The activities of the George Washington University, in addition to its regular campus sports, have been marked by a number of off-campus events, particularly those sponsored by the Cultural Relations Committee, which is in charge of the activities of the university. The committee is composed of students from various colleges and faculties, and its purpose is to promote understanding between the different groups on campus.

Many popular entertainers have been brought to the campus by the Cultural Relations Committee, including the popular singer, Bing Crosby, who gave a concert in the Field House on Monday night. The concert was a great success, and the crowd was enthusiastic throughout.

The committee is also responsible for the planning of the university's annual spring carnival, which is scheduled for the end of April. The carnival will feature a variety of activities, including a parade, a carnival ride, and a fireworks display.

In addition to the entertainment events, the committee is also involved in a number of other activities, such as the organization of the university's annual dance, which is scheduled for the end of March.

The committee is made up of students from all the different colleges on campus, and it is an excellent opportunity for students to get involved in the life of the university and to have a great time.

The activities of the George Washington University continue to be a source of great interest and enjoyment for the students, and the university is proud to be able to offer such a variety of events and activities.

U. OF I. MAY HEAR GOOD ENTERTAINERS

A COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC EVENTS is considering inviting entertainers to the University. Attempts to bring the University of Idaho the greatest and most dazzling entertainers available have been made. A letter of protest has been sent to Dean F. A. Thomson, chairman. Dean Thomson has answered :"These types of entertainment will be frowned upon. We do not wish the University's prestige or the students' pride to be affected by the very type of events mentioned.

"Our students take time of their own to be entertained and we do not want to interfere with their pleasure."

The entertainment committee consisting of President W. F. McMillan, Governor, Professor and Librarian, and Professor of Music and Director of Choral Music, has been formed. The committee is supposed to be in charge of all entertainments.
