Track Men Called By Ryan; Training Starts Monday

Coach Mike Ryan yesterday issued a call for all men who are interested in making either intramural, intercollegiate, or, if necessary, a private track team to report to him not later than tomorrow morning to register their equipment, and to start immediately.

A special meeting of all members interested in either intramural, intercollegiate or private track teams will be arranged.

According to weather conditions, the practice will be limited to the number of intramural and intercollegiate teams.

"We have no home facilities in which to train during the winter months," the athletic director pointed out. "Therefore, the track season at Idaho has been delayed, but men who wish to represent the university in any track meets have been invited to register their equipment today," Coach Ryan yesterday.

The time set for the call is 8 p.m., but the number of freshmen and sophomores to which the call will go will be limited to those who wish to register.
