FACULTY CONCERT AT BOISE

Audience Is Enthusiastic—Bad Weather Keeps Many Away.

The following is taken from the Idaho Daily Statesman, of Boise:

"The concert given by the musical faculty of the University of Idaho at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening when they appeared under the auspices of the Columbian club, deserved a much larger audience than was assembled. The inclement weather kept many at home who otherwise would have been there.

The excellent program illustrated the fact that the musical department of the university is a well balanced one, equipped with a splendidly trained corps of instructors. The members were all well received and nearly every one was encored, the musicians responding generously with charming selections most of them short and snappy.

The opening number was a selection from Beethoven's Sonata in D, for the violin, by E. Heltier Collins, who was accompanied by Miss Fay Hostetter on the piano. Mr. Collins played with feeling and his three selections were all heartily encored.

Miss Margaretha von Osten's first number, one of the arias from Haydn's 'Creation,' was sung so easily and with such power that it charmed the audience. Her second numbers were not to pleasing, although she showed remarkable ability and her voice disposed pleasantly. Her efforts,

THORNTON ALL-NORTHWEST

Portland Oregonians Honors Idaho Man at Right End

The Portland Oregonian last Sunday announced its all-northwest team for this year, giving Thornton a place at right end. The Oregonian is the influential paper in the Northwest, so its all-northwest team is the one that counts: Thornton placed third only in one game this year, that with White man, but his showing there was enough to prove him entitled to that position on the all-northwest.

Other Idaho heroes are being mentioned in connection with the all-northwest. Coach McCall of Whitman names Lundstrom as half on his choice of a team. A number of Idaho men have been given places on the second team. That Williams would have made all-northwest tackle had he been in the last two games of the reason seems certain. In the games in which he played he never met a man that he could not handle, and he met some of the best that play the game in this section.

The final result of the season in the Northwest conference shows Idaho a tie with O. A. C. for third place in the number of games won and fourth place by comparative scores. This looks pretty good from where we sit. The other schools in this section have made places below Idaho in the list.

UNIVERSITY CLUB ACTIVE

U. of I. Club of Boise Elects Prominent University Man to Presidency.

Carl A. Davis is a University of Idaho man who has rapidly gained prominence in the state. At the recent election he was made president of the Boise University of Idaho Club which has always supported the University, with great loyalty. So the institution has two reasons for being interested in him.

Mr. Davis came to Boise from Missouri in 1884 and grew up on a farm near Meridian. He was educated in the public schools of Boise and Meridian, the University of Idaho, the Columbian Law School and the National University at Washington, D. C., receiving the degree of Master of Laws from the latter institution. He practiced law two years in Nampa and performed legal work in the Bureau of Corporations in Washington about two years resigning in 1905 to practice law in Boise. He has been a member of the state Senate, and introduced the Direct Primary Bill in the legislature, providing for non-partisan judiciary and school officers.

Mr. Davis although he has not visited the University in recent years, still maintains a deep interest in the institution and has expressed himself as being anxious to further its interests through the Boise club.

Seattle has passed an ordinance prohibiting smoking at polling places on election day. The object is to keep the polling places attractive to the newly enfranchised voters.

There seems to be a decided change in the standards and ideals in the field of athletics this fall. It is shown by the unswerving spirit which has been manifested at several of the intercollegiate games played this season. The true ideal of the true purpose of intercollegiate contest is to attain development and proficiency in the sport. It is not merely to win. Sport for sport's sake is the proper thing, but in some that some of us are losing sight of this fact. We are inclined to want to win, whether by merely sportsmanship or by foul means. And added to this desire we can see the inability of some to take defeat manfully. We certainly hope to see this cease in the near future.

The breezes between the University of Washington and the Oregon Agricultural College seems clearly to be the result of nothing other than jealousy. The defeated students were jealous and the victors were unable to restrain their feelings against their rivals. This shows anything but sportsmanship.

The lads raised by the Whitman students after their defeat by Idaho is another example of the same degradation of standards in ideals and purposes. There are a few signs of the same feeling in the eastern schools also.

Perhaps it is not unfounded that the number of intercollegiate contests have not been carried to excess. One thing is certain—we ought by all means to get back to the old high ideals and play for the sport rather than for the victory.

Smokers' Prospects.

Very few people are aware how much harm is done to young men by the almost universal habit of cigarette smoking. The man who smokes cigarettes has one always in his mouth, and is constantly inhaling nicotine until the system is saturated with the poison. The result of this practice is a castration of the system, in the sense that the throat and bronchial, a disordered, and very irritant state of nerves, a weak and rapid action of the heart and digestion.

This, anaemia, weak, with clammy hands stained with nicotine poison, unstrung nerves and degenerated muscles the youth of the land, go on ignorantly suffering the consequences of a parasitical habit until infected with some more wholesome and efficient method of relaxation and pleasure, gaining health, muscular strength, and: stamina.

THE BATTLESHIP

Commissions Have Arrived—To Be Presented Soon—Card Catalogue Being Prepared.

On account of a misunderstanding of the manufacturers the same commissions for the commissioned officers last year failed to arrive till this year. As the failure of the manufacturers made the same possible for presentation last year the order was held over till this fall and the commissions for the officers this year were included.

The first time the weather permits a parade will be held and the commissions will then be presented.

Those officers who have not yet received this year and whom commissions are due from last fall will receive them thru the mail. If the weather should not permit a parade the presentations will take place in the new gymnasium as soon as the building is completed.

The commissions are signed this year by President MacLean and Senator Smith.

The commandant has detailed Geo. Donat on special duty in the office. This duty consists of making a card catalogue which will give a record to the military department of every student who has ever been a member of the battalion since its organization.

This is a tremendous task to undertake but owing to the failthfulness of Mr. Donat the record is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

Indoor Meet

Physical director Van der Veer has announced the first indoor track meet and tournament to take place in the gymnasium, a week from next Friday evening. The program for the evening will be as follows:

25-yard dash, handicap.

Tug-of-war, 60 lb. teams between classes.

Basketball.

10-lb. relay race, men on teams.

Half-mile run, handicap.

The first and last events will be for individual competition who are the other will be between teams representing classes. Probably the Preps will be in the basketball game.

Berta Leighton and Jewell Bothwell entertained at a chafing dish party in honor of Grace Crowell all of the Lewiston Normal Saturday evening. The boys proved themselves very able assistants in making fruit salad and rarebit. The majority present were students from Wisconsin and a very enjoyable time was spent in talking over old times and singing songs.

The guests were: Grace Crowell, Winifred Roehm, "Jack" Wheeler, James Harris, Carl Peterson and "Teddy" Watts.

Boys go your hat at the Hub. The price is only half.

THE BATTALION

Announcement.

Mr. E. C. Mercer will visit the University of Idaho early in January, 1911. His visit here will be for the purpose of addressing the men of the University upon the importance of Christianity in the college man's life. Last year Mr. Mercer traveled 10,000 miles to visit colleges and spoke to 19,000 college men. He will be accompanied by Mr. C. E. Carter and Mr. G. L. Looman, Pacific Coast Student Secretaries of the Y. M. C. A.

This is the first time that the college men of the Northwest have been given an opportunity to secure the services of a man of such reputation and ability, though they have for some time past known of Mercer and frequently expressed a desire to have him speak on their campuses.

On Sunday, December 11, the local M. C. A. will have with them Mr. G. A. Forbes, the General Secretary of the Spokane Y. M. C. A.

At 3:30 P. M., in the Association Hall, the men of the University will have an opportunity of hearing a talk from Mr. Forbes on some phase of the necessity of Christianity in student life. He is a very pleasing speaker, being gifted with a delightful personality and having an air of genialness in his talk which everyone appreciates.

Fanduelt Concert at Boise

"In the Time of Roses," was a little gem.

Professor Cogell's appearance was the signal for prolonged applause, his faithful work for 17 years in the university being greatly appreciated. His three numbers were Rubinstein's Stude, arrangement of "Lucia" for the left hand, and Liszt's "Sixth Rhapsodie." The latter was one of the charming numbers of the entire program and held the audience entranced.

Miss Hostetter's interpretation of Chopin's Nocturne, Op. 15, No. 2, was delightful and played with rare feeling, and in these forms weighed minor shaped not only her excellent technique but her strength as well.

Miss Ella Woods entertained as a dinner party Friday evening. Her guests were Linda Ross, Irene Chittister, Ira Tweedy, Wm. Pierce, and George Remmer.

The Dormitory girls gave their annual Thanksgiving party Friday evening. The evening was spent in dancing and a very enjoyable time was reported by all.

Every one was seated at one long table and entered heartily into the spirit of the day. After the last course was served, toasts were given by a number of those present. Miss Ella Woods presided as toast-mistress.

The dance given by the Juniors by their patron and patroness, Lieutenant and Mrs. Smith, was one of the most enjoyable events of the season. The only thing to be regretted is that there were not more of the Juniors present. Most delicious refreshments were served, consisting of ice cream and cake. Everyone had an exceedingly good time.

The Gamma Phi Betas entertained at dinner Thanksgiving. The color scheme of red and white was carried out throughout the dinner, from the red candles which furnished the light to the hand drawn place cards which were tied with red ribbons. In the center of the table was an immense pumpkin upon which sat an old witch driving two big turkeys by means of red ribbon lines. The dinner was elaborate and enjoyed by all.

O.A.C. SETS ALL ATHLETIC RELATIONS WITH U. O.

Scoring of Pennants and Colors and General Rivalry Leads to Breakthrough.

As a result of the charges made by the University of Oregon against the students of the Oregon Agricultural College after the football game played in Corvallis on November 12th, the student body of the Agricultural College has officially decided to sever all athletic relations with the state university. The entire trouble seems to have begun with a little friendly display of rivalry after the game, which was won by the team from Eugene. For over a week reports appeared in the daily papers of Oregon, and the Oregonian also took an active part in the fray, casting discredit on the standing of O. A. C., and openly amusing the Corvallis students of disregarding rioting and of mobbing the Eugene crowd.

The reports in the daily papers aroused some ill-feeling on the campus of the Agricultural College and indignation rose to the boiling point when the Emerald appeared with an editorial strongly denouncing O. A. C. and expressing great dissatisfaction with the treatment received in Corvallis. From all appearances, these reports were greatly exaggerated and were the result of prejudice rather than actual occurrences.

There seems to be a sort of an epidemic of ill-feeling aroused by football games this season, as the rival schools at Walla Walla were unable to stifle defeat and permitted weak accusations to appear in their college publication, and are waiting expectantly to read their report of the Thanksgiving game with W. S. C.

The University of Iowa raised a protest over the harrassing manner of the Missouri students after a big football victory over the former institution. And the two rival state colleges in Oregon have gone further yet and even broken all athletic relations. This must be a new era in football.

Dean Carlyle Goes to Chicago.

Dean W. L. Carlyle has gone to Chicago where he has been appointed a judge at the International Live Stock Exposition held at the Union Stock Yards, November 24th to December 3rd. The Exposition was organized in 1908 and Prof. Carlyle has judged horses there every year since its inception. This is a record held by no other man.

This year he judges Belgians, Clydesdales, Champion Swine, and Dairy Cattle in Clay-Robinson specials, also wines in Clay-Robinson specials.

Dean Carlyle has judged in all the leading expositions of the country—the Pan-American, Char-leston, St. Louis and New York Horse Shows, this year, under the direction of the live stock department at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition at Seattle in 1909.

How Lovely!

When the lights are low and you're whirling in a lazy dream to the dulcet strains of the Mayor's waltz, young fellow, do you know that the scented aphrodisiac which intoxicates your soul is sold at two bits an ounce at all drug stores? As the music spins and flows the 150 pound bunch of sweetness divinely clinging to your arms is about 96 pounds water, 35 pounds fat, not over a pound of common glue, while there isn't enough sugar to make a pound of Loweney's chocolates. Add to this 3 pounds of white of egg, 8 pounds of sulphate of lime, 8 oz. chloride of calcium, 6 oz. sulphate of magnesia and a pinch of ordinary table salt; dress it up in stays, gowns and a small amount of stuffing, and you have her, frilly and all.

Kappa Sigma at Home.

During the Thanksgiving vacation, one of the jolliest "stunts" that took place was a week end party to the Gamma Phi Beta by the Kappa Sigma men at their house. The affair began at two o'clock on Saturday when the girls and their matron arrived for the day. The cooks were dismissed and dancing was combined with preparation of a dinner for thirty to which simple justice was done.

The holiday spirit reigned to such an extent that the crowd couldn't hear the idea of its coming to a close that evening so they decided to prolong the party till the afternoon. Every one was so occupied with cards and music that the evening fairly flew by and was concluded with a series of ghost stories.

The men surrounded the entire third floor to the girls and Mrs. Owens and until some hour in the morning college songs and Kappa Sigma specialties entertained them from the second floor.

The next day, after a waffle breakfast no one could tell where the time went and in the afternoon when the chaperon at last gathered together her unwilling flock, every one agreed that if all house parties were as successful and congenial as this one they would soon become as popular a form of entertainment at Idaho as they are in all other college communities.

Props Lose Close Game.

Last Wednesday the Prep basketball team started on its Thanksgiving trip. They played two games, one with Austin High and one with Lewiston High.

At Austin the High school won by a score of 19 to 18. The Props played a hard game and had the best of it till the last part of the second half. Lewiston High won its game by a score of 17 to 12.

Both games were played under A, A, U. rules which put the Props at a considerable disadvantage as they had practiced under inter-collegiate rules.

"Con" Robinson was easily the Prep star. He made 21 of the 37 points the Props got during the entire trip. The Prep forwards did not show up as well as expected as they made only 4 points in the Lewiston game and none at Austin.

The lineup—

"Con" Robinson—Center

DEBATE NEWS

Pacific University has chosen her debaters to meet Idaho. Here is the report of the trial debate as given by the Weekly Index:

"Last Friday evening before an appreciative audience ten loyal sons of Pacific debated with earnestness for the upholding of the Old Age Pension Law of England. The question, which is to be used in the debate with the University of Idaho, is stated negatively and reads: Resolved, That the enactment of the Old Age Pension Law in England was inexpedient. The result of the tryout indicates that the question is fair and well balanced, for of the four men chosen two spoke on the affirmative and two on the negative. Likewise the two alternates were on opposite sides.

The speakers throughout showed up remarkably well and we may rest assured that Pacific will not lack for winning debate material for many years to come.

Even those who were not chosen for the teams brought due credit upon themselves, and have good prospects for future contests. The contestants represented every class in college.

Those selected for the teams were: Charles Ward '12, Leslie Hope '12, Ralph Abraham '11 and Herbert Schilling '14. The alternates are Howard Taylor '14, and Clifford Rogers '15. The first three are veteran debaters, Hope and Abraham having scored twice and Ward once on intercollegiate teams.

It is not known yet how the men will be divided. In the trial debate Hope and Schilling spoke for the affirmative side of the question and Ward and Abraham spoke on the negative.

University Students Leave for Africa—Enter Missionary Field.

At 8:30 this morning, Mr. Geo. E. McCready, '09, and Miss Frances Schlick, '13, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was pretty but simple and was performed by Rev. D. H. Hale of the Presbyterian Church. It was followed by a summptuous wedding breakfast.

The couple left the 10:40 train for Iowa, where they will visit for three or four weeks. Early in January they will sail for England. After a short visit there, they will go to British East Africa to enter the foreign missionary field.

Their many friends are sorry to see them leave Moscow, but wish them a happy journey and pleasant work in the service of God.

MOVABLE SCHOOL STARTED

Will Be Held in Four Towns

Intermittently From December

12th to 24th Inclusive-

Speakers to Shift Domestic

Science Courses

The Movable School of Agriculture

of the University will be held at Weiser, Wendell, Meridian, and Idaho Falls

during the period from December 12th to 24th. Different programs will be given in the different towns on the same day and the speakers who conduct one department will go from one place to the next and repeat their part of the work. In this way the entire program will be given in each town during the same period, but each town will have a different part on the same day.

The Domestic Science course will be given at only two places. These will be Weiser and Wendell. A charge of 50 cents will be made to each lady who takes the course. Admission to the complete course of the movable school is to be $2.00. The ladies who take the Domestic Science course will be allowed to take the rest of the work of the school by paying only $1.00 in addition.

At Weiser the secretary of the commercial club has secured the names of over 150 men who have agreed to attend the entire course. Social events and musical programs have also been arranged and the affairs promises to be a most interesting one for the people of that city.

The work is in charge of men who are experts in their lines, as are all the members of our agricultural faculty.

They will give instruction of the most practical and beneficial kind, and the movable school is destined to become a great influence among the farmers of the state.

Thursday the Beta Sigma entertained at a dinner party. The guests were: Misses Salina Kapp,

Grace Crowell, Morris, E. I., David,

Leo, Hays, Lundstrom, D. Perkins,

E. Perkins, Wheeler, Harris, Cornwell,

Hillman, C. Perkins, Ford, Dipols,

Chambers, Whitten.

Friday afternoon and evening the Kappa Sigmas entertained in honor of the Beta Sigma. About three o'clock the upper classes started to cook dinner. While they were thus engaged the other classes enjoyed themselves dancing and singing. Ye freshmen and sophis "made hay while the sun shone" for there is work for you later. When dinner was ready some of the freshmen and sophomores waited on table and after dinner the other undergraduates washed the dishes. Part of the evening was spent in taking pictures, the rest of the time in dancing. All the girls enjoyed it.
