Every Student Should Vote

Even students who do not intend to vote should vote in the election. It is elected a matter of general dignity. There is no place in a university which attempts to foster a liberal attitude toward all things which打好 title with titles for its students. The two are inseparable. Unfortunately, only one of the candidates will be voted on tomorrow, but the war in Europe is the same. If you do not vote, you will be forced to make a decision later. The war will probably have a chance to express their opinions on the others later. If you are a minority, you cannot vote in favor of the problem, the two are tied for the title and against the war is concerned.

If students believe that the only issue on the ballot is the war, they are in for a surprise. The election is an important opportunity for students to make their voices heard. They should be given the opportunity to vote in order to have a voice in the future of their country.

The election is of importance. Idaho's continued as an educational institution will not be threatened if it abstains from voting. However, if you do vote, make sure you know what you are voting for.

“Deture” Causes Varied Ideas

In Minds of Puzzled Students

DIRTY Dorms were the three little words that caused the most confusion in the minds of Idaho students.”

The story of the dormitory was told by President Robert R. Anderson in his address to the Idaho College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. The dormitory is located on the campus of the university and is used by students during the summer months. The story is one of the many that have been told about the dormitory over the years.

The dormitory was built in 1943 and has been used by students ever since. It is a two-story building with 24 rooms on each floor. The rooms are furnished with beds, desks, chairs, and wardrobes. The building is located on the northern edge of campus and is considered one of the best dormitories on the campus.

The dormitory is used by about 250 students each summer. The students live in the dormitory during the summer months while studying for their degrees. The dormitory is also used by students who are taking summer classes. The dormitory is open to all students, regardless of major.

The dormitory has been the subject of many stories over the years. One of the most well-known stories is the “Dirty Dorms” story. The story was told in 1958 and has been retold many times since then.

The dormitory is currently undergoing renovations. The renovations are expected to be completed by the fall of 2023.

15 cent fares anywhere in town
BLUE CAB

If you wish to have reduced rates it is up to you to patronize the CAB CO. who makes the rates possible. Otherwise you get the extra fare. Our competition says their rates are for the month of March. If the CAB was not in town we could not keep ours.

If it had not been for the CAB you would have been paying higher rates for the past two weeks. Mr. Johnson, manager of the CAB, says we are not trying to run any one out of business. We simply want to have the rates so we can charge everyone the same and treat everyone the same.

The Sport Shop
By Paul Boyd

The present market finds the sport shop almost bust. The purchase when under conditions is a good deal more popular than the more recent market, which has not been as popular as the more recent market. The market is not expected to continue as strong as it has been, and the prices are expected to continue to decline.
