BANQUETED IN RIDGENAUGH HALL—Many Inter-Collegiate Teams Clash in Annual Contest for Prize Given by Idaho's Junior Senator.

The second annual Boise Prize Debate was held on Saturday, February 15. The question debated was the same as that to be used next month in the Inter-Collegiate Debates with the Universities of Oregon and Washington: "Resolved, that, waiting any question of constitutionality, the federal government should impose a progress-income tax upon incomes above a certain specified amount."

The affirmative team consisted of Dr. Jones, Robert Borah and Paul Cameron. The negative speakers were Mr. Tweed, Jewel Staton and Albert Jones. The judges were Professors Morley, Astell, and Eichholz.

The question is one of the most important and interesting ones that have been debated by the Triangule League. It is a long way in itself toward increasing an intelliging and profitable debate. But the debates themselves made a success of the entire affair. The sides contested the various points with ability and with a full fund of knowledge. It was perhaps because the brave team had contributed to the attack that they won the decision.

The affirmative team will meet Oregon here. John Rock, the first speaker, has had no experience or an inter-collegiate debate, but he did excellent work last year in the first Boise debate. Rowe Holmes is also a new man in the field of inter-collegiate debate, but he has had some experience with the debate team of that University last year.

Paul Clemons, the leader of the team, is still another man who is with an inter-collegiate debate but he has never witnessed an inter-collegiate debate. But he promises to win in the end for him a name in Idaho's forensic annals. These men will have to meet an experienced team from Oregon, led by their ablest debaters and coater. Jesse Bond, and coached by their new debater, Professor Samuel Elliot, of Oxford University, England. Yet Idaho is not afraid of the struggle.

The negative team, which won the first place, was composed of three men whose ability is well known. It will be a hard struggle over on the Sound. Washington's leading debater, Bruce Robouh, alias from the Island Empire, where debaters are trained to be where they flourish. And the trial and practice debates of our Seattle friends will be of great value for, less able to meet our rivals than we are. As it is we lack little that is in importance on the subject. In the years to come the "Boise Books" will form one of the most interesting and valuable parts of our library.

To Senator Borah we wish once more to give our thanks in public. Without the additions to the library made possible by this generous gift we would not be able to meet our rivals so well.

In conclusion we want to express our gratitude to Mr. Reed for this liberal addition to its library.

NEW BOOKS FOR AGRICULTURAL LIBRARY

Collins' and Stock Map Present universities With $300 Set of Books

Theodore Reed, the famous Agriculturalist and Stock-man of the Palouse country, has just made the library of the Agricultural college a handsome gift. He has presented volumes of books valued at $300. The books contain copies of the American Sheep Breeder and the Breeder's Gazette for the last fifteen years, choice pamphlets and bulletins, and valuable collections of sheep and cattle. Together with some standard volumes on Sheep Breeding and other topics of interest to agricultural students, the gift contains some of the most practical and most information available.

Dr. Reed has long been recognized as an authority on matters relating to Agriculture and has always shown great interest in our college and the station work. In retiring from active farm life he now shows his continued interest in the work by this most practical and valuable donation. The Agricultural college wishes to publicly thank Mr. Reed for this liberal addition to its library.

Institute Special on Southern Trip

The Farmer's Institute car started on its southern trip early this week. The car was fitted with fruit exhibits, samples of grain, swine, and dairy machinery in operation with mills testing apparatus. The series will continue around on the O. S. L. Railroad to the southern part of the district including special visits to the best farms in the vicinity. Lectures and practical demonstrations will be given at each stop. Those who went with the car were: Prof. French, Shain, Ellsop, Branden, and Mr. McLean. The trip will be joined later by Dean Elliott, Prof. Jones, and other members of the Station Staff. The whole trip will occupy about a month this time the party, expecting to return to Moscow on March 15.

A banquet in honor of the victorious team at the State Legislature was given Monday night in Boise. The Physical Laboratory of the State College was filled with students and faculty which shows the interest of University people in the classics. The lecture on Pompeii was all the more interesting because of the recent activity of these ancient buildings.

The university's political season ends this week. There is much interest because of the first hand material which Dr. Sage gave.

We are privileged to announce the publication of The University Argonaut, a weekly newspaper whose purpose is to provide students with the latest news, events, and developments on campus. The Argonaut covers a wide range of topics, from academics and athletics to social events and local news. It is produced by students and reflects their perspective on campus life. In this issue, we feature articles on the latest academic offerings, student protests, and campus events. We also highlight the achievements of our students and faculty, as well as the contributions of local organizations and individuals. Whether you are a current student, alumnus, or interested observer, The University Argonaut offers an informative and engaging look at life at our university. We hope you enjoy this issue and continue to follow our coverage of the university community.
WASHINGTON-IDaho
GAMING SPOKANE

Varsity Football Team Will Meet Southerners at Spokane Next Year.

Arrangements have just been completed for the Washington-Idaho annual football game to be played in Spokane next season. Over the signatures of both managers, Zed Smith and Edul Smith think that both institutions will profit by such a contract. Washington has been unwilling to play Idaho on her own field for several years. In consequence of which there was no-game last season. By the new contract, while Idaho will not be on her own field yet, she will not be at the disadvantage of having a long trip to a lower altitude and the great probability of playing on a wet field each year. Washington has decided that she will display only or a post season contest. The latter is always more or less unsatisfactory. The date of Oct. 30 was agreed upon by the managers. A special train will be run from Moscow and all towns in the Palouse county, while Spokane through its papers promises hearty support from the football fans. Thus then the financial end of the contest seems to be assured and if nothing untoward happens, the fans of the Palouse and Coeur d'Alene Districts should make the game a success from the "contests standpoint."

Administration Building as it will look when completed.

The first great need of the University is the completion of the Administration building. At present only the main part is under construction with wings forthcoming. The main walls of the building are up, the first two stories plastered and the roof and third floor will be finished as soon as the steel rafters arrive. When complete the building will house all of the University departments of curriculum and research, and temporary quarters for the library. At present the regents are asking for an appropriation of $10,000,000 to complete the wings that we have appropriate assembly halls and lecture rooms. It is estimated that the University can accommodate at least double the present number of students at very little extra expense when this building is ready for occupancy.

Association Notes.

Miss French addressed the Young Women's Christian Association last Thursday afternoon at the Mission Office of Women. Last last was crowded to the limit to accommodate the large attendance at the meeting. The young ladies speak very highly of the meeting and say it was one of the best meetings of the year.

Mr. Vaughan addressed a joint meeting of V. W. and Y. M. C. A. last Sunday afternoon. That being the universal Day of Prayer for Colleges, his topic was along the line of the value of prayer life. Deed Eliott sang a beautiful solo. Despite the rather fidgety atmospherical surroundings those present enjoyed the meeting.

Mr. Weatherford, international student, was expected to visit the University on March 6 and 7. He will probably address several meetings during his two days' visit.

Law Lecture

Attorney Wm. Morgan is delivering the law lectures to the cadets this week. His subject is land laws. He has made such preparation that we can check the University, railroad grants and the circumstances under which they are made. He told about grants for public improvements, railroad companies to build their roads, forest reserves and Indian reservations. Mr. Morgan spoke again on the same subject on Tuesday.

A New Prep. Equation

The Preparatory Department of Mathematics has been increased by the purchase of a new book. The new quantity arrived last Tuesday and can already repeat the binomial theorem to the satisfaction of his father and mother. To say that Prof. and Mrs. Beneau are proud is expressing it mildly.

Dialogue News Here and Elsewhere

The make-up of Idaho's teams in the Triangular Debate League is as follows: A Affirmative.—John Rock, Rowe, Holman and Paul Clemens. Negative team.—Ira Tredrey, lawrence and Robert Jones. Whitman's team that will meet Idaho if Seattle consists of Glenn Hooper, W. B. Belt and Rex Rundelbach. The three men whom Washington will send to Eugene are Lloyd, K. A. Smith and Herman Allen. The personnel of Oregon's team is not known as of yet, but it is expected that such as Smith and Curtiss will be a part of the team. The Pacific-Willamette-Whitman Triangular Debate League will hold its debates on February 29th and March 6th. The question in... Resolved. That in American cities of population under 100,000, city government by commission is more advantageous than the city government of the state. One hundred dollars is awarded students participating two victories.

Oregon Agricultural College has submitted the question of city government by commission to W. S. C. for their annual debate, which this year takes place at Pullman.

W. S. C. is to have a new debate coach—a man who has coached debates in a middle-western college and who previously did work at the Exeter School of Oratory in Boston. Whitman does not like the question submitted to her by W. S. C. It reads thus: Resolved. That sidescribe and announcement, the commission, or city government should require all corporations doing business in the city to maintain a fire insurance. As yet Whitman has not made public their reasons for objecting to the question. It would be interesting to know them. Certainly the subject is a vital one, and the question is well worded. Perhaps Whitman has forgotten that six years ago when Idaho requested her to send another question in the place of the one relating to women suffrage the flaily refused to do so.

Perry (who has recently visited the legislatures) says, Abarth, I'm going to be a senator. Arch.—Arm, come off You're dumber.

Perry—No confessing. Now you have to do it sit around it in feet on your desk and smoke two-tars. Oh, yes, and eat apples from Wes Pierce county, and daw snore dollars a day. Arch.—Fairy gee! Lead me to it.

Whitman Takes Second Game

Before a Small Crowd Whitman's Five Defeats the Idaho Quintet

Whitman won the last game of the series of two games with Idaho by a score of 13 to 7.

Whitman's lineup was practically the same as in the first game but Lendettoroky for Idaho was forced to stay out on account of a sore leg. Idaho made three baskets and one foul in the first half to Whitman's four baskets and one foul, giving them the lead of two points. This lead they increased to four points in the second.

Smith and Curtiss at forwards played good game as did Montgomery at center and the Edmonds Bros. again held their forwards to one basket. The playing of the Whitman team was much faster in the first game. They are a plucky bunch of men and play good clean ball. The team plays together and every man can shoot the baskets accurately. They took some poor shots and suffered three baskets from nearly the center of the field.

Neither of these games were attended as they should have been, in consequence of which the management went broke. Both games were first class and the student body should have been better represented.

Dorm. Dinner.

Saturday night, Miss French gave at Ridgeland Hall, which is fast becoming noted for its hospitality, a very pretty Valentine party. Four from each Fusternity and Sorority, and four from each class were asked besides the special men friends of the Dorm, girls. The guests were received up stairs where some remained to take advantage of the "stunts" prepared in honor of the occasion, while others went down stairs and danced in the lounge. Supper was held later in the evening. The entire hall and the tables were decorated very effectively in tangles of red hearts and the affair was charming in every detail. The occasion passed without a single misstep and it is considered an absolute success at the hour of leaving the residence.
