MOON'S "Cost is Fine" or "The School for Lovers" is to be presented at the university under auspices of Friday, Nov. 7.

The plane, which is in the form of a girl, is a mixture of the feminine and the masculine, and is completely successful in giving the illusion of femininity. The audience was delighted at the sight of this "girl" who was capable of doing both.

Microphone (The Scatter) was one of the highlights of the program. It enabled the audience to hear what the director was saying without any difficulty. The audience was thoroughly charmed by the performance of the Scatter.

Reading, "A".

The name of the channel is "The Scatter". This is a combination of "A" and "C" and is a perfect example of an all-purpose channel. The Scatter was introduced by the audience at the beginning of the program and was received with great enthusiasm.

A Great Tournament

The annual intramural basketball tournament just closed with Boise State's women's basketball team placing second for the first time in the tournament's history. The tournament was held over a period of a week and included games played by the university's women's basketball teams.

The tournament was a success, with a large attendance of students and faculty. The games were played in the university's gymnasium, and the crowd was enthusiastic.

The tournament was organized by the university's athletic department, and the games were referees by the Idaho Basketball Officials Association. The tournament was open to all members of the university community, and the games were played according to official rules.

The tournament concluded on a high note, with the Boise State women's basketball team taking second place. The team played well throughout the tournament, and their success was a testament to the hard work and dedication of the players. The tournament was a great example of the university's commitment to fostering a strong athletic program.

No Postponements of Indoor Ball Contests

The athletic authorities in charge of intramural contests, after considering the make-up of teams and the great number of games that have been worked out, considered that the games are not barred through the indoor weather conditions and especially to the intramural activities. The games are still going on.

In order to keep the indoor activities going, a teacher will be present every evening this week.

THIRTY FIVE MEN OUT FOR SPRING FOOTBALL

Spring football practice opened Monday afternoon, with 35 players on hand to start. Formations which have been worked out in class may not be changed, as far as the desire of the team is concerned.

The first practice took place on McLean Field, and it should be announced that practice work is now in progress.

The practice for the rest of the week will be held as announced.

SOCIETY

Pricers were more or less laggard in the past week and all situations were focused on the basketball tournament.

After the last game Wednesday night the meeting made a move to more and more causes and other forms of entertainments were started up in the society ways. The Phi Gamma Delta chapter of this university has been operating quite successfully, and it is expected to make the needed socials. In the long run the bands will be opened to take part in their respective sport activities with the coming of spring vacation.
