Why Go To "Idaho"
The choice of a university or college to be attended by a student should be based on four principal requirements: 1. a high purpose and broad field of study; 2. a competent faculty; 3. a sufficient equipment, and 4. a student body of high ideals. The University of Idaho fulfills these requirements.

1. Purpose and Field—It is the purpose to serve the people of Idaho in developing and training students in advancing the entire state educational system of which it is a part; in assisting toward the solution of economic and social problems; in furnishing expert knowledge in Agriculture, Engineering, Forestry, Home Economic, and Educational matters not only to students of the state but also to all who desire it throughout the state.

2. Faculty—The faculty is made up of eighty-three teachers of thorough training and efficiency attained by years of study and experience. They are deeply interested in the progress of each and every student in the college. They know the State and its conditions and give their best efforts to its development.

3. Equipment—Its equipment is ample. It has a library of over 40,000 volumes, excellent facilities for teaching Literature, Philosophy, and the Social Sciences, and well equipped laboratories for the natural and applied sciences.

4. Students—It's student body is composed of students from every county in the state, from every part of the union, and from all its continental possessions.

DAVIDS'

'FRATERNITIES HAVE VIRTUES' by Emory W. Beals

President Brannon visiting point in Thursday's morning on the College of the Kansas University of Kansas visit.

This presents a number of problems in the mind of the student. The question of the advisability of the fraternity system has been a topic of discussion for many years. The fraternity system has been criticized for many reasons, and it is not possible to give a complete analysis of the advantages and disadvantages of the system in a short article. However, it is possible to present some of the arguments in favor of the system and some of the arguments against it.

ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF THE FRATERNITY SYSTEM

1. Social Functions: Fraternities provide opportunities for social activities and entertainment. They offer a variety of events such as parties, dances, and game nights, which help students to meet and socialize with others.

2. Academic Support: Fraternities often have study groups and tutoring programs that help members to succeed academically. They also offer opportunities for leadership positions, which can help students to develop important skills.

3. Professional Networking: Fraternities can provide a valuable network of professional contacts. Alumni who are members of fraternities often return to the university to provide job opportunities and mentorship to current members.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST THE FRATERNITY SYSTEM

1. Cost: The cost of joining a fraternity can be high, and it may be difficult for some students to afford it. Moreover, the expenses associated with fraternity events can add up quickly.

2. Time Commitment: Fraternity members may spend a lot of time on fraternity activities, which can detract from their academic and personal responsibilities.

3. Isolation: Fraternity memberships can create a sense of exclusivity and孤隔感, which can lead to a lack of diversity in social circles and a sense of isolation from other students.

In conclusion, the fraternity system has both advantages and disadvantages. While it can provide social, academic, and professional benefits, it may also have negative consequences for some students. It is important for students to carefully consider the costs and benefits of joining a fraternity and to make an informed decision about whether or not to do so. UNIVERSITY OF IOWA.
