SOCiETY
The Washington club has decided to lend a hand toward the activities of the Knights of the Dalles and the "Thee" Fraternity with a general organization. It might be interesting to remember that the women of the Washington club are in the process of setting a precedent.

The "Thee" Fraternity's dance, held in the Dalles, was the latest in the series of such events for the past week, and it had the usual success. The program was the same as usual, with dancing taking place on both floors of the Dalles' Social Hall. It was held in the process of the evening, and the dance was the main event of the night.

One of the main events of the evening was the presentation of the Phi Alpha Theta medal to Miss Smith, a student at the University of Washington.

The Phi Alpha Theta medal was presented by the President of the University of Washington, who spoke briefly about the importance of Phi Alpha Theta in the field of education. The medal was given to Miss Smith in recognition of her outstanding contributions to the field of education.

The evening concluded with a social hour, during which the guests had the opportunity to mingle and get to know each other. The evening was a great success, and the guests left feeling satisfied and happy.
