Miss Hopkins Spends Week End
In Council With Local Association

The past week was one of special interest to the girls of the University, especially those interested in the Young Women's Christian Association, because of the visit of Miss Hopkins, the college secretary. Miss Hopkins reached Moscow Wednesday evening, and stayed until Wednesday morning. Her time was devoted to doing personal work for the Association and placing it upon a sound footing.

Wednesday afternoon she was given an informal reception at the home of Mrs. Birdsey.

The regular devotional meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday afternoon was conducted by Miss Hopkins. It was a general thought of the meeting being the "Thirty-fifth Anniversary." What shall we do with Jesus?

On Friday evening a very happy party was given at the home of Miss Hopkins in honor of the girls and faculty ladies invited with the string quartet and with retiring voices. Among those present were the party to be attended by university college students to Belaya and Dnyenka, another interest was the collection of rare scientific books. Several girls took part in this exhibition, each carrying trunks containing different specimens, bees, cakes, cakes, cakes and angel food cakes were all there. Light refreshments were served.

The gift of Miss Hopkins was one of the many encouragements of privilege of the meeting. While she was there she was given by Riddle and Hall and Bishop.

On Sunday morning Miss Hopkins spoke to the girls on "The Thanksgiving Day."

plays of last year, a modern, rather than a Shakespearean play was chosen.

This was a clever comedy by Oscar

Comedies of the University of Minnesota are the rage of the nation. Not only have they been forbidden to yell at football games, but women were practically forbidden to see the Minnesota-Chicago game in Chicago a few weeks ago. President E. H. Dunnington, dean of women, in a talk to the women of the university, told them not to see football games, saying it was "highly improper." This, however, did not stop many women who have considered it a pleasure to see the team play. President Dunnington said women would be barred from the games.

Women and students of the University of Minnesota are taking the game seriously. The University of Chicago has invited the University of Minnesota to send teams for the game. The games will be played by representatives of women's teams, in order to make the game attractive to the women of the college to join the athletic spirit, because of the interest and other manifestations of college spirit.

President Dunnington said the women who went to see the game were "highly improper," but that the games are not going to be played by female representatives of women's teams.
