Oregon, 710; Oregon Agricultural College, 1310; University of Washington, 2450.

University of Oregon

The girls of the University of Oregon are to have an athletic field of their own. This field will have accommodations for golf, hockey, baseball, and volleyball, in addition to a track, a portion of the field to be leveled for folk dancing.

The pathetic, but dignified rules of College Hall at Wellesley still stand. They will be removed this fall. About $250,000 is still lacking for the completion of the endowment and restoration fund of Wellesley College. A temporary zoology laboratory has been constructed, while the geology department will remain in the former kitchen of College Hall, the only part of the building not completely destroyed by fire. Over 470 new students have registered this fall.

Princeton University began its 154th year September 24th with about 500 freshmen. Several faculty changes have been made. Prof. W. P. Waymouth has a two years' leave of absence in order to act as constitutional advisor to the president.

Dr. John J. Putnam, a man of wide experience, is Associate Professor of Bacteriology. He took his B.S. degree at the University of Denver in 1904 and his M.A. degree in 1906. Mr. Putnam was Fellow in Chemistry at the University of Chicago in 1906-1907, and reappointed for 1907-1908. In practical work Dr. Putnam was foreman of a cyanide plant for the El Rayo Mining & Development Co. of Santa Barbara, Chihuahua, Mexico, 1908-1909, and chemist and assayer for the Indo Gold Mining Co. of India, Durango, Mexico, in 1910-1911. Since that time Dr. Putnam has been at the University of Nebraska, holding successively the following positions: Assistant Bacteriologist, Instructor Bacteriology, Adjunct Professor Bacteriology, Assistant Professor Bacteriology, and Doctor of Philosophy.
CHOOSING A PROFESSION

In every walk of life we meet people whom after being engaged in their profession for many years, like those in those professions, and are content in them, but others, because they do not think they hold the right position in the world, think they do not have the greatest pleasure in their work because they have found the work for which they are best fitted. In view of these facts it becomes a question of great concern to every person who is desiring to choose a profession in which he may work. It is to be expected that many different views will be held in regard to the conditions under which the greatest pleasure may be derived from the work. These views are based on the idea of the individual seeking to make a success of his work by doing the job which he is best fitted to do. It is to be expected that many people will be interested in the work because they have found the work for which they are best fitted. CLASS SPIRIT

At the opening of each new year, there is always manifested a certain amount of class spirit. This is characterized by a desire to excel in the class and to do the very best work. This is due to the fact that the class is composed of individuals who have been selected for their abilities, and who have been trained to do the work which is expected of them. The class spirit is a very commendable one, and should be encouraged and supported. Whether in the conduct of one's personal life or in the conduct of the class, it is important to remember that the class is composed of individuals who have been selected for their abilities, and who have been trained to do the work which is expected of them.

Already the registration for the four-year courses has passed the high water mark of any heretofore and the present numbers will increase completely before the end of the semester.

On last Saturday evening Omega Pi entertained a party in honor of their pledges. The chapter house was the scene of the delightful affair and was effectively decorated with Virginia creepers for the occasion. GETS NEW LOCATION

Comfortable quarters are provided for the Argonaut office in Room 3 in the School of Mines building. A room 10x16 has been partitioned off in one corner of the large recitation room. This office will be occupied jointly by the T. M. C. A. and the Argonaut. Up to this time the office of the Argonaut has been—if there has been such a thing—in the room now occupied by Dr. Shattuck. Since the College of Science, a great deal of disturbance. It is true, had to be endured by Dr. Shattuck and we are very much indebted to him for his kindness in permitting us to occupy his office until quarters were provided. The new office will be open to any member of the staff. It will also be open to those who wish to read the exchanges from other colleges. These exchanges will be kept on a rack in the office and we encourage the students to come and read them. It is a very good way to get acquainted with the spirit of other student bodies by reading exchange and, too, it may give rise to suggestions which would be beneficial to our own college pa-
