We have particular reference to the new suits and dresses.

There is a decided newness, not alone to the styles, but to the fabrics and the colors.

The suits may be had in box coats, semi-fitted belted effects, and a number have waistcoats or cuff borders.

Probably one of the most decided features is the ankle-length of the skirts, which are extremely narrow.

The materials that enter most into the making of the new dresses are georgette, chiffon, shantung, and a number of knitted materials.

These new garments are priced at $15 to $50
