DEBATE TRYOUT

SOON COMING

PROFESSOR HULME WILL COACH THE DEBATING TEAMS THAT MEET VONZAGA

The Winner of First Place in the Tryout Wins the Dewey Prize of $250.

Once more Idaho takes much pleasure in announcing the fact that Professor Hulme has taken active charge of the football work in our University. This fact gives prestige and encourages the work of our debating teams. We can now more completely say that we are in a fully competing field with other colleges for forensic honors. We take pride in remembering the unparalleled success of our debate work for the last ten years, with the exception of one year, of the last three semesters. Three semester ago Dr. Hulme dropped the debate work but has now taken it up in earnest for this semester, after which he says it will be impossible owing to his busy career to take further charge of the debating. Prof. Hulme is a very busy man and helps make a great sacrifice for the good of the University.

The last three semesters have been characterized by much defeat of the football teams, but we did not gain more than maintain a standing. Last year we won the first two debates and lost the second. This year we have won two and lost the second.

Prof. Lewis took the debate work in the last semester and started it on the upward course, and should we continue the same interest in debating, we feel that the next semester will come with the same material. We need no fears as to the outcome of the coming debates.

The tryouts for the football debate will be sometime in the near future and Prof. Hulme desires to see the names of seven men enter the tryouts. We feel sure that there are several high school debating teams among us, especially among the Freshmen, and it is to be hoped that many of them will be found entering for a place on one of the ten teams. The Freshmen always have furnished a good share of Idaho's debating and there is no reason why the older boys should not be Freshmen on the team this year.

There are also many among us who have never debated, or who have had a limited experience in debating, who would make very successful debaters if they only tried. Many of Idaho's debating veterans are before us on a debating team until they come over to the University. No student should allow himself or herself to be discouraged even if he or she is not interested in the team at the time. Many of Idaho's best debaters have tried out three, four, and even five times before they joined the team. But there is now a splendid chance to make the team, and a splendid chance for good, systematic training.

The Dewey Debate prices of twenty dollars will be given for the best debater. This ought to be an incentive to many of the old Idaho debaters, but who can tell a bit of extra debating debater might walk in and carry off prizes.

Going out for debate simply means a taking advantage of the open opportunity. It means a putting to use some of the other squandered time. Take advantage of the opportunity last. Listen to this! EVERY Idaho student who has ever gone to our legislature was a debater while at the University. That speaks pretty well for debating, doesn't it?

Watch the bulletin board for the day of the tryouts.

FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

The First Football Game of the Season Will Be Played on the Home Floor January 16th.

Idaho's basketball candidates are fast being harnessed into shape for the opening with the S. A. C. quintet to be played on January 16 in the Gymnasium. The Spokane team has the reputation of being one of the greatest teams that will be given in the northwest and Coach "Pink"'s team will have to show an unusual amount of stuff if the expect to cop.

The Silver and Gold aggregation will be handicapped because of the fact that no hoop sharp could be found. Filling the shoes of Erne Loux, stool basket shooter and all-around northwest, will be an unknown.

Six letter men including Captain Jardine, Arman, Hydr, Gray, Kinslons and Matthews are back in the fold, but the new material has shown unusual brilliancy and Idaho's prospects are not any too cheerful looking.

Among the new men are Stillingler, Harpke, Bonneville, Blumenth and the Thomas who have been putting up good games and Lemmonas, Haya, Mcel- lough, Hallan, and Betty are all varsity possibilities.

B岳 workouts have been the rule for the past week and Coach Griffin will probably have his team in the pink of condition by the time the 16th rolls around.

A. I. E. O. ORGANIZATION

A number of students met just before the Christmas holidays and organized a branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The branch is allied to the national organization with headquarters in New York. It is organized under the constitution of the Institute and reports of meetings are printed in the monthly proceedings. A constitution was adopted to govern the local branch and the following officers were elected: Chairman, H. R. Hopton; Secretary-treasurer, C. L. King; executive committee, the above officers and Geo. S. Wadsworth, and members: A. J. Brain, and Prof. L. J. Corbett. It is planned to hold meetings monthly, at which reports of the various engineers will be presented and discussed by students and faculty members and addresses delivered by engineers in active practice.

STANLEY BROWN GRIDIRON LEADER

PALOUSE STUDENT ELECTED TO CAPTAIN FOOTBALL MEN OF NEXT SEASON

Football Banquet Held at Ridenbaugh Hall—Plans Were Discussed for Next Season

"All hail to Stanley Brown, gridiron leader for 1918!" yelp the masses and the echoes re-echo their approval of a popular choice. Brown is a scraper for excellence himself and all of his friends believe that he will lead a winning eleven over the proverbial currents of Pullman, Oregon, O. A. C. and the rest of the mob next fall.

The captain-elect in a native of Pullman, Washington, and his next year at Idaho will be his last. He has played three years of varsity football, in 1912 and 1913 as varsity forward, and in 1914 at halfback and this season as fullback. He has shown stellar stuff whenever Coach Griffith has pushed him into a scrum and he has been mentioned by several critics as an all-northwest possibility.

Brown was picked at football banquet held at the dormitory at which all this year's letter men and a number of the alums were present. The new captain's election was unanimous on no other candidate for the job was proposed.

Speeches were made by the captain-elect, Captain Phillips and other members of this year's team. Coach Griffith outlined his plans for the 1915 season and expressed a wish for a successful season. President Braman also talked to the members of the team.

WILSON INVITED TO NORTHWEST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The members of the house and senate from Idaho, Washington, and Oregon to day urged the president to include the states in their speaking tour to make following his visit to the Panama-Pacific exhibition at San Francisco in the spring. The president gave them little satisfaction, surly, saying if it were, within the province of possibility he would include the northwest in his itinerary. Chamberlain of Oregon, headed the delegation that called on him.

A UNIVERSITY AT CAIRO

Plans Made for Great Christian Institution—$2,000,000 Needed

Preliminary steps for the construction and maintainance of a Christian university at Cairo, Egypt, were taken recently by the board of trustees recently selected to work out the institution. The board decided to go ahead with its work notwithstanding conditions in Egypt due to war.

The university is to be a college or a collegiate institution, a graduate school, with courses in Arabic literature and history, Islamic theology and criticism, Biblical archaeology, political science, education, Christian apologetics, agriculture, engineering, law and journalism. It was announced that the meeting now has subscribed $600,000, which will be necessary to establish the university. It is expected that by the time the war is over the board will be in a position to begin the actual work of erecting buildings. Already inspections have been made of possible sites.

GRAIN GROWERS GO TO COLLEGE

All the grain growers are expected to be in college at Farmers Week January 27-30, and especially on Jan. 26. This has been set aside as Field Day. Whether growing and marketing the growing of forage crops will occupy the prominent places. The maintenance of fertility of the soil, pruning the lagged off lands, and the placing of live stock on the farm are topics of everyday consideration. Egg production is a problem which has been causing some trouble in parts of the state, and this with will be dealt with fully.

Prof. N. S. Rukh, in charge, will be aided by scientific and practical men. Mr. Seavers, a practical farmer, of L. C. Acher, farm superintendent of the University Experiment Station; P. P. Pethick, professor of agriculture at the University; R. D. Center, head of the Extension Department, University; Dr. Putnam, bacteriologist, and J. M. Fick, practical farmer, will take active part in the discussions. The program is calculated to be of value especially to men who grow field crops, but will contain good things for the diversified farmer.

LITERARY SOCIETY
NAMED "SPHINX"

GREAT ENTHUSIASM IS MANIFESTED IN ORGANIZATION FOR LITERARY TRAINING.

Special Attention is Paid to Extensive Speaking and Training in Parliamentary Rules.

The new debating society which was organized last summer has received the name of "Sphinx Forensic Club." Sphinx seems to be especially appropriate since the new society has risen out of the ashes of Idaho's former Forensic debating clubs. The new club was called forth by necessity, as it has come to stay. The "Sphinx Forensic Club" is decked in more purpo-some plumage than any of its predecessors. It has come to champion the forensic work, and it bids defiance to tautology, crude expression, and descriptive oratory. With all due respect to part achievements and undiluted ambition for future success the forensics club has entered upon its career of training men to think and speak, cor-crectly, systematically and on the place of the moment. With the steady firm gaze that looks to the future for results and show behind the pace a firm conviction of truth and noble intentions the club looks ever forward. The plan is to make many leagues forward on the winning side. Instead of dodging the ball Belgium reached it and started a brilliant return. Belgium made several clever plays, but could not hit the German line effectively and soon was trawn for a loss and the ball back on a steady march for the trying line. Paris. Germany relied on straight football, using old-fashioned mass formations. The Allies took a number of forward passes, but they were broken up by the heavy German defense. Germany reached the 16-yard line before they could be stopped, but the Allies got the ball and executed a clever wind shift. They were unable to kick center, but carried the left end for several good gains, carrying the ball back to the 40-yard line. Germany then backed to playing the open game, exploiting successful forward passes to Answerly and Oerem. Each side was acute in influencing undecided masses.

FORESTERS HEAR INSTRUCTIVE TALK

M. G. DONK GIVES RESULT OF INVESTIGATIONS FOR WOOD BY-PRODUCTS FROM PINE

The History of Wood Distillation Was Thoroughly Discussed With the Chemical Changes Involved

Mr. M. G. Donk, who is here investigating for the possibilities of obtaining turpentine and other products from western yellow pine, spoke Monday evening to the Associated Foresters of the University on the subject of "The Wood Waste Problem." He pointed out first the need of finding a use for wood as a raw material, and he explained the process of distillation and the reasons why it is used.

"It is largely the reason that the manufacture of wood turpentine has, so far, failed to develop into an industry," the speaker said. "Going slightly into the history of wood distillation, Mr. Donk said that the wood residue may be obtained by the wood from the ancient who used them as embalming fluids. Later, in the days of alchemy, the chemists distilled live plants in the hope of obtaining from them the elixir of life. Mr. Donk also explained the idea that artificial silk, rubber, and other substances could be manufactured commercially from wood. Such materials can be made by different processes, from cellulose, but it is difficult to obtain wood cellulose that is pure enough for their manufacture. For this reason, cotton is commonly used for such purposes. He also pointed out that while wood is so cheap it is at present, it is not profitable to use it in the manufacture of wood pulp.

"The pieces are too irregular in size and shape to be utilized by the mechanical process, and too poor in quality to be valuable for either the mechanical or chemical processes." Mr. Donk laid the most stress on the process, as yet only experimental, of changing wood cellulose into sugar and then into alcohol. Two German chemists, working on the problem, have recently found ways of facilitating the process and increasing the yield; and their discovery lends us to hope that alcohol can soon be manufactured cheaply enough and in such quantities as to make it available as a source of fuel, possibly taking the place of gasoline.

Housekeepers Week at University

The Housekeepers Week at University has been noted for the same week as Farmers Week, Jan. 25-30. Farmers and their wives may therefore come together and be assured of gaining all interest to occupy the entire week. The housekeepers program is especially strong this year.

The questions to be discussed include all sides of the art of home-making. Miss Craig, head of the Home Economics Department of the Wash-
Glee Club

As advertised in another place in this paper, the Glee Club of the University will make its first appearance of the school year on Friday evening, January 11. Under the able leadership of Professor Grube, the Glee Club has this year been put through some very hard work and is in excellent condition to give the audience on Friday evening the best in the line of any musical entertainment. It is the plan of the Glee Club to make a survey of the northern or southern part of the state soon in order to advertise for the Club, which now by permission of other organisations and other institutions of the musical nature.

When we remember that in every community in the state there are prospective students who will affirm the fact of the high and impressive and that this impression is left to a very large extent by the exhibition of the Glee Club, where some of the best known and popular students combine for the service of the Club in community life. Where it seems fit to advertise in such communities better than in those of other states partakes that inasmuch as this fact the management of the Glee Club will plan such a trip to advertise to the people of the state of Idaho that which is being done at the University in the field of music.

The Glee Club made good in Lewiston, where it appeared in the first concert of the year. The trip was a success financially as well. But Lewiston is only a small city and the expenses of getting there would not be as large as at Idaho. The trip would be the club to cover the northern part of the state. In order to make this big trip possible it will be necessary for the Club to make some funds. With this object in view the Club appears in concert in the University Auditorium next Friday evening. Every student should be there to help make it a financial success in order to be able to advertise to the people of the state of Idaho that which is being done at the University in the field of music.

DECLARES TO BE ONE OF THE BEST MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENTS OF THE YEAR

University Singers Made Good in Lewiston—They Will Make Good Here—/The Tailor to Appear

Get out that calendar that your favorite notepad, laundry, gas man, planner gave you just before the Christmas holidays and mark January 15 with red ink, pencil or chalk. Then call up your lady fair and fairer to also decorate a calendar in the same manner. Why? Why, just because the Glee Club concert and dance is scheduled for the night of the fifteenth and if you don't make all your arrangements early you are liable to put what the whole received at the hands of John Johnson, unerring harpist wielder.

Very confidently this Glee Club affair is going to be one of the biggest events of the whole school year. Lewiston's music fans encoded every stunt that was yanked off in the banana belt city and the program is to be put on in the auditorium on the evening of this 15th day of January has been made even stronger than the Lewiston was, and in addition to a program that fully scores goals of class you get a dance just as classy in the Gymnasium immediately after the show and it's all for nominal price of admission.

The Glee Club itself is composed of 20 of the best of the University's singers and Professor Eugene H. Stores has worked it into a wonderfully efficient organization. The "Bubble," "My Little Pickleberry" and the "Hilliard Musketeers" are only a few of the big hits at Lewiston which will be re-produced here.

The University quartet, composed of Messrs. Humphries, Stone, Gerlogh, and Runyon, is down for some stellar selections. Just by way of comment the quartet was called back four times after cutting loose with "Finger's" down in Lewiston.

Mr. E. K. Humphries, baritone for excellence, is on the program for severa! solos and if he gets the same reception here that he got in Lewiston he will have to add several more to the several he has arranged to sing.

Miss Evelyn Cox will appear in several different numbers. Miss Cox is the powerhouse of a behemoth soprano voice of more than unusual beauty and that Lewiston resounds with enthusiastic praises about her.

Mr. John Brigham will sing solo "La Cucaracha." He got off well in Lewiston and he undoubtedly shows the same good stuff here.

Don David will appear with Miss Cox in a duet entitled, "You're the Only One (for Me, Dear)" and if he gets the same reception here that he got in Lewiston he will have to add several more to the several he has arranged to sing.

engineers meet

On Wednesday evening the first regular meeting of the University of Idaho Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was held in the physics lecture room in the Administration building. An illustrated paper was presented by P. C. Mitchell, a senior in electrical engineering, on the Kokuk power plant on the Mississippi River, the largest plant in the world. After a brief discussion Prof. Corbett read some brief outlines showing the progress in various fields of electrical engineering during the year just past, and also describing conditions in some of the warfare nations of Europe. The next meeting of the branch is to be held the first Wednesday of February.

Professor Vincent of the Horticultural Department of the University has arranged a very attractive series of discussions for the Fruitgrowers Day at the Farming Work, Jan. 25-26. This will be ably assisted by practical horticulturists and by the Extension Department of the University.

Fred Vestich of Moscow is a practical orchardist and vineyard manufacturer, and he will have some valuable facts to present.

A great deal of emphasis will be placed upon the great problem—possibly the greatest problem of horticulturists in the Northwest—marketetling. Also the handling and utilization of by-products. Spraying and mixing of spray will be of value to diversified farmers and to fruit growers.

Miss Jessie Hoover, head of the home economics department will strengthen the program a great deal by demonstration of the methods of cooking and serving fruit.

The report of the splendid assembly talk given by Professor Lewis of the Department of Economics failed to reach us in time to be published in this issue. It will appear next week.

Senior Animal Husbandry Student Lectures on Poultry

A. L. Johnson, Senior in the College of Agriculture, gave a series of lectures on various phases of the Poultry Industry at North Parks, Idaho, during the Christmas holidays. He substituted for Professor Prent Moore, head of the Poultry Department, who was lecturing elsewhere at the time, and in the words of Extension Director O. D. Custer, "did very satisfactory work."

Poultry Department

A new addition has been made to the poultry department recently by the purchase of a pen of Single Comb Rhode Island Red chickens. These birds, four pullets and a cockerel, came from the Buschman-Pierce Poultry Farm of Indiana and are excellent specimens of the breed.

FEDERAL AID TO THE UNIVERSITY

GOVERNMENT SUPPORT IS GREATER THAN THAT GIVEN BY THE STATE

President M. A. Brannon at Boise gave an interview setting the comparisons.

Boise News: The University of Idaho is a very much a federal institution, as well as a state and, based on figures, it is really more the former than the latter, a fact that very few people in this state realize. Distinctly, however, Idaho's leading educational institutions, giving importance of becoming one of the largest in the nation in the northwestern states for more than three hundred years.

Boise News: The matter of straightening out the appropriations to be asked for from the state legislature for the six educational institutions on the part of the state board of education has been left with Commissioner of Education Edward O. Sisson and Auditor Britt, the board, and they were this afternoon engaged in consulting, but have not as yet finished the task. The trip of Dr. Brannon, president of the University of Idaho, to Boise was for the purpose of going through the statement presented by that institution, covering the proposed appropriation.

There were some duplications and these were corrected.

That the board will act for about the same total appropriations for maintenance of all of the institutions that it received two years ago, is now to be certain. The question of a reduction in the total appropriation asked for will depend on whether or not the Idaho state normal is abolished by an act of the legislature. If it is, several thousands of dollars will be cut off the appropriation budget. In addition it is necessary to figure in the revenue of the several institutions and the amounts of funds they have on hand.

Two years ago the legislature made the following appropriations to these institutions:

- University $141,000.00
- College of Agriculture $4,800.00
- Lewiston Normal $51,382.89
- Academy of Idaho $100,500.00
- Albion Normal $8,000.00
- Industrial Training School $117,000.00
- Deaf, Dumb and Blind School $72,000.00

The board of education received an appropriation of $1,290,000.

DEBATE TRIOUT SOON COMING

PROFESSOR HULME WILL COACH THE DEBATE TEAMS THAT WILL MEET GONZAGA

The Winner of First Place in the Tryout Wins Both Prizes.

Once more Idaho takes much pleasure in announcing the fact that Professor Hulme, has taken active charge of the forensic work in our University. This fact gives prestige and encouragement to the debating work. We can once more feel that we are on a fair competing basis with other schools for honor trophies. We take pride in remembering the unparalleled success of Idaho's debating for the last ten years, with the exception of course, of the last three semesters. Three semesters ago Prof. Hulme dropped the debate work but has now taken it up in earnest for this semester, after which he says that it will be impossible for him to give his busy career any further charge of the debating. Prof. Hulme is a very busy man and held higher office for the sake of the good of the University.

The last three semesters have been characterized by much defeat and victory, and, although we did nothing more than maintain a standing, last year we won the first two debates and lost the second two. Prof. Lewis took the debate work in hand last semester and started it on the upward course—that is, aroused some interest in debating. We feel that Mr. Hulme is as good as can be found in the West, and if his interest will come forth with the raw material we have now as to the outcome of the coming debates.

The tryout for the Gonzaga debate will be sometime in the near future and Prof. Hulme desires to see a large number enter the tryouts. We feel sure that there are several high school debaters among us, especially among the Freshmen, and it is to be hoped that many of them will be found combating for a place on one of the teams. The Freshmen have furnished a good share of Idaho's debaters and there is no reason why there should not be Freshmen on the team this year.

There are also many among us who have never debated, or who have had but a limited experience in debating, who would make very successful debaters, if they only try. Many of Idaho's debaters were never before on a debating team until they came to the University. No student should believe himself too small to be a contributor to the debating team, and it is possible that he may be a valuable one.

The Dewey Debate prize of twenty-five dollars will be given for the best debater. This ought to be an incentive to many of the old Idaho debaters, but who can tell, a debater unknown in the states might walk in and carry off the prize.

Go out for debate simply means a taking advantage of the spare moments, and putting to use of some of the otherwise squandered time. Take advantage of this opportunity while its here. Listen to this! EVERY Idaho student who has ever gone to our legislative debates as a debater at the University. That speaks pretty well for debating, doesn't it?

Watch the bulletin board for the day of the tryouts.

FIRST BASKETBALL GAME

The First Basketball Game of the Season Will Be Played on the Home Floor January 10th.

Idaho's basketball candidates are just being hauled into shape for the contest with the S. A. C. quintet to be pulled off January 16 in the Gymnasium. This combination has a reputation of being one of the speediest five on the west coast and Coach Griffith's team will have to show an unusual amount of stuff if the expect to cope.

The Silver and Gold aggregation will be handled by the local press this year because of the fact that no hoop shark capable of filling the shoes of River Lux, star center in the past, will be at hand at this forward, has pm in an appearance. His other men including Captains Jack Keesee, Kenne, Hyde, Gray, Johnson, and Martinson are back in the fold, but the new material has failed to show above normal assurance and Idaho's prospects are not at anything too cheerful looking.

Among the new men are Stillinger, Stapley, Bowersville, Emmett and the two Thomases who have put up good games and Loomis, Hays, McElroy, and Betty are all very possible contributors.

SCl workouts have been the rule for the past semester and Coach Griffith has his team in the pink of condition by the time the 16th rolls around.

WILSON INVITED TO WEST NORTH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7—The men of the home and senate from Idaho, Washington, and Oregon today urged the president to include their states in the speaking tour he is to make following his visit to the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco in the spring. The president gave them little satisfaction, saying that if it were within the realm of possibility he would be among the first men to go west in his itinerary. Chamberlain of Oregon, head the delegation that called on the president.

LITERARY SOCIETY
NAMED "SPHINX"

GREAT EXTREMEISM IS MANIFESTED IN ORGANIZATION FOR LITERARY TRAINING

Special Attention Is Paid to Extremo-ness Speaking and Training in Parliamentary Rules

The new debating society which was organized last autumn has received the name of "Sphinx Forensic Club." This name seems to be especially appropriate since the new society has risen out of the ashes of Idaho's former flourishing debating clubs. The new club was called forth by necessity, so it has come to stay. The Sphinx Forsic Club is backed in more ways than one of its predecessors. It has come to champion the forensic work, not for its defense to timidity, crude expression, and defective oratory. With all due respect to past achievements and undoubted ambition for future success the new club has entered upon its career of training men to think and speak accurately, systematically, and on the spur of the moment. With the steady, firm grasp that leads to the future for results and show behind the grasp a firm conviction of truth and nobler citizenship the club looks ever forward. The gamut lies many hundreds onward but with energy and persistence the society is continually blazing the trail in that direction.

The Sphinx Forensic club meets every Friday at three-thirty to carry forward the program of public speaking. A constitution is being drawn up by club members, and is suit to all of the peculiarities and personalities of the society. Among other things the constitution provides for the election of officers every four years. At the last meeting H. Ison was elected president; William McDevitt, vice president, and Jack Johnson, secretary. The inauguration took place imegolet after the election with as little ceremony as possible under the circumstances.

Stockmen Real Farmers

Farmers who are interested in live stock will have a splendid opportunity to pick up pointers at the Farmers Week at the University January 25-29.
Wednesday, Jan. 27, is Live Stock day.
The University herbs, one of the best in the west will be used for demonstration. Among those who are to speak on this day are Professor E. J.
Frecken, animal husbandman at the University, recognized as one of the foremost live stock men in the west; and Dr. E. W. Hickman, assistant animal husbandman at the University, from the University of Missouri; T. F. Connell, a man of wide experience and new county agent of Lewis county; C. M.
McAllister, field agent for the Port-hand Union Stock Yards company, and Dr. A. H. Hahner, veterinarian, University of Idaho.

Handling Live Stock

An effort has been made to deal with practical problems in the handling of farm animals at the recent Farmers Week at the University, January 25-29. Among the subjects considered by the live stock people will be a discussion of breeds and managing of fine sheep.

The University flock of fine sheep will be at hand to demonstrate breeds and also housing, feeding, etc. Problems in pork production will likewise be represented by a good herd on the University farm. More interest is being shown each year in hog raising in Idaho and it will be well worth while for any farmer to hear this part of the program. Breeding beef cattle is another valuable subject, and no less is the judging. No man can buy a good cow or bull without passing judgment on the good points. These will be made clear to all during Farmers Week. Horses will also be studied from the same standpoint.

No farmer is so fortunate as to es-tirely escape sickness among his stock. Many a veterinarian's bill might be saved by a knowledge of how to treat common diseases. Dr. Hahner will have some valuable information on both prevention and cure. Live Stock Day is Jan. 27. The whole program is worth hearing.

WAR A.LL-FOOTBALL

Germany kicked off to France, the ball going out of bounds into Bel-gum. Belgium was there as a spectator, but was an old-time player and was thinking to get into the game on the winning side. Instead of dodging the ball Belgium caught it and started a brilliant return. Belgium made several clever plays, but could not hit the German line effectively and soon was thrown for a loss and lost the ball on a steady march for the goal line. Paris. Germany relied on straight footwork, using old-school mass formations. The Allies tried a number of forward passes, but were broken up by the heavy German offense. Germany reached the 10-yard line before it could be stopped, but the Allies got the ball and executed a clever wing shift. They were unable to hit center, but circled the left end for several good gains, carrying the ball across. Germany then took to playing the open game, executing successful forward passes to Antwerp and Ostend. Both sides are alleging unnecessary roughness. The score at the end of the first quarter is going to nothing.—Exchange.

"Musings of a Freshman"
Oh those light fantastic creatures,
Ever soaring in the air,
Will you come to earth or near it?
I know you do it daily.
How we love your subtle sayings.
How we watch the things you do.
How we marvel at your daring.
And your veil of tawny hue.
How you love to shock the natives.
Though we do not know your game.
We silently we bow before you.
Who can guess, what is his name?

Up three flights, we trip it daily.
Up three flights, but not too gaily.
Down the hall and then we meet him.
Then we meet him in his cell.
How we tremble and we stutter
At his bow but awful matter.
How our fresman bows flutter.
And we breathe a silent prayer.
"Work, his watchword.
"Work" his motto.
Till we really think we ought to; Or at least, we know we got to.
Put up thrift, we would not dare.
Yet we love him for his zeal.
And his interest in our work.

Foresters Hear Instructive Talk

M. G. Donk Goves Result of Investigations for Wood By-products From Pine

The History of Wood Distillation Was Thoroughly Discussed With the Chemical Aspects Involved

Mr. M. G. Donk, who is here investigating for the government the possibility of distillation of turpentine, pitch, rosin, and other products from western yellow pine, spoke Monday evening to the Associated Foresters of the University on the subject of "The Wood Waste Problem." He pointed out first the need, as he found it in his work, for a standardization of methods and products in the wood turpentine industry. It is a matter of gum turpentines, as it is carried on in the South, comparatively simply methods yield a uniform product of good quality; but in the distillation of turpentine and resin directly from the wood other substances from the wood mix with them, and even if the product has been refined, it is frequently not equal in quality to that obtained from the gum. This is largely the reason why it is that the manufacture of wood turpentine has, so far, failed to develop into an industry.

Going slightly into the history of wood distillation, Mr. Donk said that the foundation of the idea for producing such products was by the ancients who used them as embalming fluids. Later, in the days of alchemy, these same materials distilled at the hope of obtaining therefrom the elixir of life. Mr. Donk also explained the idea that artificial silk, rubber, and other substances could be manufactured commercially from wood. Such materials can be made, by different processes, from cellulose, but it is difficult to obtain wood cellulose that is pure enough for their manufacture. For this reason cotton is commonly used for such purposes. He also pointed out that, while wood is as cheap as it is at present, it is not profitable to use mill waste in the manufacture of wood pulp.

The trees are irregular in size and shape to be utilized by the mechanical process, and too poor in quality to be valuable for either the mechanical or the chemical process. Mr. Donk laid the most stress on the process, as yet only experimental, of changing wood cellulose first into sugar and then into alcohol. Two German chemists, working on the problem, have recently found a means of facilitating the process and increasing the yield; and their discovery leads us to believe that it can soon be manufactured cheaply enough and in such quantities as to make it available as a commercial, possibly taking the place of gasoline.

Housekeepers Week at University

Housekeepers' Week at the University has been set for the same week as Farmers' Week, Jan. 23-28. Farmers and their wives may therefore come together and be assured of matters of interest to occupy the entire week. The housekeepers' program is especially strong this year.

The questions to be discussed include all sides of the art of housekeeping. Miss Cofield, head of the Home Economics Department at the Washington State College will give a talk on home decoration. Miss Hayes of the University Extension Department will discuss "Art in the Home." The Family Budget will be handled by Mrs. Mooney, home economics graduate and practical housekeeper. Discussion on this topic will be led by two practical housekeepers, Mr. Morley and Mrs. Hare.

Miss Kelley, Extension Department of the University, will present some practical problems that are in valid cookery. A most practical and valuable number of the program will be Mrs. Griffith's demonstration on the care of the sick in the home. Mrs. Griffith is especially well fitted to give such a demonstration and those in charge are to be congratulated on securing her for the program.

Among the other subjects to be discussed will be the Daily Meals, Child- ren, Shopping, Setting the Table, and Serving. Professor Hamilton will give a most valuable lecture on Farm Conveniences. The labor savers in the farm home help to make country life attractive to the woman.

LIFE-FOCAL CONCENTRATION

The betterment of farm life—that will be the theme of discussion at the University Club on Friday afternoon, Jan. 29. President Bronson, Rev. Warner, of Walla Walla, Mrs. Rowe, Miss Cov- ern, Miss Tullar, will bring forward vital subjects such as Social Life, Community Centers, Children's Music, and other phases of farm social life.

Movies at University Farmers Week

Stroking pictures of Idaho which are to be shown at the fair next year, will be shown on the evenings of Jan. 28 and 27 at the University auditorium as part of the Farmers Week program.

Meet Cutting Demonstration

Those who were fortunate enough to attend Mr. Chas. Hagan's meat cut- ting demonstration last year, the Farmers Week at the University will be delighted to hear that Mr. Hagan has consented to make another demon- stration this year. In addition Miss Harper will demonstrate the cooking of meats. These demonstrations will take place Saturday, Jan. 28.

Sheep Keeping

Prof. Wright of the University of Idaho will discuss the subject of sheep on Friday of Farmers Week.

Good Poultry Program Farmers Week

The Poultry Division at the University has prepared an excellent pro- gram for Farmers' Week. Poultry Day is Friday, Jan. 29. Practical prob- lems of poultry raising will be dis- cussed. With eggs at 4c per dozen the proposition of feeding for winter eggs is quite opportune. Types and breeds will be thoroyly dealt with. Economy in feeding is a point over- looked by many a farmer with whom poultry raising is a side line, and the production of eggs is of primary importance, the study of breeding for egg production is regarded as essential.

Pres. Monroe, professor of poultry husbandry, University of Idaho, will have charge of the program. Among the others who will assist him, and appear on the program are: E. R. Headley, a practical poultry raiser of Moscow; A. L. Johnson of the University poultry department, and Mrs. Helen Dorr Whitaker, head of the poultry work at Washington State College.

Dairymen Get Together

It is planned to have a conference of dairymen at the University, Farmers' Week, Jan. 25-28. Jan. 26 is designated as Dairyman's Day. Professor Ellington of the University Dairy Husbandry Department, has the program in charge. Many leading dairymen of the state will take part in the program.

O. W. Holmes, assistant dairyman at the University, Carl John- son, field dairyman for the federal government in south Idaho, T. F. McConnell, county agent of Lewis county, and H. W. Hoshbaum, state leader, will assist. J. C. Graham, owner of the big Holstein dairy farm near Pas- house, I. I. Young and Frank Gano, practical dairymen of Idaho, will take part in the program.

A feature of the dairymen's work will be demonstrations by the splendid dairy herd of the University, and the commercial dairies operated in connection with it. All phases of dairying will be dis- cussed. The ails and ensilage crops will be of peculiar interest to those dairymen who are searching for a quickest feed for the winter. Every dairyman and farmer who can ought to plan to visit the University during the Farmers Week.

Glee Club
As announced in another place in this paper the Glee Club of the University will make its first appearance of the school year on Friday evening, January 15. Under the able leadership of Professor Sporer the Glee Club has this year been put thru some very hard work and is in excellent condition to give the audience on next Friday evening the best in the line of any musical entertainment. It is the plan of the Glee Club to make a tour of the northern states in part of this year, and have been in order to advertise for the University. This has hitherto been done by the Glee Club but not by similar organizations of other institutions of the western states.
When we remember that in every community and state there are prospective students who will attend the school from which they get the best athletic teams we are impressed. It is left to a very large extent by organizations of different kinds which represent the school in communities where it secures to advertise it should also be remembered that it would be far more desirable for our state institution to advertise in such communities than to let schools of other states advertise there. Cumber in fact the management of the Glee Club has planned such a trip to demonstrate to the people of the state of Idaho what is being done at the University in the line of music.
The Glee Club made good in Lewiston, where it appeared in the first concert of the year. The trip was a success financially as well. But Lewiston is only a few miles away so the expenses in getting there would not be as large as they would be were the club to tour the southern part of the state. In order to make this big trip possible it will be necessary for the Club to raise some funds. With this object in view the Club appears in concert in the University Auditorium next Friday evening. Every student should see there to help make it a financial success so it may be possible to send this creditable musical organization on an advertising campaign for the University. Perhaps in no other way would such an amount be realized as by an effort of this kind. The prices are small. Let us all be there. Tell your friends. Boost for the Club and you will boost for the University, January 15. Auditorium.

DEBATE TRIVIA
Once more there promises to be an opportunity for aspirants in forensics circles to come forth and demonstrate their ability as public speakers. The tryout for the Gonzaga debates will be held next week and six men are to be chosen. Surely you would wish to have no better chance to win a place on a debating team. Gonzaga defeated Idaho last year in both debates. Last year Idaho had no coach. This year the Idaho teams will be coached by Professor Holme.

If one has chosen to spend his life in the law profession, for instance, surely there would be no better way to spend the time in which he could develop that training he first gained in actual experience in a debate. Colority in speech is very important. It can be done by argument, or the use of ridicule in debate. No matter what line of work a person expects to pursue the training acquired in debate is of inestimable value.

It is up to you who have the ability of a public speaker to come out and help Idaho win the next debates. Idaho has a splendid record in debate but to maintain that record it is necessary for every student to help. There should be at least twenty men out for the tryout which takes place on next Tuesday. Get your shoulder to the wheel and push. Give debating a lift.

 promises to be one of the best musical entertainments of the year
University Singers Made Good in Lewiston. They Will Make Good Here. Best of Talent to Appear

Get out that calendar that your favorite lithograph shop, laundry, gas man, plumber gave you just before the Christmas holidays and mark January 15 with red ink, pencil or chalk. Then call your leading fair and tell her to also decorate a calendar in the same manner. Why? Why, just because the big Glee Club concert and dance is scheduled for the night of the fifteenth and if you don't make all your arrangements early you are liable to get what the whale received at the hands of dancing John Johnson, snorrng harpoon wielder.

Very confidentially this Glee Club affair is going to be one of the biggest events of the whole school year. Lewiston's music fans enjoyed every note that was spelled off in the banana belt and the program to be put on in the auditorium on the evening of this 14th day of January has been made even stronger than the Lewiston room was, and in addition to a program that fairly drenches a class you get a dance just as classy in the Gymnasium immediately after the show and it's all for the nominal price of admission. The Glee Club itself is composed of 20 of the best of the University's singers, and Professor Eugene H. Storer has worked it into a wonderfully efficient organization. "The Bully," "My Little Pickleback," and the "Hall gun Musketeers" are only a few of the big hits at Lewiston which will be re-presented here.

The University quartet, composed of Mervin Humphreys, Stone, Gerloff, and Saffington, is down for some stellar numbers. Just by way of comment the quartet was called back four times after cutting loose with "Tiptoe" down in Lewiston.

Mr. E. K. Humphreys, baritone par excellence, is on the program for several solos and if he gets the same reception here that he got in Lewiston he will have to add several more to the several he has arranged to sing.

Miss Evelyn Cox will appear in several different stunts. Miss Cox is the powerhouse of a bel- like soprano voice of more than unusual beauty and that Lewiston audience was wildly enthusiastic about her. Mr. John Brightman will sing the solo, "La Caramena." He got off well in Lewiston and he will undoubtedly show the same good stuff here.

Dan David will appear with Miss Cox in a duet entitled, "You're the Only One for Me, Dear" and this hit is absolutely straight-up, it's some duet. It was only encored three times in the city down the line.

The string quartet, under the direction of Professor D. D. Parmeelee, will appear as an added attraction extraordinary. "Spheres Music" is the title of the quartet's most important selection.

The dates originally set for the Glee Club appearance was the 15th but Manager L. F. Stone arranged with Graduate Manager Pierce to shift the date of the B. A. G. game so that the musical aggregation could show on Friday.

Don't forget that date. Friday, January 16. The prices will be 1.00, 75c, and 30c and tickets will be placed on sale at the Bursar's office, at Hodgen's and at the Corner Drug Store. Come early, avoid the rush and scatter the best sitings.

ENGINEERS MEET

On Wednesday evening the first regular meeting of the University of Idaho Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was held in the physics lecture room in the Administration building. An illustrated paper was presented by F. C. Mitchell, Senior in electrical engineering, on the Koolik power plant on the Mississipi river, the largest plant in the world. After a brief discussion Prof. Corbett read some brief outlines showing the progress in various fields of electrical engineering during the year just past, and also describing conditions in some of the warring nations of Europe. The next meeting of the branch is to be held the first Wednesday of February.

Fruitgrowers Day

Professor Vincent of the Horticultural Department of the University has arranged a very attractive series of discussions for the Fruitgrowers Day at the Farmer's Week, Jan. 25-28. Prof. Vincent will be ably assisted by practical horticulturists and by the Extension department of the University. E. P. Taylor, field horticulturist from southern Idaho, and T. H. Parks, field entomologist, will discuss various phases of the work. Both are recognized as leaders along their lines. Fred Veatch of Moscow is a practical orchardist and vineyard manufacturer, and he will have some valuable facts to present.

A great deal of emphasis will be placed upon the great problem—possibly the greatest problem of horticulturists in the northwest—marketing. Also the handling and utilization of by-products. Spraying and mixing of sprays will be of value to diversified farmers and to fruit growers.

Miss Jennie Hoover, head of the home economics department will illustrate the program a great deal by demonstration of the methods of cooking and serving fruit.

"Student—'Are you going to register for the medical course?"

Glee Club

As announced in another place in this paper the Glee Club of the University will make its first appearance of the school year on Friday evening, January 15. Under the able leadership of Professor Storer the Glee Club for this year been put through some very hard work and is in excellent condition to give the audience on next Friday evening the best in the line of any musical entertainment. It is the plan of the Glee Club to make a tour of the northern or southern part of the state, and in order to advertise for the University. This has heretofore not been done by our Glee Club but by similar organizations of other institutions of the western states.

When we remember that in every community in the state there are prospective students who will attend the school from which they get the best impression and that this impression is left to a very large extent by organizations of different kinds, which represent the school in communities in which it is seen to advertise it should also be remembered that it would be far more desirable for our state institution to advertise in such communities than to let schools of other states advertise there. Capitalist of this fact the management of the Glee Club has planned such a trip to demonstrate to the people of the state of the Thirteen Session held two years ago.

The Twelfth Session was unmistakably controlled by politics of a very unpleasant kind as the result was a display of log-rolling, vote-trading, lobbying, and unfair tactics that became conspicuous to the public and the adverse comment from newspapers beyond the state line. There can be no doubt that some of the bills introduced two years ago were passed for purely political purposes and intended as an offset or retaliation on some opposing faction.

It is too early as yet to obtain any accurate idea concerning the probable course of the Thirteenth Session but we are encouraged after a hasty reading of the governor's message which is usually an index of the chief executive's plans and desires. From Governor Alexander's message one may conjecture that he aims at efficiency and economy, and, while it is still more important, square dealing. And in that we know that whatever is accomplished will be for the good of the whole state.

BASKETBALL

The first game of basketball of the season will be played on the home court on January 16 with the Spokane Athletic Club quintet. The Spokane aggregation is said to be a fine one and it is stated that Idaho will have to play if the visitors are not going to carry away the long end of the score.

In looking over the basketball schedule for the season it will be noticed that a large number of the games will be played at the home court. Every student should study very carefully the calendar so as not to make any dates that would conflict with the dates set aside for basketball games. The student owe it to themselves, owe it to the interests of our success in basketball, and owe it to IDAH0 to be at every basketball game and do their part to win. Then, too, if we are to come out basketball clubs to win the state, we are to compete with other colleges in basketball let us co-operate and give our competitors the best we have. Let us show our men that we are back of them in their effort to defend the laurels of IDAHO. Let us show "Pride" that we appreciate the work he is doing in preparing the team for their contests.

You will remember that last year, before the team had advanced very far, the Idaho quintet was recognized by the Spokesman-Review. Last year we were state champions. This year all the men, but one, who figured in the game last year, are back. The new man is in excellent shape and by the proper kind of support we can expect good results. Let us all get out and support.

GLEE CLUB WILL APPEAR

PROMISES TO BE ONE OF THE BEST ENTERTAINMENTS OF THE YEAR

Get out that calendar that your favorite glove shop, laundry, gas man, newspaper gave you just before the Christmas holidays and mark January 15 with red ink, pencil or chalk. Then roll up your lady fair and roll her to also decorate a calendar in the same manner. Why? Why, just because the big Glee Club concert and dance is scheduled for the night of the fifteenth and if you don’t make all your arrangements early you are liable to put what the whole received at the hands of daring John Johnson, unerring harpoon wielder.

Very confidentially this Glee Club affair is going to be one of the biggest events of the whole school year. Lewiston’s music fans never saw anything that pulled off in the banana belt city and the program to be put on in the coliseum on the evening of this 15th day of January has been more even than the Lewiston menu was. In addition to a program that fairly oozes gobs of class you get a dance just as classy in the Gymnasium immediately after the show and it’s all for one nominal price of admission.

The Glee Club itself is composed of 26 of the best of the University’s singers and Professor Eugene H. Storer has worked it into a wonderfully efficient organization. The Dribblers, "My Little Pickaninnys" and the "Muscle Men Musketiers" are only a few of the big hits at Lewiston which will be repeated here.

The University quartet, composed of Messrs. Humphries, Stone, Gerfoud, and Huntington, as down for some stellar numbers. Just by way of comment the quartet was called back four times after cutting loose with "Tiptop" down in Lewiston.

Mr. E. K. Humphries, baritone solo, is on the program for several solos and he gets a chance here that he got in Lewiston he will have to add several to the several he has arranged to air.

Miss Evelyn Cox will appear in several different stanzas. Miss Cox is the progeny of a belt-like soprano voice of more than unusual beauty and that which Lewiston audience was wildly enthusiastic about here.

Mr. John Brigham will sing the solo, "La Campana." He got off well in Lewiston and he will undoubtedly show the same good stuff here.

Don’t David will appear with Miss Cox in a duet entitled, "You’re the Only One for Me, Dear" and (this is absolutely straight) it’s a sound duet. It was only entered three times in the city down the line.

The string quartet, under the direction of Professor D. D. Parmelee, will appear as an added attraction extra-ordinary "Sphere Music" is the title of the quartet’s most important selection.

The dates originally set for the Glee Club appearance was the 15th but Manager L. F. Stone arranged with Graduate Manager Pavey to shift the date of the B. A. C. game so that the musical aggregation could show on Friday.

Don’t forget that date, Friday, January 15. The prices will be $1.00, 75c, and 50c and tickets will be placed on sale at the burner’s office, at Hodges and at the Corner Drug Store. Come early, avoid the rush and scatter the streets.

ENGINEERS MEET

On Wednesday evening the first regular meeting of the University of Idaho Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was held in the physics lecture room in the Administration building. An illustrated paper was presented by P. C. Mitchell, a Senior in electrical engineering, on the Kennebunk power plant on the Missisquoi river, the largest plant in the world. After a brief discussion Prof. Corbett read some brief outlines showing the progress in various fields of electrical engineering during the year just past, and also discussing conditions in some of the warring nations of Europe. The next meeting of the branch is to be held the first Wednesday of February.

Fruggrowers Day

Professor Vincent of the Horticultural Department of the University has arranged a very attractive series of discussions for the Fruggrowers Day at the Fargen Week, Jan. 25-30. Prof. Vincent will be ably assisted by practical horticulturists and by the Extension department of the University. R. P. Taylor, field horticulturist from southern Idaho, and T. H. Parks, field entomologist, will discuss various phases of the work. Both are recognized leaders among their lines. Fred Yeates of Moscow is a practical orchardist and vineyard manufacturer, and he will have some valuable facts to present.

A great deal of emphasis will be placed upon the great problem—possibly the greatest problem of horticulture in the northwest—marketing. Also the handling and utilization of by-products. Spraying and mixing of sprays will be of value to diversified farmers and to fruit growers.

Miss Jessie Hoover, head of the home economics department will strengthen the program a great deal by demonstration of the methods of cooking and serving fruit.

Senior Animal Husbandry Student Lectures on Poultry

A. L. Johnson, Senior in the College of Agriculture, gave a series of lectures on various, phases of the Poultry Industry at North Forks, Idaho, during the Christmas holidays. He substituted for Professor Pren Moore, head of the Poultry Department, who was lecturing elsewhere at the time, and in the words of Extension Director O. D. Center, "did very satisfactory work."

Poultry Department

A new addition has been made to the poultry department recently by the purchase of a pen of single Comb Rhode, Island Red chickens. These birds, four pullets and a cockerel, came from the Buschman-Pierce Poultry Farm of Indiana and are excellent specimens of the breed.

FEDERAL AID TO THE UNIVERSITY

GOVERNMENT SUPPORT IS GREATER THAN THAT GIVEN BY THE STATE

President M. A. Braann on at Boise gave out Interview showing the comparisons.

"Boise News: The University of Idaho is very much a federal institution, as well as a state, and, based on figures, it is really more the former than the latter, a fact that very few people in this state realize. Directly, however, Idaho's leading educational institution, giving promise of becoming one of the largest of any state in the northwest, is rapidly forging to the front and becoming known and looked upon in all parts of the state as belonging to all the people. These were the points made yesterday by President M. A. Braann on at the university, after a day's visit here and just before his departure for the east, having been called there on urgent business matters. He foresees the pleasure of participation in the Idaho State Teachers' association convention, which opens here today. He was on the program to give several addresses.

"I think it is true few people realize the University of Idaho is a combined federal and state institution," said President Braann. "The actual fact is that the ratio of support is dollars and cents between the government and state for the university is three to two in favor of the government. In other words, for every three dollars appropriated toward the support of the university, the state, as matters now stand, appropriates two dollars.

"Let me show you how this comes about. There are four federal funds from which the university receives support or $140,000 from the Morrill fund, $20,000 each from the Adams and Hatch funds and an approximately $00,000 from the Lever fund, making a total of $100,000. Add to this $125,000 from the interest and receipts from federal school land donations and the total federal aid to the university is $320,000. The last biennial appropriation for the university by the legislature was $185,000, which represents the state support.

"The university is, however, distinctly a state institution by and for the whole state, belonging to the people of Idaho. I believe they are beginning to look at the university in that light. We are trying to make them. I cannot give too much praise to the members of the state board of education for their work or to the educational system which has been put into effect in this state. I believe it will work out to the best interests and the upbuilding of all the state institutions."

FROM OTHER COLLEGES

Michigan
Salary revision upward is the order of the day at the University of Michigan, where the regents have just authorized an increase to pay for every member of the faculty.

Pennsylvania
Plans are being held for the erection of a building to cost half a million dollars to be used for the instruction in professional work.

Dartmouth
Will Frank Cavanagh coach football at Hanover another year in the question which Dartmouth undergraduates and alumni and many followers of the Green team are asking themselves. Cavanagh's contract expired with the season just closed, his fourth at Dartmouth, and there is much speculation as to whom the athletic council will settle upon as next coach.

The usual rumors that Cavanagh has received tempting offers from Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh and Cornell have but increased the interest of Dartmouth in the future of its football team.

With the team in mind which so recently overwhelmed Syracuse and which was so generally admired that many think it the only real match for the Harvard champions, it would seem there should be little doubt about engaging Cavanagh again. But several compensations enter into the matter which may hold up a settlement for some time.

Northwestern University
Dean Thomas Holgate, of the North- western University, naming the women of that university for the successive defeats men by the football team. After coming to the conclusion the dean issued the following appeal to the coaches:

"Let the football players glean! "Don't keep the football stars in late, girls. "Don't feed them rabbit's and candy that poison them out of condition. Make that 200-pound boy at home feel cheap if he hasn't tried out for the eleven, and don't set the football men to dreaming about you when they ought to be rehearsing signals!"

Washington
Raymond Hunt, junior half back, has been elected captain of next year's football team.

Varity basketball men are rounding into shape. "Washington may play Nebraska on Thanksgiving," says the Daily Washingtonian.

Oregon Agricultural College
Oregon Aggies are trying to arrange a game with Chicago or Illinois.

Stanford
Statistics show that a total of $107,250.79 was earned last year by some 1,010 Harvard men who applied for work, to whom were given 1,954 positions (some men were placed in more than one job). As compared with the year before, these figures show a decrease of 43 in number of men employed, but the amount earned is greater than before by nearly $2,000.

For term employment, the office had a registration of 601 men, of whom 357 received employment, and earned a total of $8,913.87. For summer work, the registration was of 611 men, and 154 were given places which brought them $38,346.22. There was some duplication of figures due to men registering for both term time and summer work, but eliminating these errors there were 1,010 registered for some kind of work during the year.

The highest earnings per man seem to have gone to those who served as tutors and companions; their total average was $1,088.10; the 36 men who had similar work through the summer earned a total of $12,957.39. That class which is named "guide, guard and usher" took 206 men; more than 100 each were required for monitoring in college courses, typewriting and tutoring. Fifty men found occupation in each of these divisions—waiter, stenographer, proctor and clerk.

Numerous other kinds of positions were filled by college men, who can qualify as swimming instructors of dancing teachers, boatmen, stewards, waiters, canvassers or athletic super-

Princeton
Princeton has fewer students this fall than last year, but the enrollment for the whole university has jumped from 3,489 to 1,599; the number of Freshmen this fall is 378; last year it was 428.
