ASSEMBLY TALKS

Rev. W. S. Black Talks on His Stay in Palestine—Senator Dubois on the Orient.

The Assembly on Wednesday was a long one and of particular interest. The Rev. W. S. Black, of the Moscow church, was the regular speaker and took his subject "Palestine of Today". He made a special trip to the Holy Land and the recent war, and therefore has first hand knowledge of the country by the Rev. Black said in part: "I want to talk to you on a trip half way around the world, the trip to Palestine, and America to Palestine may be made now, in a month or so, with the recent methods of travel." The landing is at Joppa, a city of 30,000 people. It was noted in New Testament times as the place where Peter saw the vision which demonstrated to him that his religion was for Gentiles as well as Jews. Although the forming of old fashioned and the irrigation methods very curious, very fine oranges are raised in great quantities at Joppa.

"A narrow gauge railroad leads from Joppa to Jerusalem, the center of interest to every Palestine person. It is a city that has changed hand as the one of the pilgrimage, and which is today exciting the interest of travelers and scholars of all lands. The old city although more than one half of the people, and the best of its population are living outside the walls. The streets inside the walls are dark and narrow, that in many places the street has to be vacated by everybody and you are forced to remain for a camel to pass. A few years ago Emperor William, of Germany, visited Jerusalem and many improvements in the honor of his visit. A large section of the old wall was cut out to make a road for his trip. The city is so old and much of the city which was ever present is cleared away. Jerusalem is the scene of the most important events in the life of Christ. Bethlehem, the birthplace of Jesus, is not far from Jerusalem. The track then is the location of the manger in which the infant Jesus was born."

RIDEIMBAUGH PRIZE

Montandon, Darwin and Galloway Chosen to Represent Idaho in Debate:

Last Saturday afternoon was held the trial debate to select the team to meet a team from the University of Montana. In this year's topic, which was the largest number of volumes an Idaho team has ever entered a trial debate at.

The contest was good. It showed the eagerly desire of the students to have the places on the college team, and showed that in the Idaho business has given considerable time to the preparation for the two.

The Ridenbaugh Debate Prize of twenty-five dollars, given annually by Mrs. E. E. Ridenbaugh, of the Board of Regents, was awarded to the debate. Before it has been given to the person winning first place in a trial to select the W. C. S. C. team, but this year was presented to the Montana team by Miss A. Montandon was awarded first place and the Ridenbaugh Prize. The two who constitute the other members of the Montana team are Ollie Dar- do and C. W. and T. M. These two men are former students, the other enters the first inter-collegiate debate, Montana was a member of the Taft Party and is now a member of the Republican Party, and is a great contrast to that about which you have been hearing, of a land without any Jewish population and without Christ. Buddhism is the religion of Japan, and it is the faith of the people of Buddhist, and I had the pleasure of being one of the delegation of Senators and Representatives which accompanied Secretary of War Taft and Mrs. Allen Roosevelt on their trip on the tour of Hawaii, Japan, and the Philippines. Taft's admiration in the Philippines won for him approval in many quarters. The President appointed a Governor General of the Philippines, who was to be the constitutional governor, and the government of the islands in the Philippines for its members on a visit of inspection and this was the prime object of Miss Allen Roosevelt, seven Senators, five Representatives and others, number of the party eighty." Montandon depicted his great pleasure in looking upon white faces again after months of brown ones. He said that it would be the task of the young men of today to do something for the sake of the Filipinos possessions. He then went on with a description of his trip. The party stopped at the Philippines at the home of a former President.

The Portland Oregonian, whose representatives visited Idaho with the Portland business men and the other representatives of the state, has the following to say of the University of Idaho:
"Idaho is among the most interesting and important features of the social and educational life of the state. Its great success under many circumstances and the encouragement offered an example of particular value to Oregon.
Idaho has not made the mistake of dissipating its educational energies, wasting its public funds and doing nothing toward the educational scheme into politics by trying to build a large number of minor schools in various parts of the state. The university is, on the contrary, the finest example of superior educational organization and consolidation to be found in the entire Pacific Northwest.

"Here are to be found under the leadership of a first-rate and one Board of trustees of a college of letters and sciences, a college of agriculture, a school of applied science or school of mines and a medical or preparatory school.
Two normal schools, one at Lewiston and the other in Southern Idaho, are not the only state institutions that have not been united with the State University.
The success of the Idaho method is beyond all question. The results are to be found in a well-paid and efficient faculty, an enthusiasm and numerous student bodies, and not least the careful consolidation is a mistake, except of course, those few politicians and those other communities which yet have a lumbering ambition to be the seat of some school of mines or normal school or an agricultural school, or any other institution. The state of Idaho is not supported at state expense. So far as I can learn, any such effort would be futile, for Idaho as a whole is justly proud of the State University and is determined that its future career shall not be interrupted.

"It may be said that politics cut no figure whatever in the administration of this splendid school. Some years ago a group of the Populist excitement politics broke up the organization and left no body, but the people of Idaho hardly learned their error in time. The university is administered by an independent board of trustees on nonpartisan principles.

No better testimony of the advantages of consolidating a state's educational institutions can be asked than the above. The Oregonians' studies the situation in all the states of the Patific Coast and its final decision is overwhelmingly in favor of consolidation.

The "Oregonian" is only voicing the sentiment which has always prevailed at the State University, and among the majority of the citizens of the state. We sincerely hope that few who hold dissenting opinions will try to obtain the best results, must keep their various colleges consolidated.

"I am writing, however, to acknowledge the very energetic treatment which our boys received throughout their stay at your University. They were simply delighted with the attitude taken forward by your people. Among other things they mentioned the sportive-like attitude which was maintained on the sidelines by even the most enthusiastic rosettes; the people from outside the University as well as the University people.
To my mind you could hardly have a more tribute paid to the people of your community than was given you unanimously by the members of our team. It seems to me to be a marked credit to your University, as evidently its influence has been an important factor in determining such a spirit as this in the community.

"I do not mean a great deal of good will in the relation such that the boys will come home with a defeat, feeling so kindly that they would accept the defeat as they do after this trip. I trust it may be that way all the time: I believe it to be so. I should be pleased to have you communicate to the people of the city, and organize representatives of the students who think especially responsible for the nice attitude and courtesy of the surrounding public appreciation of the courtesy and sportive-like treatment."

The writer was contained in a letter from President Kane to President MacLean. May such feeling as is now growing bet-tween the two institutions be maintained by both student bodies.

The "Pioneer," granting our request, has kindly signified its intention to discard "Moscow" and adopt "Idaho," when speaking of us. For this courtesy we are grateful.

The "Pioneer" maintains that some state institutions are fre-cently designated by the name of the town where the institution is located. This may be true but it is not proved by the correctness of such designation. Palo Alto and Berkeley or Ann Arbor and Ann Arbor do not play football, but Stanford and California and Palo Alto and Minnesota play football.

Glen D. McKinley, ’04, who is now a student in the Michigan University law school, is a member of the Michigan Lebanon which is to meet Northwestern University, While at Idaho Mr. McKinley took an active part in debate and oratory.” He won the Watson Medal and represented the University in the Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest in Chicago.

Second place, . . . was his Idaho’s representative in the same contest in 1898, again winning second place. He was a member of the team which debated Whitman College in December. After leaving the university Mr. McKinley entered politics and was speaker of the house in the Idaho legislature of 1903.

Inter-Society Debate

Last week the Amphiaphon submitted the question for the first Inter-Society Debate of the year. It reads as follows, “Resolved, that it is for the best interests of civilization that the majority of the people should be preserved.”

The debate will be the third one of the series. It should have taken place last spring, but owing to a serious disagreement on the meaning of the question submitted by the Amphiaphon, no meeting could be held. The first series was won by the Webstertons. Of the two debaters last year the Websterons won the first and the Amphiaphon the second. Should the Websterons win the coming debate they will be entitled to permanent possession of the Sweeny trophy.

two teams—an affirmative team and a negative team. In each case the home team will uphold the affirmative of the question and the visiting team will defend the negative. In 1906 Oregon will probably send its negative team to the World's Fair in St. Louis, Washington will send its negative team to Moscow and Idaho will send its negative team to Iowa. This order will be changed in 1907 and repeated in 1908. Each institution will argue on both sides of the question.

The plan makes it easier for each institution in the League to do better work in debate than hereafter for at each university there will be two teams, an affirmative and a negative team, working together in practice. Both teams will be ‘variety teams’ striving to bring honor to their Alma Mater and to win renown for themselves. This will be far more satisfactory than having an occasional practice debate between a ‘variety team’ and a team selected solely to give the ‘variety team practice debate.

It is expected that the League will do much to advance the standard of debate in the Pacific Northwest. Certain it is that the League will be gained in Idaho is very glad to enter into debate relations for the first time with the University of Oregon and she is also glad to renew relations with her sister institution the University of Washington. Both of these institutions have strong departments of English, history and economics, and it is very satisfactory to the League to bring all the students who come to such contests with an adequate preparation afforded by these departments.

ELECTRICAL ASSOCIATION.

Nicholas '90, elected President at the First Regular Meeting.

The Electrical Association held its first regular meeting last Friday. The constitution of the association relating to the officers of the association was adopted by those present in general that the regular officers could be elected at the meeting. The remainder of the constitution is to be adopted at the next regular meeting.

The following were elected for officers for this semester: L. Nicholas, '90, president; W. W. Groble, '90, vice-president; Gus Larson, ’90, secretary-treasurer.

Goble furnished the program by giving a paper, "The Building of an Electric Railway in the Philippines."
