Record Shows Beaver Travels to

Some lately Sammaritans at Seattle, with perhaps a reputable foal and an extensive back up, have been able to draw the line. And one even failed to persuade the authorities that it was even a horse. In fact, the line was nearly worth a horse in the opinion of the late. Of course, the line could be extended, but the point is that there are some horses that can be put to a good use. Indeed, the line is so good that it is almost worthless.

DOES IDAHO FIGHT?

That never has been a question any longer. But this fall the campus has not quite caught up on the famous old "Vandal" fighting spirit. The usual opening game against the Boise Normal school will be a week or more away, something must be done, and quickly, too. Idaho student's attention has been too much taken up with other things of greater import, and the whole campus attitude has been too much of a drag for approaching football season. Students, the coming week must see a united effort towards scoring on the ball and in getting in line football team.

Everyone knows that our football men have been hitting the ball in great driving daily works on MacLean field for two weeks. Coach Mathews has been putting them through the toughest kind of routines. Neither he nor the squad have spared themselves in this least to shape line for the initial kick with Gonzaga. They realize the tremendous task ahead. Do you?

If you do, you will immediately get into mental and mental training for the game next week, for the S. C. G. game, and for the whole schedule. Think Vandal football! Talk Vandal football! and back Vandal football! Let the coach and the squad know we are with them, thinking of them, and excitedly awaiting their first appearance on the field. Do we know all the Vandal Alma Mater, its name and its position? Do we know the teams on the coaching staff when we see them? Let's get on the ball, and play the 1912 schedule right up behind our fighting Vandals.

IDAHO'S SPIRIT CARRIES ON

Once an Idaho student always an Idaho student. That is the old saw that has come down to the campus of the early 30's when the campus was very much alive. Idaho's spirit is not to be seen in the length and density of beards and the crowding of the eyes, but the spirit is no less.

The best way for the graduate of the former student to keep in touch with his alma mater is through the university paper. The ARGONAUT is launching a campaign to urge every alumnus and former student to subscribe and to place the name of every friend and booster on the mailing list. Subscribers now and follow the news of the University of Idaho through the ARGONAUT.

WHAT SAY, W. S. C.?

Washington State College colleges, namely, Washington State College and the University of Idaho, are in love with the Great Dane mascot. In the initial issue of The Evergreen's, W. S. C. tri-weekly publication, the expression was expressed substantially as follows: "We can't compete because, not many moons ago, we hung up croce, our our cougar, thus realigned west. Snugly insipid poetry and poetry distant a "Laurent for Old Empire."

And, we might say, their flow of verse is more amusing, perhaps a shade drier, but drier, acerbous, in its meaning. It follows:

"Oh, the Cougar's casual appendage, thy say
Is dearer firmly, to the year,
It has been stolen from the Vandal.

Now without old Empire's aid
When the team is playing here
For the Great Dane, we red out our dog
To show mean pairs of seeds.

Now Empire is gone
And we Vandals know it.
It has not been found, or I do
And somehow we'll find another.

Now if we can't find our Empire;
We will have no more reason
We Vandals can shoot our lady
And find a good twist beater.

Other graduation classes will not Begin regular class work until after Physical and medical examinations have been completed, according to an announcement made by the head of the department Tuesday.

FOOTBALL RULINGS FOR 1924
Tenderfoot, by George Maguire
Faster and Less Rough
Several notable changes in football rules intended to make the game closer and more exciting were made.

The changes were based upon proposals made by the players, coaches, and writers of the winter.

Some of the most important changes in kicking rules, all relating to the use of the ball, provide that the ball shall be kicked off from a horse or in a place selected by the referee, and the try-on-the-play rule also applies to this style. The penalty for encroaching on the line of scrimmage will now be four yards instead of six. This will make the game safer and more exciting.

The new rule makes it possible for the referee to use his whistle in the event of a foul, and the penalty for encroaching on the line of scrimmage will now be four yards instead of six. This will make the game safer and more exciting.

The new rule also makes it possible for the referee to use his whistle in the event of a foul, and the penalty for encroaching on the line of scrimmage will now be four yards instead of six. This will make the game safer and more exciting.

The new rule also provides that the referee shall signal plays made by the offensive team, and that the penalty for encroaching on the line of scrimmage will now be four yards instead of six. This will make the game safer and more exciting.
