The Alpha Delta Pi Sorority entertained at a dancing party at the Ella's Temple Friday evening. This dance was the crowning social event of the college year.

The Alpha Delta Pi girls have inaugurated the custom of giving a dance in honor of their many friends immediately after Christmas. During the last year and each successive year has seen a party larger than the former—such has been the case this year.

The dance floor was a large room in the center of the hall to the sides. In the center of the hall the sorority men, seated at tables, were suspended, while in the hall itself, a triangle upon which was in effect, when the stream began, a triangle in a light effect. In the center of the upper corner was a set of sorority members while the in the center of the sets were numerous designs of hats which were displayed. On the walls of the seating rooms was a display of college pennants representing every college in the land.

The dance was long but thoroughly enjoyed the last. The orchestra was the finest that has played at student dances this year and was liberally with encorces. "Boola Boola" was the favorite song of the evening. The dance was canceled for times when first played and later in the evening played again by request.

The novel dance of the evening was the Alpha Delta Pi special and was highly enjoyed by the members. The dance mimics friendship, between persons, and each lady was present with a souvenir box and each member wore a medal on which the name of the other member was engraved. The dance was so arranged that each person was known by his or her companion's box. The event of the evening was spent in gaily trip across the floor and the dead men.

After ten refreshments were served in the ball room. The party lasted to the early hours of morning, when the majority of the guests deputed after the most enjoyable evening of the entire college year.

ACHIEVEMENTS IN Y. M. C. A.

Annual Report and Election of Officers Sunday

Various Departments of Association Show Substantial Growth Past Year

Report of the work of the different committees during the year just completed and the election of officers for the ensuing twelve months was the order of the day at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Sunday. The election of officers resulted in the following:

- President, Rev. H. G. Tolman; recording secretary, C. E. Wats; corresponding secretary, David Pfeifer; treasurer, A. H. Becker.

The annual reports of the committees were submitted.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

The social efforts of the Y. M. C. A. have been chiefly centered in the Phelps Memorial and party at the opening of the school year. The joint reception given by the Y. M. C. A. and the W. C. A. last fall was very successful and was attended by most of the students. An informal and docilely pleasant evening was spent at the Association's stag party.

No party was given for the "stay-at-home" during the Christmas holidays. It is hoped that one or more informal social evenings will be arranged by the Y. M. C. A. this spring.

RESEARCH MEETINGS COMMITTEE

The work of arranging and successfully conducting the Sunday meetings of the association has been carried on by Prof. O. M. James, the principal of the school, with the utmost success, as a result of which the attendance has been quite constant for the last year, which has been held during the spring and fall terms. The local meeting in the association is not operated on Sunday, so Y. M. C. A. meetings there have been quite constant. The balance of the meeting has been very successful, and the meetings held have been of great benefit to the students.

BIOLOGY CLUB LECTURE

W. S. C. Professor to Speak Under the Auspices of the Club Friday

Prof. A. L. Mcleod, of the Washington College faculty, will give an illustrated lecture at the Gymnasium next Friday evening under the auspices of the Biological Club, the lecture, which is to be on the subject, "Biology," will be illustrated by a large number of magic lantern slides. An admission of 35 cents will be charged, and a reception committee will be appointed.

The lecture will be unannounced interest because of the fact that it will be illustrated by what is perhaps the most complete set of lantern slides on the subject described. The animal. For a long time Prof. Mcleod has been working systematically to bring his collection of slides as near completeness as is possible. He has made slides from a large number of insects and animals, having obtained special permission from the authors to do so. Repeatedly the department acquired a very valuable collection of photographs of biological animals. These were made at Cornell University. A large number of the slides are hand-colored in the supposed natural effects.

The Biology Club, which is arranging the lecture, hopes to introduce in addition to its activities the subject described. The club is largely a social organization, holding informal programs frequently during the year. In the spring its members arrange a number of trips to places around Moscow for field work in biology.

Indoor Truck Meet

The first indoor truck meet ever held in Moscow will be held on Friday, March 13, a large squad of members from the neighboring school and the Moscow community. It is expected that the event will be new and interesting.

The meet will include high dives, long dives, standing and running high jumps, spot, rut, rope and running long jumps, box jumps, pole climbing and running high jumps. The meet is expected to be a new and interesting event and it promises to be new and interesting.

A VITAL QUESTION

The lack of interest in the student nominations last week is enough to convince the most niggardly of that something should be done to arouse interest in newspaper work. The nominating committee, when each brought a hoot of anxious aspirants. It was in the good old days before the student newspaper flourished a wide tide and enthusiasm ran amuck, an un restable—uncontainable—mass.

It was distinctly regrettable when the business manager leased the paper and ran it with a personal end in view. And that ruined the keynotes of the whole election.

What inducement do we hold out to students to become a part of the Argonaut office?

What is there to allure a person into the trip where he spends his miserable hours pecking the quills when he is not busy dodging the boots or the fierce intru[sion of the late subscribers? The editor and the business manager of the Argonaut work many hours as hard as any athlete, as any debaters, who represents Idaho in any contest. All his spare hours he spends in the little printing he does in his face wrestling with the awkwardness of the correspondent's English or criticisms, the more he is too goo[ed]—too more experienced contributors.

The remedy in the hands of the student is to pay the editor and business manager a salary—small it may be—we may expect to awaken an interest in him. The student, then, can come to see a field of ambi tious aspirants and we then can ex pect to get the best results.

But the, I think it's a beautiful thing to dream about and romanticize. It won't buy you 86-dollar text books and it won't steal university credits. The honors are a grand thing. Everyone would like the honors, but no one could enjoy the honor of it enveloped by a "嶝mon."

The honor cesses to be an honor when it does not give for value received for. Students, this is plain talk, but you need it. Think the matter over, not for prestige, but seriously. How can you help matters? Simply by offering some inducement, some little enticement to the editor and business manager—for the business manager is the main cog—to employ their time to the interests of the paper.

In THIS ISSUE is printed the long dobe report, the minutes of the meeting for 1937. Many vigorous at tems have been made by the Arga

not reporters to trace down the re port but no report could be found. The athletic band finally succeeded in getting it and the result is that it is disapproved by both the student and faculty committees. There were $117.40 for which there were no vouchers. The student should be satisfied with the fact that their finances were so miserably mismanaged last season. Present managers should take warning for this may some come when the students will demand that their finances be managed upon sound, busi

Ves-let-up practice.

NEWS STORY
The Bible study committee initiated its work by an investigation of the methods pursued by the previous com mittee and a study of recommendations of the International Committee.

The four year course of study advised by the International Committee was decided upon as best suited to local conditions. Last fall the committee conducted its first camp to the of securing 150 men in Bible study classes. The following figures show that the actual results are not up to the standard set in the beginning. But they are, nevertheless, encourage ing.

A class started on December, this brings the total net "enrollment" up to 95 and the gross enrollment to 107.

MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE
The membership of the Y. M. C. A. at present is 44. No distinction has been made between active and associate members. The present membership is substantially less than it was in 1906-7. This is principally due to lack of a vigorous campaign by the committee, whose members have been able to do it.

Respectfully submitted.

Esther Lenon, '01, came up from Troy to attend the Alpha Delta Pi last Friday evening.

Mr. A. P. Vaughn, secretary to President MacLean, conducted religious services in Fortatch on Sunday of last week.

Mary McPahall Wadl, who graduated from the university in 1905, and now lives in Spokane, was a campus visitor last week.

The senior class has at last sent off an order for caps and gowns, and hopes to be in possession of the coveted regalia in a few weeks.

Meet your friends at the Hotel Moscow Barber Shop.

Prof. H. T. French and several of the students in agricultural science journeyed to Pullman on Friday to inspect the stock department at W. S. C.

W. E. Robertson, '07, assistant engineer for the Eden Irrigation and Land Co. has left Denver, Col., to take charge of the field work in Wyo.

Next Sunday the Y. M. C. A. meeting will be open to all students, for an address by Prof. Calkins, of W. S. C. Prof. Calkins will speak on "A Working Theory of Life."

The athletic field committee spent the whole of last Saturday surveying the tract which the students are purchasing. This will give an idea of the debt they have assumed.

The Argonaut will be mailed to any address in the United States for the remainder of the academic year for the small sum of 30 cents.

Word was received that Gus Lenon, '05, who has been dangerously ill is now out of danger and will resume his duties with The General Electrical Co. of Schenectady, N. Y. in a few days.

Gratifying work for the rookies is the order of the day in the military department. Not until the large number of new results are "whipped into shape" will anything like the usual work be attempted.

G. G. Fawcett has resigned as assistant business manager of the Argonaut. His successor will probably be appointed by the Executive Committee and will probably be the business manager-elect.

The two debate teams which will meet the Universities of Oregon and Washington in the last week of this month are hard at work on the question of Japanese exclusion. The first practice debate was held Saturday.

J. G. Griffith who for years so successfully represented president of his class at the Saturday night football game is still a staunch friend of the Vanity. He writes, "You cannot imagine how much real enjoyment I got out of reading the Argonaut." I can hardly wait until it arrives.

J. R. Pastler, '05, arrived in Moscow during the past week to assume his new position as principal of the Moscow high school. Mr. Pastler graduated only last June and it is a compliment to the university when one of his students rises to such a position of trust and importance in so short a time. When in college, he was prominent in all college activities.

Assembly
Last week the students had the regular assembly and used it profitably. Several matters of importance were brought up for consideration and thoroughly discussed.

The main topic of discussion was the conference rules as formulated at Walla Walla. It held the attention of the members of the reform committees. The spirit of the meeting was one of perfect harmony and the whole hall was the result of courteous compromises. Simpson explained several of the mooted points in the rules and left the whole subject much clearer in the minds of the students.

J. R. Middleton followed Mr. Simpson and told of the meeting from the standpoint of a faculty member.

At the close of the meeting, nominations for the Argonaut were made. Several important points were brought up and a detailed account of the business transactions of the meeting. He told of the hard fight that was the result of the reforms caused. The spirit of the meeting was one of perfect harmony and the whole hall was the result of courteous compromises. Executive Board

The executive board of the A. S. U. met Wednesday afternoon at Mont Hall to elect six officers that had been presented by the athletic and debating departments.

A bill of $30.00 deficit on foot ball and basket ball games was allowed the preparatory department. It was also decided to grant the request of the prep. debate department that they have their share of the appropriation of the debate fund. The amount left from this fund after expenses of the Blair Preparatory debate are paid is to be spent for debate books which will be put in a general debate library.

The athletic board of the college department was allowed $10,000.
