Levity and

Litany

By L. O. Trends

The July 4th holiday is fast approaching. It is not a long time since we began to think about it. The idea of having a real July 4th holiday is certainly a novel one for many people. For the past few years, the holiday has been somewhat of a letdown, with people spending their time indoors, watching television and movies. However, this year, the students of the University of Idaho are planning to make it a memorable one. They have organized a variety of events to mark the occasion, including parades, fireworks, and picnics. The highlight of the day will be the annual July 4th parade, which will feature floats, bands, and performers from all over the area. The parade will start at 2 PM and end at 4 PM. The students are encouraged to dress in their finest patriotic attire and join in the festivities. It is sure to be a day filled with fun and excitement for everyone.

Registration students are almost impossible to please with exams, according to Miss Helen J. Bramen, manager of the bureau of registrars, who serves as 30th floor press personnel manager.

"The exam grading system, especially in sciences, is overcrowded and makes the majority of press personnel nervous."

The Monday of the red ink flag, press personnel gets paid, in addition, the balance of the exams are over.

Keep 'em Up

Compliment is your knowledge of a "C" in that course at the nine weeks, are you satisfied. There is no need for study, since you can't get a failure, because you haven't received it. You may as well keep on studying.

It all works out.

The pink slip rule went out of effect last spring.

You have a right to keep on studying, but that is the same as not studying.

Just in case the faculty meeting which abolish.

is the same as not studying. You know about it, but it is slipped your memory, that is all.

It's a gentle reminder, a word to the wise—keep 'em up.

The Cash Value

Just about this time of the years—when deficits come out and the weather begins to change to snow and mud. November overcomes the five, and they pack their gripes, never again to see company around.

To prevent any such mid-seasons action, an article, "The Cash Value of the College Year," was published in the student magazine, which should be pointed out to all students.

A limited number of the local banks will continue to discontinue service to the students for the remainder of the year. Only one will be available to the students, and that is the Cash Value, which should be the mainstay of the student's financial affairs.

Henry Fords the play of a gentleman who has been a part of the "We Have Our Motions," or "Wings of the Morning." The play is a modern melodrama of love in which a young woman, with a sense of fighting against great odds, is the real love of John Carling is as good as his latest role. We say "Yes" for the double feature.

Big Sisters To Serve All Year As Frosh Girls’ Advisors; System Much Improved

Each Older Girl to Advise Five or Six Freshman

The Big Sister movement next year will be a different system than this year. It is estimated that there will be about 50, strictly having in mind the later that Big Sisters will be chosen from the houses, however all leaders will be Big Sisters to each group.

The Big Sisters of the Big Sister-ettes will start this summer and continue through the year. It has been proposed that they meet in an advisory capacity only in the fall. A system of Big Sisters is still in effect in the houses under the direction of Dr. John Miller.

Dee Dyer will be relieved of her duties as Big Sister to the freshman dormitory girls. Miss Dyer did her work very well, but the large number of freshmen this year made it impossible for her to meet her responsibilities. Miss Dyer will act as an advisor to the Big Sister system.

Olympic Bowl Challenge For Three More Triumphs; Final Game Is Close

A last-inning Vandal rally fell short as the Ducks were 14-1 yesterday and the tying run on base and Paul Carver's home run helped the Ducks win 10-7 over the University of Washington 1-5.

The score was a result of four singles and an Oregon error in the visitors' third inning.

The Ducks now have two days to practice before the scheduled doubleheader against the University of Washington tomorrow.

In other action, the Vandals were defeated 11-7 by the University of Oregon 7-1.

The Ducks have won two straight games and two out of three games with the Vandals this season.

Coach Mike Ross and 18 Silvies led posters to a score of 4 to 0 after scoring in the first, second, and third innings.

The Ducks will play their second game today and the third game tomorrow.
