Whitman Hits a Snag When They Meet Middleton's Speedy Team--First Defeat of Season.

Game Never In Doubt--Whitman Makes Grand Rally In Second Half--250 Rooters From Walla Walla

Playing with the same vim, speed and accuracy, which characterized her play in the game with W. S. C. last Saturday, Whitman's championship aspirations to pieces in a spectacular game last Saturday.

The game with Whitman was not so hard fought as the game, the week before, was, more spectacular, with crushing line backs of Dimick and Rigsby and spectacular tackling of the whole Idaho team brought the crowd repeatedly to its feet. Whitman's strong play was the old style play of tackle around tackle and she stuck doggedly to the old game. Idaho, on the other hand, played open plays, her famous "spread" formations completely mystifying the Missionaries.

Idaho won because she excelled in speed, teamwork and the use of the forward pass. Whitman tried the pass several times but they were either intercepted by an Idaho back or went wide and caused the infliction of a 15 yard penalty. Whitman's teamwork was nagged at times, for once hit on her Idaho's line, using her heavy backs to advance the ball. One notable feature was the superior tactics of Idaho's team. Whitman tackled high while all of Idaho's men hit low. As a result Whitman's safety could make but short gains in returning punts while Small and Johnson made some spectacular returns.

Whitman came into the field and were given a hearty cheer by the crowd. Her team looked like a winner, life being strong. The Idaho team came on a short time afterwards, and at once divided each half the team got together and made some splendid plays in Idaho's line, using her heavy backs to advance the ball. One notable feature was the superior tactics of Idaho's team. Whitman tackled high while all of Idaho's men hit low. As a result Whitman's safety could make but short gains in returning punts while Small and Johnson made some spectacular returns.

he is not the easy to call attention to the fact that the University is working towards the completion of its new Centennial Campus, which will be the last one up. The plans for the new campus are designed to meet the needs of the students in the future.

The women's dormitories are being built on the west side of the campus, and the men's dormitories are being constructed on the east side. The new buildings will provide adequate space for all students.

The University is also working to improve the educational facilities on campus. The library is being expanded to provide more resources for students, and new classrooms are being constructed to accommodate the growing number of students.

In addition to the physical improvements, the University is also focusing on the development of its educational programs. Many new courses are being added, and existing courses are being updated to reflect the latest developments in various fields.

In conclusion, the University is making significant progress towards its Centennial Campus. The new campus will provide a modern and comfortable learning environment for students, and the University is committed to continually improving its facilities and educational programs to meet the needs of its students.

Miss Rosa Forney has been compelled to give up her classes the last two weeks on account of sickness. During her absence her classes are divided up between Miss Thompson, Professor Moore and Dean Riddle.

James Salloway, '06, is at present studying law at Stanford University. He writes that he likes Stanford all right but would like to see a good old-fashioned football game for a change. Jim will be remembered as one of Idaho's debaters and orators. While in college he won the Dewey prize for the leader of the debating team against Whitman; and in his senior year was the winner of the Watkins medal. As Idaho's representative in the northwestern-intercollegiate league he made second place, winning the $53 offered by the Washington state association.

It Pays After All.

Last Fall while the Business Manager was making his annual round in securing advertisers for the Argonaut, he called upon a certain Moscow businessman who said, "I don't need to advertise in your paper because I will get my share of the student trade without doing so." A few days ago the same person was heard to remark, "My student trade seems to be falling off. What can be the trouble?"

The trouble is that he is not using the columns of the college paper, and why should he expect a student to patronize a business man who does not support us?

STRONG LECTURE COURSE.

Famous People Will Entertain.

Rev. A. A. Lacey announced at the Wednesday assembly the following numbers of the lecture course to be given this winter at the First Methodist church. It includes an unusually strong array of musical and oratorical talent. The course has been advertised very generally patronized by students of the University. Nothing else of similar character comes to Moscow and the entertainment offered by the local theatre does not include many musical numbers or lectures so that the course given at the M. E. Church constitutes the only opportunity for hearing such things at Moscow.

The course for this winter is opened by the Bennett School of Oratory, accompanied by Melva Clemaire, sopranos. The Church is known throughout the United States as a musical organization of the highest order. They cost the management of the course $375. The date for the first program is February 11th.

The course is open to all students and the registration fee is $3.00. For further information see Professor Moore in the office.

Mr. John Merritt-Driver, formerly pastor of the People's Church of Chicago, where he acquired an unusual reputation for his oratory, comes for December 9, Opie Read, the famous novelist and poet, will lecture on January 18. On April 14 comes Richard Fennom, Hobson of Merritt-Driver, and the uncrowned king of the noted kissing episodes. Hobson has broken the ways of the war and recently won his war into congress from his home state, Alabama. It is safe to predict that he will address a crowded house.

Hobson's lecture and that of Opie Read, each cost $200 each. The management has obtained a fifth number which will cost them $150. This is Miss Beatrice Herbert-Burley, reared and educated among the intellectuals, accompanied by Archibald Sessions, a pipe-organist of national reputation.

The total cost of the winter entertainments will be $1000. The price of admission to these note holding season tickets will be $25 each for Hobson and Dr. Driver and $15 each for the other three. Season tickets are being sold to the general public at $3.50. A special seat is being made for students, to which students who purchase season tickets will be $2.00 what will cost them singly $4.50. Harry A. Tauss, 815 Elm is in charge of the sale of tickets to University students.

Interesting Meeting.

The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday was conducted on the plan suggested by the International Committee, for the closing meeting of the Week of Prayer. A number of speakers told of the work of the Y. M. C. A. in the cities, railroads, army and navy, counties, boy's department, and foreign field. The good sized audience present listened much which they had not known before concerning the world-wide character of the Association. The meeting was led by George Tolman, '10.

Chicago Champions.

In a wonderful game of football in which the new style tactics and speed were played against weight and the old style, prints, the University of Chicago a week ago defeated the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis. The game decided the championship of the middle west. Chicago will meet the Carlisle Indian's team in about three weeks. Although the Indians are not the champions of the east, the Carlisle-Chicago game will parallel all the features of an east vs. west championship game.

...finally played a great game on defense. Amiie is one man who never loses sight of the ball, and for tackling he is without an equal. Montgomery, who replaced Johnson, plunged into Whitman's line like a veteran. "Monte" is fast and was always down early on punts. Appelman was in the game a short while but showed up well. The game was clean and free from violence. Johnson and Lyman lost their temper and tried to stop something but the officials immediately put both out of the game.

ATHLETIC BALL

Dance Following Pullman Game

A Success.

Other demands upon space in last week's Argonaut made it impossible to print any account of the Athletic Ball, which was given on the night of the game with W. S. C.

The University gymnasium was decorated in the crimson and gray of Washington State College and the Idaho silver and gold. Starner's orchestra furnished excellent music. Punch was served by small boys dressed up in football togas, with 12-in. W. sweaters. No dates given this year has been better attended. Idaho students seized the opportunity for celebrating in a social way the victory over their time-honored rivals, and many W. S. C. students drowned the sorrows of defeat in the pleasantries of the dance. It was Saturday morning when the music turned into "Home, Sweet Home," and the merry makers departed.

Prizes to Be Awarded.

A University bulletin announced last week that the Bennett Prize, amounting to about $20, will be awarded next spring. The prize is given from the interest on a fund set aside for the purpose by the late Phil S. Bennett. The donation will be remembered by the fact that William Jennings Bennett was made the administrator of the Bennett estate.
