Winter Carnival

Whether and in the same frothy breath; winter sports! And with the advent of coating, diving, tobogganing and, oh, yes, sliding, why not winter on the slopes?

What a hilarious time a real snow storm would afford, and on this carnival winter is the time. By being and it is negotiable that such an event has not already been suggested. As it is snow sports occupy fully two-thirds of the calendar, so participants for such a carnival could be fully secured and the support with be almost tales for grandeur.

Announcing the extreme difficulties of old man Winter this February, a logical bit of planning and school boards upon the student would not be so pressing this time it would give him more opportunity to lend godly support. Also if the present plans for a skating rink materialize this furnish additional incentive and probably provide an appropriate place for staging the great event.

The Winter carnival idea was brought up a perfect last year when W. S. C. Whitman and other colleges staged an increase array that were gloriously. Idaho's own plans for a carnival could be by the scarlet fever scare which swept the campus last January.

But this year our plans will probably be diminished by February, old man Whitman permitting, there will be nothing in the way of a big winter carnival.

The College Newspaper

The college newspaper, so far as one policy is concerned, is gradually becoming less and less like the average city daily. This encouraging sign is the result of the apparent determination of those who direct the policies of college papers to conform to ideals held by the United States to maintain the highest possible standard in their news and editorial pages.

This also is a convincing denial of the claim that the demand of educated people is the aim of education for it is now and singular.

This educated generation you are awakening to the necessity of not losing the quality of important and sensitive issues.

The college newspaper is an educational instrument and as such must refrain from printing criminal and defaming news. This realization on the part of the policy-makers of college journals has resulted in such standards that educators are coming more and more to depend on newspapers for the class room.

When political stunts of the sportsmen bear the hallmarks of a great class of educated people and as such the editing faculty for all newspapers, then it will have accomplished a great and desirable purpose.

Good Work "I" Club

ITALO, like all universities, may have a few dozen organizations, but the bully has her full quota of life and going on. Witness the "I" club, and its most recent and valuable idea: the smokings, which is an education in itself. An organization is known by its campus activities—and who hasn't heard of the "I" club?

"Well L---"

Statistics tell us that Idaho has a third of the population of the United States. So why not us in the news is so, we thought was due. A club was formed and the first meeting was considered a capital event.

It is easy to believe the instance, but we should not push the gains of smoking, but the time to prepare, to take a chance with some of the common run.

You're all heard of chains stores, tobacco stores, cig stores, and the like, and we are in the circuit event of affairs, and many other common habits, but do you ever hear of a chain of GOLF LINKS?

This month we will have the privilege of enlightening you where your golf clubs are kept and you will further perfection at the golf club and other organizations.

So, if a skidding risk is kept it is generally, if not always be done to cut down,

They couldn't destroy the work he did

"The Republic has no need for savants," sneered a tool of Robespierre as he sent Lavoliers, founder of modern chemistry, to the guillotine. A century later the French Government collected all the studies of this great citizen of Paris and published them, that the record of his researches might be preserved for all time.

Lavolier showed the errors of the theory of phlogiston—that hypothetical, material substance which was believed to be an element of all combustible compounds and to produce fire when liberated. He proved fire to be the union of other elements with a gas which he named oxygen.

Lavolier's work goes on. In the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company the determination of the effects of atmospheric air on laboratory elements, or electrodes, and on delicate instruments is possible because of the discoveries of Lavolier and his contemporaries.
