Dean W. P. Angell of the University of Idaho College of Letters and Sciences, announced on Monday the appointment of Harry Regier, president of the Fishy Vandal Quartet, of Idaho, as the seventh consecutive conference head for the Northern World Tournament, which closed a two-year period at Portland, Me.

Dr. Angell, in making the appointment, paid high tribute to the Fishy Vandal quartet, which, under the leadership of Harry Regier, has established a record in the academic world of considerable magnitude, and which has been responsible for much of the culture and spirit of the University of Idaho during the past two years.

PLAYMAKERS TO GIVE SHOWS

Fairy Tale and Biblical Story Stages, To Be Presented on Sunday and Thursday Nights

Old English folk had different ideas about the Christmas season than we do, and it is said that they celebrated the holiday with more enthusiasm. The Christmas cheer was not only a time for giving, but also a time for sharing. It was a time for family and friends to come together and enjoy each other's company.

On Thursday nights, the University Players will present a play based on a fairy tale or a biblical story. The play will be held in the University Theater at 8 p.m. The audience is welcome to attend and enjoy the performance.

DEREAT SEMIFINALS TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Issue of Intelligence Tests and Intrapersonal Problems.

The first semifinal of the annual DEREC competition will be held tonight in the evening. The contest will be held in the University Hall of the evening, and will be open to all students.

The DEREC competition is a national competition for college students, and is held in order to determine the most intelligent students in the country. The competition consists of two parts: an intelligence test and an intrapersonal problem. The first part of the competition is the intelligence test, which is designed to measure the student's ability to think critically.

The second part of the competition is the intrapersonal problem, which is designed to measure the student's ability to solve problems creatively. The intrapersonal problem is a written problem, and the student is given a set of instructions and a set of options. The student is required to choose the option that best solves the problem.

Olympia—The request for men to attend the University of Washington for the interdisciplinary course in American Studies will be considered by the university's faculty. The course will be held in the morning, and will be open to all students.

The course will be taught by Dr. W. H. Branson, head of the department of American Studies, and will cover a wide range of topics, including the history of American culture, the social and political changes that have occurred in the United States, and the role of American culture in the world today.

Dr. Branson has been a leader in the field of American Studies for many years, and has written extensively on the subject. His most recent book, "The American Dream," was published last year.

NOTED MAGAZINE NAMES IDAHO FOOTBALL STARS ON MYTHICAL ALL-AMERICAN SECOND STRING

John Vessels, Quarterback, and Vernon Givens, Right End, named to All-American Second Team by West magazine

The University of Idaho football team has been named to the All-American Second Team by West magazine. The magazine's selection was based on the team's performance during the season.

The team's quarterback, John Vessels, was named to the All-American Second Team, and the team's right end, Vernon Givens, was named to the All-American Third Team.

The University of Idaho football team finished the season with a record of 7-1-0, and was one of the top teams in the nation. The team's performance was recognized by West magazine, which named the team to the All-American Second Team.

"The University of Idaho football team is one of the top teams in the nation," said West magazine's editor. "We are pleased to recognize the team's performance by naming them to the All-American Second Team."
TWO whole weeks and three weekends at home over Christmas, 1934. And now for the one time you will be living in a beautiful and carefully kept residence.

What will happen if all the students with classes leave the campus on tramping straight across the campus from the Ad building a dozen times a day? Will they be seen in the grass, and will rain, as the ugly sky, that white island of the campus.

Just stop and figure how many more steps are needed to walk across the differences? The campus will be astounding.

Can't we remain and make it a promenade to the new science hall, rather than a stamper?

Low Grade and the Absence Ruling

Results of the twelve-week grade reports show a rather high percentage of students as probation. Careful investigation of this situation very clearly evidences the need of the new absence ruling.

On the contrary, the records seem to show that there is a smaller percentage of "F" students than was anticipated beforehand this year last.

In almost every case where an "F" was given for this reason, and there wasn't enough money, the student was already doing very poor work and probably would have received that grade anyway. This large percentage of students on probation is according to many faculty members, to lack of preparation for classwork and half-hearted application to studies, for which reasons themselves are mainly to blame.

Your Argument

"I have read the Argonaut for several years and I think it reflects a pretty resilient student body." These uncollected words from a faculty member express a question vital to the members of The Argonaut staff. Many times material is rejected because it is not thought the average Idaho student's stock is made of a student which those decisions always win? Does The Argonaut really supply what stude- nts and alumni want in a school paper?

The publication of this is an accident. Its content and policy are at all times determined by the campus which it serves. The whole purpose of The Argonaut as being a "good paper" is gratifying to those who devote much of their time to making it so.

Your opinion of what you want or do not want in The Argonaut is always welcome. The student opinion column is for such purposes.

From Shogun's says it seems quite that, in the absence of anything better, he shall care for their sales in the white. Quite the epistle would seem reasonable for the student who is not well enough to write the story of his experience. This is the story of "F" which was given for this reason, and there wasn't enough money. The student was already doing very poor work and probably would have received that grade anyway. This large percentage of students on probation is according to many faculty members, to lack of preparation for classwork and half-hearted application to studies, for which reasons themselves are mainly to blame.
