STUDENTS' LEARN ABOUT FARM TRACTOR

Review Instruction in Operation

For the past two weeks, students at the University of Idaho have been learning about the operation and care of tractors. The tractor sessions have been held in the university's Mechanics Hall, and the students have been taught by the university's Agricultural Extension Service. The students have been shown how to operate and maintain the tractors, and they have been given hands-on experience with the equipment. The sessions have been well-received, and the students have been enthusiastic about learning more about farming.

FISHING LICENSES NOT YET RECEIVED

Season Opens April 15 In Some Streams; No, Demand Here

The 1932 fishing season began April 15 in some streams. However, there has been no demand for licenses. The Idaho Department of Fish and Game has reported that the fishing season will be successful if the weather cooperates. The department is urging Idahoans to participate in the fishing season.
