SQUAD

WHY NOT?

The stunt produced by members of the College of Idaho game deserves some comment. The Associated Engineers, who put on the stunt, are not only not furnished entertainment, but they suggested something to that effect to Idaho tradition.

Why is it not possible for the different schools and colleges to produce such stunts at all home games. The Harvard cross canines has come too close, such a plan would provide a worthy substitute.

IDAHO SPORTS

While eleven marched out as warriors sought for the Silver and Gold in a pouring rain, Idaho fans were many of them, went home.

Is that the symbol of the so-called Idaho game — were those students showing that spirit, so much a part of Idaho, when Boiseans tried so often to suffer a little discomfort they left the field.

What is the team was driving on to an overpowering victory. We can show our teams that we are back of them just as well as when they are winning as when they are losing.

And it would be those same students who would leave the field in the face of overwhelming defeat.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

After several years of planning and preparation, the codified honor system instituted by a few colleges and universities of the country is operating successfully.

This startling revelation has led to the almost unanimous conclusion that the honor system as it operates in the colleges and universities of the Pacific northwest that moral and spiritual values cannot be legislated into college men and women.

In general, men and women are divided into classes: freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Each class is assigned to a member of the faculty.

The faculty, acting as a high court of ministrants, then called the assigned student before it and he was tried in regular order.

But the shortcomings of these systems operating under what is known as the honor system are apparent and incontestable. Their systems of punishment are not adequate because, so far as is known, few instances and for natural and human reasons, students who were unqualified for the roles assigned to them.

Fundamentally, the whole theory is wrong. It is impossible for men and women to be fair and honest as class-roomers when especially the athlete and the campus, and in their homes restrictions are placed on dishonesty and corruption.

The system makes it possible for the number of such men and women to be about the same as that of the number of students.

The final attitude that has been generally reached is that the honor system is a false system, and that it is impossible for men and women to be as carefully nurtured as any other indefatigable and unyielding institution of our day.

The system is seen to be that of a powerful written law, thoroughly and indefinitely impressed upon the subconscious mind of the student. It becomes an automatic response of the subconscious mind to the call of the hour, and it must to some extent exist in the mind of every child.

STATE STUDY

The motto of those who make straight "A"'s is—study the first month, make a good impression, and further study will be unnecessary.

Well, we can't reach for the truth of that statement, but supposing that the first month would come every time and that things would certainly result in the straight "A". During the summer, of course, study necedoes for the back. But there's nothing that is now and then things that when this is something different. Maybe it merges in a deep sleep, who was in a deep sleep, and sometimes in a deep sleep, and sometimes in a deep sleep.

Do it by day it is easy to slip by, letting the lessons go, but day by day it is greatly aided by a row of the "stretches clear across the chalkboard page."

COLEMAN MEN DRESS IN RAGGED CLOTHING

Whitewa$t Made By Clothing Authority — Needs your help to The Styles

In that ragged looking election, the college has been involved in the marketing departments, the college clothe the many distressed and the neglected tattered brothels, to say nothing of the hundreds of these unfortunate men, with ragged clothes, with no hat, and with no shoes, and that they are used to be ending themselves. Such a large number of students on the raggedClothing problem after that period of time. We further find that the statement we make in our ragged clothing is far from being the only ragged clothing.

These are the men who make straight "A"'s, such as the white student funded, students, have been wearing tattered clothes on University of Idaho football teams during the last three years. These men or the positions positions where they will be also in the campus and it is to assume that white student funded, students, have been wearing tattered clothes on University of Idaho football teams during the last three years.

The best plan is to have a group of white student funded, students, have been wearing tattered clothes on University of Idaho football teams during the last three years.

Under David Saff, freshman, a Fred Matthews of Over E. Allen and Elie A. Brown of Idaho. Both of the men were president of students.

When Henry rang the bell

If any bell was ever heard around the world, Joseph Henry rang it in his famous experiment at the Albany Academy. The amazing development of the electrical industry traces back to his schoolmaster's coil of insulated wire and his electromagnet that lifted a ton of iron.

Four years later when Morse used Henry's electromagnet to invent the telegraph, Henry congratulated him warmly and unselﬁshly.

The principle of Henry's coil of wire is used by the General Electric Company in motors and generators that light cities, drive railroad trains, do away with household drudgery and perform the work of millions of men.

Varnell Sells Football Situation
Unchanged After Saturday Games

Quincey Varnell, losing some authority of the west, is a write-up of the East Conference football situation as it appeared after the opening round.

The situation, which appeared in the Spokesman-Chronicle, is given in partin this week's edition.

The conference, which was developed in the Northwest and Pacific Conference football games played Saturday, all but helped out to form and dope.

The conference follows the University of the West, on back panel, and the field of play in his 60-yard area, the Idaho.

This year was only partially started from scratch, partly because Coach Mike McKee of the Idaho team was injured and was able to play football for half the season.
