Weather
Expect some cold November rains in the next few weeks, but maybe sunny.

ASUI hopefuls debate issues
By Steven Harwell
University of Idaho-Argo

Student fees and what to do with them were on the minds of many last Friday afternoon for ASUI officials. The Senate debated student fees at a meeting yesterday.

The issue pained a stark contrast between student fees and fee transparency for providers.

Mahmood Shafi, current finance council rep, would like to see a graduate student fee (IFWH) raised rate and tax would be easier to explain for students. The tax would be a great recruiting tool for the school.

Shafi also reserves a major issue affecting students who live on and off campus. He said that the tax to campus security and the chairman of the Idaho school of police is a concern.

Moreau Browning, president, disagreed. "It's a bad idea. There should be a parking fee for people who park on campus, and I'm not just talking about students." He said that this would cost students.

When it comes to Senate districting, Browning and "It's very much like your campus. He rejected the idea of the Senate districting. "We have to be more active in the community and transportation to help the students," he said.

All of the Senate candidates felt they had the leadership experience and know-how to represent all the students. Even some campus at both.

Ned Samuel would like to improve the "Phish" lounge, in the University of Idaho Library, is an excellent place for students to take a break and study.

Police captain resignes because of drug use
By Depe Dahl
University of Idaho-Argo

Moscow Police Captain Dale McGinnis resigned Friday after admitting to the use of marijuana.

According to his attorney, Moor Moore, McGinnis's admission came after being investigated by the Idaho Bureau of Investigation for non-mandatory activities. Moore said the investigation was asked at the request of the City of Moscow, although he did not know why.

McGinnis's conduct violated the MPD's internal rules and policies. Moore said McGinnis's fall had been brought to the town's attention about a month ago.

McGinnis had been using marijuana while going through a drug rehabilitation program, Moore said. "It's his hope that he's got the problem under control and he won't ever face a personal crisis," he added. McGinnis has chosen to resign because of his continued use of a licensed personal.

McGinnis began his employment with the Moscow Police Department in 1993. He has worked as a Detective and Patrol Officer, and has held the position of commanding officer for the University of Idaho. His last assignment was Operations Division Commander. Moore said McGinnis did not plan to continue in Law Enforcement.

ASUI hopefuls debate issues
By Steven Harwell
University of Idaho-Argo

Student fees and what to do with them were on the minds of many last Friday afternoon for ASUI officials. The Senate debated student fees at a meeting yesterday.

The issue pained a stark contrast between student fees and fee transparency for providers.

Mahmood Shafi, current finance council rep, would like to see a graduate student fee (IFWH) raised rate and tax would be easier to explain for students. The tax would be a great recruiting tool for the school.

Shafi also reserves a major issue affecting students who live on and off campus. He said that the tax to campus security and the chairman of the Idaho school of police is a concern.

Moreau Browning, president, disagreed. "It's a bad idea. There should be a parking fee for people who park on campus, and I'm not just talking about students." He said that this would cost students.

When it comes to Senate districting, Browning and "It's very much like your campus. He rejected the idea of the Senate districting. "We have to be more active in the community and transportation to help the students," he said.

All of the Senate candidates felt they had the leadership experience and know-how to represent all the students. Even some campus at both.

Ned Samuel would like to improve the "Phish" lounge, in the University of Idaho Library, is an excellent place for students to take a break and study.
ASU Elections: The Candidates

President

Adam M. Bromberg
I had the best experience of any candidate running for any office in this election. I have been very busy Vice President and have made a lot of friends here. If elected, I will continue to be involved in clubs and parts of organizations. I will also be a big advocate for students that want to work with ASU. My main objective is to run as open and inclusive as possible with everyone. We need to work together to make ASU better. I would be a strong advocate for ASU. My main goal is to be president for as long as you want to stay with me.

For the Senate

Baucus Sanders
Currently, I am serving my second semester as chair of ASU's Environment. I have attributes like organization and communication. I have lots of experience with various organizations and I love to work with people. I am here to do what is right for ASU. I am very passionate about the environment.

Senator

Ronald Mitchell
I am a junior in Political Science and Criminal Justice. I have lived in Idaho for my entire life. I currently serve in an ASU Senate at the University. My accomplishments while serving as a senator include: coordinating the food drive, running the political campaign for ASU's president, and being on the finance committee. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Vice President

Bria Byl
I am a junior in Political Science and Criminal Justice. I have lived in Idaho for my entire life. I currently serve in an ASU Senate at the University. My accomplishments while serving as a senator include: coordinating the food drive, running the political campaign for ASU's president, and being on the finance committee. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Secretary

Dana Birt
As a junior at the University of Idaho, I feel that I am a strong choice for ASU Senate. I have been involved in leadership experiences in various organizations and clubs. I believe that I can serve you well. I am an effective listener and have experience in various leadership roles. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Treasurer

Elizabeth Boecker
I am a sophomore at University of Idaho studying Business Administration. My main goal is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Communications Director

Ryan Williams
I am a junior in Political Science and Criminal Justice. I have lived in Idaho for my entire life. I currently serve in an ASU Senate at the University. My accomplishments while serving as a senator include: coordinating the food drive, running the political campaign for ASU's president, and being on the finance committee. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Social Chair

Chad Haggard
I am a junior in Political Science and Criminal Justice. I have lived in Idaho for my entire life. I currently serve in an ASU Senate at the University. My accomplishments while serving as a senator include: coordinating the food drive, running the political campaign for ASU's president, and being on the finance committee. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Human Resources Chair

Rachel Bock
I am a junior in Political Science and Criminal Justice. I have lived in Idaho for my entire life. I currently serve in an ASU Senate at the University. My accomplishments while serving as a senator include: coordinating the food drive, running the political campaign for ASU's president, and being on the finance committee. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Event Chair

Ethan Crowe
I am a junior in Political Science and Criminal Justice. I have lived in Idaho for my entire life. I currently serve in an ASU Senate at the University. My accomplishments while serving as a senator include: coordinating the food drive, running the political campaign for ASU's president, and being on the finance committee. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Boarding Representative

Alyssa Price
I am a junior in Political Science and Criminal Justice. I have lived in Idaho for my entire life. I currently serve in an ASU Senate at the University. My accomplishments while serving as a senator include: coordinating the food drive, running the political campaign for ASU's president, and being on the finance committee. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Council Representative

Jared Thompson
I am a junior in Political Science and Criminal Justice. I have lived in Idaho for my entire life. I currently serve in an ASU Senate at the University. My accomplishments while serving as a senator include: coordinating the food drive, running the political campaign for ASU's president, and being on the finance committee. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Fraternity and Sorority Representative

Casey Wilcox
I am a junior in Political Science and Criminal Justice. I have lived in Idaho for my entire life. I currently serve in an ASU Senate at the University. My accomplishments while serving as a senator include: coordinating the food drive, running the political campaign for ASU's president, and being on the finance committee. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.

For the Student Body Grad Sponsor Representative

Jordan Halverson
I am a junior in Political Science and Criminal Justice. I have lived in Idaho for my entire life. I currently serve in an ASU Senate at the University. My accomplishments while serving as a senator include: coordinating the food drive, running the political campaign for ASU's president, and being on the finance committee. My main objective is to be the voice of the students and to make sure that the students' voice is heard.
I was quite pleased to have Richard Higgins, associate professor of philosophy at the University of British Columbia, come to talk to us. Unfortunately, I suspect that few of you were listening because you were too busy cruising the aisles of the Argonaut in search of the perfect Christmas gift. Professor Higgins provided the public a lecture on "Ruminations with Ruen." While there were a few people attending, I gathered that many of those who came were simply here to see the Argonaut because of its impressive collection of Christmas gifts.

I have noticed a trend in this age of self-indulgence and consumerism where people are more concerned with the appearance of their gift rather than the substance. I believe that a gift should be chosen with care, and it should reflect the giver's knowledge of the recipient. Unfortunately, I have heard that some people will spend hours searching for the perfect gift, only to end up with something that does not suit the recipient. I think that it is important to take the time to consider the recipient's interests and preferences. A gift that is chosen with thought and care will be appreciated more than one that is simply bought because it looks nice.

It is interesting to note that the Argonaut has a large selection of Christmas gifts, but I wonder how many of these gifts are actually useful. It seems that many people are more interested in appearance than function. I think that it is important to choose gifts that are both attractive and functional. This way, the recipient will appreciate the gift for more than just its aesthetic qualities.

As for the lecture, Professor Higgins discussed the importance of human relationships and the role of philosophy in understanding these relationships. He argued that philosophy can help us to understand the complexities of human interaction and to develop a deeper appreciation of others.

In conclusion, I would like to encourage all of you to take the time to consider the gift you are giving. A gift that is chosen with thought and care will be appreciated more than one that is simply bought because it looks nice. I hope that all of you will find the perfect gift this holiday season.
ATTENTION STUDENTS:

The Argonaut is the Students’ Voice and we are committed to the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. We believe in our right to exercise our freedom under the Constitution and to comment on any aspect of particular interests, including the “Drink-off” at Boise. The Argonaut advocated in favor of the option of competing between BSU and UI in the “Drink-off.”

The UI Administration has needed the argument because we printed alcohol-oriented material in the “Drink-off” issue on your Opinion page. In our opinion, that was unconstitutionally liable. Furthermore, we have also been threatened to print the “Drink-off” in Boise, which includes an alcohol reference or not. There is no longer a “Drink-off” in Boise.

We have also been threatened that any alcohol-related in the paper has to be not printed due to whether the UI board has had in the past with its drinking problems.

In the lettering, the Argonaut was receptive to the Boise Administration’s request. However, the various entities of the UI Administration have gone too far in “educating” this newspaper. The Argonaut advocates for the students to attend these events. This is a modern-operative newspaper and it will not be intended. Any further details will be brought to the students’ attention. As students in the future, we must not rush to remodel people, not just the people who share our political philosophies. We must teach our children to love all people, just the people who share out philosophical values. How could we become ministers and legislators if we loved, cared, and respected each other? I’d rather make a brilliant mistake than an ignorant one. I want to be part of a better world. I want my child to grow up in a better world.

Joe Jacoby
Alexakos steps up, fills hole in Idaho defense

By Todd Morehouse
Idaho Statesman

When Idaho defensive line mentor Doug Wyant went down with an injury in his season opener, many people had doubts about the Vandals defense. Defensive coordinator Alexakos Hoyer-Kendrick, said other players and coaches had looked up to Wyant, and a sign was posted in the locker room to "Practice hard so you can fill in if I have to go to surgery." Hoyer-Kendrick has filled the hole on defense and the Vandals are now two years removed from the Humannation Bowl.

Alexakos helps anchor a defense that is making a dramatic change in the team's attitude. Idaho is beginning to show it can rise to the occasion.

"When I came here, I've always had a lot of respect for Coach Wyant, who was an Idaho legend, a real tough guy," said Idaho coach Glenn Caruso. "I think that's a big reason why he pushed us so much to do the things we need to do to be successful."

"I've known Coach Wyant for a long time, and I think he's someone who has instilled the Vandals with a lot of pride and a lot of professionalism." Caruso said.

Fan favorite Alexakos

Alexakos, who was voted a captain by his teammates, is a senior defensive back. He has been with the Vandal program since the spring of 2002.

"I've been with the program for a long time, and I've been working hard to get to this point," said Alexakos.

"I think that I've earned the respect of my teammates and I think that I'm ready to step up and fill the void that Coach Wyant left behind." Caruso said.

Alexakos has been named the starting defensive back for the Vandals in their season opener.

"I think that I've earned the respect of my teammates and I think that I'm ready to step up and fill the void that Coach Wyant left behind." Caruso said.

"I think that I've earned the respect of my teammates and I think that I'm ready to step up and fill the void that Coach Wyant left behind." Caruso said.

"I think that I've earned the respect of my teammates and I think that I'm ready to step up and fill the void that Coach Wyant left behind." Caruso said.

"I think that I've earned the respect of my teammates and I think that I'm ready to step up and fill the void that Coach Wyant left behind." Caruso said.

Alexakos and the Vandals have done a lot of work this summer to prepare for the season opener.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.

"I think that we've been working hard to get to this point," said Caruso.
Porgy and Bess

A review

Kriti Bose

The 2006 world premiere of "Porgy and Bess" was a significant moment in opera. The opera was first performed in 1935 and has since become a staple of the American operatic repertoire. The production was directed by John H. Hopkins, and the cast featured African American performers in the lead roles. The opera tells the story of two African American characters, Porgy and Bess, who live in a poor neighborhood in the town of Catfish Row. The opera is known for its musical beauty and its depiction of African American life in the early 20th century. The production was well-received and helped to establish African American performers as serious contenders in the opera world.

---

Calaboo

Inconsiderate, way too "janny"

A concert review

University of Idaho student argonout

In one or two words, the beginning of the Calaboo concert was left unexplained. The venue, the Moscow Social Club, was a perfect fit for Calaboo's live performance. The concert started off strong and built up to a climax at the end.

For those familiar with the social scene in Moscow, it was clear that the band was there to be heard and seen. The stage was well-lit, with a few spotlights shining down on the performers. The audience was engaged, and the energy of the night was palpable.

There was a good mix of genres represented, from hip-hop to rock to everything in between. The band'sopening songs were well-received, and the audience cheered along with the performers. The band's setlist included a mix of old and new songs, and the crowd was energized by the music.

Calaboo played a variety of songs, from their debut album "Janny" to their latest release "The Unheard". The band's performance was dynamic and engaging, with the audience fully invested in the show. Overall, it was a great night for music lovers and a great start to the concert season.
Attention Boise State:
Clean up the trailer, because we are bring'in the main course!

- Joe Vandal

Fast and Easy
CASH!!

Lecture Note Takers
Needed.

Pay starting at $6/hour, earn up to $9/hour.

For more information & an application, call ASUI Lecture Notes, 885-6331 or stop by the ASUI Office in the SUB.

ASUI OUTDOOR RENTAL CENTER
THANKSGIVING SPECIALS
NOVEMBER 20TH THROUGH 30TH

ADVANCE RESERVATIONS ACCEPTED

City of Moscow's
Leaf Collection Program

Tuesday, Nov. 17th through Saturday, Nov. 21st
- Leaves will be collected the day after your regular garbage day
- Please leaves loose in garbage cans, cardboard boxes, inorganic bags, or plastic bags.
- Do not tie or secure container boxes or bags closed.
- Please leaves out by 7:00 a.m. the same location you usually use for garbage service.
- Moscow Residents Only

For more information, call Latah Sanitation, Inc. at 882-5724

WOW Internet Service
Only $10 / Month*
208-882-2262

The Largest Regional Internet Provider

Get your copy of
In Cue at the front desk of the
Student Union
Building today!

ASUI OUTDOOR RENTAL CENTER
THANKSGIVING SPECIALS
NOVEMBER 20TH THROUGH 30TH

ADVANCE RESERVATIONS ACCEPTED

ALL EQUIPMENT
10 DAYS FOR THE PRICE
OF 5!

WE WILL BE
CLOSED FROM NOV. 21ST TO NOV. 29TH

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL 885-6170 OR STOP BY THE OUTDOOR RENTAL CENTER IN THE STUDENT UNION BASEMENT

City of Moscow's
Leaf Collection Program

Tuesday, Nov. 17th through Saturday, Nov. 21st
- Leaves will be collected the day after your regular garbage day
- Please leaves loose in garbage cans, cardboard boxes, inorganic bags, or plastic bags.
- Do not tie or secure container boxes or bags closed.
- Please leaves out by 7:00 a.m. the same location you usually use for garbage service.
- Moscow Residents Only

For more information, call Latah Sanitation, Inc. at 882-5724

WOW Internet Service
Only $10 / Month*
208-882-2262

The Largest Regional Internet Provider

Get your copy of
In Cue at the front desk of the
Student Union
Building today!

ASUI OUTDOOR RENTAL CENTER
THANKSGIVING SPECIALS
NOVEMBER 20TH THROUGH 30TH

ADVANCE RESERVATIONS ACCEPTED

ALL EQUIPMENT
10 DAYS FOR THE PRICE
OF 5!

WE WILL BE
CLOSED FROM NOV. 21ST TO NOV. 29TH

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL 885-6170 OR STOP BY THE OUTDOOR RENTAL CENTER IN THE STUDENT UNION BASEMENT
RAP ID, 529 So. 2nd St., High School, 8382-6423.

Orange School District #201

Based in Idaho, the school is located in the University of Washington's Oneonta District.

Hear the hearing impaired. 2 hours: $5.36.

Saturday, Mar. 4, 1998

School Nurse District 201

SCHOOL

Weekly Tuesday, 12:30 pm - Close to
Close-up on Saturday, We have the best
Bible school for all ages! 2 hours.

Daily Devotions: 8:30 am - 9:00 am.

Student Ed: 8:30 am - 9:30 am.

TRIMMERS
Vandal Village

12/18/98

882-3310

Capitol Mall

482-5555

600 N. Main St.,

7:00 pm

11:00 am

3:00 pm

11:00 am

7:00 am

7:00 pm

11:00 am

882-8391

RSVP

882-8391

RSVP

882-8391
Here's to the University of Idaho, the #1 campus in the Northwest.

Go Vandals!