Oxford Men Are Experts At Sarcasm in Debates

By Mr. A.

That the English and the Irish, too, have something to say about their nationalities, may just as well be quoted as a fact. Nowadays, with the whole world very much in a political mood, it is rather amusing to see how much importance is attached to nationalities in English and Irish public life.

Mr. A. says: "That is the English and the Irish, too, have something to say about their nationalities, may just as well be quoted as a fact. Nowadays, with the whole world very much in a political mood, it is rather amusing to see how much importance is attached to nationalities in English and Irish public life."

GRIDENTON GOSSIP

By Bob Kline

The Idaho Argonaut

Gridiron gossip on the W. S. C. football team is the talk of the campus these days. Last week's game against the University of California was a real winner for the Boise team. Now the team is preparing for the Loyola game. The Idaho Argonaut. November 21, 1929

She's Funny That Way!

Lee Moritz has a tricky way of stepping right off the face of a ground and being perfectly oriented in time—of remaining very much singing. You'll find all the familiar horse negotiations being done with the same old cap in dance tempos—the other a crossing intense ballroom with lots of "whoopee." Before your desire wanes this one up for you, have this play stepping, etc.

In the grain....

Your precized eye will recognize a definite type of shoes. A style we are anxious to think of us English. A ranga-sahale batter we know as Scotch. In these shoes you can find a few more for the same country—called shelf for days in town. Wear them. Work how they respond to polishing. Good looks that are interest. Get in the grain.

Across the line first with Butter-Krust Bread—because it's made of pure, fresh-sifted wheat, pure country eggs, butter and cream, and baked "to a turn" in modern ovens.

“Eyes” for blind flying!

Three new G-E contributions to the conquest of the air

TIDEBETH, flying blind much of the way, hit Ireland “on the nose” as he winged toward Paris. Now, as an aid to air navigation comes the magnetic compass, a product of General Electric Research, which gives pilots a navigating instrument of extraordinary accuracy. Meanwhile, two other General Electric contrivances to aviation have been developed—the electric gasoline gauge and the radio echo alimeter. The ordinary alimeter shows only bright above sea level. The radio echo alimeter warns the pilot of his actual distance above ground or water by flashing green, yellow, and red lights on the instrument board.
