Dolly Day Assembly

Swing Band-Wed.

In Auditorium

As the Christmas Dolly Day assembly schedule will draw many groups and students to the contest, the announced winner of the contest will be the last to enter the assembly at 2:30 p.m.

One of the objects of Mrs. L. Scott is to make sure the assembly program is in a cheerful spirit, and the winning groups will be announced in time for the assembly to keep the audience interested.

The junior assembly has planned several activities for the assembly which will be announced in advance of the contest.

One of the objects of the assembly is to keep the junior assembly program interesting and enjoyable, and the winning groups will be announced in time for the assembly to keep the audience interested.

Parades Reports On Game Life

Mr. Chardon Is Real Problem In Husk Forest

There's supply of big game in the forest, and northern hunting areas are closed, and they have been closed in the past.

Students are much more interested in the northern hunting areas than they are in the forest.

Real ‘Skittles’ joke shaft carries cart: "At a 150 to 1"

Dale McDonald

In his B.A. year at Oregon State College, Dale McDonald, the master of the "skittles," jokes that a Sammamish, Wash., farmer had 120 skittles growing on his farm. A skittle is a small, round, hard, multicolored candy.

Dale, a junior English major, said he got the nickname from his college dormitory room number, 120. The room number, he said, was "skit" to his friends.

WHAT ARE YOU?

By JOE W. MILLER

JOE W. MILLER is an assistant professor of philosophy at the University of Oregon. He is the author of "The Nature of Mind," which will be published this fall.

The problem of what we are is one of the central problems of philosophy. It is a problem that has been studied by philosophers for centuries and has been the subject of much debate.

The problem of what we are is a complex one, and there are many different theories that have been put forth to answer it. Some philosophers argue that we are physical beings, while others argue that we are spiritual beings.

I'm Going to Buy a New Car

I'm going to buy a new car. It's going to be a sports car. It's going to have a powerful engine and it's going to have all the latest features.

When I get it, I'm going to take it on a road trip. I'm going to drive it up to the mountains and then down to the coast. It's going to be a lot of fun.

I can't wait to get my new car.

Idaho Basketball Team Faces Stout Whitman Tonight

Whitman's Minutemen, with their thinking for revenge for the 23-16 in Madison the last week, proved themselves tonight for a returns engagement on the Whitman floor. The game starts at 7:30. tonight.

Tonight's Idaho starting lineup will probably be strengthened instead of the return of Steve Blue. Coach Smith will have to decide how he will line up the Minutemen tonight.

Coach Bill Smith, standing on the sideline, said he was not sure if he would play the three guards tonight, unlike last week. He said he was still looking for his best line-up.

Coach Al Paddock Pleaded With Freshman Basketball Prospects

With their season cut to the abbreviated state, and a complete absence of the regulars, the Idaho team has been forced to rely on its young talent to fill the ranks. The freshmen, although inexperienced, have shown great promise. Coach Smith has been impressed with their determination and enthusiasm.

Coaching Staff.

A tentative list of freshmen ready to play includes: Bob Johnson, a junior transfer from Gonzaga; Bob Harvey, Idaho Falls; Bob Adams, senior, junior from Bonneville; and Bob Miller, a sophomore from Twin Falls. The freshmen have been training hard and are ready to contribute to the team's success.

The game tonight will be a test of the freshmen's abilities, as they will face a challenging opponent in Whitman. The Minutemen have proved themselves to be a strong team, and the Idaho team will need to play well to secure a victory.
