THE LEGISLATORS FINALLY ARRIVE

On Friday at 8:30 a special assembly was held for the purpose of welcoming the committee from the legislature. Nearly every student in the University as well as many others crowded into the gymnasium.

Senator Rich of Bear Lake county was the first to speak. He said that it gave him great pleasure to be here with the University. "You have the promise of a great University," he continued. "This is a privilege of the last March of the old administration building, brought a great change in the entire state." Some of the rioter closes need their children to the large colleges. This is done by making it possible for young people to attend college.

The legislation that is necessary under these conditions do not always take advantage of the great and precious opportunities that lie before them. It is the poorer classes, which often attending the smaller colleges, that take hold of these golden opportunities. I believe that the students of the University of Idaho are reaping the great advantages which this school offers to them." Senator Rich congratulated the Appropriation Committee and said that the University would go on. He spoke in particular of the Farmers' Institutes. While the students are away from school Idaho the farmers show intense interest in them. The farmers get men and women from these institutes.

Mr. Room said that "Idaho expects much from the students from the graduates of the University, that it is doing. He spoke in particular of the Farmers' Institutes. While the students are away from school, the farmers show intense interest in them. The farmers get men and women from these institutes.

Senator McLaughlin spoke

Senator McCracken of Freemont county, chairman of the committees on agriculture in the senate, was the second speaker. He said that the committees had investigated 117 miles in order to reach the University, or farther than the wandering Ulysses.

He said: "Any school can only give an opportunity to study. It is the work that the students themselves do that makes the school. In speaking of advice he said that the legislature was considering 117 miles in order to reach the University, or farther than the wandering Ulysses.

The regular assembly was held this year under the auspices of the School of Agriculture, and the speakers were well received. The audience was with a very much appreciated soil. Rev. Dr. Gilchrist of the Episcopal church delivered the assembly address. He took as his subject the "Getting of an Education."

In every community there are pupils who stand out pre-eminent-above the average. From these there are the few who seek a college education. For this reason, then, the student must be selected for a select class. When one starts to get an education one sees people say that he is in college trying to find an easier way of making a living. This is not however the motive that he goes to college. The idea of an education is that it develops the latent powers of the individual for which he is in college, and when one's personality becomes one good habit then the education of college is of the young and the men of the past. He said that no man had reached the fullness of manhood until he had been up in the world, been up in the world. He said that in college the same principle is observed. A university is a miniature world in which the student is being prepared for the larger world of mankind. Great questions are looming before the city. The world demands of us the great and most important questions. This is the commercial spirit which perverts the ends of the world. A student will have to face this commercialism when he leaves college. He will have to deal with all these great commercial phenomena. The student's demand is that he be prepared for the coming of the new man. The commercial world demands that the student be prepared for all the new men.

In conclusion the speaker said that civilization should be prepared for the revolution rather than than of revolution.

BANQUET AT THE DORMITORY

Despite the Men's Association's Emergency Banquet Committee's efforts to attract students to the city, the students were not impressed.

On Thursday evening the Business Men's Association of Moscow held a banquet at the legislative committee. Ninety persons were present, including the entire committee as well as the many business men from Moscow. The full program was as follows:

Address of Welcome—Wm. M. Morgan, Mayor.
Responses—Senator W. C. White.
Social Atmosphere of a College Party.
Responses—Representative W. White.
A graduate and the University.
M. E. Lewis.
Responses—Representative A. C. Abbott.
"Faith In Idaho"—President McLean.
Responses—Representative J. D. Killip.
"The Effects of the Flu on Infants in the Elementary and the College Spirit"—Prof. W. S. Moody.
The banquet was held under the auspices of the Men's Association and was served by the young ladies from the University.

FAST TEAM FOR SILVER AND GOLD

Iowa will have a Ball Base Team that will keep the Local Fans Guessing and the Colleges Going

Over Forty Men Will Be on the Diamond in the Near Future. A Number of Good Games Already Scheduled.

Never before in the history of the institution have the prospects been bright enough to attract a large number of students to the institution. For the past few years the institution has been relatively quiet, but this year things are looking up. The institution has a large number of students, and the baseball team is expected to be one of the best in the state. The institution is also expected to be a strong contender in the state league.

In the field, Magoo, Phyllis of Lewiston Normal, Wyman of Boise, Florence of Lewiston Normal, and all the others who made the trip for last year's success, find Lewiston Normal's and Wyman's.

A Special attention will be given to training in batting. The following schedule is expected to be the order of the season:

March 30—Coeer of Alene H. S.

April 10—Cherry Valley.

April 24—Oregon at Moscow.

May 5—Coit vs. Pullman.

May 9—Williamson at Moscow.

May 16—Washington at Moscow.

May 26—W. S. H. at Pullman.

The following trip to South Dakota will take place:

June 10—William at Walla Walla.

June 17—"Yellow Kids" at Athas.

June 22—Pullman at Pendleton.

Baker City at Baker City.

June 4—Weiser at Weiser.

June 17—Boise High School.

June 18—Boise League.

With the great number of students who are going to try for the team, and with good coaches, Idaho should have a team that will put up a good effort in the spring. There will be six or seven teams at work in the state, and the coach, team, should afford plenty of practice for Manager Jailer's boys in white and black.
