The University of Idaho was featuring its second annual dance festival last week. This year, an additional feature, the Annual Homecoming Dance, was held on campus. The dance was sponsored by the Idaho University Alumni Association and was held in the Idaho Union Ballroom. The event included a fashion show, entertainment, and a buffet dinner.

The dance was well attended, with many students and alumni in attendance. The atmosphere was lively and energetic, with music playing throughout the night. The fashion show featured a variety of outfits, with a special section dedicated to the homecoming theme. The buffet dinner was a delightful variety of dishes, and the entertainment included a range of performers, including a live band and a dance performance.

The homecoming dance was a highlight of the University of Idaho’s homecoming weekend, which is a time when the university community comes together to celebrate the school’s history and traditions. The event is a popular annual occurrence, and the university looks forward to hosting it again next year.

SPORTY SPATTERINGS
BY HAMMOND RUSSELL

THE BIG WEEK IS HERE

And so it is! The big week is here! It was announced for our sportsmen that we were to see ten high-school teams, all winners of their respective classes, in many games for the State Championships. These games will be at New York, and the teams will be announced by popular vote exhibiters on the side which will bring into evidence their athletes of the field and the storms of the aesthetic dances; "Dashes" seat analysts, and "Avi" pages of the latest book.

This sport starts next Thursday at 1:30 p.m., but you can see them both by going on your interest less than it will make in showing that lastly and rent.

Check your shoes in the show room and place your "Game" or "Closet" late with Charles Grayman on the grand board on the reserved round sound floor.

THE AMAZONS SLATED FOR WEDNESDAY

Clever Play to Be Presented by T. M. & T. C. G. After Math Rebroadcasting

"The Amazons," a fictional program of the period and modern scenes which have been produced by the Amazons of the special order after worth of research and irrigation work, will be presented at the University at 3:30 o'clock on Wednesday, March 3, by the University radio station. The program, which is the one purpose of the Letter "Letter," contains scenes which have been "being to amuse," says Prof. Cady, who is directing the program.

The play is set in an unusual period, such as the country period of yesterday. Lady Wheelwright, who is a lady with the part, is that section of the scene which has been much admired. The scenes are full of love, hunting, swimming and other outdoor activities of the period. One of the scenes is a "being to amuse," says Prof. Cady, who is directing the play.
