ENGLISH CLUB PLAY was GREAT SUCCESS

DRAMATIC SOCIETY Mode Hit at Its Second Appearance. Great Talent Expressed.

The University English Club made its second appearance of the year last Saturday evening, when it presented a clever little four-act comedy called "The Masquerade of June." The ap-presentation of the former work of the club was shown by the large and en-thusiastic audience which greeted the players, and the frequent applause and many flowers thrown revealed the general satisfaction with the last performance. Two of the leading members of the cast were particularly able to carry out. Mr. Johnson had on crutches for nearly a week as a result of a specific injury, and Mr. Cleveland came from the hospital suffering from pleurisyity, to take his part in the play. Yet, despite these facts, each did his part admiringly.

In particular, the work of Miss Harmer, Miss Lee, Mr. Johnson, Miss Se-_Tree, Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Paris and Mr. McFarlan will deserve high praise. Mrs. Harmer, as Jane, had a difficult role, which she interpreted admirably. Mr. Cleveland came rapidly from the ill-will, impulsive Jane before her father and the play is. Thecio, his joking, bluffing character before the chaperone, Miss Beechnor, was made most convincing by Mr. Beechnor, particularly pleasing in his fitting costume and authoritative voice. The part of George Langin, as acted by Mr. Johnson, was well taken.

Miss Beechnor, as Cornelia Gage, shown splendidly in the part. Among the many humorous scenes with Mr. Cleveland, as Lord Bother, Her attempt to fix the situation's line, held the audience in a continuous uproar. Perhaps Mr. Faris, as Zerilla Pashion, presented the best stage appearance. He seemed perfectly at home, and his enunciation was clear and distinct. Mr. Rena, as Mr. Naglee, was well suited to his character and the scenes between him and his daughter, Jane, were amusing.

Among the minor characters, Miss Howard as Panta's Benchick deserves special mention. Her control and interpretation of her lines were above the ordinary. Mr. Hay's Miss Anderson as servants, both had good make-ups and acted capably. Miss Mulligan as Mrs. Bapchild, managed all by the ease with which she went to sleep, and broke into the conversation with a start in perfect keeping with the character of an old lady. Mr. Stodrard represented the typical little boy in a fitting manner, and Miss Wilson assumed the stark part of a slender little body to perfection. The husky, the old man, and the old lady were the only thing which "designated the players as amateurs, was a slight head

"Her Own Way"

It will interest those who enjoyed the latest appearance of the English Club to know that its next performance will be "Her Own Way," which has been delayed for several weeks, as the spring vacation begins. The play, "Her Own Way," should be a good comedy and deals with American scenes, topics and characters. The production will be interesting, and there are some splendid emotional scenes.

P. H. Moore has full charge of the play, and is having daily rehearsals. She has asked Mrs. Roland Zumhof, who has written the story, to appear in the play. This will be a neat and delightful feature. Miss Ellis has accepted the managing

CLASSE CгласG HOUSE ADDRESSES STUDENTS

Idaho's Youthful Representative Visits the University Debate Trolls of Last Session.

Tuesday morning a special assembly was held when Hon. Paul Clagstone, Speaker of House in the Idaho Territorial Legislature, gave the address. A full attendance of faculty, students and townpeople greeted the speaker who told something of the proceedings of the last session. Mr. Clagstone first spoke of the natural resources of the state and particularly of the agricultural side. In the north there are important cereals in the west, where lands are not properly worked. In the central section of the state the hills to note are the latter and while in the south a great surge has been made in the cultivation of the vast desert. There are only one million acres now under water, and the area to be irrigated is planned to

TRACK OUTLOOK AT IDaho

Prospects Point to Winning Team. Many Men Try Out.

Good Schedule.

Track work begins in earnest. During the past week about forty men have reported for track work and the outlook for a winning team is much brighter than was expected.

Next Friday night the men will be given a chance to be in competition in the indoor meet, and several of the new men are going to make a good showing.

The man who wins in track must have determination and patience. The men who are going to make the team that those who train faithfully every evening, Manager Grier has arranged a most desirable schedule. The W. S. C. meet will be held, in Pullman on May 23. On the 26th, the Whitman meet in Moscow, on the 8th of May, the triangular with the U. of O. and U. of W. in Eugene on May 24th, and O. A. C. in Corvallis on the 17th. It is possible that a meet will be arranged with Montana and it will occur on May 29th. Then it will be seen that the track men will be able to meet twice at home, and those that can have a trip into Oregon for two meets. This is the first time Idaho has made such trips since Murphy, Edward, Gage and Matthews represented her at the fair in 1905.

If the season is a financial success a team will be sent to the conference meeting in Seattle in June. The old men who are back again are Capt. Montgomery and Foss, both as quarter new men can be develop-ted to take the place of Fee, Edmundson and Thorsteson.

Montgomery's brother, Joe, developed. He has made a trip since Murphy, Edward, Gage and Matthews represented her at the fair in 1905.

In the seven Coast States there are at least 6,000 college men, forty per cent being church members.

Taking young men generally over the country, one in twelve is a member of a church, but among college men, one in two is a member of some church.

Though only one in every 200 of the young men of North America is in college, yet sixty per cent of the most prominent positions are held by college men.

Last year 48,882 were enrolled in the voluntary Bible classes conducted by the Associations of North America. 3,481 of these were prominent athletes, 4,267 fraternity men, 3,359 others prominent in university life.

There are approximately 200,000 college and university men in North America.

The fees for Michigan students at the University are as follows: Matriculation fee, $15; annual fee, $50. In the professional schools the annual fee is $45. There are also in some departments laboratory fees for certain courses.

English Club Play

Emergency in taking up the stage conversation. At times there were pauses at dinner where other characters should have broken in. However, none of these were noticeable to any great extent, and but little prompting was necessary.

The Mandalay club, under the direction of Fred Ternil, also helped to make the evening enjoyable. Its first appearance was well received, and it is likely to live up to its past reputation.

The general sentiment is that this production is the best ever given by the English Club, and that the cast was the best yet chosen.

Batting cages have been constructed on the athletic field for the use of the base ball team.

Hon. Frel Clagstone reviewed the battalion of cadets Tuesday afternoon.

A reception was given at Bennett Hall Tuesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Cushing, to which all of the faculty members were invited. The Matsy orchestra furnished music during the entire evening.

James Glenn '11 made a business trip to Gefford last Saturday.

A party of civil engineers surveyed the track at the athletic field last Saturday.
