WASHINGTON
GAME IS OFF
Barrett Cup Remains Unaward-

ed Because U. of W. Cannot Play Post Season Game

The question as to which of the state universities of the Northwest, Oregon, Washington or Idaho, was entitled to the Barrett cup, gives rise to the state university whose football team has won from the other two, the year this remains undefended.

The University of Washington management wanted to know from Idaho what she desired to do to settle the matter and the answer was returned that Idaho desired to play a post season game in Spokane on December 12th. For several days nothing was heard from Washington, but Saturday the football management received a telegram from the Washington management saying that they would be unable to play the University of Idaho team a post season game this fall. The question then leaves the cup unaward-ed this year, for Washington to have a close title to it would have to play the Idaho team and win from them.

Assembly
Last Wednesday was the regular student assembly. Mr. Torney of Sno-creek spoke during the first part of the hour. He gave a most practical talk on the tax law. He was favored with the applause of the students.

Mr. White went next and presented the plan of voluntary induction and he showed the impracticability of the plan. Mr. Matthews spoke about the necessity of and showed a good knowledge of the question.

Mr. A. L. Price—then concluded the constructive line by discussing the affirmative remedy in a more detailed manner.

Price has a rich voice and a splendid delivery. For thorough and complete mastery of the question he was unimpaired during the evening.

Ralph Williams finished for Idaho and presented the plan of voluntary induction as a remedy for the evils in the present banking system. He completed it by giving a comparison of the two propositions advanced, showing the impotency of the Idaho plan. Idaho, though suffering from sickness which once caused him to stop talking, he remained a constructive speaker.

DEBATE COUNCIL AT WORK

Oregon’s Worshipping of Income Tax Question Accepted

On Monday afternoon the Debate Council met and transacted considerable business. The first thing to be decided upon was the wording of the triangle debate question. Both the Washington and Oregon statements of the federal income tax question were investigated. The council finally decided to give first place to Oregon’s question, second place to Idaho’s and third to Washington’s. The Oregon wording is the clearest and most definite of all. It reads: “Resolved, that, waiving constitutionality, the federal government should impose a progressive income tax on all incomes above a certain amount.”

Then the date of the Watkins Oratorical contest was set for December 19. This year homenowm judges and members of the faculty will act as judges on manuscript and delivery for the local contest. This is a somewhat new departure but will undoubtedly give satisfaction. The judges chosen were Freds. Holme and Littel, and Mt. Suky. S. E. Vance ‘98 was elected manager of the contest and was instructed to make arrangements for the purchase of the medal.

After deciding to hold the tryout for the triangular debate a week earlier than last year, the council adjourned.

The Prie girls gave a Leap Year Dance to the boys on last Friday night in Hodgins Hall. About thirty couples attended and all report an excellent time.
