A JUDICIALIZATION

Among the various topics in the editorial "Platypus," appearing in the last issue, was one which made the assertion that the Argonaut, if it is a paper that is in fact in character, should realize its editorial responsibilities. This is an important point, for the whole situation is conditions; no comment whatever should be made as to editorial consequences, but this problem should be discussed in the mind of the people in regard to the matter.

The editor's statement made an observer of academically minded sentiments, a historic echo of the past and its meaning. "The Argonaut, in my view, is a representative of the people of the University of Idaho. It has the function of mental clarification, with the result that when it chooses to express itself, it will naturally possess the tendency to think independently on an issue." No one, not even our critics, would be so foolish as to expect a lay man's idea of what is "right", but it is important that the idea of independence be entertained.

the position due to the pressure of work.

The forum

The Editor-in-Chief Argonaut, in his letter, which appeared in the Nov. 10 issue, stated that the forum, as a section of a newspaper, is not a forum at all, but an idea that has somewhat of the character of the fraternity. The forum has been given to the press, however. Correcting the criticism directed toward it, there has been quite a considerable debate about it.

Liaison Officer announced that he has met with a number of applications for the third official coaching position. He states that an appreciable number of responses will be made to this document and that there will be no trouble in filling the 25 positions and their responsibilities. On account of the number of applications it will be necessary to reduce the number of forum positions. This will be done as soon as possible. Those who have already sent applications are: R. W. Van Humwey, T. A. Young, R. A. Swenson, B. E. Brown, A. A. Dunn, B. E. Brown, and R. J. McManus. The last name of J. T. B. McKenna is incorrect.

In addition he requested for information from students contact this number from three times.

FRENCH LAUDS
IDADO LOYALTY

Make Alamo and Member of Congress Praise Petition of State; Draft Explained

A large number of students and sympathizers gathered in the auditorium Wednesday morning to hear Senator Louis J. French. The speech attract of the meeting was a call to by Mr. K. S. Oates, after which the assembly sang "America." Dame Holliday introduced Mr. French as Idaho's first almanac, first in promotion and public service.

"These two subjects which I wish to in the assembly are so large that we can perhaps only glimpse them.
In the time of the discussion of war between the imperial government of Germany and the United States, the problems presented themselves to us. We are trying to win by raising money, and the question is how to money to the way which the first shall apply this morning. If I should judge by the audience at the meeting, I shall conclude that the people of the United States are in favor of the draft. But all though the movement is to raise money and not to the standpoint of the na tion, as far as that is fundamental principles of democracy.
We don't have the volunteer system for the upsurge of our towns, public squares, no longer. Then why should it be USED IN ANY OTHER ACTIVITY OF THE GOVERNMENT

Draft a Neglectly.

"Let us review the history of some of these recent wars and compare the volunteer and draft systems in points of efficiency. I think that the fact that the volunteer system is popular due to the wonderful showing made by our troops at the battle of Kearsage

The American people have come to the American Revolution.
Disaster after disaster, loss of life and money, is attributable to the volunteer system. Undoubtedly the American revolution could have been brought to a close three years sooner if the draft system had been used in the education of the people.

"In the Civil War the Great English could place on the battle field only a few men. In no other of those who declared that drafts should have been for not 4000 of our volunteers.
If one man in ten had been drafted and trained it would have been better in months.

"In the Mexican war Scott was preparing with 50 regiments to the Mexican capital. When three days march of the wings of the repressors Dempsey and returned to their homes. The drafters and the time had run out.

"In the Civil war the draft system was not used by the youth of the third year.
Before that time the men had trained and trained twice their number of volunteer troops.

"These facts were staring congressmen in the face and it was decided that system should be used that would equally apportion the soldiers through the state according to population.

Volunteer System Deficit

"Under the volunteer system one man's contributions are made from some communities while one other man's contributions are made from some other communities. It is right that some sections should make tremendous sacrifice while others are not required any? In the first case that was made last winter. 142,000 filled 150 per cent of their quota. For every man that Vermont volunteered, thirty sent 25, and for every man that the northern states sent, Idaho sent. Then from the standpoint of fair ple and equal distribution the electoral draft will solve the problem.

"It is just as necessary at this time that we keep our men who are especially fitted for the work, who are and farms at their respective posts. Great Britain and Australia, and the United States, and the in Germany is nothing less of dis integration among the masses of the Russian. And in order to satisfy the German people at home a drive had to be made, so that drive was made against the Italians.

"I am glad that the American peo are awakening in this time of excitement. Be loyal and enter whole

Moral Denver.

"In writing his story, 'The Old Curiosity Shop,' Charles Dickens referred to the American Civil War. When he did so he used the term "Little Elf" for us, but he implied that we were not to testify to the sacrifice of our brave boys.

Notice to the boys, but if it is a question of the people, it is only that the boys may have the world of democracy, they must do it.
