SECOND APPEARANCE OF MUSICAL ORGANIZATION RECEIVES LIBERAL SUPPORT

Audience Appreciative — Soldouts
Make Hit—All Numbers Encored

After its successful trip thru the northern part of the state, conquering all pestsimasts and musical cranks by the way, and winning a lasting reputation for the University, we might have expected our Glee Club to come back quite spoiled. But fortunately it has not. It has returned to our protecting bosom just as good as it went away, if not a little better, and all the nice things that have been said about it do not seem to have turned ed its head. Thursday evening the Glee Club proved this to the satisfaction of everybody. Most of the numbers were new to the University audience, and everybody appreciated the energy and diligence which had made this possible. The program was as follows:

1. Winter Song — Bollard
Encore! Prefects — Adams
U. of I. Glee Club
2. A Spirit Flower — Campbell
Lipton
Encore: To My First Love — Lohr
Mr. John Brigham
3. The Rosary — Nettl
Encore: The Little Pickaninn
Glee Club
4. Perio. Waltz Song — Archil
Encore: Irish Green — Direct
Miss Evelyn Cox
5. Kentucky Babe — Gobel
Encore: All Kinds of Girls — Kratz
Miss Alice Campbell
Male Quartet
Mr. Jean Gerlough, first tenor,
Mr. Lawrence F. Stone, second tenor,
Mr. C. R. Buffalo, baritone, Mr. E. K. Humphries, bass
6. Misvere Scene from "Il Trova."

RECEPTION

in honor of Mrs. Langhart and Miss Skinner, Omega Pi, was held on May 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cox. The society is particularly fortunate in possessing quarters admirably adapted for entertaining, and the rooms looked especially handsome on the evening of their large and well managed reception.

The reception rooms were tastefully decorated in potted plants. The dining room table showed a color scheme of yellow and white. A huge basket of double daffodils was surrounded by candles covered with dainty yellow shades. Miss Stephens, Miss Bashaer, Miss Muller and Miss Lublin presided in turn. The receiving line was composed of Miss Kjosness, Mrs. Langhart, Miss Skinner, Miss Woods, Mr. Breonnen, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. E. Bass, Mr. Gerlough, Mr. Pittenger also gave several pleasing selections on the violin.

STUDENTS ATTEND LUNCHEON

It has been the custom of the Moscow Chamber of Commerce during this semester to include five University students as guests at the regular public Tuesday luncheon. This is a courtesy cordially appreciated by these students who have been chosen to represent the University on these various occasions. The following men accompanied President Brannon to the luncheon on Tuesday, March 26th:

TRACK TEAM
WORKING HARD

NEW MEN ARE RAPIDLY GETTING INTO SHAPE FOR FIRST CONTEST

First Track Meet of Season May 1—
W. S. C. vs. Idaho at Moscow

"Yes, Oregon will probably have a remarkable team this year," said Coach "Heck" Edmundson recently in speaking of the prospects of the various Conference track teams. "O. A. C. is strong. Well, I don't know but I think they will probably be rather mediocre. W. S. C. has been materially weakened by the loss of their bright lights in the weights and the sprinters. It is true that our team was small, but the addition of Thompson, the pole-vaulter who shattered the Idaho interscholastic record last spring, "Some of the Idaho men have been showing good stuff already. I have held the watch on some of them from a few minutes and I do not wish to give out the exact time made I will say that in some cases it has been very satisfactory.

"Moscow has run a good 220 and Massey has sprung thru a strong 440. Buck Phillips has been hurling the javelin in better form than he did at any time last season and Gerlough has stepped a mile under 5 minutes.

The coach has been working hard to straighten up the standing of the Glee Club, the string quartet, the vocal ensemble, the orchestra, the Debaters and the Piano Ensemble. The orchestra has been rehearsing, and the Debaters have been preparing for the debate with the University of Montana. The Piano Ensemble is working hard to get the concert off to a good start.

The piano ensemble has been going strong and Lakeview, another Freshman, has shown well in the 220.

The team's schedule has not been definitely arranged as yet but will be done before the first meet is set.

Y. M. C. A. ADVISORY BOARD OFFICERS AND OFFICERS ELECT MEET AT LUNCHEON

Work of Year Reviewed—Plans For Most Extensive Work Discussed

The Young Men’s Christian Association of the University held its annual election on Tuesday of this week. The following men were elected: William R. Rockwell, president; Kenneth Collins, vice president; Harry Kilbourne, sec-} reetary; and Lloyd Killerton succeeds himself as treasurer.

The advisory board met at a luncheon with the old and newly elected officers on Wednesday—none as discussed by the association during the past year. It may be pertinent to state by way of explanation that the advisory board of the Y. M. C. A. consists of two faculty members, one member of the city board, and two business men. This board co-operates with the General Secretary and Cabinet of the Y. M. C. A. in the work of the association. The members of this board are Professor Elbridge and Arthur, Rev. H. A. Meader, Mineral, and Collins.

At the luncheon, reports were made by General Secretary Leonard True, and Lloyd Killerton, and by the presiding president. Financial reports will appear in the Argonaut in the near future so as to give those interested an idea of the business affairs of the organization.

The annual Y. M. C. A. convention will this year be held on the Papal Sound resort and is planned to have a progressive program new from Idaho. At least eight men are expected to be sent. It is to be hoped that a large number will respond so that the force of excitations to assist in the work next fall will be of great consequence.

Comment of the advantages and we may add necessity for the president of the association to attend the con-} vention convention, the Y. M. C. A. is discussing ways and means of sending the president-elect, Mr. Bousfield to the convention this summer.

SLUMBER PARTY

Saturday night after the Coed dance some of the Gamma Phi Beta girls had a "slumber party" for their friend of the evening. The girls who were there are as follows: Alice Burke, Muriel Beamer, Edna Harrington, Helen Palmer, Mildred Lillibridge, Hattie Murray, Bertha Poyet, and Miss Farnsworth.

SPRING SONG

Steadywalk a-singin’ like he’d beat his head and high—

Systhills’s a-comin’ mighty soon! Systhills like he’d learn his Linds’ to high—

Steady’s a-comin’ mighty soon! Systhills’ in the nearest while you take your morns’ nap.

Steady while it’s rainin’ like he didn’t care a rap. Systhills’ while the sunbeams is stirrin’ up the grass.

Oh! Systhills’ a-comin’ mighty soon—

Dear heart,

Steady’s a-comin’ mighty soon! Hail the feast and a-singin’ in the ripening field.

Laughin’ at the pale old moon. Chickin’ an’ a-singin’ like they thought they was a witch.

Laughin’ at the pale old moon. Moon just kind of glows while they partly spill their throats.

A-singin’ and a-singin’ in a hundred different notes.

With their slippers in the pockets of their little green coasts.

A-singin’ at the pale old moon—

Hail! Hail!

A-singin’ at the pale old moon.

Every folks a-singin’ in the bright sunshine.

Steady’s a-comin’ mighty soon.

Whenever there’s a fellow with his—where’s mine?

Steady’s a-comin’ mighty soon.

Every bird’s treasure knows that God’s a God of love.

And all our high affections is descendin’

LETTER FROM DR. W. CURTIS BRODHEAD

Dear J. G. Eddy.

University of Idaho.

Moscow, Idaho.

Dear Professor Eddy: It was my pleasure to be present at the intercollegiate Debating Contest between the University of Idaho and the University of Southern California. The boys did splendidly.

I regret exceedingly that I did not know that they were coming until they were here. I am sure I could have entertained them to some advantage.

I will consider it an honor if in the future when Idaho meets women or men are in Los Angeles I may be interested in the contest.

I had a fine visit with the boys and it was greatly refreshing to hear from the T. O. and I am interested in the future purpose you and your family on the character and dignity of the boys they have sent to Southern California. Very truly yours,

W. CURTIS BRODHEAD.

"If it isn’t an Eastman, it isn’t a Kodak"
Not all of us are privileged to know of the talent which we find among students of our own student body unless by chance or by habit as thus genuine interest we come into the Assembly room during the assembly period. We were pleasantly and probably entertained during the entire hour of assembly.

Willard McDowell gave a reading of Mark Twain's, "How I Edited An Agricultural Paper." One could readily picture the truth and correspondence which the new agricultural editor promised, so vividly did Mr. McDowell portray the scene. The interpretation was very real.

Miss Driscoll favored the assembly with a vocal solo which was enthusiastically applauded. The assembly address was one of vital and appealing interest to every one. Rev. Geo. Fowler spoke of "Miss in the Making" touching upon the great physical and mental changes through which he has gone.

We are living in a critical age, an age of investigation. Authority no longer holds the realm it used to hold. Dogmatism holds sway. The five-word has not been spoken in anything for things are not taken for granted in science, religion, economics, history—we want to investigate. This is evidence of the growth of man who is still in the process of making.

In the process of making of man all the forces of nature have been worked. Man is physical and mental and spiritual. Apes have been concerned in the making of the physical man. For centuries strength of body dominated and might made right. Even now the outcroppings of this spirit of might is seen in the struggle for supremacy in the old world, but whether the outcome, if it be because of strength, will be right, is a different question. Man was made to be a better after truth, for the mysteries above and the mysteries below him.

What of the development of the mental man? It is a long way from the cave dweller to an Aristotle, but there is a vast difference between Socrates of Tarsus and Socrates, the Emperor of Rome. It is a long distance from the cave dweller to the man of today, but there is a vast difference between the Czar of Europe and Jesus of Nazareth. Men are impelled along this pathway of progress by necessity. While nature may overwhelm man by its power, still, man is greater because he understands the force which crushes him whether it be the cyclone of the earthquake, the thunder and self-consciousness which man has cannot be destroyed.

So deep has man delved into science that often it has become his religion. And why not? It takes as much faith to be a scientist as to be a religious man for the facts of science are constantly being disputed. After physical and intellectual development what comes next? The man with intellect alone is only a brute. The exercise of the wrath of man worked out by his intellect, we see in implements of destruction. A cultured nation may be a brutal nation. Intellect has made not only implements of war but built up corporations to grind out the lives of people—for power and self-aggrandizement. The making of unarmed ships with passengers from many countries—what better is that than cannibalism?

So we have that other element in man which has been getting. Every one given up its life in order to give his life to another. If it would save its life, it must lose it. And so with man. Gradually the lesson is dawning upon him that his life must be given in usefulness to others. Never has a man in the history of the world exhibited the people against war, as the present one. The time will come when truth, justice, and right living will rule. It will mean the cooperation and solidarity of the human race. Man was crowned with body, intellect, and the higher spirit for the purpose of cooperation—finding his life by losing it, sitting down as a brother with his fellow men.

BRICKLEY WILL COACH AT JOHNS HOPKINS

Charles E. Brickley, Harvard's football captain for the season of 1914, has accepted a position to coach the football team at Johns Hopkins, for next fall. Although the great drop kick has signalled his intention of actually coaching the Johns Hopkins squad, he has not signed any sort of a contract, and will not do so until he receives his degree from Harvard in June, as he does not wish to injure his standing in any way while in college.

Baseball

The baseball season is progressing very rapidly and soon we will find ourselves in the field of the thrilling contests—how? Are we filled with the intense enthusiasm that is so essential and that is well worth the price of admission? Are we prepared to give the team our best support? To do this it is the first place essential to feel within ourselves that we are ready to enter the game with the knowledge that our team has developed that undefinable "something" without which the team feels as tho the situation is indifferent. Interest in athletics is in the work that the coach and team are doing can in no case be manifested in the game only. First of all shows that we are in sympathy with their efforts by watching them work by encouraging them by taking cheeringly and encouragingly to the men and coach, and by every other means possible we should help put the proper "spin" into those activities.

There are activities fostered by the school and are indeed very commendable activities. It behooves us therefore to make the best of the wonderful chances that we have this spring to make good in baseball. Our men are excellent in the best of shape and the men we have are not all embryo material in the baseball field either so we have a look for a successful season to represent us in the coming season.

Come on and see them practice, since the game of baseball would be of interest to the best of the teams the rest of the season and it will take care of itself. The food is the daily Administrative atmosphere generously supplied.

Camps Changes

From time to time numerous changes are made about the campus. At the present time there are plans being made to beautify the surroundings in front of the Administration building and other places on the crest of the hill.

Stakes have been set along the walk from the Main to Redbird Hall and it is planned that trees will soon be planted. Some benches of the latest and most recent improved varieties will be placed, and ornamental flowers will be added to adorn the surroundings.

The students should take pride in the way they look and the way they move. No possibility to maintain it in the best appearing condition. It is no difficult to find it once a part of the management of the campus in the past. We are aware that a little more judgment and personal kindness are to adorn the surroundings.

A MOST TIMELY DREAM

A freshman white out walking in the Arboretum, just north of the athletic field, became fascinated and finally sat down to take a little rest. He sat in between the row of copper mountains covered with the frozen trees, and the clouds of mist slowly ascending from the base of the hill which the sun's warm rays spread across the fields.

Everything was so pleasant that he fell asleep and soon, in his undisturbed slumber, he commenced to dream, so he says, that "I saw some men walking on the field. They were, it appeared to me, really wheeling dirt, levelling the second preliminary to seeding and making the most beautiful terraces around the field that it is possible to imagine. I saw baseball games played on the turf and what a change it had really made from the old athletic field where the teams were wont to prowl around in the mid month almost inside deep. I saw the referee actually go out and find the teams. After all the time we had been out there, the needed deliberation was forced to retake the scene thereof in the pleasant dreams.

It is a very timely suggestion that the Freshman has to offer us in the way of paying more attention to the beautifying of our athletic field. There is perhaps no college in the west, or any other part of the Tiber, that has such a splendid field as we have. It has its natural beauty that we ought to work for. The proper improvement, however, rests with us and rather than dissipate the Freshman should we make it possible for him to realize his dream and appreciate the suggestion timely as it is, that he has so generously given us.

Such dreams are possible even at the expense of cutting a class.

Senior Law Students Pass State Bar Examination

Ah-ha! Yes, attorneys-at-law now. We all know that the one of the things we could have undergone John D. of steeling for the milk from his neighbor's doors at any time during the past year but those three Senior men have to show the depth of their capabilities when their capabilities were and they journeyed to Lewiston for that purpose.

They went, they saw, and they all passed the examination with more than creditable averages. In fact Chief Justice Sullivan made them some very complimentary remarks in telling them that they had passed, saying that their work had been unusually good.

There were 102 questions in the exam. The applicants were written at 9 o'clock and with one hour and forty-five minutes they concluded until 10:30. According to statements made by the petitioners, they each wrote a good sized volume.

The following are the men ready to defend any Idaho student in any court in the state: Charles K. Hoernig of Grandville, John L. of McEwensville and Grandville, John L. Phillips of Lewiston, Arthur L. Heer of Silver City, James Donnell of Fort Hall, and George Donnell of Cambridge. Mr. Donnell decided not to return for his degree and went directly from Lewiston to his home in Cambridge.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PLANS FOR COMMENCEMENT

On Tuesday evening, March 9th, the Alumni Association met to discuss plans for the entertainment of Alumni during commencement week and particularly for Alumni Day which will be Monday, June 4.

The plans include many features. First there will be the celebrated alumni parade, followed by alumni games, a luncheon on the campus, and then the inspection of the buildings. In the evening there will be the big banquet, the big occasion of the day.

The executive committee has charge of the plans and is working hard to make Alumni Day this year a big one in the history of the University of Idaho and a basis for establishing this memorable custom.

The annual Alumni paper will be published in the near future, possibly in two or three weeks.

IDAHO DEBATE ROLL OF HONOR

UNIVERSITY HAS ENGAGED IN FIFTY-FIVE INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATES — THIRTY-THREE VICTORIES—TWENTY-TWO DEFEATS

SEVENTY-FIVE MEN ARE OWNERS OF DEBATING INSIGNIA "I"

Since the present debating season has been brief to such a brilliant close we consider it only fitting and proper to give a short history of intercollegiate debating at the University.

Since the first Intercollegiate debate Idaho has, to the present time, engaged in 55 debates of which 33 have been victories and 22 defeats. Among the colleges and universities with which it has competed are 12 in number and are as follows: Whitman College, University of Washington, Washington State College, University of Utah, Utah Agricultural College, University of Oregon, Oregon Agricultural College, University of Southern California, Wiltsette University, University of Montana, Pacific University and Gonzaga University.

Since debating has been made an intercollegiate activity at Idaho three men have very generously sacrificed time and effort, without extra remuneration, to the work of coaching: Prof. H. T. Lewis, who came to Idaho last year; Dr. Robinson, head of the Economics Department, 1913-14; and Prof. Edward M. Hulme, who has been at the University for thirteen years. Aside from his duties at the head of the History Department, Professor Hulme has found time to write a history of the Renaissance period which has received very favorable comment from the non-scholarly men of today and which has been adopted as a text book in many universities and colleges as: Carleton, Trinity, Wabash, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Decatur, and four or five others. He has also coached the college debating teams in eleven and one half years. During this time four or three debates have been engaged in of which twenty-eight were victories and fifteen defeats.

This is a remarkable record and it is with a great deal of pleasure that we learn of the possibility of securing Mr. Hulme as our worthy counselor in forensic work for the next two years to come. If this is made possible the good work will continue to grow and the splendid records that Idaho has made in intercollegiate debate bids fair to continue in its forward march. The students and the number of debates in which each has engaged are as follows:

POETIC INSTINCT

In the morning bright and early,
If you're feeling rather wary,
Don't forget to smile.
If by chance your temper quickens,
And the clouds begin to gather,
Don't forget to smile.
If to your class you'd chance to go,
And you'd be feeling kind of "na,"
Don't forget that smile.
If you happen to be late,
A few minutes after eight,
You may need that smile.
In thru the door you might make stop,
And awaken in the prof his pep.
And then who'd smile?
And in her face be'd slant the door.
And spilt her looks upon the floor.
And sing, "As revile," — XX '14.

DEPUTATION TRIPS MARKED SUCCESS

MEMBERS OF LOCAL Y. M. C. A. MAKE WEEK END TRIP

Meetings Good—Attendance Large—Reception Commendable

One day Tom Leonard had a vision of a trip to Troy, so he and a few fellows found their way down there. On a trip to Troy, one might find the biggest thing hadn’t been done. Was that some little thing to Troy? And he made up his mind if they’d keep him here, and save him the cost of a round-trip fare. He’d rather be a Trojan than a millionaire. So we left him in the town of Troy.

The deputation to Troy under the direction of the Young Men’s Christian Association met with a very hearty reception. Friday evening was devoted to the work of arousing interest in the University, and in spite of other conflicting entertainments a number of people turned out to hear J. W. Pond’s talk on the subject “One Thing or Another” a subject chosen as the speaker explained, because anything he might say would apply to him and could not be accused of rambling. C. J. Michel and R. W. Wiese had charge of a display of varsity literature, which aroused considerable interest on the part of the young ladies—whether in display or displayer is an open question. Taylor helped out with his violin, and the evening finished with a sketch by a hitch of words to that effect.

On Saturday afternoon Julius Nordby took some of the more masculine members of the rising generation out for a hike, bringing them back as the poet said, “with not wiser men.”

The spelling match held Saturday night to select representatives for the big match here gave the members of the deputation a chance to get better acquainted with the people of Troy and their excellent school system.

On Sunday afternoon religious services were held in the Methodist church, since it afforded the largest seating capacity, and a great deal of interest was shown in this most important side of the work of the Young Men’s Christian Association.

In many ways the trip was a success. The young men who composed the delegation and their leader, Tom Leonard, were very hospitably entertained by the people of Troy. But now it is our turn to return the favor by entertaining the eighteen members of the Senior class in the Troy High School who are planning to come down to hear Helen Keller and look the University over at the same time. We owe them a good time, and they’re just the jolly bunch to appreciate it.

Get busy.

The University of Idaho

PURPOSE—To render service to all of the people in Idaho all of the time and in every possible way.

EQUIPMENT—A faculty of men and women of high ideals and thorough training; laboratories and a library which make modern and exact training in languages, sciences and philosophy possible.

ORGANIZATION AND WORK—There are four colleges in the University of Idaho: Letters and Sciences, Agriculture, Engineering, and Law. Special opportunities for research are made possible by the Agricultural Experiment Station and other science laboratories, particular and state-wide service in Home Economics, Boys’ and Girls’ Clubs, Field Demonstrations in all subjects pertaining to the widely diversified agricultural extension staff.

Instruction and demonstration has been taken to more than twenty thousand people in Idaho during the past year by means of the extension work. If all of the people cannot come to the University, then the University wishes to go to all of the citizens of the state.

AGRICULTURE

Dr. P. P. Peterson of the Soils Department, and G. D. Center, of the Extension Department, were at the experiment station at Sandpoint last Sunday and Monday. They are making some very instructive demonstrations on the growing of flax, the use of gypsum on land for various crops of crop rotation.

L. H. Seymour, a graduate of the class of 1913 in Agriculture, visited for a few days with friends of the University. He is now located at Onisko, Mo., where he has charge of a large orchard propagation.

“Jim” Lockhart has a fine position with the Independent Creamery of Salt Lake City, and writes that he is getting along splendidly.

ALONG THE ROAD—

wandered a mile with Fields. She shivered all the way.

But left me on the wiser. For all she had to say walked a mile with Sorrow.

And never a word said she; but oh the things I learned from her.

When Sorrow walked with me?

Why all Idaho college students should attend their own university:

1. It is their own University. It belongs to every man, woman, and child in Idaho. No tuition is charged. The state appropriates approximately one hundred dollars annually toward the education of every student enrolled in the State University.

2. The cost of living is modest. It should not exceed $350 to $400 per year for a student coming from any part of the state.

3. It is democratic. Many students carry their own living while attending the University. A recent survey shows that over $16,000.00 were earned by students while in residence this year.

4. It is the best University in America for men and women who expect to engage in the business and civic life of Idaho. Here is the group of men and women who represent state loyalty. Here is the place for plain living and high thinking. This is the people’s University. Here are being trained your associates for future state leadership in business, in state development and in right living.

Louis Denning, Homer Youngs, Sam Morrison, Hodley Eltinge, and "Monty" West left Tuesday morning for Walla Walla to attend the installation of the Washington Beta Chapter of Phi Delta Theta, at Whitman College.

On Wednesday evening, March 24th, the Brannons entertained at a delightful reception in honor of the faculty. Daffodils formed the decorations and gave the house a charming air of spring. During the evening excellent refreshments were served.

Mr. S. K. Denishing, who was formerly a student in the University and present-ent of the Associated Foresters, gave a talk to the Foresters Monday afternoon.

He told of his work with the Panhandle Lumber Co. at Spirit Lake, and gave a very clear picture of the lumbering operations, and of what the student is up against when he goes to work for a lumber company.

In compliment to Misses Leauphart and Miss Skinner, guests of Omega Pi, Miss French entertained them at a hospitably appointed luncheon on Saturday at half after one. Covers were laid for twelve. The color scheme was red and white and the center piece was a beautiful bowl of red carnations. The guests were Mrs. Cliff Edighoffer, Mrs. Clarence Edighoffer, Mrs. Geo. Downey, Mrs. M. W. Griffin, Miss Earl David, Mrs. Wm. E. Lee, Miss Heathermon, Miss Wood's, Miss Rodwell, Miss Skinner and Mrs. Leauphart.

CIVIL DANCE Saturday evening saw one of the jolliest parties of the year, the Coed dance. The gym wore the festive air of a mixed grill celebration, and the color and variety of costumes made watching almost more fun than dancing. It seemed as if every imaginable character was represented from gay cavaliers and somber sparrows, to noisy clowns and very realistic little boys, from attilally Julianas to gypsies and circus riders. It was astonishing, you know, how the fair co-ed often wore off her mustache and her Irish collar, and how admirably she filled up her partner's program and got her punch!

Interperspersed between dances were some very clever stunts, the first of which was a shadow play by the faculty ladies. Miss Brashem read "Lorchov" and the other acted it out, so that, by an arrangement of lights behind, their shadows fell on a large sheet, stretched in one corner of the room. "Suspicious Identities" was another stunt, which caused a great deal of amusement. Some of the girls gave characterizations of different campus people, and the object was to guess who they represented. The "value-offs" were so good however, that they did not require much guessing. Edna Harrington of Miss French was curiously clever. Then there was a three-ring circus and a society basket-ball game, which everybody laughed over and enjoyed.

Patch and punch were appropriately "eats" for such a back-to-nature party, and they went like the proverbial hot cakes. It was splendid that almost every girl in college was there, and that every girl had a glorious time.

Who said that the girls couldn't have a successful dance, anyway?

DEMOCRACY VS. ARISTOCRACY

The question of the democracy of Yale and New Haven, as compared with the aristocracy of Harvard and Boston, has been revived by the Rev. Dr. Samuel C. Bucknell of Boston, prominent Yale alumnus, and Dean Jones of Yale. Dr. Bushnell made it public at the banquet of the Water-
