Students attempt to conquer the indoor climbing wall at Memorial Gym.

The histrionics in the United States experienced a small increase in the late 1990s but histrionics have been getting more prominent in 25 consecutive years and have fallen in 50 of the past 60 years.

American fertility has fallen steadily for two centuries, not recurring because of the decline during the world War II baby boom, and so has fertility in Idaho. Even though the population of Idaho is roughly 13.6 million and the fertility rates are dropping, the publication "World Resources: An Guide to the Global Environment" predicts the population of Idaho in 36.6 million by the year 2023.

Becky Shlider, a founder of the organization, said, "We should balance the university's budget on the basis of faculty of any kind," Huntley replied. Huntley claims Idaho faculty salaries in general are about 13.5 percent lower than those of comparable institutions. He has proposed $8 million in additional funding for faculty salary increases. It is unclear as to whether or not teaching assistants are included in his proposal.

Huntley is a proponent of moder- cented associate degree programs. He said he would like to see "more

Gubernatorial candidate Huntley visits Moscow

By Steven Huntley

Although Democratic gubernatorial candidate Bob Huntley has a five-point position statement as higher education, he won't say how the University of Idaho and its students would specifically benefit from his government.

The UI alumni association in Moscow now meets at the "empty chairs," where about 50 alumni attend- ed. Unfazed to debate Senate Democratic Leader Dirk Kempthorne, Huntley is holding the forums across Idaho in an effort to get his message out.

Among the issues presented to Huntley were salaries at the UI.

Graduate student Association President Brian Pestrin informed Huntley that UI teaching assistant stipends are well below those at comparable institutions.

"We shouldn't let the university's budget on the basis of faculty of any kind," Huntley replied. Huntley claims Idaho faculty salaries in general are about 13.5 percent lower than those of comparable institutions. He has proposed $8 million in additional funding for faculty salary increases. It is unclear as to whether or not teaching assistants are included in his proposal.

Huntley is a proponent of modercented associate degree programs. He said he would like to see "more

"Bob has a 99 percent chance of surviving the recession if we breach the dunes," Huntley said. Huntley is the only person calling for a major strike in the Pacific Northwest who is supporting the breaching of dunes on the Lower Snake River to increase salmon and steelhead runs.

"The Idaho National Engineering and Environmental Laboratory should have two missions," Huntley said. Clearing up radiation waste "would give them a job for 10 years," and developing a new generation of nuclear reactors -- the Integral Fast Reactor -- "would take way to the future for the country."

"Money is needed for new school facilities and roads in Idaho," Huntley said, by lowering the tax they will lower consumer prices and eliminating many of the value tax exemptions. The money will stay at the local level, he said, "incentivize" toward those and improve congestion and commerce. "The Russian people figured out 50 years ago that one-party government wasn't too good," he said.

Judge meeting on Clinton and Lewinsky

By Peter Vast

Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) President Clinton's lawyers were preparing a new, point-by-point defense today as Senate Majority Leader Tom Daschle said lawmakers were "inclined" to hear new evidence in the impeachment trial.

However, the House White House counsel is about to begin interviewing Monica Lewinsky, and House Speaker Newt Gingrich said today in Atlanta, lawmakers this week will begin hearing campaign and public opinion in their deliberations.

Since the Lewinsky scandal broke in January, Clinton's popularity has remained high. But some polls taken a few hours after the House voted overwhelmingly to release Starr's report concluded that Americans now say the president should resign. Americans say the president should resign, according to the latest Public Opinion Poll conducted by the Gallup Organization, the president's approval ratings are now at 44 percent, an 11 percentage point decline since the last survey.

The latest ABC News poll taken Friday evening says 57 percent think he should resign, 23 percent say he should remain, and 20 percent say he should resign, according to the latest Public Opinion Poll conducted by the Gallup Organization.

The president is expected to meet with his lawyers this afternoon to discuss the possible strategy of his defense.

"We have a man who's supposed to represent the United States of America, and he's said, "Let him run the country,," Steve McGinnis, 42, in Lincoln, Neb., but "I think they're doing a wonderful job. He made a mistake."" For Clinton lawyer David Kandel, "The amount of, I don't want to say, 'legitimatizating' is too much."

An afternoon memo from Clinton's office, "is not a

"See Clinton, page A3"

In Sports, Vandals pull away for Saturday win

Check inside for shuttle bus schedule

Sports, A5

Gubernatorial candidate Huntley visits Moscow

By Steven Huntley

Although Democratic gubernatorial candidate Bob Huntley has a five-point position statement as higher education, he won't say how the University of Idaho and its students would specifically benefit from his government.

The UI alumni association in Moscow now meets at the "empty chairs," where about 50 alumni attended. Unfazed to debate Senate Democratic Leader Dirk Kempthorne, Huntley is holding the forums across Idaho in an effort to get his message out.

Among the issues presented to Huntley were salaries at the UI.

Graduate student Association President Brian Pestrin informed Huntley that UI teaching assistant stipends are well below those at comparable institutions.

"We shouldn't let the university's budget on the basis of faculty of any kind," Huntley replied. Huntley claims Idaho faculty salaries in general are about 13.5 percent lower than those of comparable institutions. He has proposed $8 million in additional funding for faculty salary increases. It is unclear as to whether or not teaching assistants are included in his proposal.

Huntley is a proponent of moderate associate degree programs. He said he would like to see "more

"Bob has a 99 percent chance of surviving the recession if we breach the dunes," Huntley said. Huntley is the only person calling for a major strike in the Pacific Northwest who is supporting the breaching of dunes on the Lower Snake River to increase salmon and steelhead runs.

"The Idaho National Engineering and Environmental Laboratory should have two missions," Huntley said. Clearing up radiation waste "would give them a job for 10 years," and developing a new generation of nuclear reactors -- the Integral Fast Reactor -- "would take way to the future for the country."

"Money is needed for new school facilities and roads in Idaho," Huntley said, by lowering the tax they will lower consumer prices and eliminating many of the value tax exemptions. The money will stay at the local level, he said, "incentivize" toward those and improve congestion and commerce. "The Russian people figured out 50 years ago that one-party government wasn't too good," he said.

Gubernatorial candidate Huntley visits Moscow

By Steven Huntley

Although Democratic gubernatorial candidate Bob Huntley has a five-point position statement as higher education, he won't say how the University of Idaho and its students would specifically benefit from his government.

The UI alumni association in Moscow now meets at the "empty chairs," where about 50 alumni attended. Unfazed to debate Senate Democratic Leader Dirk Kempthorne, Huntley is holding the forums across Idaho in an effort to get his message out.

Among the issues presented to Huntley were salaries at the UI.

Graduate student Association President Brian Pestrin informed Huntley that UI teaching assistant stipends are well below those at comparable institutions.

"We shouldn't let the university's budget on the basis of faculty of any kind," Huntley replied. Huntley claims Idaho faculty salaries in general are about 13.5 percent lower than those of comparable institutions. He has proposed $8 million in additional funding for faculty salary increases. It is unclear as to whether or not teaching assistants are included in his proposal.

Huntley is a proponent of moderate associate degree programs. He said he would like to see "more

"Bob has a 99 percent chance of surviving the recession if we breach the dunes," Huntley said. Huntley is the only person calling for a major strike in the Pacific Northwest who is supporting the breaching of dunes on the Lower Snake River to increase salmon and steelhead runs.

"The Idaho National Engineering and Environmental Laboratory should have two missions," Huntley said. Clearing up radiation waste "would give them a job for 10 years," and developing a new generation of nuclear reactors -- the Integral Fast Reactor -- "would take way to the future for the country."

"Money is needed for new school facilities and roads in Idaho," Huntley said, by lowering the tax they will lower consumer prices and eliminating many of the value tax exemptions. The money will stay at the local level, he said, "incentivize" toward those and improve congestion and commerce. "The Russian people figured out 50 years ago that one-party government wasn't too good," he said.

Gubernatorial candidate Huntley visits Moscow

By Steven Huntley

Although Democratic gubernatorial candidate Bob Huntley has a five-point position statement as higher education, he won't say how the University of Idaho and its students would specifically benefit from his government.

The UI alumni association in Moscow now meets at the "empty chairs," where about 50 alumni attended. Unfazed to debate Senate Democratic Leader Dirk Kempthorne, Huntley is holding the forums across Idaho in an effort to get his message out.

Among the issues presented to Huntley were salaries at the UI.

Graduate student Association President Brian Pestrin informed Huntley that UI teaching assistant stipends are well below those at comparable institutions.

"We shouldn't let the university's budget on the basis of faculty of any kind," Huntley replied. Huntley claims Idaho faculty salaries in general are about 13.5 percent lower than those of comparable institutions. He has proposed $8 million in additional funding for faculty salary increases. It is unclear as to whether or not teaching assistants are included in his proposal.

Huntley is a proponent of moderate associate degree programs. He said he would like to see "more

"Bob has a 99 percent chance of surviving the recession if we breach the dunes," Huntley said. Huntley is the only person calling for a major strike in the Pacific Northwest who is supporting the breaching of dunes on the Lower Snake River to increase salmon and steelhead runs.

"The Idaho National Engineering and Environmental Laboratory should have two missions," Huntley said. Clearing up radiation waste "would give them a job for 10 years," and developing a new generation of nuclear reactors -- the Integral Fast Reactor -- "would take way to the future for the country."

"Money is needed for new school facilities and roads in Idaho," Huntley said, by lowering the tax they will lower consumer prices and eliminating many of the value tax exemptions. The money will stay at the local level, he said, "incentivize" toward those and improve congestion and commerce. "The Russian people figured out 50 years ago that one-party government wasn't too good," he said.
Cecil Andrus

Book Signing

Tuesday, September 22
1:30 pm
Univ. of Idaho Bookstore

FIVNCEIVLS OF SOUND RETIREMENT INVESTING

RECENTLY, MORNINGSTAR CALLED US CHEAP.
IT'S NOT EVERY DAY YOU GET A COMPLIMENT LIKE THAT.

A financial company charges operating fees and expenses—some more than others. Of course, the less the expenses, the better. That way, more of your money goes where it should—toward building a comfortable future.

We make low expenses a top priority.

As the largest retirement plan in the world—a mutual fund company focused exclusively on the financial needs of the educational and research communities—our expenses are among the lowest in the American mutual fund industry.

In fact, TIAA-CREF's 0.16% average expense ratio is less than half of the average expense charges of comparable funds. It's why Morningstar—use of the ratings focusing mainly on safety and related financial information—tells us “TIAA-CREF is cheaper than any other

Tuesday, September 22
1:30 pm
Univ. of Idaho Bookstore

Book Signing

Cecil Andrus, the immensely popular governor of Idaho from 1970 to 1994 and former U.S. Secretary of Interior, tells it like it is in his frank and perceptive memoir of his life as a Western politician. During his time in office Andrus became one of the key players in shaping the agenda of the "New West" to include both prosperity and conservation. Disciplined, single-minded, charismatic, and quick-witted, Andrus reveals how a good politician can follow his conscience and still survive.

Look for his new book to arrive Saturday, Sept. 19th

Phone: 885-6469
E-mail: ulbooks@uidaho.edu

Moscow Extended Weather Forecast

Friday

Mostly Cloudy
HIGH: 73°
LOW: 54°

Saturday

Cloudy
HIGH: 65°
LOW: 45°

Sunday

Sunny
HIGH: 66°
LOW: 43°

Monday

Sunny
HIGH: 74°
LOW: 43°
Academic honesty and diversity ways both

By Scott McAlister

Every student who attains an esteemed academic train "the talk" for the first day of classes about academic honesty. I generally relate to plagiarism, cheating, and the like, and I wouldn’t be surprised if you wouldn’t either. However, when it comes to the faculty, academic honesty a two-way street or an attitude that students should live up to, with professors not fretting free riders. These answers that need discussion.

I have heard throughout my years at UAlbany various complaints about a certain group of foreign professors who were unable to speak English. I, myself, have been very fortunate enough to attend classes among whom I could clearly understand what the professor was saying. It is difficult for me to speak English, at least, so this has not been a problem for me. Nonetheless, it appears to be a genuine difficulty for many of us. I think it is perfectly reasonable that you would be concerned. I think that the students, who are in the language, should have a chance to help to better communicate. I am not sure why this is an issue. Students win this situation. Students win, students are taught, and students are taught. As long as we are not sure about what is necessary, we as students must respect the administration’s decision.

Now, I have been fortunate enough to attend classes among whom I could clearly understand what the professor was saying. It is difficult for me to speak English, at least, so this has not been a problem for me. Nonetheless, it appears to be a genuine difficulty for many of us. I think it is perfectly reasonable that you would be concerned. I think that the students, who are in the language, should have a chance to help to better communicate. I am not sure why this is an issue. Students win this situation. Students win, students are taught, and students are taught. As long as we are not sure about what is necessary, we as students must respect the administration’s decision.

Actor Tommy Lee Jones recently spoke at the University of Texas where he talked about his life in Hollywood and his experiences as an actor. He also mentioned his upcoming role in the movie “The Color Purple.”

Guest Commentary: Questions for Greg Mulllen

By Brent Villemaire

I admire the level of enthusiasm Greg Mulllen has for trying to do the right thing. And I agree with him that “in times of trouble, it is our duty to stand up against those who are larger than ourselves.” Unfortunately I found his article is last Friday’s Against more than that it calls to action of students. In fact, it was not an editorial with advice that I had to read to get the gist of it. The idea of the article was that it is hard to say a type of “typical” opinion. They seemed to the political and economic system of the US. So I respect him in simple terms, I thought it was a good read:

1. “The gap between rich and poor is steadily growing. It’s one of the major problems facing our society today. Suppose the poor’s well-being is not being fully reflected in the stock market. How are the poor fare worse off?” or What if the well-being of the poor is increasing but in a less than the rich will do that. How Wladimir H. It’s a moral and social problem that the rich are better off. As the poor are getting poorer, or whether the rich are helping the poor is getting richer.

2. “The state of the economy is bad for American farmers and workers.” This is a decade. But which workers and farmers? Is it the labor unions that labor for safety and quality to protect their artificial market share, which they would probably be run out of business? Or is the trade had for the millions of consumers who pay those prices above what they would pay if the trade were allowed. The sum of the wages of farmers and workers who were hired by import restrictions is the amount of labor power and in much the same way the government intervened to control an individual’s level of demand, the world would be able to generate all this wealth. Without the ability to understand what is necessary, they won’t be able to share it with any other.

3. How is helping in a soup kitchen a “selfless” action? Suppose I go off and labor for an hour talking on a phone and “generous” enough to a donation is never being honored by the students by hiring professors who speak the language. In this case, they break their own standards. Since students are generally forced to reveal their fans at the beginning of an argument or essay, I would tell my students that the professors should be asked. Most students are not aware of the professors who are speaking a second language. Even if instructors who are not aware of the language are asked, the professors should be asked as well. Any talk is academic dishonesty. In any time, we must always understand that the students must be aware of the language.

Coalition of students who were asked to be honored by students by hiring the professors who speak the language.

Student Government: Questions: Getting’ the girl

By Bob Phillips, Jr.

University of Idaho / Argonaut

About three months ago, I decided to enter into the world of dating. This is not the good of the dating population of Moscow when I removed myself from its reach. Basically, I was tired of being turned down, if the lady in question even bothered to answer me at all. However, there is a place to build in the world of women that I notice. It was in this period of intense watchfulness that I noticed some items essential to the success for any guy who is looking for a date. In this instance, let’s define dating as “looking for a spouse” as opposed to simply “going out.”

First, some myths need to be dispelled. They, the woman, claim they are “playing hard to get.” And they’re right. Cynna’s butt. Women are interest- ly more superficial than men, and I can’t blame them. Uhh this summer. In his defenses, truth, enough that I think they are moving directly to Salt Lake City is bound to have a great impact on our culture shock, he may have been a bit of a slut, but I still think he was right. They were the ones who have the power, and I don’t think they were ever those who are interested in the same level of relationships as they were those who did not get what a good but looks on a guy, and of the cases explained to me, but anyway, that’s what they want.

Next, “That just yourself” lie is a load of crap. If you tell me in the future we are not only, they will go to sports bars and just pick up from the bar, but from the game, I am not in the mood for anything, we will try to find a way to help you. For instance, you are a freshman student, every student at UAlbany can use these services just ask a faculty or staff member of your school for information.

Some things to consider: It is not too early to begin thinking about your future career or getting a job. Consider the options available to you. For example, you have to know how to get a job, we will be ready to fill out the form, but they also say that they want honor. Not just toe, and not too to the point. Meanwhile, the work. Finally, much of dating is communi- cation, but be aware of the constant, you are not as their gender. For instance, the difference in your appearance that you are doing, or your “daring,” or our version of risk careful. Some people can be, this is to say that women. But today, there is more in the world that is more follows the language than necessary, but that’s just personal opinion. Good luck, and next time, we will talk about the fishing as a girl in.

Academic honesty and diversity ways both

By Scott McAlister

Every student who attains a respectful university "the talk" for the first day of classes about academic honesty. I generally relate to plagiarism, cheating, and the like, and I wouldn’t bother on either. However, when it comes to the faculty, academic honesty a two-way street or an attitude that students should live up to, with professors not fretting free riders. These answers that need discussion.

I have heard throughout my years at UAlbany various complaints about a certain group of foreign professors who were unable to speak English. I, myself, have been very fortunate enough to attend classes among whom I could clearly understand what the professor was saying. It is difficult for me to speak English, at least, so this has not been a problem for me. Nonetheless, it appears to be a genuine difficulty for many of us. I think it is perfectly reasonable that you would be concerned. I think that the students, who are in the language, should have a chance to help to better communicate. I am not sure why this is an issue. Students win this situation. Students win, students are taught, and students are taught. As long as we are not sure about what is necessary, we as students must respect the administration’s decision.

Now, I have been fortunate enough to attend classes among whom I could clearly understand what the professor was saying. It is difficult for me to speak English, at least, so this has not been a problem for me. Nonetheless, it appears to be a genuine difficulty for many of us. I think it is perfectly reasonable that you would be concerned. I think that the students, who are in the language, should have a chance to help to better communicate. I am not sure why this is an issue. Students win this situation. Students win, students are taught, and students are taught. As long as we are not sure about what is necessary, we as students must respect the administration’s decision.

Actor Tommy Lee Jones recently spoke at the University of Texas where he talked about his life in Hollywood and his experiences as an actor. He also mentioned his upcoming role in the movie “The Color Purple.”

Guest Commentary: Questions for Greg Mulllen

By Brent Villemaire

I admire the level of enthusiasm Greg Mulllen has for trying to do the right thing. And I agree with him that “in times of trouble, it is our duty to stand up against those who are larger than ourselves.” Unfortunately I found his article is last Friday’s Against more than that it calls to action of students. In fact, it was not an editorial with advice that I had to read to get the gist of it. The idea of the article was that it is hard to say a type of “typical” opinion. They seemed to the political and economic system of the US. So I respect him in simple terms, I thought it was a good read:

1. “The gap between rich and poor is steadily growing. It’s one of the major problems facing our society today. Suppose the poor’s well-being is not being fully reflected in the stock market. How are the poor fare worse off?” or What if the well-being of the poor is increasing but in a less
Thomas knows the long road to success

By Matt McGee
University of Idaho Argonaut

Team sports, teamwork, hard working, unrelenting, tough--all of these words have been used to describe one of the most honored student-athletes to play for the University of Idaho.

Senior running back Joel Thomas and his seniors have shown that the work ethic, recognition of their responsibilities, and fighting spirit that characterizes a senior is exactly what Thomas and the Vandals will need the most this season.

This year, the Vandals will lose their top two rushers in Matt Frazier and his backup, Ryan Christianson, so Thomas's success will be a key to the team's success. Thomas will be counted on to lead the Vandals back to the NCAA title game, which the Vandals were within two quarters of winning in 1998.

Joel Thomas hopes to use his six years of experience with the Vandals tomorrow as Idaho and Washington State clash at Martin Stadium.

X-country heads to Pasco

Courtesy of Sports Information

This weekend, the men's and women's cross country teams will face their biggest challenge so far this season as they travel to the Big Cross Invitational in Pasco, Wash.

On one of the only races designed specifically for cross country events, the Idaho teams will face five nationally ranked teams.

The Idaho teams have made a strong debut this season, and placed second at the Cardinal Classic in Spokane and seventh in the north before hosting their own meet last weekend on the UI campus.

"This year's team should be better than last year's," UI cross country coach Wayne Phillips said.

Phillips is especially pleased with the performance of his freshman runners.

Junior looked strong in his first collegiate meet, taking third at the Harvest Classic. Juniors had a disappointing performance at the Idaho Meet at the University of Washington, Seattle, State, Oregon and the University of Portland.

A film about Difference.

student union programs presents...

"MA VIE EN ROSE" a french film by ALAIN BERLINER giving in the sub mar theater, saturday night at 7 p.m.

tickets are $1 and available at the door.

DAD'S WEEKEND SALE

All Hats Off For Dad

Find out what's new in the field of Vision

Affordable Prices, Expert Vision Care, Friendly Staffing.

For only $29.50, you can enhance your vision and your appearance at the same time.

Find out what’s new in the field of Vision

PARIS VISION CENTER

George Parks, O.D., P.A.
Specializing In LASIK, Cataract and Sports Glasses

New Patients Welcome, Same Day Appointments Available.

playing with fire, 24-7.

808 nm.

DAD'S WEEKEND SALE

All Hats Off For Dad

20%

Find out what's new in the field of Vision

Affordable Prices, Expert Vision Care, Friendly Staffing.

For only $29.50, you can enhance your vision and your appearance at the same time.

Find out what’s new in the field of Vision

PARIS VISION CENTER

George Parks, O.D., P.A.
Specializing In LASIK, Cataract and Sports Glasses

New Patients Welcome, Same Day Appointments Available.

playing with fire, 24-7.

808 nm.

DAD'S WEEKEND SALE

All Hats Off For Dad

20%
Want some gravy, fool?!?

A movie review by Kristen Parmalee
University of Illinois Argonne

Stella Payne is a hard-working, imaginative young woman who lives and looks like she's always looking for a new adventure. It seems like the movie "Gravy?" is the perfect one for her, as she and her friends are preparing for a skiing trip. However, the trip doesn't go as planned, and Stella finds herself in a dangerous situation.

The film's director, Wally Goldberg, has a strong sense of humor, which makes the movie enjoyable. The story of "Gravy?" is told through the eyes of Stella, and her friends, and it's clear that the movie is meant to be funny. Stella is a bright and cheerful young woman who is always looking for a new adventure. She's not afraid to take risks, and she's always ready to try something new. The movie's main character, Stella, is played with charm by Wally Goldberg.

In addition to Wally Goldberg, the movie also features several other talented actors, including Gregory Peck and Jennifer Beals. The chemistry between the actors is strong, and it helps to make the movie even more enjoyable. The film's score is also a highlight, and it's sure to add to the overall enjoyment of the movie.

Overall, "Gravy?" is a fun and enjoyable movie that's sure to delight audiences of all ages. It's a great choice for a movie night with friends or family, and it's sure to be a hit with anyone who loves a good laugh. So go out and see "Gravy?" today, and be ready for a fun and entertaining evening.
TOSHIBA NOTEBOOK GIVEAWAY
Sponsored by the UI Computer Store and the University America: resellers of Off-Lease computers 486 PROTEGE EQUIPPED WITH:
- Active Matrix Screen
- 14.4 MODEM
- Windows 95
- Carrying Case
10 Other Prizes:

Other: 3Com 14.4 Modem Modern
Register now at the Computer Dept. in the UI Bookstore
Drawing held at the UI Staff Appreciation Fair
Sat. 25th at 3:00PM
UI Faculty and Staff can also register during this event 885-6469
upcstore@uidaho.edu

TWO WEEKS.

Share Your Faith
A Religious Directory

Campus Christian Center
822 Eim Street
(208) 882-2536
A co-operative Protestant ministry to students, staff and faculty www.hocast.org/parish/portfolio/CCCC.htm
Email: ROCstudent@cc.com

The United Church of Moscow
American Baptist Disciples of Christ
123 West First St. 83834-2954
Rogier C. Lynn, Pastor
(208) 885-7819
Open 9am to 5pm weekdays
and at 10:00 on Sundays

First Presbyterian Church
455 S. Van Buren • Moscow 83842-4192
Pastor: Dr. Jim Faret
jfaret@pacificnorthwest.edu
Worship Service: 8:30 am
Sunday School: 10:15 am
Worship Service: 11:00 am
Customer Church Hour
http://www.churchhour.net/puih

St. Augustine’s Catholic Church & Student Center
Sunday mass: 8:30 am and 5:00 pm
Daily Mass: 7:00 pm in Chapel
Wed reconciliation: 4:00-5:00 pm
Saturday Rosary: 6:30 pm
Confessions 8:45-9:00 pm
The Rock Church
216 W 3rd St, Moscow
(208) 883-4354
Weekly Worship: 10:30 am
Sunday Service: 7:00 pm
http://www.sundaylive.net/mos
A Bible based, Spirit-lead, non-denominational fellowship

Calvary Chapel
Twin Cities
116 W 9th St in Pullman
(5150 community Center/ Old Pullman High School Music Room)
Come join us for a service by verse study through the Word of God
Sunday Worship: 10:30am
Calvary Chapel Pullman- Moscow
for more info call George Kennedy
(208) 777-1994

classifieds
The Restaurant Guide
Welcomes UT Dads!

Buffet Days!!
All You Can Eat PIZZA!
(11 A.M.-9 P.M.)
Serve Yourself Mon. thru Sat. 11-2 and Mon. Nights 5-9
We Serve You Wed. 5-9 and Sun 11-9

-On Sundays watch all the best NFL games here-
2 big screens and 5 little, ALL with Direct TV!
100 W. Polaca Rd. 882-8888

Casa de Oro
Cantina & Restaurant
WE WOULD LIKE TO WELCOME ALL
U OF I DAD'S,
FAMILY,
FRIENDS, AND ALUMNI
Best Mexican Food North of the Border
GOOD LUCK Casa de Oro
VANDALS!
415 S. Main • Moscow • 883-0536

Welcome to School Special

The Pizza Pipeline's got the brain food you're looking for!

16" Large Pizza
One item plus 2-22oz soft drinks only $7.99

12" Small Pizza
One item plus 1-22oz soft drink only $5.99

14" Medium Pizza
One item plus 1-22oz soft drink only $6.99

Sub Sandwich
Any sub with a bag of chips and 1-22oz soft drink only $5.00

CALL THE HOT-LINE 882-8808

Studing too hard? Too tired to cook?
We can help!
- Daily Lunch Special
- Kids Eat For 95¢ on Sundays
- Ask About Our Monday BAR SPECIAL!

Denny's
$1 DRAFTS & WELLS
(Bud Light, Henry's Light, Henry's)
ALL DAY - EVERY DAY!!!

LONE JACK
STEAK COMPANY
Highway 95, Potlatch, ID
(208) 875-1421

JUST SAY...

GYRO, SALADS, SOUP, NACHOS, PALAFEL,
TABOULI, BLACK BEANS, HUMMUS

GYRO: a mouth-watering combination of beef, lamb and spices, broiled to perfection and served on a grilled pita with:
cucumber-yogurt sauce, diced onions, lettuce & tomato.

Welcome Idaho Dads!