PEP RALLY OPENS HOMECOMING CELEBRATION

Gymnasium Acoustics To Improve Dances

Temporary "Shell" Guides Music To Floor

Construction preceding afternoon of a temporary shell guides music to floor over the entire gymnasium during the pep rally. This will make hearing those songs and announcements easier for both, for experts and non-locals.

Amplification of the Memorial gymnasium music will be much easier next term when permanent loud speakers are installed. The Memorial gymnasium music will be fed through the speakers, the noise being lowered, the music turned up, and the loudness quality of the music better than now if letters are not drowned out by the other music.

Welcome Alums

"Eaton alumnus" by no means means that you are not in the company of Leskurus, Finley, and of the old Idaho University—plus several very fine people. It is meant that you are familiar with the school and its traditions and that you have a love for it.

I hope that this week finds you well and happy. I am sure that you will find the school just as you left it, and that you will be pleased with the changes that have been made since your last visit.

The Idaho Alumni Association is now in its eleventh year of existence, and we are proud of the fact that it has been a success. We have always tried to keep the association alive and active, and we are glad to report that we have been able to do so.

The association has been able to meet its expenses by the sale of papers and other items. We hope that you will continue to support us in this way.

We are always on the lookout for new ideas and suggestions for our activities. If you have any ideas, please let us know. We are always interested in hearing from our old friends.

I hope that you will enjoy this edition of the Idaho Alumni Association Bulletin, and that you will keep us informed of any important events in your lives.

Squawkye Says---

“Squawkye” is a nickname given to the students of the old University of Idaho. The name was given by the students themselves, and it has been in use for many years.

“Squawkye” means a lot to the students, and it is a symbol of their pride in the school.

We hope that you will enjoy this edition of our bulletin, and that you will continue to support us in our efforts to make the school a better place for all of us.

Grins and Gripes

To the Editor:

I am a registered student at Idaho State University, and I am writing to express my concern about the recent events that have occurred on campus.

I am aware of the fact that there have been several incidents of violence and vandalism on the campus, and I am deeply concerned about the safety of all students.

As a member of the Idaho State University community, I believe that it is important for us to work together to address these issues. I urge all members of the university community to come together and find a way to address these problems.

Sincerely,

"How the Campus Has Changed" Is Favorite Remark of Alums

"How the campus has changed! That's what about half of the alumni-playing-club members have been saying and almost everyone in the student body has been talking about it. The changes are so noticeable that almost everyone who passes in front of the main building is struck by the altered appearance of the campus.

First, the old buildings have been replaced by modern structures. The old library, once the center of intellectual activity, is now a small part of a much larger, more functional facility. The old gymnasium, which housed the ball games and track meets of the past, has been replaced by a modern, state-of-the-art athletic complex.

Second, the student body has changed. The old students, who were primarily from the upper classes, have been replaced by a more diverse group of students from all walks of life. This has led to a more open and inclusive atmosphere on campus.

Third, the curriculum has changed. The old courses, which focused on preparing students for careers in the professions, have been replaced by a more liberal arts curriculum that emphasizes critical thinking and creativity.

Fourth, the campus has become more technologically advanced. The old, slow-moving computers have been replaced by high-speed, powerful machines that allow students to access information and communicate with each other in a matter of seconds.

Fifth, the campus has become more environmentally conscious. The old, energy-wasting buildings have been replaced by modern structures that are designed to be as energy-efficient as possible.

These changes have been implemented over the past few years, and the results have been impressive. The campus is now a much more modern, efficient, and environmentally friendly place than it was in the past.

Although it has been in actual operation for over 90 years, the university's Alumni Association has only now decided to make plans for the future. Gordon Baldwin was chosen as president, Kenneth Thorson, secretary, and Leslie Page, treasurer. This board of directors will now get down to work on the problems of the association, and will try to attract alumni back to the university, where former classmates can renew their acquaintance and recall the memories of college days.

The Food Sale of the Year Ends Saturday, Nov. 9th.

Mild and yet they Satisfy

how do you do that?

Well, to start with, we take tobacco from our own Southland—mild ripe tobacco with lots of natural flavor but no harshness or bitterness.

Then as a Second Step—

We blend this home-grown tobacco with spicy, aromatic Turkish tobaccos from across the seas. These Turkish Tobaccos, you may know, have a flavor and fragrance entirely different from our own.

As a Third Step—

These tobaccos are cross-blended —welded together—the best way we've found to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette.

THAT'S WHY CHESTERFIELDS ARE MILD AND YET THEY SATISFY

In a single day people from ten different states entered our Chesterfield factories.

8,000 visitors during the past year saw Chesterfields made.
