Next phase of budget cuts begins

Senate approves tuition change

Norway to New York: UI students get a lesson in United Nations

CONSTRUCTIVE SPRING BREAK

CONSTRUCTIVE SPRING BREAK

Vandal Friday

High School students invited to invade university campus

The University of Idaho

INDEX

TO 1934

ARTICLES

Buck, 3

Cover, 2

Opinion, 2

Technical, 2

DATE

TUESDAY

March 27, 2000

ISSUE

03-28

STREET

11-36

ARGONAUT

THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

argonaut.uidaho.edu

CONTACT THE ARGONAUT | News Editor Gail Raftery (208) 885-7715 or arg.editor@uidaho.edu | ADVERTISERS IN THIS ARGONAUT | (208) 885-7944 or advertising@uidaho.edu | ON THE WEB | www.argonaut.uidaho.edu

Norway to New York: UI students get a lesson in United Nations

BY CHESLEY REYNOLDS

A

B

C

D

E

F

G

H

I

J

K

L

M

N

O

P

Q

R

S

T

U

V

W

X

Y

Z

This month has been quite eventful for John Schimpf, but in-depth research into the impact of Norwegian policies on their country is the primary pay off this year.

Spalding, a senior psychology major, will be spending the week of May 15-18 in Norway as a participant in the Language and Cultural Exchange Program. The program was established in 1993 by UI's Academic Exchange Office and the city of Tromso, Norway. The program allows five students of UI to each spend a semester studying and living in Norway, while five Norwegian students come to the United States to experience American culture while studying.

"I've always been interested in international relations, especially how people in different cultures interact and how that impacts politics," Schimpf said. "This opportunity to stay in a foreign country for a semester was the chance I was looking for." He also decided to take the opportunity to pursue his other interest in psychology, as there are some fascinating differences in the way Norwegian and Americans go about daily life.

The program begins with a week-long orientation in Tromso, where Schimpf and his fellow participants will live in the same apartments, attend classes, and get an overview of the Norwegian education system and culture. The five Norwegian students who will have been with Schimpf for a week will leave Tromso on May 15, and the UI students will not rejoin them until May 26. Schimpf will then travel on to Okeham, where he will be housed with a Norwegian family for the next five months. He will stay with the family through the school year, living with them and attending classes in the same school as the family's Norwegian children.

"My goal for the next five months is to fully immerse myself in Norwegian culture," Schimpf said. "I intend to be completely comfortable with the language and to really understand it. I don't have the luxury of just being an observer, I'm going to be a part of the culture."

Schimpf will spend his time in Tromso attending classes at the University of Tromso, as well as participating in extracurricular activities and socializing with Norwegian students. He will be taking a variety of courses in psychology, as well as learning about Norwegian culture and society.

After spending a week in Tromso, Schimpf will travel to a small island off the coast of Norway, where he will spend the remaining five months of the semester.

"I've always been interested in international relations, especially how people in different cultures interact and how that impacts politics," Schimpf said. "This opportunity to stay in a foreign country for a semester was the chance I was looking for." He also decided to take the opportunity to pursue his other interest in psychology, as there are some fascinating differences in the way Norwegian and Americans go about daily life.

The program begins with a week-long orientation in Tromso, where Schimpf and his fellow participants will live in the same apartments, attend classes, and get an overview of the Norwegian education system and culture. The five Norwegian students who will have been with Schimpf for a week will leave Tromso on May 15, and the UI students will not rejoin them until May 26. Schimpf will then travel on to Okeham, where he will be housed with a Norwegian family for the next five months. He will stay with the family through the school year, living with them and attending classes in the same school as the family's Norwegian children.

"My goal for the next five months is to fully immerse myself in Norwegian culture," Schimpf said. "I intend to be completely comfortable with the language and to really understand it. I don't have the luxury of just being an observer, I'm going to be a part of the culture."

Schimpf will spend his time in Tromso attending classes at the University of Tromso, as well as participating in extracurricular activities and socializing with Norwegian students. He will be taking a variety of courses in psychology, as well as learning about Norwegian culture and society.

After spending a week in Tromso, Schimpf will travel to a small island off the coast of Norway, where he will spend the remaining five months of the semester.

"The University of Idaho's financial situation is different from other Idaho universities," President Tom White said.

"We have to look at what is best for the university," White said. "We can't just look at the bottom line. We have to think about the future of the university and what is best for our students."
UI third in National Merit finalist recruits

BY BOB DAREBECK

We're number one! Or rather, we're number two.

University of Idaho has been named among the top three in the West for the third consecutive year in the National Merit scholarship winner category. This year, UI is ranked third among Western universities.

UI ranks third among Western universities in the number of National Merit Scholarship winners it produced this year, with 34 students earning the prestigious award.

The University of Washington was first with 36 finalists, and the University of Oregon was second with 32.

UI topped schools such as Montana State, Oregon State and Washington State University in the rankings.

The rankings continue to demonstrate the quality of students attending at the University of Idaho, Darebeck said.

"The Merit Scholarship is a high and very well regarded honor," Darebeck said. "It truly reflects the quality of our students and their potential for success.

The scholarship is given to students who demonstrate academic excellence and have a strong potential for success in college. It provides financial assistance to students who have excelled in their education and are committed to achieving their academic goals.

The National Merit Scholarship Program is one of the largest and most prestigious scholarships in the country.

The program is open to high school students who are U.S. citizens or permanent residents.

To be eligible for the scholarship, students must have a minimum GPA of 3.4 and must be ranked in the top 10% of their graduating class.

Students must also write a personal essay and be recommended by their high school principal.

The University of Idaho has a long history of producing National Merit Scholarship winners, with 200 students being named as finalists since the program began in 1955.

The University of Idaho's National Merit Scholarship recipients are:

1.快速浏览文章内容和相关问题，然后生成自然语言的回复。
Don’t side-step students

The University of Idaho administration announced plans Tuesday before Spring Break that it would cut $2.5 million in a fiscal year when student enrollment is expected to increase. President Tom White took over the University with the promise to make it a safer campus.

We always find (it’s better) to have more people on a Friday. It's traditionally shown that there's less chance of an incident if we do it at the end of the week." The administration has to be seen to act on the increase in student enrollment and it has to know there is less chance of students raising their objections, or protesting, about the cuts if there are no students here.

When White and the rest of the administration, if they have been open to student input. They have asked students individually to talk in the fall to the president’s office and to the administration’s president of the students. Abortion has won an early victory.

This sort of dirty politics was expected from the previous administration. All the decisions in the last year or so have been on the cusp of controversial. President Couey was elected on the promise to make the campus physically safer.

The university would have preferred to make a cut to the Arts budget, but that would have meant increasing the cost of tuition. This is a big problem for the administration and it is a big problem for the society.

The timing of the new bill

Children should be better protected

In a letter to the president of the American Psychological Association, the APA has proposed a comprehensive approach to protecting children in the United States. This approach would be designed to prevent child abuse and neglect in all its forms, and to promote the well-being of children and the families in which they live.

The APA recommends that all states adopt and enforce laws that provide for the protection of children and that these laws be enforced. The APA also recommends that all states establish a system for the reporting of abuse, and that the system be accessible to all who may be at risk.

The APA further recommends that all states ensure that all healthcare providers are trained in identifying and responding to child abuse and neglect.

In addition, the APA recommends that all states provide funding for prevention programs that are designed to reduce the risk of child abuse and neglect.

The APA also recommends that all states provide funding for treatment programs that are designed to help children who have been abused or neglected.

Finally, the APA recommends that all states provide funding for research programs that are designed to understand the causes and consequences of child abuse and neglect.

The APA believes that this comprehensive approach to protecting children is essential to ensuring the well-being of children and the families in which they live.
Munchy’s Hookah Hook-up

Pullman hookah bar offers an alternative to the traditional smoking scene

By Christine Navaero

Hookah bars have become a thriving social activity for many people, as seen in Pullman. A hookah bar and sandwich shop in Pullman, Munchy’s provides a social activity and tasty experience to college students and community members. In the words of Munchy’s owner, Chris Kazimie, and his wife, Dixie, who is Munchy’s manager, it is "an intimate place." Munchy’s has added a hookah bar to the shop, offering a unique experience for customers.

Kazimie and his wife, Dixie, have been running Munchy’s for three years and have found that customers enjoy the hookah bar. "We have been doing this for about a year and half," said Kazimie. "It’s been a great addition to the shop and has brought in a new clientele." The hookah bar is located next to the entrance and is open during regular business hours.

There are many benefits to having a hookah bar. "It’s a great way to socialize and unwind," said Kazimie. "People can enjoy their favorite flavors and relax in a comfortable setting." The hookahs are easy to use, and the staff is always on hand to help customers.

Kazimie and Dixie also enjoy the atmosphere that the hookah bar provides. "We love seeing people come in and enjoy their hookahs," said Dixie. "It’s a great way to meet new people and have a good time." Munchy’s has a diverse selection of hookah flavors, including apple, cherry, and vanilla.

Kazimie and Dixie have also found that the hookah bar is a great way to bring in new customers. "We have seen a significant increase in business since we added the hookah bar," said Kazimie. "People love the experience and keep coming back for more.

Munchy’s is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Sunday. They offer a variety of hookah flavors, including apple, cherry, and vanilla. The shop also offers a selection of sandwiches and salads.

If you’re looking for a unique and relaxing experience, Munchy’s is the place to be. Stop by for a hookah and a sandwich, and enjoy the intimate atmosphere.

Munchy’s Information

Munchy’s Hours

Monday - Saturday: 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Sunday: 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Location

420 E Railroad Ave., Pullman, WA 99163

Phone: (509) 335-3850
Website: munchys.com
KASABIAN

“Kasabian” is a numbing pool of barbed, aggressive post-punk, and regretfully, at its strongest moments, it’s also a bit predictable. With aid of textural hooks and a fine sense of dynamics, the band is able to reach the peak of British Spaifar Arabs. The opening track, “In the Air Tonight,” sets the stage for the sonic journey that will lead us to the nightclubs of the world.

Atmospheric, with a touch of melancholy, the band delivers a performance that is both thought-provoking and emotionally ingratiﬁcating.

King gives spiritual performance at the Spokane Opera House

By Tom Banks

The Argonaut

King’s performance at the Spokane Opera House was a moment of pure emotion. The audience was captivated by King’s raw talent and powerful vocals. The performance
was a testament to King’s musical journey and the passion
that drives his art.

The performance

King’s performance was not only a musical display, but also a timeless moment of
connection with his audience. The audience was motionless, completely engrossed in the powerful performance.

About

King’s performance
at the Spokane Opera House was a timeless moment of
connection with his audience. The audience was motionless, completely engrossed in the powerful performance.

The Argonaut

King’s performance at the Spokane Opera House was a moment of pure emotion. The audience was captivated by King’s raw talent and powerful vocals. The performance
was a testament to King’s musical journey and the passion
that drives his art.

The Argonaut

King’s performance at the Spokane Opera House was a moment of pure emotion. The audience was captivated by King’s raw talent and powerful vocals. The performance
was a testament to King’s musical journey and the passion
that drives his art.

The Argonaut

King’s performance at the Spokane Opera House was a moment of pure emotion. The audience was captivated by King’s raw talent and powerful vocals. The performance
was a testament to King’s musical journey and the passion
that drives his art.

The Argonaut

King’s performance at the Spokane Opera House was a moment of pure emotion. The audience was captivated by King’s raw talent and powerful vocals. The performance
was a testament to King’s musical journey and the passion
that drives his art.

The Argonaut

King’s performance at the Spokane Opera House was a moment of pure emotion. The audience was captivated by King’s raw talent and powerful vocals. The performance
was a testament to King’s musical journey and the passion
that drives his art.

The Argonaut

King’s performance at the Spokane Opera House was a moment of pure emotion. The audience was captivated by King’s raw talent and powerful vocals. The performance
was a testament to King’s musical journey and the passion
that drives his art.

The Argonaut

King’s performance at the Spokane Opera House was a moment of pure emotion. The audience was captivated by King’s raw talent and powerful vocals. The performance
was a testament to King’s musical journey and the passion
that drives his art.
No films draw fan filmmaker's like "Star Wars"

The modern "Star Wars" films began with the 1977 film "Star Wars," released in time for Christmas. In 1980, "The Empire Strikes Back," and in 1983, "Return of the Jedi." In "Star Wars," the director George Lucas combined elements of science fiction, fantasy, and adventure in a saga that spanned a large galaxy and included starship battles, adventurous heroes, and a dark, ominous evil force. The films were successful at the box office and became cultural phenomena, inspiring a wide range of fan creations and interpretations.

Bumping anemic ratings requires "Deeper" measures.

The commercial success of the "Star Wars" films has inspired a proliferation of fan projects, ranging from fan films to fan art exhibits. However, many of these projects struggle to attract audiences or generate buzz. The challenge for these projects is to find ways to stand out in a crowded marketplace and connect with the fan base that has been nurtured around "Star Wars." This can be achieved through innovative storytelling, unique perspectives, and strong execution. By focusing on these elements, these projects can build a following and create a lasting impact in the fan community.
Vandal women earn track, field All-Americans

By Rebecca Stone (1997)

Ike's Manual Kurrat and Rickie Phipps received All-American honors for their distinguished finishes in the NCAA Track and Field Indoor Championships March 1-21 in Fayetteville, Ark.

Kurrat finished third in the 3,000-meter run with a season-best time of 8:52.80, while Phipps took fifth in the 1500-meter run with a time of 4:09.27.

Kurrat was the 800-meter run with a time of 2:09.20 and had the third-best showing mark in the 1,500-meter run with a time of 3:51.48.

"I just felt it was coming together," Kurrat said. "I had a lot of practice last week and I felt it was going in the right direction.

"I just felt it was coming together, and when we get up this year, I think we can do a lot better."
The Idaho women’s tennis team beat New Mexico Saturday afternoon in the University of Idaho Tennis Complex.

The Idaho women’s tennis team was 9-3-0 overall and 4-0 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

New Mexico was 0-14 overall and 0-5 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

The Idaho women’s tennis team beat New Mexico Saturday afternoon in the University of Idaho Tennis Complex.

The Idaho women’s tennis team was 9-3-0 overall and 4-0 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

New Mexico was 0-14 overall and 0-5 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

The Idaho women’s tennis team beat New Mexico Saturday afternoon in the University of Idaho Tennis Complex.

The Idaho women’s tennis team was 9-3-0 overall and 4-0 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

New Mexico was 0-14 overall and 0-5 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

The Idaho women’s tennis team beat New Mexico Saturday afternoon in the University of Idaho Tennis Complex.

The Idaho women’s tennis team was 9-3-0 overall and 4-0 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

New Mexico was 0-14 overall and 0-5 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

The Idaho women’s tennis team beat New Mexico Saturday afternoon in the University of Idaho Tennis Complex.

The Idaho women’s tennis team was 9-3-0 overall and 4-0 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

New Mexico was 0-14 overall and 0-5 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

The Idaho women’s tennis team beat New Mexico Saturday afternoon in the University of Idaho Tennis Complex.

The Idaho women’s tennis team was 9-3-0 overall and 4-0 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.

New Mexico was 0-14 overall and 0-5 in the Big Sky Conference. The Idaho women’s tennis team won the first point of the match and didn’t lose a set the entire match.
Upsets galore cap a wild NCAA weekend

BY DICK JARRETT

Reno-Nevada Times

(NET) — It was an emotional Saturday night that I was wondering of the NCAA Tournament's ups and downs.

Then, I began with Vermont knocking out Syracuse. And it never really changed. From there, I got the idea that just about the best way never had a heart in the Big East. I mean, just about the best way.

My mind isn't just about the best way.

COMMENTARY

We've heard them before, the comments about what that's like for the teams who went the best, 64 to 96 times. Michigan State, of course, had the last two years.

But unlike the last two years, we now look at the way we have our one shining moment, getting there and staying there. That's a shining moment. That's a shining moment.

The tournament. We need these Mondays.

And for so many of us, when our tournament, our papers were announced during one of the worst five weekends even. Only for a while, for a while, for a while, for a while.

BET BEST

Daniel B. R. Johnson led his team 14 down in the first round against Churchill and was brilliant down the stretch.

Sunday's upset of Connecticut, making the winning streak in the Big East.

North Carolina State's Mario Williams produced the most memorable play of the night. The 22-year-old, 20-year-old, 20-year-old.

And the Wolfpack had two-overtime victory over Kentucky.

BET GUARD EFFICIENCY

Texas Tech's Starks and West produced the best points.

_BET FIBEST MATCHUP_

UC Irvine is in the Final Four because it's a Final Four team that never turns the ball over.

WEIRDEST

There is where it spreads the floor, shoots loves and loves the more than the Division.

Texas Tech in those because of Big

Ranger's intestine orange and got some other

BET BEST SENIOR

North Carolina's Zeller led his team 23 down in the first round against Churchill and was brilliant down the stretch.

And the Wolfpack had two-overtime victory over Kentucky.

BET GUARD EFFICIENCY

Texas Tech's Starks and West produced the best points.

_BET FIBEST MATCHUP_

UC Irvine is in the Final Four because it's a Final Four team that never turns the ball over.

WEIRDEST

There is where it spreads the floor, shoots loves and loves the more than the Division.

Texas Tech in those because of Big

Ranger's intestine orange and got some other

BET BEST SENIOR

North Carolina's Zeller led his team 23 down in the first round against Churchill and was brilliant down the stretch.

And the Wolfpack had two-overtime victory over Kentucky.

BET GUARD EFFICIENCY

Texas Tech's Starks and West produced the best points.

_BET FIBEST MATCHUP_

UC Irvine is in the Final Four because it's a Final Four team that never turns the ball over.

WEIRDEST

There is where it spreads the floor, shoots loves and loves the more than the Division.

Texas Tech in those because of Big

Ranger's intestine orange and got some other

BET BEST SENIOR

North Carolina's Zeller led his team 23 down in the first round against Churchill and was brilliant down the stretch.

And the Wolfpack had two-overtime victory over Kentucky.