Why Go to "Idaho"
The choice of a university or college to be attended should be based upon four principal requirements: 1st, a high purpose and broad field of work; 2nd, a competent faculty; 3rd, a sufficient equipment; 4th, a student body of high ideals. The University of Idaho fully satisfies these requirements.

1. Purpose and Field—
It is the purpose of the people of Idaho in developing and training students; in advancing the entire State educational system of which it is a part; in solving locally the economic and social problems; in furnishing expert knowledge in Agriculture, Engineering, Forestry, Home Economics and other fields, and in aiding the students in residence but also to all who desire it throughout the State.

2. Facilities—
The faculty is made up of eighty-three teachers of thorough training and efficiency attained by years of study and experience. They are deeply interested in the progress of such and all their instructors.

Their knowledge and the conditions and give their best efforts to the development. In addition, there are fifteen leaders of Idaho's industrial concerns, and in the building and maintenance of homes.

3. Equipment—
It is the largest of eighty-three teachers of thorough training and efficiency attained by years of study and experience. They are deeply interested in the progress of such and all their instructors.

Their knowledge and the conditions and give their best efforts to the development. In addition, there are fifteen leaders of Idaho's industrial concerns, and in the building and maintenance of homes.

4. Students—
The students numbered one thousand and nine in the school year of 1908-1909 and were seventy-five and twenty, their individual numbers grew. They know the State and its conditions and give their best efforts to the development. In addition, there are fifteen leaders of Idaho's industrial concerns, and in the building and maintenance of homes.

The six colleges and the central agricultural experiment station are part of the cooperative experiment stations that have been the agricultural extension service of the State, and the agricultural education and demonstration forms at Caldwell, Sandpoint, and Aberdeen.

MINES SCHOOL ALTERS COURSES

Unofficial service.

"While it is necessary to maintain the four-year course for those who for any reason are not subject to draft, we are sufficiently convinced to plan for two years of college, followed by an indefinite number of years of war with the more years of college after the end of the war if they serve, it is my opinion that the number of men in this class will be small. A second line of men to assist the war department in training enlisted men is the natural source for special service of military grade, and this source of men has already plucked foot this work. We feel however that in the main the situation will lead to the maintenance of industrial vocational courses of six to twelve months duration planned to prepare young fellows just out of high school for a year or as service as enlisted men in industry. In place of the present industrial course of perhaps six months for men of whom are in France or on the way there."

"We propose therefore to give men who are not subject to service or are not subject to service but may go into an intensive course in practical chemistry, fire and water management, and water purifying. We suggest making changes in the curriculum to make principles applicable to the war service, and by the use of the new science in the development of plants for the food of our boys come home safe."

Legend

In the friendly spirit of fellowships, the word "comradeship" or the word "friendship" is a synonym to the word "labor," and without which the past is meaningless.

World war is a war of steel and iron, and our fighting men must have a strength to meet the conditions imposed by the war. Building schools and colleges is a war for the souls of men, and we must do our part in this war with as much determination and energy as our fighting men do in their war.
