Both Sides Well Represented in W. S. C.-Georgetown Debate

E. O. Jones, W. K. Gwin and J. D. Mattingly, cutting work on the question for the debate with Washington State College next month. Frequency conferences with the debate coach are held and the three members of the team are busy delving in the extensive literature of the subject in the University library.

The team which Jones, Gwin and Mattingly will meet will be one of the strongest that the State college has ever opposed. It consists of Miss Elizabeth Price, whose home is in North Yakima; A. E. Price, and R. E. Smiley, all of whom have held the grade of captain. The trio was chosen last June at the annual Baccalaurate Debate. There were twelve contestants in the finals. Miss Price was the winner of the medal, and is to be the leader of the team against Idaho.

A. E. Price was a participant in the Sophomore-Freshman debate last year and was leader of the team which represented his college against O. A. C. The third member, R. E. Chapman, is the only team member who has already debated on three intercollegiate teams.

Athletic Board at Work

On Thursday the Athletic Board met in the Gymnasium and did considerable work. The report of last year's basketball expenses was audited and accepted.

After much discussion the Board decided to hold the Athletic Ball this year on the 8th of November. This will be on the evening of the W. S. C. -Idaho game. The large number of Pullman students will probably take in the dance. The change, then, will mean a large attendance at both the important events. Committees have already been appointed for the Athletic Ball and arrangements have been going on for some time. It is the intention to make this dance the best of them all and every possible decorative feature will be used. A special orchestra will furnish the music.

The Board has also a new plan in the way of gatekeepers at athletic events by appointing a committee of three students who will have the charge of the gates during the entire year. The employment will keep a strict account of money taken in and are expected to report to the different managers at the end of each season.

The men appointed were: Paul Savage, S. E. Vance, and Loren Brown.

Sophists get Sweaters

The class of 1910 decided at a meeting held last week to adopt sweaters as a special uniform with matching tie. Henry Smith, Ludwig S. Ger- lough and Jennie Gerlough were appointed to take charge of the matter. When the members of the present Senior class are sophomores they adopted a black and gold ribbons. There was a strong demand for these sweaters as they were worn by students in 1908.

Are you going to the game Friday? Who? Why? Because on that day will be played the most important game on Idaho's schedule, the game with Washington State College.

This will be the tenth annual game between the institutions. Of these, W. S. C. has won five and Idaho four. W. S. C. has scored a total of 57 points to Idaho's 35. The average of points per game is a criterion of the character of the games played. They have been contests of body, brain, and muscle that have startled the followers of athletics in the Northwest.

Every game but one has been a shutout for the team on the other side. The game this year will be no exception to the rule. W. S. C. has the finest team in her history. Her back-field is composed of three men who will build in a class by themselves as a trio of heavy, plunging backs. The line is heavy and composed of experienced men, and have all played every game with eagerness, for much that is new in football was shown to the spectators.

"Coach Middleton with his "spread formation" has originated a series of plays which the framers of the rules never dreamed of, and these the watchers witnessed in open mouth astonishment."

"The style of the two teams' was decided differently, Idaho seemed to spend chiefly on her trick plays, which for a time proved very effective. On the other hand Oregon wisely mixed straight football with the forward pass and fake runs."

"Idaho's clever spread formations and intricate passes were a revelation and made things look dangerous for Oregon still to play against solved. After five minutes of play, Fred Moule- hofl had boosted the ball squarely between Idaho's goal posts. The Idaho men began their steady progress down the field from ten to twenty yards a clip and scored a touch down, and the jubilant feeling of the Oregon rooters fell."

Jerry Nisten and J. W. Lilligren, captain and manager respectively, of the W. S. C. football team were in Moscow Saturday arranging matters for the game.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOU?

"What's the matter with my work, Professor?" asked the thoughtless student.
"Oh, I guess you're doing as well as could be expected of you," was the peremptory reply.

It remained for Trainer Conibear, who arrived at this critical moment with a flanked-out football, candidate on each arm, the Conibear, vocabulary working overtime, to impress on the chair of journalism that a passing mark in Palo Alto was deep damnation in Washington. "But when all was over he couldn't help feeling that in the final rearrangement they all passed and forgot."—Pacific Wave
Miss Frieda Sargent was ill and confined to the Dormitory Monday and Tuesday last week.

The Young Women's Christian Association has made arrangements to hold its meetings at Lise Hall for the present. An attempt is being made to have the meetings during the week but until a convenient time can be arranged they will be held on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. All girls in college are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

\section*{Will It Pay?}

By the will of a wealthy unmarried woman Swarthmore College, in Pennsylvania, is to receive $1,000,000 upon the condition that it will withdraw forever from intercollegiate athletic contests. There is a question as to whether the endowment would be worth the price that is proposed should be paid for it. The acceptance of the gift upon the terms stipulated would seem very much like selling the college spirit, and without college spirit a college is in a bad way.

"Why, I've never heard the name of this college till it scored against Cornell," says a character in a George Ade comedy. Into the "line" Mr. Ade put truth and a shrewd American observation upon the value of advertising. Athletic contests advertise a college more widely than any other form of advertising, and in these days of many universities and keen competition the advertisement is needed. A good foot ball eleven may serve to secure much patronage for the college, and participation in intercollegiate contests fosters healthy, wholesome college pride. The percentage of students who take part in contests is small, the donation of a student to athletics does not necessarily make him a drone at his books, and a lively interest in athletics makes for a wider interest in gymnasium work and outdoor exercise among students who need physical development, but do not care to try for teams.—Daily Northwestern.

\section*{TIED TO CHAPERONES.}

Girls Must Not be on the Streets After Six O'Clock.

Williamette University, Salem, Ore., Nov. 4.—Continuation reigns among the girls at Williamette University as the result of a mandate coming from Dean Kyle, of the women's department, regulating the hours when they should be seen upon the streets after nightfall, and curtailing the visits of the young victors led to Lassanoe Hall, the girls' dormitory. The girls look askance at the rules. The young men are wrath concerning the restrictions, as they see no advantage in the compulsory social life of the young people. The rules read, in part, as follows:

1. Girls are not supposed to be out on the streets after 6 p.m.
2. Gentlemen may be received only once a week, (Friday or Saturday nights) and must go at 10 o'clock.
3. Girls are not supposed to go any place without a chaperone.
4. Unless a young man takes a young lady to a place she shall not accompany her there.
5. On Sunday nights the young men must be required to leave at 9:15.
6. Girls are not supposed to linger on the campus talking to young men.

The face of the girl is a good judge long when she sees the theatre notices, as they know that the young men can not get seats for two and a chaperone.

\section*{Army & Navy}

Whitman recently defeated the Multnomah Athletic Club by a score of 14 to 5. This, as compared with the recent victory over the same team by the U. of W. with a score of 10 to 6 indicates that the two teams are evenly matched. The Vanite apparently has better defense as Multnomah had no chance to score during the game. Whitman's offense is apparently better, especially in place kicking.—Pacific Wave.
